MEETING OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The county commissioners of Blue Earth county are hereby notified that a special meeting of the board will be held at the Register of Deeds Office in Mankato, on Saturday, October 14th, 1865, for the transaction of important business. By order of, ANDREW HANNA,
Chairman,

Mankato, October 6, 1865.

—We have a box of stationery at Rochester, weighing 400 lbs. To any one making a trip to that place we will pay a liberal price for bringing it to Mankato.

—We wish to obtain the name in full of the Union candidate for county commissioner of the 1st Dist. in order to put him on the ticket. Will some subscriber in that vicinity send in the name.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Mr. S. S. Higgins has bought the property of S. C. Hilton on the S. E. corner of 2nd and Washington streets. Price $900.

WHEAT.—Mr. Higgins will pay 50 cents per bushel for 2,000 bushels of good wheat. He expects soon to arrange for the purchase of 10,000 bushels.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.—The Minnesota Baptist State Convention will hold its seventh annual meeting at Rochester, Olmstead county, commencing in the evening of the 24th of October at seven o'clock.

—Marks is still selling more goods for a dollar than any body else in this section of the country.

—Go to Markes to buy your under shirts over shirts & drawers they have a large stock and cheap.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—A baptist Church has just been organized at Madelia with encouraging prospects of success. This church was gathered together and organized through the labors of Elder Craven of this City —An auction sale of stock will take place at the Burgiss mills 5 miles east of Mankato on the 28th of October next.

All persons building can purchase a full supply of nails glass, sash, doors and hardware at Meaghers cheaper than any other house in the valley—Go to Meagher's and buy your axes WARRANTED. Every Farmer ought to provide himself with one of those CAST CAST STEEL plows WARRANTED to give perfect satisfaction in all kinds of land.

—Ladies Glove Kid Boots and a large lot of Lasting gaiters just received at Clark & Porters.

—Harness, Line and collar Leather at Clarke & Porters.

TANNERY.—Mr S A. Church has opened a tannery on front street just above the fanning mill factory of Giltner & Townsend. We are glad to see that our citizens are turning their attention to some other business besides selling goods. All cannot live by trade, and there is a wide field in this section open to manufacturers.

MORE NEW GOODS.—Johnson at 3. Front street has just received an immense stock of fall and winter goods. We think he has the largest stock of Dry Goods and Groceries in Mankato. It is hardly necessary for us to announce the fact however, as, judging from the crowds to be seen at his store, the people already know it Dropping in a moment we found it difficult to move, so filled is his store with goods piled on counters, shelves and boxes. The people begin to understand that Johnson does as he says, and that 20 per cent is to be saved by purchasing of him. He has the advantage of surchasing before the late advance, and gives his patrons the benefit of it.

FOUNDRY.—We have been shown a specimen of mechanism from the new foundry and machine shop of C. W. Barney & Co. which in itself is an argument conclusive that bettor work is turned out at that shop than any other west of St. Paul. We refer to the drilling of an iron plate five eighths of an inch thick with holes three inches in diameter to receive the tubes of Rockey's tubular boiler. The same job was attempted at St. Peter but did not prove a success. Having succeeded in a most difficult undertaking the Mankato Foundry is good for anything in its line.

—A large assortment of under shirts and drawers at Randall & Smiths

—For anything in the way of men and boys wear, go to Randall & Smith's

MARRIED.—We take pleasure in announcing that Mr. Chas. Theodore Heilborn, and Miss Alma M. C. Dornberg, both old and esteemed residents of this place were married at the residents of the brides father, Dr. Dornberg, on Saturday evening last. The invited guests were the members only of the Doctors family, which by affinity and consanguinity numbered more than thirty persons. The marriage rite was solemnized by the Rev. Thomas Marshall of this city, which ceremony was followed by a feast of luxuries and delicacies sufficient for the daintiest epicure. Chalie is a gentleman after our own heart. He has taken a "better half" and so did we, and our greatest cause of regret for the momentous step is that, having a family, we must provide them a roof, which in this crowded little metropolis is akin in point of possibility to a camel passing through the eye of a needle. But Charlie has buildings commodious, and if not, he can tear down and build larger, and thus waiving the great objection to matrimony, may in the lap of luxury, and with his respected partner share as much of joy and happiness as it is the lot of mortals to attain.

—A large lot of Belt Leather and Rivets at Clarke & Porters.

A PUBLIC BENEFIT.—J, N Hall thinks that we had better read less politics and devote a few moments to a perusal of the circular of Hartford Travelers Insurance Company. We hardly "see the point" as we have done up our traveling for the present, but for the benefit of the readers of the UNION we have given this system of Insurance some attention and do not hesitate to pronounce it of immense benefit to those who contemplate a journey. For a mere pittance a traveler may secure to his family a legacy not to be despised in case of his death by accident, to stage, cars or steamer, or a weekly compensation, if injured, until his recovery. Mr. Hall is the agent, and will be glad to see the traveling public at his office over Prael & Duboisson's store.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The people are not done, building though the season is somewhat advanced. We notice that their buildings are in process of erection in Mrs. VanBrunt's addition to Mankato, owned respectively by Frank Fatz, Mr. Pratt, and McCullup. Above the jewelry store of Mr. Fowler the Brothers Porter are building a store house 20 by 45 feet with the intention of putting in immediately a stock of goods Next to the Clifton house brick are being hauled for a splendid three story block to be completed early in the spring This building will be erected by two brothers named Griebet who have lately come among us with capital and have established themselves in the boot and shoe business.

Messrs Parson and Thompson have also nicely fitted up the store next to Shaubut's corner, and are putting in a stock of goods John Meagher our enterprising hardware dealer is adding 29 by 25 feet two stories high to his store, to accommodate the immense stock which he is daily receiving.

—If you want a good Boot or Shoe for man woman or child, you will find it at Clarke & Porters, —Marks takes the premium for nice and cheap dry goods.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS.—General Vancleve formerly of the Second Minnesota Regiment, Judge E, Underwood late of Kentucky accompanied by George Culver Esq arrived in town on Wednesday last and are stopping at the Mankato House. We understand they are on a tour of inspection and recreation.

HEAVY ARTILLERY.—The regiment of Minnesota Heavy Artillery having arrived at Fort Snelling for muster out, some of the "boys in blue" from this vicinity have been paid off and are arriving home. We have obtained the names of a few of them. Among the arrivals we notice Lucius Bemis Sergeant Co. D. John Rogers Sergeant Co F. also W. B Wilcox, Peterson, Oleson, Mandigo, Fuller, Rostoff and Vogle. Up to the time of going to press a majority of those belonging in this section have returned.

—The extremely worm weather of the past few months, cannot continue much longer, and to be prepared for a cold snap it is necessary to procure a good stock of clothing which you can always find in great variety at Randall & Smith's. Don't fail to call soon

—If you want to save money go to Marks & buy your goods.

—If you dont want shoddy go to Marks & buy your clothing.

—Marks has the largest stock of goods ever brought up the Minnesota Valley.

DEMOCRATIC DISTRICT CONVENTION.—J. A. Wiswell Esq. had the kindness to call at our office and give us the names of the candidates for the Legislature nominated by the democratic convention of this District. We acknowledge the favor because it is of value to us, saving much time which we would otherwise be obliged to devote in searching for the same news. Like favors from members of our own party, or from any one friendly to the UNION would be duly appreciated.

But returning to the candidates we announce them as follows: The convention met at Cleveland in LeSueur county on Saturday last, and made the following nominations: For State Senator, Reuben Butters of Kasota. For Representatives, A. K. Mainard of Elysinn, LeSueur county, Daniel Buck of Mankato, and J. G Thompson of Garden City. We are not requested to give these gentlemen a "puff" as the democracy claim that they have bottom and merit enough to carry themselves to the Legislature without any extraneous assistance. We are personally acquainted with but one of the candidates, who, but for his party affinities perhaps would not be objectionable. But publicly and politically we know them as being connected with the "four years of failure" party, which during the bloody conflict, left not a stone unturned to defeat the Government in its efforts to preserve the union.

MARRIED.

On Saturday evening, October 7th, 1865, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. T. Marshall. Chas. Theodore Heilborn to Alma M. C. Dornberg, all of this city.

Repudiation of Rebel Debts.

The Alabama convention, by a vote of 60 to 19, has passed an ordinance providing that all debts created by the State of Alabama, in aid of the late war, directly or indirectly, are void; and that the general assembly of the State shall have no authority, and are forbidden, to ratify the same, or assume to provide for the payment of the same or any part thereof. And the general assembly of the state shall have no authority, and are forbidden, to assume, or make any provision for the payment of any portion of the debt contracted or incurred directly or indirectly by the confederate states, its agents or its authority.

Their election takes place on the first Monday in November.

A Remarkable Cure.

Dr. Persons, of the Dynamic Institute, Milwankee, has performed a very wonderful cure of Mrs. Julia Hicks, who has been ossified for fourteen years. A correspondent in the Fond du Lac Daily Press says:—"About ten days since, when the Dr. first took her case in hand she was unable to move a limb or joint of her body. She now has almost perfect control of her head, neck, arms, fingers, and the upper portion of her body.

"This, indeed is a remarkable case, and causes the most ardent votary of the "old school," to wonder, if not to examine into this new healing science. The remarkable effect produced upon Mrs. Hicks, has only occupied about six operations of three minutes each, while under the influence of chloroform; and what is more remarkable, not a semblance of a knife or other metallic instrument was used during the operations but all effected under the dynamic system, or animal magnetism applied by the human hand. The lady intends visiting the Institute at Milwaukee where Dr. P. is confident of effecting a permanent cure."

A Bloody Record.—The case of Champ Ferguson, the guerilla, now on trial for murder, in Nashville, Tennessee, before a military commission, presents the darkest and bloodiest phase of our late civil war. The atrocity of his crimes is without a parallel. He is charged with murdering fifty four men, but it is said, and doubtless with truth, that he has slain more than one hundred. It is his boast that he slew that number, and not in war, but in cold blood. He spared no one—neither the wounded captive, nor the sick in their bed; all shared the same fate—death. Ferguson says he was an officer in the Confederate army, but he can show no commission, and he probably claims so to have been only to escape the fate he richly merits. Champ will swing from the gallows, Life in Nashville.

Nashville is a nice place—in fact it always was a nice place. The following is a specimen of the morals of the people down there. The Union says:

Yesterday about noon, an aged German named Ernst Brooker, who resides on Brown Creek, a few miles from this city after a short absence returned home, and on attempting to enter his house found all the doors fastened. Supposing his wife was absent, he entered by a back window, when, to his astonishment, he discovered a man—his name we did not learn—in flagrante delictu with her whose virtue he had never before suspected.

Horrified at the infidelity of his wife, with whom, up to that hour, he had lived happily, he determined at once on revenge. A gun was hanging on the ceiling, and he leaped for it; when, quick as thought, the destroyer of his domestic peace leaped from the bed and fled, with his garments in his hands. Running to the window, Brooker attempted to fire at the flying villain; but before he could bring his piece to an aim he was out of sight in a neighboring thicket.

With heated brain, he turned to his guilty wife, and fired, and she fell a bleeding corps by the side of the bed she had dishonored, and at the feet of her husband.

The neighborhood soon aroused, and in a few moments a score or more people had gathered around the house, and demanded that Brooker should surrender himself, and await the action of the law; but this he refused to do, and when an attempt was made to arrest him, he resisted with all his strength; and fortunate it was, he had, in his agitation, forgotten to load his piece, or he might have added another homicide to the one he had just committed.

After exhausting every effort to capture the unfortunate man, one of the party at last raised his piece and fired, wounding Brooker so severely in the shoulder, that further resistance was impossible, and he surrendered. He has been brought to the city, and the whole case will be investigated on Monday.

To Unite.—It is stated that many of the leading Methodist divines of Georgia have, with the approval of their congregations, made overtures to the Episcopal church of that state, and some of the clerical officers of the triennial convention, to unite with the Episcopal church. Their hostility to northern Methodism and its incidental hatred of the south in years past is said to be the prime motive of the act.

What Does he Mean?—Josh Billings, in writing from Long Branch to the Troy News, says:—"The servants are generally black, but menny of them have lived so long among the whites that they begin to adopt our kuller." Does Josh mean that his servants are growing white? or, by some strange freak, adopting his "kuller?" We have heard that the rising generation in the South are adopting the "kuller" of our soldiers. It certainly does not speak well for the taste of colored mothers.

AN Illustrated Catalogue, containing full description of style, and testimonials of the most eminent Musicians, as to the superior excellence of our instruments—will be sent free to any address.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.
GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "Geo. A Prince & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

MORSE'S EXPECTORANT
FOR THE HEALING OF THE NATIONS

GOOD NEWS TO ALL MANKIND.

THE REMEDY FOUND AT LAST.

It will cure Influenza and Sore Throat.
It will cure Croup every time.
It will cure Asthma and relieve Consumption
It will cure Whooping Cough.
It will cure your Cough.
It will prevent Consumption.

It cures all if the directions are strictly followed, or the money will be refunded.

That Cough which you are neglecting may result in fatal Consumption, if some prompt remedy is not used.

Why sacrifice your life when your disease can be cured so quickly and at so small a cost? What is the value of Money when compared to Health?

MORSE'S EXPECTORANT

Is warranted to break up the most troublesome cough in an incredibly short time. There is no remedy that shows more evidence of its merit than this for curing

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Difficulty in Breathing, Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of patients in the advanced stage of the disease.

Morse's Expectorant is a vegetable anodyne, prepared expressly to meet the constant demand for a safe and efficient remedy for diseases of the

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preperation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is brought to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELEIF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW

As Time—the great developer of Events—advances, these truths becomes wider and better known, and this Medicine has already become a simple necessity, with a growing demand, unprecedentd in the history of Medicine—the natural results of its INTRINSIC MERITS.

A single trial is all that is necessary to establish the fact that it is the most efficacious remedy ever offered to suffering humanity.

This medicine is put up in 50, 75 and $1,00 bottles and warranted to contain more and better material than any similar medicine introduced to the public in a medicine.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—
FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,
in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,
For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,
AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,
An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works:

See Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic.

Scene in a Freedman's Court.

It is difficult for the white men of Tennessee to learn that colored men have rights which they are bound to respect, but they are taking lessons now from Courts of Justice established by General Fisk, Assistant commissioner of the Freedman's Bureau. A very instructive and quite an amusing lesson was given the other day. An old and highly respected citizen of Giles county, named Abernethy—a good Methodist, by the way—refused to pay his colored laborers the wages he had agreed to pay them, and, as a last resort, two of the most intelligent of his employees came into the Freedman's Court, made oath to the contract and to the fact of non payment, and an order was accordingly issued to bring the venerable patriarch into the court to answer.—When the order reached the old gentleman he was astonished beyond measure, and, doubtless, would not deigned to respond to it had not a guard been present to enforce it. His Neighbors, of course, were greatly excited.

The venerable old Abernethy arrested and ordered to report forthwith at Nashville! Dispatches were sent to the city, and when he arrived he was met at the depot and escorted to Gen. Fisk's headquarters by a respectable body of old citizens whose woe-begone countenances indicated the deep disgust and horror which swelled their generous bosoms. Arrived at headquarters:

Abernethy—Is this Gen. Fisk?

Gen. F.—Yes sir.

A.—My name is Abernethy, sir.

Gen. F.—Abernethy. Yes, I remember. Two citizens of Giles county, neighbors of yours, Mr. A. have appeared and made oath to a very grave complaint against you."

A.—Citizens of Giles county! Neighbors of mine! Good heavens! who can it be?

"I will read the declaration," said the General, as he took the document, from a pigeon hole and began: "Joseph and Paul Abernethy, of the county of Giles, in the State of Tennessee, being duly sworn, do testify," etc., etc. As the reading proceeded, the old gentleman's eyes fairly bulged out, and he looked the very picture of amazement. At length, unable to restrain himself any longer, he exclaimed, "Lor' bless my soul, General them arn't my neighbors, them's my niggahs." "You are mistaken Mr. A.," replied the General. "There are no such persons in Tennessee now as your niggers. Joseph and Paul Abernethy are citizens of Tennessee, and one of them claims even a near relation to you; and the striking resemblance he bears to you gives countenance to the claim."

This home thrust cut the old man to the heart, and he covered his face with his hands, bowing his head for some time. At length he said: "Well, General, what are you going to do about it?" "I am going to do justice," he replied. "Do you owe these gentlemen the amount they claim? If you do you must pay it."

The old gentleman came down at once, acknowledged the debt, and promised to call and settle it the next day. The next day he came, settled the debt in full, and entered into a written contract with his employees for the future.

SPIRITUALISM COME TO GRIEF.

Our readers have, no doubt, watched with interest the trial which recently took place in Rochester, of a man by the name of Clochester, who has long been regarded as the chief priest of the spiritualist fraternity. There were no tricks of the trade of which he was not master. He could make tables dance around the room, produce rappings at his pleasure, furnish answers to questions handed to him in sealed envelopes without opening them, deliver messages to the living from the dead, and, most surprising of all the names of the deceased would appear in blood-red characters upon his arm. In a word, he was classed as a number-one medium, having no superior as a spiritualist in the whole country. So wonderful were many of his feats, that hundreds of spectators, unable to discover how they were done, were ready to attribute them to the spirits. Refusing to take out a license, as the law requires all jugglers to do, he was prosecuted by the collector of Internal Revenue of his district, and the case was tried by the United States District Court. Able counsel were engaged on both sides, and the investigation was continued from day to day, and was thorough and exhaustive, ending in the jury bringing in a verdict branding Colchester as a juggler.

The result of the trial is so clearly set forth by The Intelligencer, that we transfer its account to our column.

It appears that professional jugglers were summoned for the prosecution, and they testified that these were tricks of jugglery with which they were familiar; that they could do all that Colchester could, by slight-of-hand; and, moreover, two of then testified that Colchester had proposed to enter into partnership with them, and go in for a large business in spiritual manifestations, and make piles of money out of it, not pretending to deny that the whole thing was a deception and a fraud, but preferring to work under the guise of spiritualism, because that took better among the people than jugglery, and consequently was more profitable. It was proved that Colchester opened the envelopes and read the questions which he answered by a peculiar slight-of-hand that he wrote the blood-red letters on his arm by a process known to jugglers, and did all his marvellous feats by similar acts, which it was nearly impossible for the uninitiated to detect.

The investigation was very interesting, as it opened up a broad field of deceipt and marvellous fraud upon the credulity of the people, of which very few even have a suspicion. These tricks are so neatly performed that the sharpest observer is likely to be deceived. The testimony in this case lifted the vail, and it took the jury only ten minutes to bring in a verdict that Colchester was a juggler, and every candid man who heard the testimony, said that the decision was just. But the dupes of spiritnalism denounced it as persecution of their precious religion.

This decision is a severe blow to the whole fraternity of spiritualists, whom it brands as a set of jugglers and impostors. Nor do they fare much better in Europe than in America. The Davenport Bros., the celebrated mediums who have created such an excitement in European cities by their wonderful performances, have recently been publicly exposed in Paris. One of their favorite tricks is to seat themselves on a bench enclosed in a cupboard, and then permit persons whom the audience might select to tie them fast with strong ropes. The room is then darkened, the music strikes up, and in a few moments the performers walk out of the closet unbound. While trying this same trick in Paris last month, and with their usual success, a spectator, whose attention had been uninterruptedly fixed on the bench, sprang on the stage, put his hand on the bench round which the cords were wound touched a spring and the bench bent in the middle, and the cords fell at the feet of the captives. The audience were, of course, greatly incensed, and were only kept from inflicting personal violence on the impostors by the presence of a police force, and the return of their money paid for admission.

In this case, as in the Rochester trial, the believers in spiritualism will probably cry out that they are persecuted, and still persist in their superstition. However this may be, we cannot but hope that much good will result from the exposure of these jugglers, and that many deluded men and women will be saved, whom spiritual impostors like these, are leading to ruin temporal and eternal.

A Colored Man's Views of Social Equality.

Any one who will contrast the following sensible remarks on the social equality of the races, from an editorial article in the Colored Tennessean, published in Nashville, with the senseless twaddle upon the same subject which daily and weekly disgrace the columns of the white copperhead organs of the country, will readily admit that although it may be a question of some doubt in some minds as to which would be the gainers by social equality, the colored race or the copperheads. There is not the lightest doubt but what the cops have ample reason to dread the mental superiority of the colored race. The Tennessean closes an editorial in the following style:

"Thus far we have endeavored to show why political equality should be accorded to us as a natural right. In regard to social equality we ask nothing. It is characteristic of every race of people to prefer their kindred and kind as associates. We affirm that this is pre-eminently the case with the negro. Moreover, we do think it sounds a little ludicrous, here in the South, to hear arguments against political equality based on the presumption that social equality follows as a necessary consequence. Social equality has nothing, strictly speaking, to do with political equality. The fact is, we have had almost too much social equality with the whites in times past. Social equality with them has stolen from us the complexion of our fathers. We are the ones who of right should complain of too much familiarity and undue encroachments on our social preogatives. But society is not the creature of legislative enactment.—The naturalized Irishman and the Wall Street banker both go in the morning to the same polls, each depositing his vote alike, that of the one being of no more significance than the other. Yet. at the splendid entertainment at the banker's in the evening, you will search in vain for the 'ilegant brogans and sprig o' shillaly' of the gentleman from the Emerald Isle. Nor would Patrick dream of making a proposition for the hand of the fair Miss Dulcina, the banker's daughter, unless sadly misused by that seductive fluid; very popular in the Empire city, called election whisky.

"Our aim has been to show that political equality, in justice, should be extended to us at once, and that social equality is another thing entirely. What we want is, law to protect our homes, our families, and all that is dear to us. When brutal ruffians stalk into our peaceful dwelling, insulting our wives and daughters, we want law to bring those ruffians to justice, and the right to call black men to the witness stand to testify against them. When insult or violence is offered the persons of white men or their families, we want the right to take our place on the witness stand and give our testimony against the perpetrators of these outrages. When we have these rights, and not till then, will justice have been vindicated."

—Champ Ferguson, the noted guerrilla, has been sentenced to be hung on the 20th of the present month. He received the announcement of his death with unconcern.

A ROUND TRIP.

For the Lake City Leader.

Horace Greely and I went to the State Fair the other day. I was standing on the levee at Wabasha when the Northern Belle came up with Horace on board, and he gazed along the beach trying to find the identical spot which Gurley would render classic ground by first putting his foot upon it when he returned to Minnesota a double man. Mr. Hatcher, the clerk, came along just then, and seeing the great man looking anxiously at the sand, asked him if he had lost anything. "yes," says Greely, feeling in his coat pocket, "I've lost a few minutes. "Ah!" says Hatchter "we lost hours on Beef Slough bar." Greely took off his white hat with the intention of giving it to Hatchter, but being a practical man, he put it on again when he remembered that he was baldheaded.

Just then Horace spied me and beckoned for me to come on board. I did so. He grasped my hand warmly, shed a few tears, and says I, "Horace, how's Richmond?" "Which Richmond?" said he, "Dean?" "No," says I, "Onto Richmond!" Horace "smiled" and gave the bar-keeper fifteen cents.

"By the way," says Greely, "these Wabashaw chaps are the fellows that General Grant ordered in out of the wet. I should infer that the order of the General's had been executed. They look DRY." "yes," said I, "sometimes HIGH, sometimes DRY. They are sober to-day and do not even smile."

Greely wanted to know who that good-natured man was who stood off by himself whittling a stick. "Oh," says I, "he's one of the county officers. That's the rose that all are praising." I saw Greely looking carefully over the city, and I remarked, "thriving town Hod." Greely made no reply but dilated the fingers of his right hand and shaded the tip of his nose with his thumb.

Talking of politics, Greely thought Wabashaw county was entitled to some position on the State ticket, and expressed the opinion that Campbell could have had a place there if he had only humped himself.

The fair was the greatest State fair held in Minnesota since last year. I observed a small pig in a large pen, and then a large pig in a small pen. Then there was a flock of sheep with some boards around them, and some boards with a flock of sheep around them. They had some horses that were said to be "fast." but they waren't, for at the word go they were off with a looseness. The object was to see which would get there first, and the best nag received a wooden spoon to eat oats out of.

I arrived in Lake City in time to see the famous Orton acrobats perform in the afternoon and to see them eclipsed by the great acrobat Henry M. Rice in the evening. Hank beats his brother Dan on a big jump. At one leap he passed from secession to the union ranks, and, what's more, swore he'd never been in the secession tent. He jumped from slavery-extension to ultra abolition, and they don't have room in this country for bigger jumps than that. Rice's is ground tumbling; at least it was pretty well ground before Marshall got through with it.

Yours only, SIX FEET SIX.

Mississippi.

If the reports from all sources, respecting the action of the Mississippi convention are correct, that body has virtually decreed the re-establishment of slavery in the state. The other southern state conventions have been modest enough to leave this base work to the legislatures, but the Mississippi convention was too impatient. Three so called ordiences were passed by the convention. One denies the negroes the right to testify against whites, either in civil or criminal trials. Another withholds from them the privilege of bringing suits against whites. A third decrees that all blacks who are not in regular employment shall be considered vagrants and sold to labor by the state.

These ordiances may well be called diabolical inventions for the purpose of nullifying the emancipation proclamation, and the ordiance passed by the state convention itself. According to this code a white man may commit any crime against a negro and if only witnessed by blacks, he can escape punishment. Thus a planter can contract with a negro and refuse to fulfil his contract, while the freedman will be without redress. And to crown all, if the negro refuses to work, the master can have him sold into slavery and stand ready to buy him.

In other words, according to these ordinances, the negro is allowed to make but one contract, and that is the contract that makes him a slave.

Governor Sharkey, we are glad to observe, is opposed to these outrageous measures, and has issued a proclamation declaring that freedmen shall be protected in their persons and property. He says they are also to be competent witnesses in the courts, and can sue and be sued. His action in this matter is most bitterly commented on by most of the state journals; but doubtless he is sustained by the president. Such legislation as Mississippi has just exhibited must alienate from the southern states the countenance and support of honest and loyal men all over the world.—Chicago Rep.

—A vessel arrived at St. Louis from Fort Union, reports having passed a portion of General Sully's army, below Fort Rice, en route for Sioux City,—the rest of his force having been disposed of at different forts along the river.

St. Louis, October 6.

INDIAN MATTERS.

The steamer Big Horn, from Fort Sully September 21, reports that the peace commission [illegible] the steamer Calypso, somewhere below Yankton, to attend a meeting of some Sioux chiefs. The officers of General Sully's army are much dissatisfied with the order from Washington, directing them to proceed on the east side of the river, while all the Indian war parties are on the west side, The Big Horn brings a large lot of ordiance stores belonging to Sully's command,

General Conner has issued a circular announcing war to the knife against the savages. Officers commanding expeditions are ordered not to leave a trail when once struck, until they have overtaken and punished the Indians: and, to accomplish this, the command will be supplied with an extra amount of salt with which to preserve game for subsistence after regular rations may be exhausted.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The commission lately appointed to examine and report the condition of the Union Pacific railroad a second time are presenting their investigations. A protest has been entered again t this second examination of the road, on the ground that the report of a former commission was accepted by the president, and should have been final.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

The office of General J. W. Spragne, assistant commissioner of the freedmen's bureau, for Missouri and Arkansas, will soon be removed from St. Louis to Little Rock, Arkansas. Chaplain Wright will, however, remain here to superintend the educational interests of the freedmen in this state.

CARL SCHURZ.

Major General Carl Schurz arrived here yesterday. It is reported that he will establish here a radical English newspaper, more in conformity with the views of The Westliche Post than those advocated by The Democrat.

A Great Rascal.

One Major John A. Haddock, of the veteran reserve corps, late acting assistant provost marshal general, of the western division of New York, has been convicted by court martial, at Syracuse of a series of frauds and speculations which seem almost too great for belief. it appears that he was charged with the superintendence of recruiting in the western part of the state, and used his official position, in collusion with substitute brokers and other persons of that class, with such success that he accumulated a large fortune. To conceal his enormous frauds he managed to throw suspicion upon other officials, and even caused one to be removed. From a certain substitute broker he received, in the way of bribes, at one time a valuable horse, sleigh, harness, and robes; at another two thousand dollars, and at another a promise of five thousand. His gains were made principally, however, by the division of spoils with this broker, whose operations were carried on in Utica. Recruits were swindled out of their bounties; the number of enlistments to the credit of the city quota was misrepresented in such a way as to raise the price of substitutes, in the furnishing of which Haddock had a direct interest; and when his frauds were discovered it was found that he held about two thousand "credits" in reserve, which had never been put to the account of the state. He probably intended to sell these at five hundred dollars apiece. During the progress of the trial he was made to disgorge no less than two hundred thousand dollars.

The sentence of the court, which has been approved by the war department, and ordered to be published in the news papers of the state of New York, is that he be cashiered and disabled from holding any office or employment in the service of the United Stat s, and that he be fined $10,000 and be imprisoned until the fine be paid.

Speech of Senator Doolittle

Fond du Lac Wis. October 6.

The Hon. J. R. Doolittle addressed a large and crowded assembly, in Mowry hall, this evening. He said that, with the conquering of the rebellion, the democratic party was conquered, and the only question was what to do with the prisoners. If the administration was abandoned, the garrison might be captured, and the cause lost. He defended the platform of the Wisconsin convention, which was an unbroken Union of the states, Lincoln's and Johnson's policy of reconstruction, and the constitutional amendment as the only guarantee against the re-establishment of slavery and the loss of the loyalty of the Southern states. The Wisconsin platform did not adopt, as a new test of political fidelity, negro suffrage in Wisconsin, or negro suffrage in the southern states. He said that the convention acted wisely, and read the letter of senator Grimes, of Iowa, to show that the convention in that state was unwise in making negro suffrage a new party issue. He urged the necessity of union and harmony, and the duty of the minority to acquiesce in political action with the majority, and laughed at what he called the pretended attempt of the minority to rule the majority of the party.

He had forgotten all the rest of the English language. Ex-Governor Bigler kindly took the wild man in his hands, and will prepare him to vote for the Democratic candidates in October. This story may be true, since large numbers of the residence fled to the woods during the late draft. Many are yet missing, so that more wild men may yet be caught.

October Elections.

The fall elections in Iowa, Ohio and Pennsylvania took place last week Tuesday. In Iowa the union majority was 20,000 against Gen. Benton who professed to be the soldiers candidate but was in reality the nominee of the democracy. The amendment allowing negro suffrage in that State was carried. Ohio was carried by the union party by 25,000 majority. The vote on the part of union men was unusually light because their candidate for Governor, Gen. Cox, was not unconditionally for negro suffrage. Pennsylvania gave about five thousand union majority. Indiana held elections for county officers and in some localities has made astonishing union gains.

A. K. MAYNARD.

Somebody in St. Paul seems to be well acquainted with A. K. Mayrard the copperhead candidate for the Legislature in this District, and publishes his political history for thirty five years past. This Maynard commenced politie's by opposing the Masonic fraternity in Cheuago County N. Y. Failing in this to effect any political results, he soon became an itinerant class leader of the subterranean Democrats. After years of unsuccessful search after office, he turns up a full pledged know-nothing, and taught the doctrine that "no foreigner should be allowed to vote till he had resided in the United States twenty one years." Upon this issue he was nominated as Judge of the Marine Court of New York and elected. That party being short-lived he filled the office but one term, and removed to Minnesota. The persistency with which he labored for knownothingism bears evidence of his sincere hatred of foreigners, whose votes he now solicites at the coming election. The naturalized citizens of Blue Earth and Le Sueur counties belonging to either party will hardly trust their distinies with a man whose record proves him to be unfriendly to them or to their several nationalities. His opposition to enfranchizing the colored people of this State is enkindled from the same latest desire which once led him to oppose the naturalization of foreigners. Let him be remembered at the poles on the 7th of November.

Murder of Warren Youmans.

The Winona Rep. of Friday last states that Mr. Warren Youman's was found dead on the premises of a man named Callahan, an Irishman. Both these parties lived in the town of Quincy, Olmstead Co. and were neighbors. The friends of Youmans who had missed him for several days, searched the premises of Callahan and found the body which seemed to have been cut in pieces with a scythe. This Callahan had made previous threats and for this reason suspicion rested upon him. He has made his escape but the officers of the law are after him.

Execution Suspended.

The execution of Medicine Bottle and Little Six have been suspended by order of the President until further orders. The Record seems to demur to this proceeding but as the President is to the democracy "my man," they must endorse him.

The murderer Prior, who was to have been hung last week, is also respited by the President until the 27th inst.

Minnesota Central.

This road is now completed from Minneapolis to Faribault a distance of sixty miles, and is ready for public travel. As Faribault is only 45 miles from Mankato, freight will doubtless take that direction. A stage line from Faribault would also shorten the Saint Paul stage route 15 miles.

ACQUITTED.

In our issue of the 6th inst. was an article taken from the Louisville Union, accusing Col. J. F. Jaquess, a prominent Methodist clergyman with complicity in the procurement of abortion upon a Georgia woman in that city. The Col. was arrested at the house of the woman, and with a physician in attendance was lodged in jail. Mrs. H. A. Castle, his daughter, living at Quincy, Ill. announces his acquittal in a letter to the Chicago Tribune. The acquittal is presumption of his innocence, but the circumstances of his being there at that peculiar juncture are not explained.

Solder's Receptions.

The St. Paul Soldiers Reception Committee having extended to all our regiments, excepting the 2nd Cavalry, a public welcome and a generous reception, are now closing up their affairs. The amount of money subscribed for this purpose by the citizens of St, Paul is $2, 389,75, besides contributions of provisions and luxuries probably amounting to nearly fifteen hundred dollars. The people of the State are placed under obligations to St. Paul for this public demonstration of gratitude to Minnesota soldiers, in which the hearts of all patriots unite in spirit, though unable to be present in person and give pecuniary assistance towards its accomplishment.

A Union Welshman.

We have another instance to record of a Union Welshman seeking sympathy with the democracy, if the representation of the Record can be relied upon. He He finds fault with the UNION for remarks concerning the late democratic convention, and then for its "dirty attack" on one of the democratic candidates, and yet the Record calls him a Union Welshman. Will the Record please explain how a person can be a Union man and at the same time censure the Union organ for its comments upon the democracy, and use the columns of the democratic paper as a vehicle of tirade against the republican paper and party. True union men, if they have any differences with their party organ, seek a hearing through its columns and not through the columns of its enemies. There is every indication that the Record's correspondent was, not a republican but if he waswe, can assure our Welsh readers that his motives in writing to the Record were not such as would lead the different nationalities of the republican party to harmonious action, but rather indirectly to affect the Welsh vote, which he could not do if he should make a personal effort, on account of his unpopularity with his own countrymen.

—President Johnson has by proclamation of the 12th inst. relieved the State of Kentucky of martial law.

—In an article last week headed "tardy justice" we denied the charge made by the Record, that while advocating Mr. Gude's appointment for postmaster, we signed a petition opposing his appointment. The Record says that our article lacks the most essential merit—that of truth. If we understand the English language we are accused of lying about it. Now if the Record has any proof of our signing any petition or other writing discouraging the appointment of Mr. Gude, why not produce it. We defy any man to face us and make the charge. Either cut bait of fish Mr. Record. Prove your assertion like an honest man or back down like a gentleman. Considering our predicament he proposes to throw his mantle of charity over us. Well, we dont want any of his old clothes. He has used that same old mantle so long in winding up newspaper controversies that it must be somewhat delapidated. Besides charity begins at home, and in the exercise, of that virtue by the Record that old piece of calico will hardly suffice to cover the short comings of its owner.

COMMUNICATION.

MR. EDITOR:—In the last number of the UNION I find a communication from "Sidney" in regard to the nomination of Col. Smith, by the late Republican County Convention, which may deserve some attention.

He says: "It appears from the statements in the last two numbers of the UNION, and from information from other sources, that four of the delegates from Garden City, who were instructed by their constituents to vote against Col. Smith, disregarded their instructions and cast their votes against him: also, that four delegates from Mankato, who had been instructed to vote for Roberts chose to substitute their own will and vote for Col. Smith."

Whether the Mankato delegates did right or wrong it is not my purpose to inquire, but having been in the caucus at which the delegates from Garden City were elected, and having witnessed the whole proceedings, instructions and all, I maintain that if four of the delegates saw fit to support Col. Smith, they were justified in so doing. I think no one who was present at the caucus will pretend that it was the wish of the majority of that caucus to instruct the delegates at all. The motion to instruct was made, as I have heard from the man who made it, for quite a different purpose than that of instructing, and it was evident from the opposition the motion met with, in the animated discussion which followed, that the sentiment of the meeting was clearly opposed to instructing. When the vote was taken, there were barely three votes in favor of instructing, in a caucus of fifteen or twenty members, those opposed to instructing not choosing to deepen the blush on the brow of the maker of it, by voting against it. Thus the vote was technically carried, while it was apparent to everybody, that in fact it was overwhelmingly defeated. So far from binding the delegates by this minority vote, the movement to instruct was generally regarded by the delegates and the meeting as a complete failure, and by none more so than by the man who originated the motion, and who took the most active part in the discussion which preceeded the taking of the vote.

Now in the light of these facts, if it be true that four of the delegates not having the fear of the three who voted to instruct them before their eyes, did, in obedience to their own personal wishes, and to their sense of "the fitness of things," think proper to support Col. Smith in the convention I cannot see that anybody has any right to complain. Mr. Roberts certainly cannot complain, for it is not pretended that the delegates were under any obligation to support him in any event, and they may now in in the light of subsequent events congratulate themselves that they were not betrayed into supporting a man of such "easy virtue" that he could be purchased at the paltry price since paid for him by our political enemies. Sidney ought to know that until the number of offices shall be increased to correspond with the number of those who want office and feel that they must have it, office seekers must continue to be disappointed, and such men are very apt to consider themselves misused.

A DELEGATE.

Garden City, Oct. 17, 1865.

COMMUNICATION.

Mankato, Oct. 18, 1895.

MR. EDITOR:—I notice in your issue of the 6th of Oct. an article entitled "A Fantastic Somersault" in which you belabor in very strong terms the action of Robert Roberts in accepting the nomination of Register of Deeds from the recent Democratic County Convention held in Mankato.

While I deprecate this sudden and extraordinary transition from the Republican to the Democratic ranks, I still have a little charity for the man who has been victimized by those who should have supported him, or at least proven themselves recreant to the trust and confidence repose in them.—I hold it to be self evident that whenever or wherever corruption and fraud is introduced into political convention to secure the nomination of one candidate to the detriment and injustice of another, equally, if not more deserving, and where the will of the people is bartered and sold by its dishonest and corrupt agents, it is time for the people to arise en masse and by their ballots, by that mighty weapon the Eletive Franchise veto these lawless encroachments upon their rights. What voice do the people of Blue Earth county have in the elections? None! Positively none! The whole affair is managed by a set of dishonest political demagogues who "buy and sell and cut and dry" as best suits their corrupt purposes. The wishes of the poeple are a secondary consideration and disregarded as unworthy their august attention. For example, the people meet in caucus, appoint delegates to represent them in convention, and being the dominant party and the nomination equivalent to an election, instruct their representatives to support such persons as they, not the delegates, but the people, desire. What's the result? These demagogues assail and carry them without a struggle and the will of the people is thus defeated and a minority rules the majority. With those facts before us, how can we do otherwise than arise and by our ballots overwhelm these political hucksters in a manner that will henceforth teach them to obey the voice of a majority of the people.

The idea of Mr. Roberts "changing his spots" and coming out in "copperhead colors" after the dangers, toils and hardships incident to a three years campaign in the military service is simply ridiculous. His public services stand out in bold relief and contradicts the accusation. Equivocation is useless, Mr. Roberts has been the victim of a mean combination and is looked upon to-day as the rightful nominee of the republican party.

Your correspondent "Sidney" desires some light upon this subject. 'Tis proper the affair should be thoroughly ventilated and the facts made public. In the recent Republican County Convention forty seven delegates were present. Hains of Vernon, and Roberts and Col. Smith of Mankato, were the candidates for Register of Deeds. The entire delegation from Garden City were instructed to oppose Smith, while the ten delegates representing Mankato were instructed to vote for Roberts, nine representing South Bend, Judson and Butternut Valley cast their votes for Roberts, I have the proof and challenge a denial; Vernon and Danville cast their four ballots for Hains.

RECAPITULATION.

Garden City, against Smith. 5 votes.
Mankato, for Roberts, 10 do
South Bend, Judson, Butternut-Valley, for Roberts 9 do
Danville, Vernon, for Hains 4 do

Total against Smith, 28 votes. Twenty four votes were necessary to a choice; twenty eight votes would have been cast against Col Smith, had all the delegates adhered to their instructions; yet notwithstanding this, Smith received the nomination at the first balloting, and the people open their eyes and inquire, who has bolted? Disguise it as best you can the cloven foot is still visable and indicates treachery. If the entire Republican ticket should be defeated this fall, dont charge it to Roberts, but to those who by their inconsistent action brought discontent into our ranks.

Republicans don't desert your ticket, but in this isolated case, stand by the side of justice, rebuke corruption, punish fraud, and preserve the purity of the ballot box.

Yours truly,
'OCCASIONAL"

Resolutions and Platform Adopted by the Union State Convention.

Resolved. That for the suppression of the greatest armed rebellion ever waged in the world against liberal principles, the rights of mankind and the integrity of the republic, and for the great boons of peace and prosperity which we now enjoy, our profoundest gratitude is due to Almighty God; and under Him to the wisdom, perseverance, courage and devotion of the loyal people of the United States.

Resolved. That while we recognize the dispersion of the armed forces of the rebellion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the local feelings and the pernicious principles which culminate in rebellion still exists in the South to a great extent, and that it is now the duty of all loyal men to unite in demanding such wise and prudent measures of statesmanship as shall compleat the glorious work of our armies, and such precautions as may be necessary to the future safety and the lasting and perpetual peace of the nation.

Resolved That having at all times denounced the dark spirit of human slavery, and having throughout the late war lent our hearty and cordial support to every measure looking to its suppression, we now hail its extinction with "unfeigned satisfaction," and with the conviction that we have been instrumental in cleansing the nation of this foul blot; and we furthermore pledge ourselves never to permit it to revive in any portion of our national domain, under any new name or under any cunning pretense; determined that not only shall slavery perish, but that all its forms, appliances and theories shall perish with it

Resolved. That inasmuch as the existing remnant of the so called Democratic party is aspiring to thrust its counsels upon the people in the questions arising out of the close of the war, and inasmuch as it is just and right that that party should be held fast to the responsibility of its past record, we therefore charge upon it.—

1. That by a course of servility extended through thirty years, it accustomed the southern people to govern, inspired them with contempt for the North, and prepared them for that day when failing any longer to constitutionally govern the nation, they should set up the banner of revolt.

2 That through their leaders, they encouraged the outbreak of the rebellion, assuring the insurgents that for every regiment sent by the North against the South, one should be sent to fight in its behalf, and that the streets of northern cities should run red with blood before the South should be subjugated.

3. That by a denial of the right of general Government to coerce a State into obedience,—a denial resting upon the authority of the last of the Democratic Presidents,—they palsied the arm of the government in the early days of the struggle, and gave time for the treasonable conspiracy to organize and arm itself.

4. That at every stage of the great contest their sympathy was upon the side of the rebellion; and that for this purpose they organized secret societies for traitorous purposes; opposed every decisive measure of the general Government; resisted directly or indirectly the enforcement of the draft; incited riots in the great cities, filled the people with gloom and despondency, and finaly in the critical moment of the struggle declared that the war was a failure, that the nation was unable to suppress the rebellion, and clamored for measures which, if carried out, could only have resulted in the division and destruction of the nation.

5 That it is now the intention of the Democratic party, by working on the prejudice of race, and with a view to their own re-establishment in power, to preserve the causes of the rebellion by retaining the black men of the South in a condition of peerage and serfdom, as an ignorant and oppressed class, cut off from all change of future improvement, a source of constant danger to the white population of the South, and a reproach to the humanity and civilization of the entire Nation

Resolved, That the spirit of our institutions requires that the measure of a man's political rights shall be neither his religion, his birthplace, his race, his color, nor any merely physical characteristic, and that it would be subversive of both the form and spirits of our institutions, to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject caste, taxed to support, and compelled to obey, a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction.

Resolved, That in the cruel murder of the late Executive of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, we recognize the natural result of the persicious principles of the rebellion, which failing to destroy the life of the nation, struck down its ablest, most trusted and best beloved representative; and we pledge ourselves to gather from his martyrdom new devotion to the great principles he so well maintained, and in defense of which he perished

Resolved. That we tender to the officers and soldiers who have so gallantly sustained the credit of our State and the nation in the late war, our heartfelt and profound thanks; their services and suffering will ever be born in remembrance by a grateful people, while the names of the gallant dead will be cherished as the proudest legacy which can be left to inspire and direct posterity.

Resolved. That the existance of an Imperial government, sustained by foreign bayonets, upon the soil of our sister republic of Mexico is a violation of the established policy of our nation, and a constant threat against its institutions and integrity, and we demand that our government shall take such steps as will lead to the prompt withdrawal of the invaders.

Resolved. That the present financial condition of the country demands that the strictest economy should be practiced in the administration of both the State and National Governments, and we ask that so soon as the reestablished credit of the nation will permit that the indebtedness of the United States shall be made to bear a less rate of interest than at present and that all inequalities in the burdens of taxatioo shall be removed.

Resolved. That the administration of the general government during the past four years, in the hands of the late lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, and in the hands of the present executive, Andrew Johnson, in all their efforts to preserve the Union and liberties of the country, meets with our hearty approval and concurrence.

Resolved, That in behalf of the people of Minnesota we thank the present executive of the State, his excellency Stephen Miller, and the officers associated with him in the State government, for the able faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices

Resolved. That in the event of a failure of proper national action, we are in favor of such State legislation as shall abundantly relieve the necessities of the disabled soldiers of this State and the orphans of those who have perished in the course of the war.

The terms of the sale are such by law, that lands designated "Timber," seventy five per cent. of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, while lands denoted "Prairie," only fifteen per cent of the purchase money will be required. When lands are not especially valuable for timber thereon, the proportion of the purchase money required down is mentioned in the proper column. In each case, the balance of the purchase money can be paid any time thereafter, from time to time, within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser; provided interest in advance at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, on the unpaid balance is paid to the first day of June, 1866, and annually thereafter

Purchase money payable in legal tender notes

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of improvements, one half to be paid at the time of sale, and the balance with in six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

The offering of said lands will commence at 10 o'clock A. M., at the usual place of holding court, on the day specified, and will proceed in order in which they are advertised, until all are offered. No sale will be kept open longer than one day, and no lands will be sold except at public sale

COME ONE, COME EVERY BODY.

A general invitation is extended to the citizens of Blue Earth Valley to meet at Mankato on Monday afternoon and evening Oct 23rd to hear addresses upon the issues involved in the November election. Gen. Marshall, the Union candidate for Governor, Hon T H Armstrong candidate for Lieut. Gov. Governor, Miller the present Executive, Hon. M. S. Wilkinson [late U. S. Senator.] and R. Reynolds Esq. will be present and address the meeting.

—UNDERSHIRTS, AND DRAWERS CHEEP at Randall & Smith's.

--Boys Clothing, Boys Hats and Boys Caps in great variety at Randall & Smith's

WANTED.—A girl to do the house work of a small family; or a good girl who desires to go to school and work for her board. Inquire at this office.

—If you want a good overcoat dress or business coat, vest pants, under and over shirts drawers, and in fact anything in the way of mens'wear go to Randall & Smith's BEATEN.—"Roan Jim" of St. Peter the horse which won the purse at the State Fair, challenged Henry Johnson's black mare of Nicolet, and was "scooped out" by the mare at a race last Saturday at St. Peter.

—Otter, Beaver, Nutria and cloth caps for men and boys at Randall & Smith's ANOTHER SALE—Property on Front Street continues to go up at break neck speed Last week Judge Branson sold 22 feet front on the corner next to Bradley's Store for $1,000 in green bax to Charlie Heinze. Charlie has been here long enough to know the value of real estate, and considers the price reasonable.

GERMANIA HOTEL.—We publish this week the card of C. W. Hermann, the new proprietor of the Germania House Mr Hermann is renovating and refitting his house for the reception of the public, and promises to keep a hotel as good as the best in Mankato. He starts out right by advertising and keeping in his hotel the files of Mankato newspapers. We bespeak for him a liberal and remunerative patronage.

LOST --On Saturday evening last, either between the residence of the Editor of the UNION on 2nd Street and Johnson's store or the Presbyterian Church a large Silver Extension Case holding a Washington Medallion pen, bearing upon the large part of the case this inscription, "Chas E. Griswold" As this case is somewhat prized, the finder will be suitably compensated by leaving the same at this office.

INSURANCE.—The Le Sueur Statesman contains a letter from Philip Bardon who says that his wife insured his house and effects to the amount of $525, while he was in the army, in the Mankato insurance company. He wrote her, disapproving the act and wishing her to return the policy as he thought it useless to insure. A few days since his house burned to the ground and the company promptly paid the loss. He now repents his own action and heartily recommends this company to those holding property liable to loss by fire or lightning.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS REPORT —Mr. A. D. Seward clerk of the school board of Mankato has completed the census of persons between the ages of 5 and 21. There are—

Males	257
Females	287
Total	544

One hundred and seventy one males and one hundred and fifty females attended school during the past year. The average daily attendance during four months of winter school and four of summer school was 123 3-5. Two male and three female teachers were employed at a cost of $912,58

Adding one fourth to the number of children between 5 and 21 years we will arrive nearly at the number of children in town. This reckoning gives Mankato in a population of over two thousand only 680 children. At least two thirds of the people of Mankato are adults over the age of twenty one.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT.—Hall Brothers request us to announce that they will give an instrumental and vocal concert at Mankato this Friday evening at the City Hall. These gentleman are assisted by Misses Frank & Florence Hawley and are highly complimented by the press. The Hasting's Conserver says: 'The original Hall Bros. gave one of their pleasing entertainments last evening at Teutonia Hall. A good number were in attendance and their pieces were well rendered and well received by the audience. As singers we regard them the best of the season.'

THE CONTRACT LET.—The Board of Directors of the School District of Mankato, we are informed, have let the contract for building the long delayed school building, to be commenced forthwith, and completed next season. Messrs. Burrows & Ipson of St. Paul are the contractors and the cost is to be $9,850. It is to be a three story building much after the plan drawn by Mr. Shier. According to the Record the alteration or deviation from Mr. Shier's plan, who is an experienced architect, will be an improvement. It might seem so to one not an architect, but we think Mr. Sheir would differ with him. It is well known that the school District instructed the Directors not to contract for the building unless it could be completed for use by January next This of course cannot be done, and it remains to be seen whether the people will endorse their action. The Record in a laborious article berates the UNION for speaking against the illegal action of the Board, and counsels the people not to oppose them or find fault with them, but to lay aside differences of opinion and encourage the directors in their action. Its gratuitous advise is in itself a confession, not only that they have over stepped their authority, but that the people will be dissatisfied and have some ground of complaint. Anticipating this opposition the Record attempts to forestall public opinion upon the plea that educational necessities will not permit of opposition to the Board, no matter how unwarrantable or illegal their action. We are astonished that the Record should take the ground that we have no right, as a right, or as a policy, to criticise the conduct of public men. We have contended honestly for a smaller and cheaper building, but no one will abide the will of the people with more satisfaction than we If the people will render legal that which was conceived without law, we are happy to abide the r decision.

PRESBYTERIAN SABBATH SCHOOL.—Last Sabbath morning Mr. Marshall preached a sermon to the children of the Sabbath School. In the course of his remarks he presented to the school over eighty very beautiful volumns of books as a memorial of Frank Armitage Trull of Brooklyn N. Y. who died in Feb. 1860, aged 13 years. The following extract is from a letter written to Mr. Marshall, and it thus speaks of this young but devoted servant of Christ:

"On his death bed he pointed his little friends to Jesus, and his fond weeping mother to that Saviour who when on earth folded little children in his arms and blessed them. His young but lively faith assured him of rest in Heaven."

"For years he had placed his little presents and rewards of self-denial in a little bank. Upon his death bed his thoughts turned to this fund, and he gave directions that it should be applied to aid Sunday Schools, that when he was gone it should still work for Christ and his cause. A mother guarded it until it was safely invested for Christ. This dear boy had been the subject of many prayers and tears, that whether living or dying he should be the Lords".

The above together with other items of interest was given to the children who appeared to be deeply interested. The number present was unusually large. At the regular session of the Sabbath school in the afternoon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That it is with mournful pleasure, and sincere gratitude that we, the members of the Sabbath Schools of the First Presbyterian Church of Mankato, Minnesota, place in our library the beautiful volumns committed to our care as the dying legacy of the sainted boy—Frank Armitage Trull "whom having not seen we love" and whose christian life and virtues we will strive to emulate.

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks to our co laborers, the members of the Juvenile Missionary Association of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn N. Y. for this precious gift received through their hands, and we assure them that our prayers will be added to theirs, that these memorial volumes may, by the blessing of God, be the means of leading many souls to Christ

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved mother whose earnest, anxious, prayers, we are assured, follows this precious legacy of her beloved boy. And we would assure her that our prayers will meet hers at the Throne of Grace that when the sorrows of life are all past, and we reap in joy what we have here sown in tears, she with us may meet in the Saints Everlasting Rest, there to find her lamented son, our beloved benefactor, safely folded in the Saviours arms.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions signed by our pastor and the officers of the Sabbath School be forwarded to the Juvenile Missionary Association of the Westminster Presbyterian Church and also to the mother of our lamented benefactor.

The whole affair was one which parents and children will long remember, and from it doubtless much good will result.

OUR ST PAUL NEIGHBORS.—We inserted in our advertising columns last week the cards of a few of the leading business houses of St. Paul. To these we desire to call the attention of our readers and especially of those who are doing business in Mankato and desire to replenish their stocks. A portion of these advertisers were our patrons when we published the Valley Herald at Chaska, and do not hesitate to come with us to this village knowing that we must eventually become in point of trade tributary to that city.

EDWARD H. BIGGS.

This drug emporium is located in the heart of the business street of St. Paul on the river side of the street, No. 131 Presley's Block.

Mr. Biggs invites the attention of druggists to the largest and best assortment of drugs west of Chicago. He is now purchasing a stock of $175,900 worth, all of which will arrive before the closing of navigation. By this means he saves heavy express rates which must be incurred in the winter and will give the benefit of it to his customers. He is the agent for all staple patent medicines, and is filled from cellar to garret with every thing pertaining to the drug business.

RICHARD MARVIN.

At 189 & 191 Third Street may be found the wholesale and retail china, glass and queensware house of Richard Marvin. Mr Marvin imports his goods direct from Europe and as there are no intermediate profits to be shared with N. Y. dealers he is able, as he advertises, to supply the trade at eastern prices with less than freight added Special attention is called to his stock of Oils, Lamps, Chimneys, Wicks and Lanterns. We recommend this house to those of our merchants who buy to sell again, and to others who may happen in the city and desire anything in that line of goods.

SECOND NATIONAL BANK.

As this city is without banking facilities, we commend the attention of our citizens to the card of the Second National Bank of St. Paul We have had occasion to do business with this Bank and always find them ready to accommodate on terms even better than many other banking institutions will afford. We have but to glance at the names of the Board of Directors who are among the best business men of that city, to be assured of the reliability and permanence of that institution.

CARPET HALL.

The most extensive carpet hall in St. Paul is that of R. C. Strong's 225 Third street. His fall stock is large and varied, and the wants of every customer whether it be for the cheapest rag or the rarest velvet carpet, can be supplied at the lowest rates. Mr. Strong is making arrangements to enlarge his buildings to accommodate his immense stock, and his large and increasing trade. See his card elsewhere.

JOBBERS OF DRY GOODS.

The only strictly jobbing house in foreign and domestic dry goods and notions in St. Paul is that of J. L. Forepaugh & Co. successors to Justice Forepaugh & Co. 138 Third Street. In passing through their house we observed that the stock was as large and even larger than that of many of the Chicago jobbers. The bulk of their goods was purchased before the rise, and will be sold without regard to the advance. We recommend our dealers to drop in and see for themselves. Mr Forepaugh the leading member of the firm is nearly all the time at New York attending the sales of dry goods, and by watching the market, is able to guarantee satisfaction to the trade. G. R. Finch Esq. of this firm is the son of our respected townsman Judge S. Finch. We bespeak for them a patronage commensurate with the importance of their undertaking.

TEETHING SYRUP.

Dr. Winchells Teething Syrup, recommended the best in the world, is advertised for sale by E. H. Biggs St. Paul, who is sole agent for the State.

MUSIC DEALERS.

The splendid new music rooms of Munger Brothers, are well worth a visit. Music books and musical instruments of every variety from a jews harp to a piano may be found at his establishment. Being agents for the best pianos and melodeons in the land, and keeping a select stock of the latest sheet music and singing books there can be no better place for music lovers to spend their money. Their stock is the largest west of Chicago, and therefore all the better to choose from. Munger Bros is the oldest music store in the city and their success in business proves that the public have always found inducements to trade at their store.

FURNITURE.

S. L. Baily & Co. are the largest wholesale and retail dealers of furniture in the city and are located at 244 Third Street. With every facility for manufacturing and purchasing at the lowest rates, they are prepared to furnish customers with cheap furniture as well as the nicest to be found in any market. In addition to furniture they keep for sale picture frames, mouldings, varnishes and glue. The public are invited to call and examine their stock.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Wm. Windom is in town, stopping at the Clifton. He proposes to find out what Mr. Wise of the Record knows about Indian frauds. Put him on the stand Mr. Windom and let him swear.

DIED.—Lieut. Peter Lenz of the Heavy Artillery who arrived from the south only last week, died at home in Mankato on Wednesday last from disease contracted in the army. He is a German and long and well known as a resident of Mankato.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN BURGER.

The St. Paul Press of the 15th inst. mentions the death of Captain Burger originally a Lieutenant in the first Company of Minnesota Sharpshooters. He participated in many of the hard fought battles of the army of the Potomac, and finally left the service on account of ill health. He was for a short time clerk in the Adjutant Generals office and was chosen enrolling clerk of the senate last winter. His disease was dysentary in its virulent form.

The reports of the American Institute, Farmers' club, and the various Agricultural reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription. Read what a subscriber in St. Louis says:

St LOUIS, Mo., July 16, 1865.

The Editor of The Tribune.

DEAR SIR: I have had it in contemplation for some time to write and tell you of the pleasure I get from the weekly perusal of the proceedings of the Farmers' club; first I will tell you how recently I became aware of its existence. About the 1st of September, 1863, I noticed an advertisement, and a cut of the Tribune strawberries, and immediately subscribed for The Weekly Tribune, in which I found the proceedings of your club I have read them constantly, until they have become to me a necessity, and I look for Monday as red letter day in my calendar, and was I to be confined to one agricultural paper alone, I should prefer the Tribune to anything I have yet seen. Yours JOHN HENWOOD.

Another subscriber writes:

I neglected (forgot) to renew my subscription to The Tribune, until so late that I missed the first July No. Can you help me to it? Portions of the Farmers' club reports in that number, particularly, I wish to preserve. In fact, that feature of the paper constitutes ONE of the main reasons why I take it. And I have no doubt that it receives a goodly share of its patronage from persons who wish it well, but would not otherwise bring themselves to the subscribing point.

Yours truly, O. A. ALEXANDER

THE SOUTH AMERICAN WAR

South America is now the theatre of a great war, waged between the empire of Brazil, the Argentine Republic, and Uruguay, with a united population of nine and a half millions, on the one hand, and the little state of Paraguay, with only a million and a half, on the other.

President Lopez, by his bold defiance of his three formidable adversaries, the energy by which he has brought into the field a force of fifty thousand men (nearly equal to theirs), and the victories which he has achieved over the allies, has won the reputation of the foremost hero of this conflict. It is not too much to say that the annals of history present few instances of a war urged with so much spirit and genius by a small state against a powerful coalition. Already Lopez has gained possession of important places in the southern provinces of Brazil, and has annexed the Argentine province of Corrintes, where it is said that the inhabitants actually received his troops with acclamations.

How far the struggle may tend to the establishment of more enlightened institutions in South America, cannot be predicted in the absence of comprehensive information as to the real state of things there. Our news so far has been received chiefly through the Brazilian journals, It may be assumed, however, that freedom would have nothing to hope from the triumph of Dom Pedro and his alies. Some of the consular officers in Rio Janeiro, who joined in the address of congratulation presented by the foreign consuls of that city to the emperor, on his recent departure for the seat of what they were pleased to call the "war in favor of liberty," have been rebuked by their respective governments. So far from being a war in behalf of freedom, it is a contest brought on and sustained almost exclusively by the powerful slave-ocracy of the empire. That country is almost as much distracted by slavery as our own once was, and in this circumstance prehaps President Lopez has his best hopes of success. Dom Pedro cannot depend upon the support of those parts of his empire in which slavery has no foothold, Such, for instance, are the southern provinces in which Lopez has already established himself.

Should Lopez continue his hitherto successful invasion of the territories of his allies, he may become, however, unconsciously, the instrument for dealing a death-blow to the slave power in Brazil—a result so desirable for the progress of civilization that even the excesses and outrages of the Paraguayan soldiery would be forgotten in the annhilation of those permanent and still greater wrongs upon humanity which disgrace the Brazilian slave markets and plantations.

WHAT THEY THINK OF HIM.—The arch traitor, Gen. Robert E. Lee, has accepted the presidency of Washington College, Lexington Virginia. A great country this, when men steeped and damned in infamy, are placed at the head of prominent literary institutions.—General Lee is about as creditable to College, as its President, as the Captain of a banditti or the commander of a pirate crew would be.—Pity that Monroe Edwards could not have survived until now he would have died a hero.

We regard Gen. Lee as standing next to Jeff. Davis on the black catalogue of murderers and traitors, and the thousands of starved prisoners who died amid filth and vermin on Belle Isle, Andersonville and other places will rise up in judgment against him, and if possible, sink his black soul lower then tophet, and were it not that we are in favor of keeping the public faith, and think Gen. Grant's parol stipulations should be observed, we would say he should be hung higher than Haman, and after death should brave the burial of an ass.—Virginia paper.

Pardons—Southern Light houses.

WASHINGTON, October 6.—An erroneous impression prevails with the public as to the number of pardons thus far granted by the president, some estimates placing it as high as 3,500. We ascertain, on official authority, that the number up to and including the warrants signed this day, is but 2,658. Among those lately pardoned is L. Pope Walker, the first rebel secretary of war, the man who gave the order to fire on Fort Sumter. It is proper to state that the cabinet have declined to recommend the pardon of the excepted classes, save those coming under the thirteenth exception, known as the $20,000 class.

In regard to freedmen's affairs, one of the assistant commissioners, who has just completed a tour through western Alabama, reports that the negroes in the main are industriously at work, but that the crops are poor, and it is thought that they will not be sufficient to sustain the population. The greater part of the inhabitants are indisposed to co-operate with the freedmen's bureau officers, and refuse to consider the results of the war as decisive. It is declared that there is but little loyalty among the whites, and that they regard the oath of allegiance to be broken whenever convenient, though returned rebel soldiers are mentioned as exceptions in these respects.

The light house board is constantly directing the re establishment along the southern coast, of light houses, destroyed by the rebels during the late war. Large appropriations will be required to put the coast in the condition it enjoyed prior 1861. Nearly every light house from Cape Henry down the Atlantic and Gulf coast, with the exception of a few Florida, were destroyed by the enemy the structures being torn down and the lences broken or carried away.

—The rations issued by the government to freedmen and refugees, during September, were less in amount than in any previous month since the close of the war.

—In the trial of Wirz, on Saturday, Colonel Chipman argued against the reception of the testimony of Generals Lee, Johnson, Cobb, and other distinguished rebels. The court, at the request of counsel for the accused, adjourned to Thursday next.

AN Illustrated Catalogue, containing full description of style, and testimonials of the most eminent Musicians, as to the superior excellence of our instruments—will be sent free to any address.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A. PRINCE & CO." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preperation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is bro't to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELEIF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW.

As Time—the great developor of Events—advances, these truths becomes wider and better known, and this Medicine has already become a simple necessity, with a growing demand, unprecedentd in the history of Medicine—the natural results of its INTRINSIC MERITS.

A single trial is all that is necessary to establish the fact that it is the most efficacious remedy ever offered to suffering humanity.

This medicine is put up in 50, 75 and $1,00 bottles and warranted to contain more and better material than any similar medicine introduced to the public in a medicine.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE
PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,

Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

FINKLE & LYON'S
SEWING MACHINES.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c, and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather without changing the feed, needle or tention, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

These are PECULIAR FACTS, and will go far to determine the choice of any intelligent buyer.

The Indian Peace Commission—Movements of the Commissioners.

Special Correspondence St. Paul Press.

FT. SULLY, D. T., Oct. 6, 1865.

When I last wrote you it was from my Iowa home at Sioux City. It was with some hesitation that I ventured to make myself known to the commissioners as a newspaper correspondent, desirous of accompanying them to the treaty ground. But I finally mustered courage enough to ask the requisite permission of these respectable gentlemen, and obtained it, with the understanding that Uncle Sam should bear no part of the expense. A reasonable proposition, certainly, but strangely out of place in these days, when economy is hardly considered a virtue by public men. I forthwith embarked on the steamer Calypso, with carpet bag, pencil and paper, and after many days of slow progress, thumping against sand bars and picking up drift wood for lack of a better material for steam raising, finally reached the Crow Creek Agency, where I saw many of your Minnesota Indians who were taken prisoners by Gen. Sibley in the campaign of 1862, and transported to their new reservation on the Missouri the following spring. The tales related by the Indians, and by others cognizant of the facts, of the sufferings endured by these miserable people, composed principally of women and children, for the want of food and clothing, if correct would indicate gross negligence somewhere. Many died on the steamer, on board of which nearly 1,000 were crowded, in the heat of summer, for a trip of nearly 2,500 miles, and it is stated that of 1,700 shipped from Fort Snelling, less than 1,100 remain. Surely they have been fearfully punished for the outrages committed by the men of these bands in 1862.

The country above Yancton, in Dakota Territory, traversed by the Missouri river up to this point, may be truly designated as a part and parcel of the Great American Desert, utterly unfit for the residence of white men. With the exception of a few bottoms, on which grow the inevitably cottonwood, and an occasional thrifty growth of grass, the landscape is but a repetition of scenes which are the very embodiment of sterility and desolation. Hill and prairie are as devoid of vegetation as the plains of Iowa and Minnesota after the fires have consumed the dry grass. From Crow Creek Agency we came overland to this point, a distance of sixty miles, leaving the steamer to make way up the crooked and obstructed current of the Missouri, as rapidly as possible. The "Calypso" will probably reach here tomorrow.

The movements of the Commissioners were hastened by a despatch from Gen. Sully to Gen. Sibley, stating that some of the chiefs of the Minnecongues, Sans Arcs, and Ogallalla bands of the Teton Sioux, hitherto among those most hostile to the whites, had arrived at this point and would wait three days only for the commissioners, as their people were in a starving condition, and must travel without delay in search of buffalo. The camp of these chiefs is about 120 miles from here, and is composed of 700 lodges, or upwards of 1,000 warriors. There are other large bands within reach, and some head men of the Lower Brule Sioux, hitherto inimical, are coming up on the steamer to the general council, so that there is a fair prospect of a general peace, although it is not considered probable that anything more than the preliminaries can be settled this fall, as several important bands cannot be communicated with before next spring. I believe the impression is prevalent that all of the Sioux bands are desirous of peace, (as are the Cheyennes), except the Santee Sioux, composed of those who escaped capture after the outbreak of 1862, and have since been encamped for the most part near the British line, and who furnish the raiding parties to harrass the Minnesota frontier. These wretches, having little hope of pardon for their crimes, remain malignantly hostile, and declare they will continue the war to the bitter end. So long as they can be assured of safety from pursuit by our troops, by simply crossing the line into British territory, so long will you be annoyed by war parties from that direction.

The Commissioners are to meet the Chiefs referred to as they are anxious to depart speedily, this morning, and as the express messenger leaves here with the mail matter for Fort Randall at 9 A. M., to-day, I must close this hasty communication. I will give you what may be of interest as the negotiations progress. Gen. Sully and Capt. N. Pope are here.

IOWA.

NO REPUDIATION.

The policy which aims at the immediate restoration of the rebel states with their masses of blood stained, unrepentant people, tends directly to the repudiation of the national debt, and every man who advocates and supports it is doing his best to destroy the credit and annihilate the financial honor of the United States.

We say this not of the merely experimental policy of President Johnson, but of the perfidious copperhead policy of those among us who, throughout the war, intrigued to secure the triumph of the rebellion, who sat both in convention in Chicago, and in the midnight councils of the K. G. C., who have just been defeated in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Iowa, and are now zealously endeavoring to promote the election of corrupt and renegade candidates on the democratic ticket in New York. These men profess to approve the plan of the president, but in reality they hate it, for he is merely trying an experiment with the south, while they are bent on bringing the rebels at onece and forever back to power.

The immediate restoration of these rebels amount simply to repudiation. Does anybody suppose that South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, and the rest, when once made free to act as they desire, will vote money to pay the cost of their own subjugation? Will they consent to tax themselves in order to pay the interest on what it has cost to subdue their armies, slay they soldiers, devastate their country, and free their slaves? Will they ever willingly pay for the cannon, the powder, the ballets, the ships, the food, the uniforms, the animals, employed in crushing into a bloody extinction all their pride and their ambition, all their rage against Yankees, and their malignant fury toward abolitionists? Will they agree to pay pensions to the mutilated soldiers of the republic, while their own invalids limp about in hopeless beggary? Of course they will not. It is not in human nature. They will make us as many fair promises and pleasant declarations as may be necessary to beguile the vigilance of the northern people, and to enchant into confiding securities the too credulous among the men in office. But once release them from military control, once trust them with the freeans of power, and with unerring instinct and immovable resolve they will use it for repudiation,

Are the loyal American people ready for disgrace? Are they prepared to dishonor themselves by refusing to pay their debts and support those who have been mangled and disabled in the country's service? If they are, let them determine with copperheads, traitors, and rebels of every shade, that the insurgent states with their rebel people shall at once be reinstated in all the rights and privileges, and prerogatives belonging to unquestioned members of the Union.

The Wonderful Spring at Andersonville.

We copy the following from The Vermont Chronicle: Mr. F. C. Grant, who was a member of battery A, of the 11th Vermont regiment, and who spent four months within the stockade at Andersonville, gave us a history of the wonderful spring that burst out there that we never remember to have seen in print. Every one, we presume, is aware that the pen in which the prisoners were kept enclosed was in a swamp, through which ran a sluggish brook, and from this brook the prisoners received their supply of water. This water was never fit to drink in its best state, but in addition to its natural unfitness, it ran down by the rebel camp before it entered the stockade, and received the excrements and filth of that. This of course, rendered it intolerable.

About the middle of August, 1864, or about a month and a half after the Vermont boys entered the stockade, there came one day a very heavy thunder shower, of some forty minutes duration. And from that time a spring of pure water burst forth from a sand hill near the dead line, and flowed in such quantities as to supply the entire camp of some 25,000 or 30,000 prisoners. Some of the men looked upon this as a direct interposition of God for their salvation; and all thought it very remarkable for two reasons: the source from whence it came—a dry sandy knoll—and the purity and quantity of the water, it being so unlike all other water in that vicinity, even that found in wells. This spring continued to send forth its pure fountain during the remainder of the time our prisoners were kept there, and for aught our informant knows, does to this day. Has the day of miracles passed?

From Detroit—A Tragedy.

News has been received here of a horrible tragedy at Lexington, Sanilac county, yesterday. Captain John P Ward, the eldest son of the well-known capitalist, was arrested some weeks since on a charge of rape upon a girl named Ida Farnum, residing at Lexington. The case has been lately on trial at that point, and yesterday was consumed in taking evidence for the defense. On the adjournment of the court, a brother of Miss Farnum, about 16 years of age, followed Ward into the street, and shot him three times with a revolver, and was arrested in trying to fire again. One ball passed through his body, and probably broke his spine, paralyzing all his body below that line, another lodged in his lungs; and the third made a bad flesh-wound. At last accounts Ward was still alive, but he cannot survive. Young Farnum made no effort to escape, and is in jail. The case creates considerable excitement.

Sam Tilden and President Johnson.

Sam Tilden, the orator of democracy, has just returned from Washington, where he had an interview with President Johnson. A good story is told of Sam and the President. Everybody who knows Sam Tilden knows that he is an intolerable bore. President Johnson knew it years ago. He therefore was disposed to indulge him and let him run loose. Tilden commenced by complimenting the president upon returning to old democratic doctrines in his reconstruction policy, and bringing back the party to the old Jeffersonion landmarks. He branched off, elaborating on this subject, and illustrating it as only Sam Tilden can. He reminded the president that this was a compensating world, and illustrated this point by calling his attention to the fact that while the peacock had a magnificent rainbow tail, the bird was good for nothing to eat—that the elephant was a collossial animal, but lacked the speed of the antelope.

The president, all the time sat biting his lips, wondering what the d—l Tilden was driving at. Tilden continued: "There, too, Mr. President, is the poor, stupid oyster; what a sweet morsel to roll under your tongue, but what a repulsive object to look at." The president here interfered, and taking the spectacles from his nose, quaintly observed: "That there was one thing to be said in favor of the oyster, and that was it knew when to shut up."

Tilden looked slightly confused at the president, left the room, leaving him to digest the oyster. Tilden has now the opinion of President Johnson that The World had of him last fall—he is a "boorish tailor," who knows more about "a goose" than an oyster.—Albany Knickerbocker.

The Wirz Case—Sale of Vessels—Chief Justice Chase.

WASHINGTON, October 15.—The record of testimony in the Wirz trial makes 5,000 fools cap pages, divided into 70 parts, and contains between 300 and 400 objections and rulings of the court. One hundred and sixty witnesses were examined on both sides, several of whom were individually on the stand for examination in chief and cross-examination. Mr. Baker, of the counsel for the defense, thought it would take him seven or eight days to properly read this mass of testimony, in addition to his subsequent task of examining all the points of law, and, last of all, the criticisms of the statements of witnesses, the comparison of the different classes of testimony, and the writing out of his argument. He insisted on having two full weeks for the performance of this labor, stating that it was utterly impossible for him to complete it in a shorter period of time. The court at first gave him eight days, and afterwards extended the limit to twelve; but Mr. Baker would take no less than two weeks from Monday, and failing in this he chose to submit the case without argument. Colonel Caipman, the judge advocate, is already preparing his argument, promising to cover the ground on both sides, and will read it next Wednesday, when, as is usual in such cases, the court will, with closed doors, proceed to consider and make up their findings in the case before them.

The navy department will close out its sale of steamers and sailing vessels by disposing of twenty-two at public auction in New York on the 25th instant. They will be sold to the highest bidder, without reserve. A larger number of vessels has been sold here than elsewhere, above the assessed value of the government inspectors.

Chief Justice Chase has returned to Washington.

How it Happens

What is the cause of the ill health of our women? inquires a correspondent of me. Let me vary the question. What are the causes? In the first place, a tobacco-steeped physique, inherited from the father, and the baneful results of tight lacing on the part of the mother. Add to that the early use of tea and coffee, rich pastry and confections; late hours or retiring, and the undue excitement consequent upon attendance at crowded gatherings, either public or private. Add to that the perniciously protracted school hours, and the multiplicity of lessons piled on, as 'the last ounce,' out of school, when the overtasked system is strained to the very utmost. Add to this the unwisdom of taking children and young people far relaxation, in the summer months, to crowded watering places, where the city system of late hours over dressing, and excitement of all kinds is intensified to to the extremest boundary of folly. Can any person who sums up this drain upon immatury, this constant subtraction from life's capital, without adding investments to make up the deficiency—can any one in his senses wonder at the early and irretrievable bankruptcy of health which ensues? Is it wonderful that our young married women should break down beside their first cradle, or drag on a miserable existence till two, or perhaps three little ones are left motherless at the most critical period of their existence? As to the 'remedy,' for all this there is no use in talking about that till mothers, aye, and fathers too wake up to the necessity of a remedy; until they have the moral courage to say, I will break away, at all hazards, from any mode of living which shall injure, either in the present or the future, the physical well-being of my offspring; until, at all costs of self-denial, on the father's part as well as the mother's, this thought shall be paramount. What right, I ask, have either to perpetuate the amount of physical suffering they do upon a large family of puny children? That 'they didn't think,' that 'they didn't consider,' are but so many aggravations of their crime. That a mother can see her young daughter return from school, day after day, at three in the afternoon, after having been cooped up there since nine in the morning, staggering home under a pile of lesson-books, which she is bid to study in the interim at home; pale, spiritless, irritable; her vitality at the lowest possible ebb of endurance; that a mother can see this, and keep on permitting it, 'because all girls do so;' 'because all schools open and close at such hours;' because Sarah Jane makes no complaint,' which is the worst feature in the case, is totally incomprehensible upon any other supposition, than that the main-spring of that mother's life is utter selfishness:—a selfishness so short-sighted, too, even for its own interest, that it is all the more marvellous, since this girl, before her 'education is finished,' is sure to be finished herself, and the inmate of some 'Water-cure' or other asylum for murdered innocents. I have little patience with such mothers. They have no right to a name so God derived.

Marvellous, too, is it, that a father can see his young boy in short jackets puffing his precocious cigar daily on his way to school, and inwardly smile at his boy's smartness; can look at him, and joke about 'Young America.' This boy, who will never be a man, because it is impossible he should not forfeit, by this early waste of vitality, all physical claims to the title. But you say, how can he reprove him for a practice in which he daily indulges himself? Surely, how can he? That's just it; and so rather than deny himself, he chooses not to see that his boy is ruining his health. That's the worst thing one can say about the practice. Supposing he can't break off himself—and 'can't,' in this case, only means 'won't'—then at least let him say, My boy don't make yourself the slave that your father has, to this miserable habit. Can't he at least say this? Can't his mother join with his father in saying this, instead of, on her boy's birthday, buying him 'a beautiful meerschaum,' because he will smoke, because his father does, and because, somehow, he has got the notion that it is manly.

'Manly?' I am sick of the word. It ought to be blotted from the dictionary. Manliness implies the capability of self-denial and self-sacrifice; but my sermon is done, so the congregation can go out.

FANNY FERN.

How an Editor Died

A San Francisco correspondent furnishes this account of a remarkable case of coolness and courage. The gentleman alluded to was James Nisbet, of The San Francisco Bulletin, who was lost on the steamship Brother Jonathan, and his body was found floating in the ocean seven miles from land. When it was taken ashore and examined there was found in the deceased's vest pocket a will, which was written after the ship struck the fatal rock. Contemplating calmly the terrible scenes about him, and calculating his chances for life, he had the cool courage to make disposition of his property as would be most beneficial to those who would be left behind him. That old man writing a will amid the howling of the tempest that was lashing the ocean into foaming billows, and surrounded by drowning men, women and children, wailing out their agony to the pitiless winds and the raging sea, presents a heroic picture. Here is a copy of the will; and let the reader observe with what care it is written:

AT SEA ON BOARD BROTHER JONATHAN' }
July 20 1865, }

'In view of death, I hereby appoint my brother, Thomas Nisbet, at present engaged on the Pacific railroad, near Clipper Gap, California, my sole executor, with instructions to wind up my whole estate, real and personal, and convert the same into cash, with all convenient speed, but so as not to sacrifice the same, and to pay over and divide the same equally between himself and my sole sister Margaret Nisbet, now residing in England; and under burden of the payment of a legacy of $5,000 in gold to Almira Hopkins, wife of Chasper T. Hopkins, insurance agent San Francisco, California. And I desire that my brother, the said Thomas Nisbet, shall not be asked to give security for his intermission with my estate.

'JAMES NISBET.'

The document was written with a pencil, the writer coolly recollecting that pencil marks are less affected by water than ink marks. It was clearly written, in Mr. Nisbet's bold and steady penmanship. When he had concluded the will, he found he had yet a little time left before the ship would probably go down, and he added the following brief note to a family in this city, where he had boarded for many years:

'MY DEAR MA: A thousand affectionate adieus. You spoke of my sailing on Friday—hangman's day—and the unlucky Jonathan. Well, here I am, with death before me. My love to all—to Casper, to Belle, to Mellie, and little Myra—kiss her for me. Never forget.

GRANDPA.

The children familiarly addressed the old man as grandpa, although he was in no way related to them.

Shares in National Banks Taxable

The court of appeals of the state of New York, composed of six republicans and two democrats, has reversed the judgement of the supreme court, and decided that shares in national banks are taxable. The point adjudged is that, although government securities are not taxable in the hands of individuals, yet when they are assigned to a national bank, and used as the basis of banking, the tax is upon the new use, and not upon the securities. All the judges concurred.

It is said the bank stockholders will carry the cases for review to the supreme court of the United States; and it is intended, in that case, that the argument before that court shall take place at the next term, which commences in December.

The national convention of Fenians met at Philadelphia, Oct, 16. About 500 delegates were present, and more are arriving. The convention sits with closed doors. There are rumors that a plan is to be urged for a provisional government for Ireland; and that important advices were received from that country, in cipher, by the last European steamer. A mass meeting was held at assembly buildings last evening, which was largely attended and very enthusiastic. Among the speakers was Mr. Morrison, of Chicago.

Fenian drills and meetings are progressing in Liverpool. At a recent meeting there, a resolution was adopted in favor of purchasing vessels for privateering purposes, and £200 was immediately subscribed for that object. Fears re entertained that the royal naval reserve has become infected with Fenianism. Colonel O'Connell, represented as a federal officer, is under arrest on charge of bearing dispatches from the Fenian war department at New York to the organization in Ireland and England. Every vessel arriving in Ireland from America is thoroughly searched, and the persons of the passengers are closely examined.

The latest official advices in regard to the cholera in Europe are as follows: At Constantinople, the disease has almost entirely disappeared. Of the appropriations for the war and navy departments not more than half ($300,000,000) will be used, thus reducing the sum to $522,000-000. Adding to this the indefinite appropriations, and the total appears at $674,761,000.

It appears that the 600 Spencer rifles which were attempted to be smugled into Canada, and which were siezed by the provincial authorities at Niagara, were the property of one Moses, formerly of Atlanta Georgia, and, while there, one of the heaviest hardware merchants in the south. He has lately, through agents, been making considerable purchases of arms in the northern states, for what purpose is unknown. Our government cannot stop the business, it being of a perfectly legitimate character.

In the trial of Wirz, on Saturday, Oct. 15th, there was quite a lively scene —Judge Advocate Chipman and Mr. Baker getting into personalities. The court finally interfered, and, after some remarks between its members and Mr. Baker, ordered the latter to take his seat or be taken out. Some testimony was given, after which it was announced that the evidence was closed on both sides. Mr. Baker demanded two weeks' time for the preparations of his argument. The court refusing to grant more than twelve days, he submitted the case without argument. Judge Advocate Chipman is making up his argument which will be read on Wednesday next. In it he promises to cover the ground on both sides.

POLITICAL SUGGESTIONS

One week from next Tuesday the general election of the State takes place.

Let every Union voter see that his name is on the poll list before the day of election, as the judges of election may deny any knowledge of you at the polls, especially if they are democratic judges. Especially is this necessary with new comers who are personally unknown to the officers of election. A resident of four months in the State, and ten days in the town, qualifies every white man to vote.

Bear in mind that votes for the constitutional amendment must be cast separate from the other ballot. The amendment ticket will be printed with the State ticket, but must in every case be separated before voting. Simply a majority "For" the amendment over those "Against" it. does not decide in favor of the amendment. There must be a majority over all the votes polled for the State ticket. The local committees, and those who control the tickets, should pay special attention to this matter.

We again suggest to the voters of foreign nationality, that in voting for A. K. Mainard they support one of the most rabid knownothings of modern times, for the Legislature. Better swap him off for our fellow townsman Hon. L. C. Harrington, who ably represented this District las winter at the Capitol.

Lastly we appeal to Union voters not to let the election go by default. We may not be in need of new acquisitions to the party, but we do need to roll up the usual majority, as a rebuke to the opposition, who, having persistantly kicked against the Union party, now seek to gain power by a pretended endorsement of the administration, and by placing Union men on their ticket. We have again produced the Union platform which is commended to the careful perusal of our readers. The most of the principles involved, we have touched upon in our report of the late speeches.

VOTING WITH THE DEMOCRACY

The Record announced last week that the German Republicans have held a convention and agreed to vote the democratic ticket, because their own party had procribed them, thinking them fit to vote, but not to hold office.

Such a convention must have been held in secret session, for no one but the Record knew anything of it. But let us see who has done the most to proscribe the Germans. The only office they desired was the post office. Was their candidate for that office more basely abused and heartily proscribed by any party or by any man, than by the Record and his followers? Some of the loud mouthed democracy went even so far as to say that they would make South Bend their post office if Mr. Gode was appointed. The German Republicans will vote the democratic ticket to reciprocate the favor of the Record's persistent and continued tirade of denunciations upon their candidate for post master, will they? No, guess not. The democracy are the proscribing party. They have nothing to say in favor of freedom, nothing for equal rights, nothing for the soldiers except to call them Lincoln hirelings, until the eve of election, they want their votes upon which to ride into power. Power is all they are after, and they'll come near enough to it to get a powerful threshing on the 7th of November.

—Later advices show that Pennsylvania instead of giving 5,000 Union majority, gives about 21,000, being a larger majority than that cast for President Lincoln.

GIVEN IT UP.

The Record says it is not able to get the proof of our disapproving the appointment of Mr. Gude for postmaster, because the petitions and letters are at Washington. To help the Record in gaining proof we would suggest that he inquire of the gentleman who circulated and forwarded the petition, and as to letters, Mr. Norton is at Winona and can be addressed upon the subject.

RAILROAD.

A telegraph from Hon. Edmond Rice was received last Monday, stating that arrangements were concluded for the grading of the St. Paul and Winona railroad, through from St. Paul to Hastings this fall, and for the laying of the track next spring.

MINNESOTA INSANE ASYLUM.

Gov. Miller has received a dispatch from Dr. Patterson, the physician at the Insane Asylum of Iowa, stating that the Minnesota insane patients cannot be admitted to that institution after the 1st of January next. Also that it will be impossible to retain the present number (30) longer than during the year 1866. Urgent recent cases may be exchanged for chronic and incurable ones. But these chronic cases must be provided for. Hence the necessity of early action by the Legislature, providing a suitable habitation for this class of unfortunate inhabitance.

THE UNION MEETING,

Speeches from Gen Marshall, Gov. Miller, and Hon. M S Wilkinson.

Monday evening last was the time appointed for the Union meeting, and the appearance of the gentleman announced for the occasion. Mr. Wilkinson was already in town. Gen. Marshall arrived by stage, and Gov. Miller through mud and incessant rain, drove through from Shakopee and arrived just at night. Notwithstanding a drenching rain the new Hall of Mr. Shoemaker was crowded so that many were obliged to stand. Mr Wilkinson opened the ball by a short and terse speech in behalf of the proprietor of the Hall, dedicating it to the cause of liberty. Rounds of cheers "warmed", up the building, and echoed back the sentiments of the distinguished Senator.

GEN. MARSHALL.

Mr. Wilkinson then introduced Gen W. R. Marshall "our Governor who is to be," who took the stand and occupied the attention of the audience for nearly two hours gaining their undivided attention to the end. He commenced by saying that Mr. Rice wished him, inasmuch as he was about to abandon the canvass, to announce his [Rice's] position. Mr. Rice told him to tell the people that he was always a democrat; that he supported Lincoln, and now supports Johnson; that he is in favor of taxing United States bonds, and is opposed to negro suffrage. This afforded the General a text, and he commenced by showing what a democrat was, and how they had almost foundered the State of Minnesota, in 1858 and previous years, by the profligacy and mismanagement of their leaders who were hurled from power in 1859, by the Republican party. He showed that the democracy left to the State a legacy of $400,000 of debts, and no equivalent rendered. State orders were at a discount of 35 per cent, and debts still accumulating. He contrasted the financial condition of the State then with the the present prosperous condition of the State Treasury under the administration of the Union party.

Passing from State to National policies he made the important issue, whether or no the Democratic party after all its efforts for the past five years in paralyzing the arm of the Government and giving and expressing sympathy with the rebellion, is the party best entitled to the control of the present policies of the State and Nation.

His theory was that the party which had sustained the Government, and was not at fault in allowing the rebellion to assume such monstrous proportions at its inceptions; the party which encouraged enlistments and approved a vigorous prosecution of the war, to its glorious conclusion, was the party entitled to the confidence of the people, and to settle what remains to be determined concerning the future policies of the nation.

In proof of the infidelity of the democratic party toward the nation, he cited the action of Buchannan in 1860, who declared he had no right to coerce a State, and allowed Thompson his Secretary of War to steal Government ammunition for the rebels, from our arsenals.

He noticed the manner in which democratic congressman at the begining of the war encouraged the rebels by avowing that not a dollar would be voted by their constitutents to save the Union.

These avowals gave great encouragement to the rebels, and for like reasons the democratic party is responsible for the magnitude of this struggle. He spoke of their discouraging enlistments, oppossing the Emancipation Proclamation, and the arming of negroes in order to save white blood, showing that in every possible manner for five long years they have been persistant in their efforts to cripple the Government, and by so doing gave comfort and aid to the enemy.

Passing to the question of repudiation, advocated by Mr. Rice in taxing bonds which Congress, in order to sell them, declared should not be taxed, he said but for this inducement it would have been impossible to sell them, and sustain the government. The bonds were in this manner popularized and taken by the masses of the people. Honesty requires that the Government keep its faith with the bond holders. Mr. Rice at the time of the passage of the bill was United States Senator, and a member of the committee on finance, and recommended the passage of this bill he wishes now to repudiate. The bill is constitutional, and has been so decided by Chief Justice Marshall and that notorious democratic authority Justice Taney. But the proper mode to equalize the taxation, is for the Government to borrow money, and pay up these privileged bonds, which can soon be done as they fall due in two or three years. The established credit of the Government will enable it to borrow at a less rate of interest, and thus our burden will be diminished.

He advocated the constitutional amendment, showing that it was an act of justice to the negroes who had fought for the Government, and because the distinction of color was only a prejudice. He stated that he was satisfied that our antipathies were only a prejudice from his own experience, he having been raised in Kentucky and early formed such notions. This speech, of which we are only able to give a brief synopsis, was a thorough review of the relations in which the Union and democratic parties have stood toward the Government for the past five years, and a complete answer to all issues which the democracy have chosen to raise.

GOVERNOR MILLER.

Governor Miller appeared in the Hall alone, and unattended. But the audience soon discovered who he was, and received him with due demonstration. The Governor followed Gen. Marshall in one of his characteristic speeches which are always popular and convincing. He reviewed mostly the same ground which Gen. Marshall had passed over, and by his pithy illustrations, and witticisms brought down the house with storms of applause. As his positions were the same as those we have already mentioned above, we will not again rehearse them. The Governor objected to the success of the democratic ticket because its success would still be considered a triumph over the principles upon which the war was prosecuted. He would have the negroes vote because these in the army had earned that right. The fear of social equality with them was groundless, in proof of which he mentioned the case of Massachusetts where negroes had voted for many years.

In that State their social standing was the same as in States where they did not vote. In early times the negroes who were free, voted even in slave states. If we fail in enfranchising the negro this fall he was determined to try again with an intellectual qualification.

The Governor's address throughout was so full of life and earnestness coupled with clinching and amusing hits at the democracy, that the audience felt abundantly repaid for wading through a sea of rain to the Hall.

MR. WILKINSON.

A few very appropriate remarks by our townsman Hon. M. S. Wilkinson were listened to with attention. He endorsed the speaker who preceded him, advocating the largest human liberty and closed by offering three cheers for the soldiers on the State Ticket. These were given with a vim, vim, vim, and the meeting dispersed.

COMMUNICATED.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me through your columns to return my thanks to "a delegate," from Garden City, for his reply to my former communication. I asked for more light upon the question, and he has kindly furnished it. That is, there is just enough of light in his article "to make darkness visible."

I heard more than one person say that it is very easy to account for the delegates voting contrary to their instructions. "They were bought of course," say they. I am unwilling to come to such a harsh conclusion without full proof. I prefer to believe that the gentlemen who did so, belong to a class who honestly believe that the people are not competent to manage their own affairs.

In illustration of the doctrine "that popular assemblies are incompetent for business" he gives us an account of the proceedings of the Republican Caucus held at Garden City, which according to his statement was a series of blunders from beginning to end. Thus one gentleman moves that the "delegates be duly instructed" meaning all the time that they should go uninstructed. Then the meeting after fully discussing the proposition, voted "that the delegates be instructed to oppose the nomination of Col. Smith." But like the mover they meant the direct reverse of what they said. How fortunate then for the interests of the party and of the county at large, that they elected such fearless intelligent delegates. Who not having the fear of those who thus voted, before their eyes, acted in obedience to their own personal wishes.

I cannot help concluding that our friend's views of government bear a strong resemblance to that of a Bishop of London some forty years ago, who indignantly exclaimed from his seat in the British House of Lords. "The people? the people? what have the people to do with the laws, but to obey them!

I have in this controversy nothing to say, for or against either of the candidates for the office of Register of Deeds. Either of them would satisfy me; but I am contending for a great principle, without which our Republican government is but a form or delusion.

I hold that our town caucus meetings are the fountain head of our system of government. If we allow them to become corrupt, the whole body politic becomes poisoned and the will of a Codfish aristocracy is introduced for the will of the people.

STATE NEWS.

MINNESOTA APPLES.—We were presented the other morning bright and early, through a friend in town, a basket of fruit sent us by our esteemed citizen, Hon. L. R Hawkins, of Spring Lake, which consisted of two most beautiful varieties of apples, very large and fresh and some of handsomest bunches of Catawba grapes we ever saw; they were "dead ripe" and very large. These were but fair specimens of the fruit raised by Mr. H. and there is not a doubt in our mind but that Minnesota is to be an excellent fruit growing State for all hardy varieties of fruit.—Shakopee Argus,

TRAVEL.—The great amount of travel this fall is astonishing. The Keokuk came up this morning loaded from stem to stern with passengers. Deck and cabin were stowed full. She had some two hundred aboard and about seventy landed here. This is making mention of but one boat. The other steamers all bring up large loads The question is where do they come from and where do they go to? Why, they come from all parts of the civilized world; and they are all seeking that favored spot in this country known as Minnesota. "the land of the free and the home of the brave," so to speak.—Winona Republican Oct. 20.

Resolutions and Platform Adopted by the Union State Convention.

Resolved, That for the suppression of the greatest armed rebellion ever waged in the world against liberal principles, the rights of mankind and the integrity of the republic and for the great boons of peace and prosperity which we now enjoy, our profoundest gratitude is due to Almighty God; and under Him to the wisdom, perseverance, courage and devotion of the loyal people of the United States.

Resolved That while we recognize the dispersion of the armed forces of the rebellion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the local feelings and the pernicious principles which culminate in rebellion still exists in the South to a great extent, and that it is now the duty of all loyal men to unite in demanding such wise and prudent measures of statesmanship as shall complete the glorious work of our armies, and such precautions as may be necessary to the future safety and the lasting and perpetual peace of the nation.

Resolved That having at all times denounced the dark spirit of human slavery, and having throughout the late war lent our hearty and cordial support to every measure looking to its suppression, we now hail its extinction with "unfeigned satisfaction," and with the conviction that we have been instrumental in cleansing the nation of this foul blot; and we furthermore pledge ourselves never to permit it to revive in any portions of our national domain, under any new name or under any cunning pretense; determined that not only shall slavery perish, but that all its forms, appliances and theories shall perish with it

Resolved. That inasmuch as the existing remnant of the so called Democratic party is aspiring to thrust its counsels upon the people in the questions arising out of the close of the war, and inasmuch as it is just and right that that party should be held fast to the responsibility of its past record, we therefore charge upon it.—

1. That by a course of servility extended through thirty years, it accustomed the southern people to govern, inspired them with contempt for the North, and prepared them for that day when failing any longer to constitutionally govern the nation, they should set up the banner of revolt.

2 That through their leaders, they encouraged the outbreak of the rebellion, assuring the insurgents that for every regiment sent by the North against the South, one should be sent to fight in its behalf, and that the streets of northern cities should run red with blood before the South should be subjugated.

3. That by a denial of the right of general Government to coerce a State into obedience,—a denial resting upon the authority of the last of the Democratic Presidents,—they palsied the arm of the government in the early days of the struggle, and gave time for the treasonable conspiracy to organize and arm itself.

4. That at every stage of the great contest their sympathy was upon the side of the rebellion; and that for this purpose they organized secret societies for traitorous purposes; opposed every decisive measure of the general Government; resisted directly or indirectly the enforcement of the draft; incited riots in the great cities, filled the people with gloom and despondency, and finaly in the critical moment of the struggle declared that the war was a failure, that the nation was unable to suppress the rebellion, and clamored for measures which, if carried out, could only have resulted in the division and destruction of the nation

5 That it is now the intention of the Democratic party, by working on the prejudice of race, and with a view to their own re-establishment in power, to preserve the causes of the rebellion by retaining the black men of the South in a condition of peerage and serfdom, as an ignorant and oppressed class, cut-off from all change of future improvement, a source of constant danger to the white population of the South, and a reproach to the humanity and civilization of the entire Nation

Resolved, That the spirit of our institutions requires that the measure of a man's political rights shall be neither his religion, his birthplace, his race, his color, nor any merely physical characteristic, and that it would be subversive of both the form and spirits of our institutions, to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject caste, taxed to support, and compelled to obey, a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction.

Resolved, That in the cruel murder of the late Executive of the United States. Abraham Lincoln, we recognize the natural result of the pernicious principles of the rebellion, which failing to destroy the life of the nation, struck down its ablest, most trusted and best beloved representative; and we pledge ourselves to gather from his martyrdom new devotion to the great principles he so well maintained, and in defense of which he perished.

Resolved, That we tender to the officers and soldiers who have so gallantly sustained the credit of our State and the nation in the late war, our heartfelt and profound thanks; their services and suffering will ever be born in remembrance by a grateful people, while the names of the gallant dead will be cherished as the proudest legacy which can be left to inspire and direct posterity.

Resolved, That the existence of an Imperial government, sustained by foreign bayonets, upon the soil of our sister republic of Mexico is a violation of the established policy of our nation, and a constant threat against its institutions and integrity, and we demand that our government shall take such steps as will lead to the prompt withdrawal of the invaders.

Resolved, That the present financial condition of the country demands that the strictest economy should be practiced in the administration of both the State and National Governments, and we ask that so soon as the reestablished credit of the nation will permit, that the indebtedness of the United States shall be made to bear a less rate of interest than at present and that all inequalities in the burdens of taxation shall be removed.

Resolved, That the administration of the general government during the past four years, in the hands of the late lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, and in the hands of the present executive, Andrew Johnson, in all their efforts to preserve the Union and liberties of the country, meets with our hearty approval and concurrence.

Resolved, That in behalf of the people of Minnesota, we thank the present executive of the State, his excellency Stephen Miller, and the officers associated with him in the State government, for the able faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices.

Resolved, That in the event of a failure of proper national action, we are in favor of such State legislation as shall abundantly relieve the necessities of the disabled soldiers of this State and the orphans of those who have perished in the course of the war.

No lands will be sold for less than their appraised value per acre, and the right is reserved to withdraw from market any of the tracts advertised, on the day of sale.

The terms of the sale are such by law, that lands designated "Timber," seventy five per cent. of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, while lands denoted "Prairie," only fifteen per cent. of the purchase money will be required. When lands are not especially valuable for timber thereon, the proportion of the purchase money required down is mentioned in the proper column. In each case, the balance of the purchase money can be paid any time thereafter, from time to time, within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser; provided interest in advance at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, on the unpaid balance is paid to the first day of June, 1866, and annually thereafter.

Purchase money payable in legal tender notes.

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the appraised value of improvements, one half to be paid at the time of sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

The offering of said lands will commence at 10 o'clock A. M., at the usual place of holding court, on the day specified, and will proceed in order in which they are advertised, until all are offered. No sale will be kept open longer than one day, and no lands will be sold except at public sale.

GOOD Molasses for 80 cents per gallons at Johnson's 3 Front Street.

Wanted.—A girl to do the house work of a small family; or a good girl who desires to go to school and work for her board. Inquire at this office.

Notice.—All persons having unsettled claims against the late Soldier's Barbecue committee, are requested within one week to present them to T. R. Coulson chairman of said committee.

E. P. Freeman, Sec.

Mankato, Oct. 27th.

Burned to Death.—The Record announces the death of a child of Mr. Nelson in Judson Township by burning. It seems that the child was locked in the house, while the parents were at work near by. Upon returning, they found the child lying across a chair sadly burned. Dr McMahan was called, but too late to save the child.

More New Stores.—We notice that two young men named Titus one of whom has just returned from the army, have opened a grocery and provision store in the building owned by Mr. Clark. We also notice that Albert Reed, another returned soldier, is erecting a building near Meagher's hardware store, with the intention of starting a Yankee Notion store.

Broker.—The attention of our readers is called to the card of J. N. Hall, who has advertised to do a general brokerage business. He will buy and sell Compound Interest notes and United States bonds. Office over Prael & DuBuisson's store Persons dealing with Mr. Hall will find him liberal, prompt and reliable.

—The largest stock of cloths, cassimeres, satinets; etc. in the valley, and at very low prices at Johnson's 3 Front St.

Tribune Clubs.—Sleeum at the news depot, has commenced his annual club for the New York Weekly Tribune; and desires to increase it to fifty this year. He will furnish it for $175 per year, including postage. He is also making up clubs for the various magazines, and will furnish them at less rates than ever before.

—There is no branch of trade in this town that displays the increase of our business more than the hardware trade. A visit to Mr Meagher's Hardware Store convinces every person who calls at that popular house, of the extent of his business. His prices defy competition in this or any town in the valley. He has some new patterns of Cook and Parlor Stoves that are superior for economy in fuel and neatness of design. Examine his stock for yourselves at the City Hall building.

Lamm's Boot and Shoe Emporium.—Leo Lamm the prince of boot and shoe dealers in the north end of Mankato, has removed into the new brick block of Stephen Lamm and is receiving his large assortment of boots, shoes and leather, and promises not to be undersold Leo does a large business, and keeps three or four men at the bench to supply the demand for custom made boots He manufactures Drew's patent seamless boot, which are something new and useful, moccasins, buffalo over shoes and everything to make one comfortable in winter. Mr Lamm sells cheap as the cheapest.

Muddy weather is just the time to buy a pair of those Tall Grain Boots, at

CLARK & PORTER'S.

Call and see.—There is always something in the appearance of a business house which reveals the fitness of its owner for that particular pursuit. We have not entered a store in Mankato more nicely arranged for business than the new business house of Thompson & Parsons, on Front street, opposite the levee. Out of an old weather beaten, time worn frame, they have made a little palace of a store, and filled it brim full of the best goods the market affords. Their stock consists of fine style dry goods, hats and caps, fresh groceries, and cheap at that. They invite the public to their goods while we invite them to their advertisement to be found in another column. Their store is between J. J. Shaubut's corner, and the boot and shoe store of Clark & Porter.

—A large lot of table Damask in variety of patterns, for sale at Johnson's 3 Front St.

Garden City Bridge.—By referring to the report of a late session of the County Board it will be seen that Garden City is to be furnished with a bridge across the Watonwan river The bridge will be built between the two parts of the town which is divided by the river, at a point called the upper crossing. The bridge will be 200 feet long between the abutments, and supported by four stone piers, between fifteen and twenty feet high. It is expected that the cost of the bridge will not exceed $3,500, of which $1,900 is to be paid in bonds by the county, and the balance raised in Garden City. The bonds are to be issued to run ten years at 8 per cent, and drawn in sums of $25 and upwards, to suit the wants of subscribers. The people of Garden City have already subscribed for them and the work on the bridge is progressing.

– Boys and Youths Boots, cheaper than the cheapest at CLARK & PORTER'S.

Winter School.—A school meeting was called by the Clerk, to take place on Saturday last, to vote a tax of $400 to defray the school expenses of the winter. The only notice publicly given was a written one, which, in these times of printed posters and newspapers, is hardly ever seen Very few had any knowledge of the meeting except such as the Clerk notified personally. These few assembled and voted not to raise a tax and thus Mankato is to have no public school this winter. A resolution was introduced to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting that the directors should proceed to build a ten thousand dollar school house. Thus we have the ludicrous inconsistency of attempting to build a school house more consistant with the wealth of Chicago than Mankato, and yet too poor to spend the paltry sum of $400 for school: the coming year. To save the credit of the town we trust that another meeting will be called, and that Stephen Lamm's Hall may yet be crowded with scholars the coming winter. Our columns are free for the publication of such a call.

—A few pair of those Polish Kid Boots, the nicest thing in the market for Ladies, at

CLARK & PORTER'S

Methodist Minutes.—We are under obligations to Rev. David Tice, Methodist clergyman of this place, for a copy of the minutes of the eleventh session of the annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Minnesota. The conference met at Faribault on the 21st of Sept., fifty seven members answering to their names. By the report it seems that there are 89 members, only 8 of whom are probationers. The number of members of the Methodist Church in this State is 5,696; of probationers 1,033; of local preachers 108, of baptisms in the past year 586. Of sabbath schools there are 151: of teachers 1,175 and scholars 6,941. There are many items of interest in this little pamphlet which we have not room to publish. The minutes can be had at Mr Sleeum's News Depot.

—A democratic meeting is to be held in this town next Monday evening. Hon W. Lochren does the speaking.

—Jones & Walker advertise this week their harness, saddle, and leather business, opposite the Post Office. Their stock is new and of the very best make. Those of our farmers who are buying such goods are requested to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere.

—The St Peter Tribune is enlarged to a seven column sheet, and with its large amount of reading matter will prove an excellent family newspaper.

A new meat market has just been opened, next door to the post office.

Rain.—Clouds and rain have hovered over us since last Sunday night Rain has fallen almost incessantly for the past five days

Death We regret to announce the death of J. S Ferguson, an old resident of Mankato, and late of the town of McPherson His disease was typhoid fever His funeral took place on Tuesday last Mr Ferguson taught school in this city for two winters past and was an accomplished scholar and penman. He was chairman of the Supervisors of McPherson and an ardent and hard working Republican. In his death the people of McPherson sustain a loss not easily compensated.

☞ Hidden & Co. do sell dry goods, clothing, shoes and buckskin goods a "leetle" cheaper than others. Why? Because they bought in July previous to the rise and others have bought since.

They also have an agent in Boston looking after and forwarding good bargains, therefore they can and do undersell.

Call at Hidden & Co's, opposite the Record office and save your dimes and dollars.

– Belt, Harness, Line and Collar Leather Upper Kip and Calf at

CLARK & PORTER'S.

The Bloodhounds Rampant—Narrow Escape We learn from Mr. Jones, just down, that at a trial of "the dogs" their keeper met with a serious accident. Some boys to play a trick on Mr. Brown their keeper, put them on his trail Mr Brown, not thinking of danger, stopped at a neighbor's house on business, and had not been there long before he heard the dogs and went out to see what was the matter. The hounds gave chase, and he sought refuge in the house and under the bed. The dogs barking and howling terrifically, jumped through the window and made for the bed, the man with the poker and the woman with the broom striving ineffectually to drive them off They succeeded in dragging out Mr B. and in a fraction of no time tore every article of clothes from his body except his coat and shirt neither of which came off in the struggle The most remarkable fact is that he got his coat and shirt at Randall & Smith's, during a recent visit to Mankato. This shows the immense superiority of their goods over anything in the market, and is also a warning to practical jokers to "beware of the dogs," and also the place to buy their goods.

The Contract Let and not Let—We heard last week, from what we deemed good authority that a contract had been made between the School Directors, and Burrows and Ipson, of St. Paul, for the erection of a school building. Confirmatory of the report, was the announcement in the Record, to the same effect.

The Record ought to know as its authority would naturally come from the members of the Board, who have looked to him as an apologist for their illegal action. But Mr. Seward, the Clerk, either duped us in making the announcement, or does so now in denying it. He now says that no contract has been made. It may be that the board have concluded to look before they leap. We hardly believe a contractor in his right mind will close a bargain with the Directors, which is in violation of the expressed will of the people. As no building can be completed for use by the first of January next, the Directors are without authority to contract for any building whatever, and until another meeting of the school District releases them from their present instructions, further contracting is useless.

New Ulm Items.—We learn that the new Hall in process of erection by the German Turner Society is nearly completed, and will be dedicated with appropriate exercises in a month or two. It is located in a sightly part of the town, and when finished will cost in the neighborhood of $18,600.

A neat and commodious brick church has also been erected at the same place by the Lutheran denomination. Arrangements have also been made for the erection of a Methodist church in the spring.

The Dakotah house has again come back into the hands of its old and popular proprietor A. Seiter, Mr. Erd having delivered possession to him

The half breed scouts were discharged last week at Fort Ridgley, and went on their way rejoicing. "Other day" and other Indian celebrities were stopping at New Ulm at last accounts.

A Malicious Assault—In the evening of Saturday last, while Mr. D. H. Tyner of this city was sitting in the living room of the Washington Hotel conversing with Mr. Quane, the proprietor, a man, by name Thomas McCarty, suddenly and without immediate provocation, struck Mr. Tyner violently, felling him to the floor, kicking and pounding him until the bystanders in another room rushed in and stopped the murderous proceeding Mr. Tyner was taken so unawares that he had no power to resist the rascal and therefore was pretty badly hurt, and still bears the marks of this brutal assault. On Sunday McCarty was arrested, and on Monday arraigned before Justice Moreland on a preliminary examination for the crime of "assault with attempt to murder." E. P. Freeman appeared for the prosecution and Daniel Buck for the defense.

The court deemed the circumstances of the assault sufficient upon which to commit the prisoner and in default of finding bail in the sum of $500 he was sent to the "lock up."

The only provocation known for this brutal conduct, is, that the criminal charges Mr. Tyner with giving him hard fare, which he boarded some years since, at the Blue Earth County Hotel, Mr. Tyner being, at the request of the people, the proprietor of that establishment.

The Concert.—The Hall Brothers gave two of their musical entertainments in this city on Friday and Saturday evenings last. They sang under the disadvantages of a Hall very unsuitable, as the timbers along the ceiling would obstruct the vibrations of the voice, at every utterance. One of the Misses Hawley, who accompany the gentlemen, has a superior voice, and will, with a little better execution, rank with the best singers in the West. The Basso has an enormous deep and mellow base voice which of itself would grant him lisense to appear as a public singer. The other lady and gentleman, who complete the troupe, are not without merit, and together they form quite an efficient corps of vocalists

On Saturday evening their agent sold tickets which included a prize of metalic jewelry to be drawn at the concert. If their sole aim is to make money, it may prove a success. If they desire to sustain a reputation as singers, it would be better to abandon the practice.

Real Estate Sales—Bergers Executors have sold to Casper Walz, 24 feet of Lot 6 Block 5, for $800. This lot is located near Stephen Lamm's new brick block and has standing on it, an old frame building.

H Foster sells to J. G. Craven, for the Baptist church, Lot 4 in Block 10, Warren's addition for $350.

S F. Barney to L F. Lucas 160 acres in Town 67 Range 26, for $900. Buck & Freeman to Owen McCarthy 80 acres same township for $400. Also 80 acres to John Desmond for the same price

W. R Roberts sells to C. H. Hollenbeck, Lot 1 Block 17 Warrens Add. for $300. Also his two story brick building, unfinished inside, to Ed. Bradley for $1,250

John McGarry sells 120 acres in Town 108 Range 25, for $600.

A. F. Hewett, 40 acres in Town 105 Range 28 for $750.

Hiram Yates 80 acres in Town 107 Range 28 for $800.

Stephen Lamm, 3 fractional lots in Warren's Add. for $420.

Special Session of County Commissioners—A special session of the Commissioners of Blue Earth county was held at the office of the County Auditor on the 15th day of October 1865. Present, And. Hanna, chairman, Horace Kinney, Henry Goodrich, S. R. Grannis and the Clerk.

It was ordered that bonds be issued to the amount of nineteen hundred dollars to build a bridge across the Watonwan river at Garden City, and that the chairman be authorized to issue said bonds in accordance with an act authorizing the County of Blue Earth to issue bonds for the erection of bridges in said county, approved, February 2 th, A D. 1864.

Ordered that a sufficient amount be appropriated from the county fund to pay the county bounty indebtedness.

Ordered that $25,00 be appropriated to John W Trask from the poor fund

Chas A Chapman was appointed to superintend the construction of the bridge at Garden City and to make such change in the plan already adopted by the Board, as may seem necessary, and to accept the job when finished.

The bond of T. N. Boynton and others of Garden City approved and placed on file. Remonstrance signed by Gardner Darr and others was laid over for information.

To Keep Babies Quiet.—An exchange paper gives the following modus operandi. As soon as the squaller awakes set it up, propped by a pillow, if it cannot sit alone. Smear its fingers thick with molasses; then put half a dozen feathers into its hands, and it will sit and pick the feathers from one hand to the other until it drops asleep; as soon as it awakes again apply more feathers, and in the place of innumerable sleepless nights there will be silence and enjoyment unspeakable.

Some Facts in Natural Science.—According to the French Chemist, Lavoisier, the human body exhales about three and one-half pounds of aqueous matter daily. A large cabbage has been forced to exhale twenty ounces of water from its surface.

If the surface of a frog be covered with oil it will speedily die, so important to its existence is the cutaneous respiration. The lungs of a frog can only be filled with air by an action resembling swallowing. Seaweeds absorb their food by their whole surface, the so called roots appearing only to serve the purpose of attachment.

The poison of the most venomous serpents may be taken into a healthy stomach without injury, but the smallest portion introduced into the circulating system may produce speedy death.

All food for plants must be so divided as to be able to pass through a cellular membrane. The roots of plants are never provided with open mouths. There is no plant that does not furnish support to some animal.

A Woman on the Fashions.—Mrs. L. Maria Child is severe on ladies' fashions in a letter to the Independent she speaks of girls with 'hen coops in their skirts,' and a 'thimble pan of straw with a feather in it,' on their heads. 'The waterfall' she says, 'looks like a cabbage in a net, tricked out with beads and wampum.

A Moment's Happiness.—Some people place their ideas of happiness upon one thing and some upon another. A lady made a call upon a friend who had lately been married. When her husband came home to dinner she said: 'I have been to see Mrs. ———.' 'Well,' replied her husband, 'I suppose she is very happy.' 'Happy? I should think she ought to be; she has a camel's hair shawl, two thirds border,'

An anecdote is told of Fenny, the revivalist, and a canaler, to the following effect:

He was "holding forth" in Rochester, and walking along the canal one day, he came across a boatman who was swearing furiously. Marching up, he confronted him abruptly and asked:

"Sir, do you know where you are going?"

The unsuspecting man innocently replied,

"I am going up the canal on the boat 'Johnny Sands.'"

"No sir, you are going to hell faster than a canal boat can carry you."

The boatman looked at him in astonishment for a minute, and then returned the same question:

"Sir, do you know where you are going?"

"I expect to go to heaven."

"No sir you are going into the canal," and suiting the action to the word, he took Finney in his arms and tossed him into the murky water, where he would have drowned had not the boatman relented and fished him out.

Extraordinary Scene in a Church.

A most extraordinary scene recently occurred in a church in Bridgewater, England, arising from a dispute between the pastor and the congregation in regard to the placing of candlesticks upon the communion table, the introduction of which a section of the people conceived to savor too much of Puseyism. The church wardens finally appealed to the bishop of the diocese to have the objectionable candlesticks put out of sight, and after investigation he ordered the incumbent to immediately remove them, and at the same time express regret for having acted contrary to the wishes of his congregation. Accordingly, on the following Sunday there was a crowded congregation assembled to listen to the "recantation" of the offending divine, and among them a reporter from one of the local papers, prepared to chronicle the proceedings. The reverend gentleman espied the reporter, with his book in hand, upon which he said in a loud tone of voice, "I shall refuse to proceed with my sermon until that person puts away his writing material. I will not submit to such a desecration of God's house." The reporter remained as before, and the reverend gentleman then abruptly closed his book, pronounced the benediction, and sent the congregation away without the sermon.

In the afternoon the reporter was again present, and the service proceeded as in the morning, until the clergyman ascended the pulpit, and looking towards the reporter, he said 'Before I commence my sermon I must again request that person to put away his writing materials. If he will not do so, I must call upon the church wardens to take them from him; and if they will not do so I must call upon the congregation to take them from his hands.' A rough looking fellow, a boatman, who was in a pew at some distance, rose with angry looks, and gesticulating fiercely, said, 'If the church wardens will not do their duty somebody must.' He seemed disposed to carry his sense of duty to a practical conclusion, when the clergyman, seeing he had gone too far, motioned for his muscular ally to sit down, and he did so. The reverend gentleman then said: 'It will be impossible for me to go on with my sermon after the deliberate insult which has been perpetrated. It was my desire to have welcomed back to their seats in the house of God the church wardens, but they have cast deliberate insult upon me, for I have full evidence that that miserable individual (the reporter) is here at their instigation, and by that proceedings they have placed themselves beyond all sympathy.' The congregation then left the church.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "Geo. A. Prince & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

GOOD NEWS TO ALL MANKIND.

THE REMEDY FOUND AT LAST.

It will cure Influenza and Sore Throat.
It will cure Croup every time.
It will cure Asthma and relieve Consumption
It will cure Whooping Cough.
It will cure your Cough.
It will prevent Consumption.

It cures all if the directions are strictly followed, or the money will be refunded.

That Cough which you are neglecting may result in fatal Consumption, if some prompt remedy is not used

Why sacrifice your life when your disease can be cured so quickly and at so small a cost?

What is the value of Money when compared to Health?

MORSE'S EXPECTORANT

Is warranted to break up the most troublesome cough in an incredibly short time. There is no remedy that shows more evidence of its merit than this for curing

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Difficulty in Breathing, Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of patients in the advanced stage of the disease.

Morse's Expectorant is a vegetable anodyne, prepared expressly to meet the constant demand for a safe and efficient remedy for diseases of the

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preparation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is brought to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELIEF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW

As Time—the great developer of Events—advances, these truths becomes wider and better known, and this Medicine has already become a simple necessity, with a growing demand, unprecedented in the history of Medicine—the natural results of its INTRINSIC MERITS.

A single trial is all that is necessary to establish the fact that it is the most efficacious remedy ever offered to suffering humanity.

This medicine is put up in 50, 75 and $1,00 bottles and warranted to contain more and better material than any similar medicine introduced to the public in a medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

Helmbold's

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

THE ANDERSONVILLE PRISON.

The Government Expedition Thither. Report of Captain Moore.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—The following report of Captain J. M. Moore, assistant quartermaster, who was sent to Andersonville, Georgia, to mark the graves of Union prisoners for future idenification, contains valuable information, in which the people are interested, and will doubtless be appreciated by the relatives and friends of those who have given their lives to their country:

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON,
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 0, 1865.

To Brevet Major General M. C. Meigs,
Quartermaster General U. S. A.,
Washington, D. C.:

GENERAL—In accordance with special orders No. 19, quartermaster general's office, dated June 30, 1865, directing me to proceed to Andersonville, Georgia, for the purpose of marking the graves of Union soldiers for future identification, and enclosing the cemetery, I have the honor to report as follows:

I left Washington on the 8th of July last, with mechanics and materials for the purpose above mentioned. On my arrival at Savannah, I ascertained that there was no railroad communication whatever to Andersonville, the direct road to Macon Atlanta, being also in the same condition. I endeavored to procure wagon transportation, but was informed by the general commanding the department of Georgia, that a sufficient number of teams could not be had in the state to haul one half of my stores, and, as the roads were bad, and the distance more than 400 miles, I abandoned all idea of attempting a road through a country difficult and tedious under more propitious circumstances. The prospect of reaching Andersonville at this time was by no means favorable, and nearly a week had elapsed since my arrival at Savannah. I had telegraphed to Augusta, Atlanta and Macon, almost daily, and received replies that the railroads were not completed. At length, on the morning of the 19th of July, a gratifying telegram from Augusta was received, announcing the completion of the Augusta and Macon road to Atlanta. I at once determined to procure a boat and to proceed to Augusta by the Savannah river.

The desired boat was secured, and in twenty-four hours after the receipt of the telegram alluded to, I was on my way, with men and material for Augusta.

On my arrival there, I found the railroad completed to Macon, and that from Macon to Andersonville having never been broken, I experienced little difficulty in reaching my destination, where I arrived July 25th, after a tiresome trip occupying six days and nights.

At Macon General Wilson detailed one company of the 4th United States cavalry and one from the 137th regiment United States (colored troops) to assist me. A member of the former company was killed, the 5th of August, at a station named Montesumaou the Southwestern railroad.

The rolling stock of the roads over which I traveled is in a miserable condition, and very seldom a grater rate of speed was obtained than twelve miles an hour.

At the different stations along the route the object of the expedition was unknown, and not unfrequently men, wearing the garb of rebel soldiers would enter the cars and discuss the treatment of our prisoners at Andersonville, all of whom candidly admitted that it was shameful, and a blot on the escutcheon of the south that years would not efface.

While encamped at Andersonville, I was daily visited by men from the surrounding country, and had the opportunity of gleaning their feelings toward the government, and, with hardly an exception, found those who had been in the rebel army, penitent and more kindly disposed than those who had never taken a part, and anxious again to become citizens of the government which they fought so hard to destroy.

On the morning of the 20th of July the work of identifying the graves, painting and lettering headboars, laying out walks and enclosing the cemetery, was commenced, and, on the evening of August 16, was completed, with the exceptions hereafter mentioned.

The dead, were found buried in trenches on the site selected by the rebels, about 300 yards from the stockade. The trenches were from two to three feet below the surface, and, in several instances, rains had washed away the earth; but a few inches of additional earth was, however, thrown in the graves, making them of still greater depth. So close were they buried, without coffins or ordinary clothing to cover their nakedness, that not more than twelve inches were allowed to each man. Indeed, the little tablets marking their resting place, hardly ten inches in width, almost touched each other. United States soldiers, while prisoners at Andersonville, had been detailed to inter their companions; and, by the simple stake at the head of each grave, which bore a number corresponding with a similar numbered name upon the Andersonville hospital record, I was enabled to identify and mark with neat tablets, similar to those in the cemeteries at Washington, the number, name, rank, regiment, &c., and date of death, of 12,466 graves,—there being but 467 which bore the inscription "Unknown United States soldiers." One hundred and twenty thousand feet of pine lumber was used in these tablets alone.

The cemetery contains 50 acres, and has been divided by one main avenue running through the center, and sub-divided into blocks and sections in such a manner that, with the aid of the record which I am now having copied for the superintendent, the visitors will experience no difficulty in finding any grave. A force of men are now engaged in laying out walks and cleaning the cemetery of stumps, preparatory to planting trees and flowers.

I have also commenced the manufacture of brick, and will have a sufficient number by the 1st of October to pave the numerous gutters throughout the cemetery—the clay in the vicinity of the stockade being well adapted for the purpose of brick making.

Appropriate inscriptions are placed through the grounds, and I have endeavored, as far as my facilities would permit, to transform this wild, unmarked and unhonored graveyard into a fit place of interment for the nation's gallant dead.

At the entrance, the words, "A National Cemetery, Andersonville, Georgia," designate the city of the dead.

On the morning of the 17th of August at sunrise, the stars and stripes were hoisted in the center of the cemetery, when a national salute was fired, and several national songs were sung by those present.

The men who accompanied me, and to whom I am indebted for the early completion of my mission, worked zealously and faithfully from early in the morning until late at night, although sufferring intensely from the effects of the heat. Unacclimated as they were, one after another was taken sick, with the fever incident to the country, and, in a brief period, my force of mechanics was considerably lessened, obliging me to obtain others from the residents of different parts of the state. All my men, however recovered with the exception of Mr. Eddy Watts, who died on the 16th of July, of typhoid fever, after a sickness of three weeks. I brought his body back with me, and delivered it to his family in this city. Several of the United States cavalry detailed by General Wilson died of the same fever shortly after joining their command at Macon.

Andersonville is situated on the southwestern railroad, sixty miles from Macon. There is but one house in the place, except those erected by the so-called confederate government, as hospitals, officers quarters, and commissary and quartermaster buildings. It was formerly known as Anderson, but, since the war, the "ville" has been added. The country is covered mostly with pine and hemlocks, and the soil is sandy, sterile, and unfit for cultivation, and unlike the section of country but a few miles north and south of the place, where the sod is well adapted for agricultural purposes, and cotton, as well as corn, is extensively raised. It is said to be the most unhealthy part of Georgia, and was probably selected as a depot for prisoners on account of this fact. At midday the thermometer in the shade reached frequently 110 degrees, and in the sun the heat was almost unbearable,

The inhabitants of this sparcely settled locality are, with few exceptions, of the most ignorant class, and, in their haggard and sallow faces, the effects of chills and fever are distinctly visible.

The noted prison-pen is 1,500 feet long and 750 feet wide, and contains 27 acres. The dead line is 17 feet from the stockade, and the sentry boxes are 30 yards apart. The inside stockade is 18 feet high, and the distance between the two is 120 feet.

Nothing has been destroyed. As our exhausted, emaciated and enfebled soldiers left it, so it stands to-day, as a monument to an inhumanity unparalleled in the annals of war. How men could survive as well as they did in this pen, exposed to the rays of an almost tropical sun by day, and drenching dews by night, without the slightest covering, is wonderful. The ground is filled with the holes where they had burrowed in their efforts to shield them selves from the weather, and many a poor fellow, in endeavoring to protect himself in this manner, was smothered to death by the earth falling in upon him.

A very worthy man has been appointed superintendant of the grounds and cemetery, with instructions to allow no buildings or structures of whatever nature to be destroyed, particularly the stockade around the prison pen.

The stories told of the sufferings of our men while prisoners here have been substantiated by hundreds, and the skeptic who will visit Andersonville even now, and examine the stockade, with its oozy sand, the crampt and wretched burrows, the dead line, and the slaughter house, must be a callous observer indeed if he is not convinced that the miseries depicted of this prison pen are no exaggerations.

I have the honor to be,
(Signed) JAMES M. MOORE.
Captain and A. Q. M, U. S. A.

—General Howard made a speech at Charleston, South Carolina, on the 18th instant, in which he said that the freedmen's bureau would be continued in operation until negroes were allowed to testify in the courts of the state. 'The "president,' he said, "would be very "chary of surrendering the state to civil "law until a stop was put to the out-"rages upon the blacks." The general announced his intention to establish temporary courts, composed of one army officer and two citizens, to take cognizance of all cases in which colored people are interested.

The Democratic Party and State Rights.

The Democratic leaders make a great deal of noise about State rights. They effect to believe that the Republican party mean to destroy them, and to convert the government into a consolidated unitary rule. It is an easy string for them to harp upon, for it has been long familiar to them. That wing of their party which made the rebellion, acted in the name of State rights; and the other wing of the party which, under Mr. Buchanan prevented any movement against the rebellion, when it might have been easily crushed, did in the name of State rights. All through the rebellion, every effort of the Copperheads to weaken the government and obstruct the war was made under the same cry of State rights. It is the most natural thing in the world for them to cry it again, when attempting to recover position. They have absolutely nothing else to resort to, carrying the least show of plausibility.

True State rights, that is to say, the rights remaining to the States after the powers delegated to the government by the constitution, ought ever to be the care of all true patriots. All experience has confirmed the wisdom of our fathers in leaving the States a certain minor sphere of government that should be absolutely independent. It has enabled us to realize that most rare result in civil history—the conjoining of municipal and local freedom with great national strength. The success of our form of government depends most of all upon our preservation of the respective limits of national and State power, originally established.

The Union party is as sensible of that as of every public duty. It maintained the war against the seceding States, not because those States were maintaining State rights, but because they were attempting State usurpations—because they were setting at naught the Constitution of the United States, which styles itself, and was truly made to be, "supreme law of the land." If that party supported the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, it was because the power to suspend that writ, in the time of insurection, is is expressly given in the constitution. If it sustained the exercise of other war powers, it was because the General Government is invested by the constitution with the power of making war, which necessarily carries with it all the powers incident thereto, as settled by the established laws and usage of war. The exercise of these powers, it is true, involve a suspension of State rights to a greater or less extent—to the rebel States altogether, to the other States in just that measure made necessary by the formidable character of the rebel spirit existing therein. Kentucky, Missouri and Maryland, though not actually engaged in the rebellion, felt far more of the coersion and restraint of these war powers that Maine, Minnesota or California, where disloyalty was comparatively impotent. These war powers are not unconstitutional; they are the reserved powers of the constitution, to be evoked for its preservation in time of imminent peril. They are applicable only to great extremities; and are to be used to just extent, and no greater, necessary to the national deliverance. So far as regards the loyal States, they have already been entirely remitted. What the Secretary of the Treasury declared in his speech the other day, at Fort Wayne, is strictly true: "To-day there is at the North no State rights under the constitution, and no individual right, which is not as much respected, and as well established, as they were when the first gun was fired upon Sumter." The result which has been already so completely secured throughout the North, will, in due time, be as fully realized in the South. President Johnson is now directing all of his efforts to that end; and Congress, when it assembles, will heartily co-operate with him. To consummate the work so as to secure all the logical results of the war, and satisfy all the obligations incurred by the government in connection with it, may involve some little delay; but the day when every Southern State will be in full enjoyment of every real State right, cannot be far at furthest.

All this solicitude of the Democratic party for State right is entirely gratuitous. These rights are in no danger whatever. All innovations upon them, under the war power, will pass away with the war itself. The great Union party which has saved this nation will take care that the civil system of the nation is saved in all its integrity, and restored faithfully to its normal operations. It has annihilated all of the old traitorous pretensions, that the States had an authority superior to, or equal with, the authority of the General Government; but yet no body of men will be found more disposed to recognize and respect the constitutional power actually possessed by the States. There may be individuals in the party who have undue apprehensions of the danger of speedily restoring to the late rebel States their full measure of constitutional power, and may endeavor to impose upon them limitations and conditions unknown, to the constitution, and unwarranted by any real necessity. But the party itself, in its organized capacity, will adopt no such views, and will lend itself to no such purpose. In all its work of reconstruction it will discharge its constitutional responsibilities with the same fidelity that it practised in all its work of crushing the rebellion. The people, too, will trust it as firmly in this business as in the other. The States-rights' cry will not avail the Democratic party; it will only recall associations of secession and treason, which, for its own sake, might better be left to sink in oblivion forever.

VIEWS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The Reconstruction Question

The Question of Negro-Suffrage.

ST. LOUIS, October 23.

John B. Henderson, United States senator from this state, in a speech made to the people of Louisiana, Missouri, the place of his residence,—on Saturday last,—in which he discussed the war, its results, and the present political situation, said:

THE PRESIDENT'S RECONSTRUCTION POLICY.

'When recently in Washington, I called on the president and had a full and frank talk with him in reference to all the questions connected with the reconstruction policy. In that connection, he stated that, in his view, the states attempting to secced were still in the Union, and had always been that.

"SLAVERY WAS PRACTICALLY ABOLISHED

"In those states, and must be entirely so to secure admission of their members into congress; that they must adopt the constitutional amendment destroying slavery throughout the nation, and provide in their own constitutions that hereafter property shall not exist in man.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

"Taking his stand-point that the states are still in the Union, he does not think that he can consistently interfere with the franchise in those states, or in any other,—that is, that he can confer it upon persons not enjoying it under the respective state constitutions as they existed before the rebellion; but, as an individual, he desires that the negro shall be enfranchised, and would be gratified to see the several conventions extend the franchise to all persons of color who can read the constitution of the United States in English and write their own names, and also to all persons of color who own real estate valued at not less than $250 and who pay taxes thereon. I have now quoted the precise words of the president, and you will see that, if the democratic party indorse him, they must indorse negro suffrage, and thus remove the last plank from their platform.'

MR. HENDERSON'S OWN VIEWS.

The following are Mr. Henderson's own views upon the question of negro suffrage: "It is well known to all that I am not in favor of unlimited negro suffrage. The ignorant and unlettered negro of the southern states I do not regard as a safe depositary of political power. To give him the suffrage in his present condition might do the greatest harm. It certainly could do him no good. And, again, if the suffrage were made universal in several of the southern states, at least, the negroes might take political control, and thus a problem be presented, for the solution of which the public mind, even of Connecticut, seems not to be prepared. But I have not said, and I hope I will never say, that an educated and intelligent freeman, black or white, discharging his duties as a citizen, laboring under no disabilities for crime or alienage, and loyal to his government, should be debarred of the right to participate in the making of laws designed to operate upon him in common with others."

Wade Hampton elected Governor.

Wade Hampton has been elected governor of South Carolina. This is neither unnatural nor surprising. He is not only a rebel, but a representative rebel. The greatest slaveholder in the south, and the most resolute and unsparing military leader that South Carolina contributed to the rebel army, he was the last among the generals who fought under Johnston to abandon the contest and surrender to the forces of the United States. His election is both more insulting and more instructive to the loyal people of the Union than even that of General Humphreys in Mississippi. We should say that it would not much improve the chances of the state at the bar of congress. Under these circumstances the president has very properly notified Provisional Governor Perry not to give up his office for the present,

The White Man's Country.

The copperhead press are constantly prating about this being a white man's country, and the white man's government, and they are loud in their praises of Andy Johnson, because they claim him as the especial champion of their theory that this is not God's but the white man's country and government, and under it the colored man's heritage is constant toil and patience to bear abuse, and has no rights which the white man is bound to respect. The following extract is from the president's speech to a colored regiment of the District of Colombia, about to be mustered out. He admits this is the colored man's country and they are his countrymen, and if so of course are entitled to the rights of countrymen. We hope to see the copperhead press as readily endorse this sentiment of President Johnson as they do every expression to which he has given utterance to the reverse of this:

I repeat, I have but little to say. It being unusual in this government, and most other governments, to have colored troops engaged in their service, you have gone fourth as events have shown and served with patience and endurance in the cause of your country. This is your country as well as anybody else's country. (Cheers.) This is the country in which you should expect to live and in which you should expect to do something by your example in civil life, as you done in the field. This country is founded on the principles of equality, and at some time the standard by which persons are to be estimated is according to their merit and their worth; and you have observed, no doubt, that to him who does his duty faithfully and honestly there is always a just public judgment that will appreciate and measure out to him his proper reward.

UNION VOTERS!! See that our names are registered before e polls open.

RICE ON THE REBELLION !

I would give them [the rebels] the forts d arsenals within their limits. IF THEY K MORE I WOULD DIVIDE THE NAVY WITH EM. IF THEY WANTED MORE, I WOULD LEASE THEM FROM THE PUBLIC DEBT I OULD EVEN GIVE THEM MORE HAN THAT—ANYTHING FOR EACE ! ! !

FOR WHOM WILL YOU AOTE

On the eve of the election it becomes all oters to consider, with some deliberaon, the importance of even one ballot, d the principles and motives which ictate the exercise of the elective fran hise. No fears need be entertained conerning the success of the State ticket, if e party exercises ordinary diligence in oing to the polls. We trust that evry reader who glances at this article ill think with us, that each Union voer has an individual interest in vindicaing the position of the Union party in he past, by giving it a fresh and hearty ndorsement in the coming election. It s a debt of mercy, as well as a visitaion of justice, we owe to the democratic arty, to end its struggles 'twixt life nd death, and consign it to an endless gnominy.

Upon the question of the constitution l amendment we do not arrogate dictaion as to others, but we may be alowed to express our individual sentiment. All men are created equal, says he declaration of independence; qual as to life, liberty, and the pursuit f happiness. Liberty in the sense intended by the framers of our State Union platform, as well as the framers f the original "bill of rights" signifies more than striking the fetters from he bondman. To be compelled to obey government, in which a man can ave no voice, is a species of servility ltogether contrary to the principles of epublicanism, and the spirit of popular government. The 5th resolution in the Union platform commends itself to the attention of voters as the true basis of political rights. The measure of a man's political rights should be neither his religion, his birth place, his race or his color. And in erasing from our constitution the word "white," we but conform to a simple yet correct rule of right. It was our desire, last winter, that a general condition of intelligence should accompany the amendment, but in any act of public progression it is impossible to suit the views of all. We therefore accept the amendment as one step toward the final consummation of our individual desire. It is as well to decide this question now as to defer it. Even prominent democrats pronounce the success of the amendment eventually inevitable. The spirit of our institutions demands it. The popular voice leaning towards the principle of the "largest human liberty" indicates the final result. We shall go to the polls and cast our vote as a cordial endorsement of every resolution in the platform, adopted by the Union State Convention hoping that every Union voter will deem it a privilege to go and do likewise.

UNION VOTERS ! Go to the olls early, stay late and vote often !

The sale of school lands in Anoka county, on Thursday, Oct. 26th amounted to $2,161 15 for 432 23-100 acres. The cash receipts were $401.

OUR HOME TICKET.

We have been informed that the democracy are engaged in printing tickets with the Union State candidates, and filling up with the democratic legislative ticket, and sending them to Le Sueur county to be voted as the genuine Union ticket. Our Le Sueur friends will need to beware of spurious tickets, and recollect that G. W. Stewart, is the Union candidate for senator and Isaac Allen, L. C Harrington and J. B. Skinner nominees for representatives. The full strength of the party will be required to elect the leislative ticket. Let there be a full expression of the Union voters and the Union ticket will triumph, from Governor to Coroner.

The county ticket should be elected, and would be, if the private opinions and prejudices of members of the party could be temporarily forgotten and merged in the more imporant issue of overwhelming the democracy in their zeal for undeserved power. We are conscious of performing our duty to the party and of upholding the right as well as we are able to see it, in differing with some of the members of the party in reference to the recent county nominations. We regret that a degree of fraud characterized the deliberations of the Union county convention, in its nomination of one of its officers, but we as emphatically deny that redress is properly reached by inflicting a blow upon the party at large. Bolting a nomination, for causes either fancied or real, results in generating nothing but a series of criminations and recriminations between the several factions of the party, from year to year. No matter what the cause, a dis affected member who lends his influence or that of his friends against the regular ticket will always be remembered. A full discussion of this question is not our purpose, but for these and many other reasons we favor the plan that the people of each town should hold their delegates responsible, and not the party, for disobeying instructions. With this view we can do no less than counsel the party to adhere to the entire county ticket.

Deserters Excluded from the Polls.

We would respectfully call the attention of Judges of Election and Union men everywhere, to the following provision of an act of Congress, approved March 3d, 1865, entitled "An Act to amend the several Acts heretofore passed to provide for the enrolling and calling out of the National forces:"

Sec. 1. And be it further enacted, That in addition to the other lawful penalties of the crime of desertion from the military or naval service, all persons who have deserted the military or naval service of the United States, who shall not return to said service or report themselves to a Provost Marshall within the next sixty days after the proclamation hereinafter mentioned, shall be deemed and taken to have voluntarily relinquished and forfeited their rights of citizenship and their rights to become citizens; and such deserters shall be forever incapable of holding any office of trust or profit in the United States, or of exercising any of the rights of citizenship.

This provision, if vigilantly enforced, will exclude from the ballot-box the votes of some thousands of deserters and bounty-jumpers, who were too cowardly or too traitorous to defend the national flag, and every one of whom will, if permitted to vote, cast their ballots against allowing our returned negro soldiers, who fought bravely for the Union, to exercise the rights of citizenship.—Press.

DEMOCRATIC "MEETIN.

Last Monday evening was the appointed time for the democracy of Mankato to be entertained by three of their shining lights, two of whom are candidates for the suffrages of the people. The speakers, Hon. Wm. Lochren, democratic candidate for Atty Gen., Hon. F. V. Hyderstadt, candidate for State Treasurer, and Chas. H. Linean Esq., editor of the St. Paul Volksblatt, appeared at the City Hall at the hour appointed. The hall shorter by ten feet than the one occupied by the union meeting was about half filled with benches, and the benches half filled with people. Some of the more zealous of the democracy, desirous of seeing the seats well filled, took a horizontal position, and maintained it to the end, frequently applauding the speakers by a well regulated course of somnolent ejaculations. Quite a number of union men were present, the remainder of the audience being composed of American and German democrats. In brief the hall was about half full, all told. This was indeed a grand rally, when we consider the fact, that the evening was remarkably pleasant and mild, and the moon in its brightest garb, volunteered to escort the unterrified to the "meetin."

The first speaker war Mr. Linean, the editor of the Volksblatt. He spoke in German, but little of which we could understand. He quoted Horace Greely, probably to show that we ought to have let the South go, but he forgets that the war has banished, even in the minds of rebels the idea of secession. Greely might have been weak-kneed but the union party, never. If the party were governed by the whims of one editor, it might be arraigned upon the sayings of Greely.

He spoke of the great national debt, which was incurred in crushing the rebellion. He was probably sorry for that and for the success of the Union cause. But his great hobby was temperance. He seemed to fear that beer and "sich like" would "go up the spout" instead of down his throat, if Marshall should be elected. He probably did'nt know that the governor has no more power to make laws on temperance or any other subject than a Feejee Islander.

Hon. Wm. Lochren took the stand and said, one of the isues of the campaign was, whether the people will support President Johnson or not. We cannot see how that issue is to be decided at the ballot box, as there is no such issue joined in either the Union or Democratic State platforms. He was in favor of supporting Johnson and allowing the rebel states to come in to the Union with such officers as they may elect. He had'nt learned that that is not exactly Johnson's policy, and that when Wade Hampton was elected Governor of South Carolina the President instructed Perry to hold on to the Provisional government. He said he was not afraid to allow them to come back with such officers, and to trust rebels but it was the "stay at home," "afraid of the draft" men who were. What an unkind cut to his listeners, who were just the class of men who stayed at home and voted bounties to clear them from the draft. He considered the negroe an inferior race and that they have no business among white men. He admitted that they were susceptible of improvement and by contact with the whites became intelligent, yet he proposes to send them where barbarism reigns, and the light of intellectual privileges never shines. He thinks if negroes are allowed to vote the government should grant the same privileges to its mules. At this happy suggestion some of the audience pricked up their ears and brlaughed. We wonder, upon the same theory why President Johnson does not promulgate another emancipation proclamation, freeing the mules from involuntary servitude. At this juncture, the champion of Mankato democracy, S. F. Barney Esq. appeared in the hall. Public demonstration in his behalf was waived, and he modestly took a seat, on the west side of the hall, six feet from the corner. We merely mention this as a feature of the occasion worthy of note. On the question of taxing U. S. Bonds the speaker would repudiate government obligations and break its faith. He cited some of the old rusty letters of Alexander Hamilton to show that the law of Congress exempting these bonds, was unconstitutional. He prefers these letters to Supreme Court reports, and this is a specimen of his law practice should he be elected Atty. General. Its a pity Rice did'nt see those letters before he approved that law. He would not have been obliged to stultify himself now before the people in disapproving his own course in Congress. The whole lecture was a wordy effort of bad logic.

The candidate for treasurer spoke in German, but the audience when he commenced to speak, with one accord began to go out, and about a baker's dozen remained to hear him through.

GOLD DISCOVERIES.

Messrs. Henry and Richard Eames whose geological surveys on the north shore of Lake Superior, resulted in the discovery of gold bearing quartz, arrived at St Paul last Saturday. They think from surface indications that the mines will prove as rich as those of California. They followed one gold bearing quartz vein for a distance of seven miles but cold weather setting in, they were obliged to abandon their explorations for the present. A wagon road is being built from Duluth to the mines a distance of about 60 miles.

Frontier Matters.

Brevet Maj. Gen. Corse, with Lieut. Lark and others of his suite, returned yesterday from his tour of inspection to all the frontier posts. They met with some very unpleasant weather on the road, but on the whole had a safe and prosperous journey.

At Ft. Wadsworth, hearing that Buffalo were plenty a few miles off, a party of officers accompanied the General on a raid after them. They fell in with a herd of about 75, and charged the bison in true hunter style. About 50 buffaloes were stretched on the plain as the results of the hunt.

Gen. Corse found the frontier posts in a fine state of efficiency. He has made such a disposition of scouts, forces, &c., as will afford the greatest security to the frontier. Everything in the District has been organized in the best and most thorough manner. We conversed with a gentleman from Abercrombie a day or two since who spoke in high terms of the present state of affairs there, and says that Gen. Corse has given the frontier confidence and a sense of security by his recent dispositon of forces and arrangements.—Pioneer, Oct. 29.

All citizens of New Orleans whose arms have been taken away by military authority, and who hold receipts for the same, are notified, by order of General Sheridan, to call at the ordinance office and receive them back.

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING.

A Proclamation by the President of the United States.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God during the year which is now coming to an end, to relieve our beloved country from the fearful scourge of civil war, and to permit us to secure the blessings of peace, unity and harmony with a great enlargement of civil liberty,

AND WHEREAS our Heavenly Father has also during the year graciously averted the calamities of foreign war, pestilence and famine, while our granaries are full of the fruits of an abundant season.

AND WHEREAS, righteousness exalteth a nation while sin is a reproach to any people. now therefore, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby recommend to the people thereof, that that they do set apart and observe the FIRST THURSDAY OF DECEMBER as a day of National Thanksgiving to the Creator of the Universe, for these deliverances and blessings, and I do further recommend that on that occasion the whole people make confession of our national sins against His infinite goodness, and with one heart and one mind implore the Divine guidance in the ways of national virtue and holiness.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 28th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty five, and of the Independence of the United States the ninetieth.

[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State.

News in Brief.

In the Georgia state convention, on Thursday, Oct. 26th, a memorial was adopted praying for the release of Jeff. Davis and all other rebel prisoners. The ordinance of secession was repealed, and an election for governor, congressmen, and legislators was ordered for the 15th of November.

The agent of Georgia has negotiated a loan of $100,000 for that state in New York, on the faith of the provisional government.

The rebels who went to Mexico are returning, much disgusted with their treatment in that country.

The Racine [Wis.] Journal says that on the 18th inst. the Racine and Mississippi railroad was sold at public auction by the U S. Marshall, and was bid off by G. A. Thompson for the sum of $1,000,000.

Mr. A. Desland, father in-law of Gen. Beauregard and John Slidell, died at New Orleans on Thursday of last week, aged 82 years.

Among the recipients of executive clemency, are ex Gov. Neil S. Brown of Tenn. and ex-Gov. Rector of Arkansas.

The Chickasaw legislature has ratified the treaties lately made at Ft. Smith,—the provision abolishing slavery included.

Gold has been found near the line of the Panma railroad, and more extensive discoveries are expected to be made.

The election of Wade Hampton as governor of South Carolina has been confirmed. His majority is large.

Joseph Emerson Worcester, L. L. D., the noted American lexicographer, died at Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 27.

Gen. Grant, after consultation with the President and Secretary of War, has decided to recommend the immediate mustering out of the whole Veteran Reserve Corps, and an order to that effect will be issued in a day or two.

General Schofield is going to Europe having received leave of absence for two years.

The rebel general Dick Taylor has been made superintendent of an extensive cotton growing company of northern capitalists, whose lands are located in Bolivar county Mississippi.

Hon. Chas. McIlrath, Auditor of State, returned yesterday from the southern portion of the State, bordering on the Mississippi river, where he has been engaged for the past two weeks in the sale of school lands. The sales in 8 counties amounted in the aggregate to $75,000, in which the cash receipts were $20,000. He goes to-day to Hennepin, Thursday to Anoka, and Saturday to Washington county for the same purpose.—Press, Oct. 25.

—Hon. Caleb Cushing leaves for England in Wednesday's steamer, on a special legal mission connected with the State Department. Thus far his business is kept confidential, but it is very clearly surmised that it has reference to an adjudication of claims for damages made by this government on Great Brittain for depredations of the Alabama on American commerce. It is believed that government has accepted the proposition of Earl Russel to appoint a commission to settle such claims. Mr. Adams, our Minister was mistaken in supposing this government would decline to appoint a commission.

The Davenport Gazette says Doctor C. C. Parry has completed the preliminary survey on which a canal can be successfully constructed to connect the Upper Mississippi and Lake Michigan. Some additional facts, however, relating to a portion of Rock river, remain to be ascertained and collected. To secure this, Doctor Parry has gone to Springfield, Ill., to examine the plats of survey made some twenty years ago by the State. A public meeting will shortly be held at Davenport to appoint committees and put the matter in shape for Congress.

In the Wirz case, on Saturday, Oct. 21st, Judge Advocate Chipman concluded his argument in behalf of the prosecution. A request of the prisoner to be examined by a physician in the presence of the court, to show that he was physically incapable of committing the acts of violence alleged against him, was granted. The doors were then closed, and the commission then proceeded to deliberate as to their findings, which will remain unknown until officially promulgated.

As soon as the tickets are sold the drawing will take place at Shoemaker's Hall in the presence of the ticket holders. Three persons will be selected from the audience to conduct the drawing. A wheel will be provided, in which will be placed 400 slips, or the same number as there are tickets sold, which will be thoroughly shaken up. Upon 155 of these slips will be written the different prizes; the remaining 245 will be blanks. A list of numbers, and the names of holders of tickets will be kept by the clerk, and the drawing will proceed in this wise: The numbers of the tickets will be called, commencing at number one. At each call the wheel will turn once round, a man blindfolded will draw a slip, and its contents, be it a blank or a prize, will be announced, and recorded opposite the number called. This plan of placing the prizes, without being numbered, in the wheel with the blanks, gives each ticket holder an equal chance, and does away with all possibility of the manager knowing who will draw the valuable prizes. The prizes are all beautiful and valuable, and will surely be placed in the wheel.

No lands will be sold for less than their appraised value per acre, and the right is reserved to withdraw from market any of the tracts advertised, on the day of sale.

The terms of the sale are such by law, that lands designated "Timber," seventy five per cent, of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, while lands denoted "Prairie," only fifteen per cent. of the purchase money will be required. When lands are not especially valuable for timber thereon, the proportion of the purchase money required down is mentioned in the proper column. In each case, the balance of the purchase money can be paid any time thereafter, from time to time, within twenty years, at the option of the purchaser; provided interest in advance at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, on the unpaid balance is paid to the first day of June, 1866, and annually thereafter.

Purchase money payable in legal tender notes.

Persons purchasing lands upon which other parties have made improvements, will be required to pay the owner of the same the apprised value of improvements, one half to be paid at the time of sale, and the balance within six months thereafter, with interest at seven per cent. per annum.

The offering of said lands will commence at 10 o'clock A. M., at the usual place of holding court, on the day specified, and will proceed in order in which they are advertised, until all are offered. No sale will be kept open longer than one day, and no lands will be sold except at public sale.

COUNTY TICKET!!

FOR SHERIFF

vote for Ben Pay, who is both competent and energetic, lives in Mankato where he can attend to its duties, and without fear or favor, will conserve the public peace, and keep the Blue Earth County Hotel according to regulations vote for Col B F. Smith. He has filled the office for one term, very acceptably to the people. Attentive to business, and accommodating in the office, and having a full knowledge of the records of the county, the people will subserve their own convenience by electing him.

FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS

FOR TREASURER

vote for Private H. K Lee. Mr. Lee was a member of Co. E. 9th Regiment, and was taken prisoner at the battle of Gun Town, and suffered, in common with his fellow soldiers the horrors of the Andersonville prison pen for ten long and tedious months. Our theory is to repay the gallantry of the "boys in blue," by at least the slight testimonial of official position. In addition to this Mr. Lee is abundantly qualified for the duties, and we trust he may receive the hearty support of all union voters.

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE.

vote for Isaac Taylor, who is a veteran of the Third regiment, and after three years of faithful service was discharged on account of ill health. He is a lawyer by profession, a reliable and honorable gentleman and emphatically the soldier's candidate. His opponent, Mr. Wiswell, should not receive a single soldiers vote as his public record shows that in the legislature he voted against allowing soldiers to vote in the field. Soldiers please to make a note of it, and vote for a well deserving fellow comrade.

FOR CLERK OF COURT

vote for Z. Paddock. The office is not of much value, and no one will strive to make any change. Mr. Paddock has become familiar with its duties and has made a good officer and will be re-elected.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR

vote for S E Stebbins an intelligent practical surveyor who, living in the country, will accommodate the more easily the large bulk of our citizens, who may need his services.

FOR CORONER

vote for C H Slocum who will not fail to perform its duties with credit to himself and the party. In fine vote the whole ticket, and for the amendment.

UNION VOTERS! Don't allow the election to go by default

OYSTERS.—Those oysters that John Simpson promised to have on hand by Nov. 1st have arrived, and can be had at the Express office.

—A meeting of the Spiritualists will take place at Shomaker's Hall next Sunday, at 2 o'clock P. M. Mrs Ballou lectures.

TITUS & BROTHER.—We call attention of house keepers to the card of Titus & Brother, who have opened a grocery, at the old stand of Wickersham, opposite the Mankato House. Their stock is new and fresh, and we bespeak them a share of patronage.

Thompson & Parsons have the largest assortment of Flannels in Mankato, and are selling at the lowest prices.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of a weekly journal of a purely literary character, entitled the Literary Messenger, and published at Chicago. It presents a very neat appearance, and we hope it may prove a success. The paper has a Masonic department, which will recommend it to many. A. Worden & Co., publishers. Terms $2 50 a year.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for November is received, containing endless numbers of fashion plates in great variety, also the usual amount of reading matter, making it a very desirable periodical for any lady. Slocum has them and will supply customers at less than publishers rates.

—Paints, Oils, and Kerosene, at the lowest prices, are to be had at LEWIS & FRISBIE'S.

BLUE EARTH CITY.—The Blue Earth City Advocate contains a list of buildings which have been erected the present season. Of dwelling houses there are twenty-one. Addition, five stores two, one hotel, one warehouse, one cabinet shop, one school house, one brewery, one office, and five stables, making in all forty buildings. This number of buildings in a place of that size forms a very creditable growth for one season.

FACTS ARE FACTS.—Goods well bought are half sold. Now there is no mistake about it, Hidden & Co. have got an agent in Boston and advantages in that way, of buying and selecting that seem to cause some "wounded birds" to flatter a little. Neverless people will go where they can get the most and best goods for the least money. Therefore if you want fair and honorable dealing, go to Hidden & Co's, where they sell to one as cheap as to another, and you will not get jewed.

DEMOREST'S Illustrated Monthly and Mdme. Demorest's Mirror of Fashion is welcomed to our sanctum. It illustrates the autumn fashion in a superb style by a double plate and numerous wood cuts. Each number contains a full sized pattern printed upon finest tissue paper. The literature is excellent. Slocum, at the News Depot can furnish them at reduced rates.

All Wool Table Spreads, and Damask, at THOMPSON & PARSONS

Thompson & Parsons have a large stock of Knit Hoods, Breakfast Shawls, and Nubias.

Carbon Oil, Vinegar, Codfish and Meckerel at THOMPSON & PARSONS.

UNION VOTERS. Don't be particular about scratching the ticket, vote straight.

VOCAL MUSIC.—We are requested to announce that Mr. S. H. Thorn, of Mankato, will open a class in vocal music at the City Hall on Tuesday evening next, Nov. 7th, at seven o'clock P M. Mr Thorn intends organizing an adult and juvenile class, to accommodate both new beginners and advanced scholars. Terms will be made known at the hall. Nothing gives more pleasure to us than this announcement, as a developement of musical talant adds very much to the family, and social circle, to the devotional exercises of religious assembiies, and serves to drive away dull care, and lift the weary soul for a time from the monotony of domestic cares. So lads and lasses, one and all, go to the singing school, as we did when we were—lads and lasses—. Those schools were instructive and pleasant to us, and we trust the classes of Mr. Thorn may be so to you.

PREMIUM ONIONS.—We are indebted to Mr. Wm. Wilson for a basket of onions, a sample of which took the premium at the Blue Earth Co. Fair. Mr. Wilson is becoming famous in the vegetable line, having taken at the late fair, four premiums and four diplomas for the best showing of eight varieties, raised in his garden.

A VERY IMPORTANT ITEM.—For the benefit of all buyers who wish to make their money go the farthest, we would state, that the old firm of Prail & DuBuisson are expecting in the course of next week their immense new stock of fall and winter goods, which was bought during the recent panic in New York, and which they are determined to sell at corresponding low figures. A portion of their new goods such as fine Dress woolen and fur goods may be expected to arrive in a day or two. Be sure to call and see them before you buy.

THE LADY'S FRIEND comes to us this month with the usual double fashion plate, and wood cut, with the customary amount of choice literature. This number contains the prospectus for 1866, presenting a brilliant corps of competent contributors. Supported by this list, it becomes the best lady's magazine known, and is worthy of perusal by either lady or gentleman. The publishers rates are $2 50 per year. Slocum has, and can supply them at publishers reduced rates.

SELECT SCHOOL.—We are requested to announce that Mr. M. P. Hathaway will open a select school on Monday next, Nov. 6th, at the City Hall over John Meagher's hardware store. For the primary branches such as orthography, reading, writing, arithmetic and geography, five dollars will be charged for the term of eleven weeks. Higher branches including grammar, higher mathematics, philosophy and physiology, seven dollars per term, payable semi-quarterly in advance. Mr. Hathaway has secured the services of Miss Mary Walker, who is well and favorably known as a teacher, as his assistant. Mr. H. is a teacher of experience and ability, and as we are to have no public school, he will doubtless receive a large and remunerative patronage. Next Monday morning the formation of classes will take place. Let everybody and the little ones be on hand.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS.—We call the attention of those in want of good farming lands, at low figures, and on long time, to the advertisement of "Sale of School Lands" by the Commissioner of the State Land Office, to be found on our second page. The lands have been advertised for six weeks, and on Monday next at the usual place of holding court in Mankato at 10 o'clock A. M. the sale will begin. Only 15 per cent of the purchase money and the interest on the balance to June 1866, is required in advance. A rare opportunity is offered to those who have but little money to invest, for the purchase of good farm land in almost every town in Blue Earth county.

GOOD Molasses for 80 cents per gallons at Johnson's 3 Front Street.

A NEW FIRM.—We are informed that the firm of Wickersham and Law is disolved by mutual consent, and that Mr. Charles Dunscomb, a well known resident of Mankato, purchases the interest of Mr. Law. We are glad to welcome Charlie to the business circles of Mankato, and trust that the firm of Wickersham Brother & Dunscomb will meet with a prosperous winter trade in the line of drugs and medicines. Their stock is fresh, ample, and complete, and with new firm and new goods we bespeak them a lively and prosperous business. See the advertisement.

—Prescriptions carefully prepared at Lewis & Frisbie's drug store.

SNOW AND RAIN.—Last Friday night snow fell to the depth of nearly two inches. Though it was followed by a mild sun, which soon melted it away, the nights were cold and ice formed for three successive nights to the depth of nearly an inch. Since that time and until yesterday we were having rain attended with snow, rendering travel very tedious and almost impracticable. Our Indian summer has not yet made its appearance, and a neighbor says we will have none, simply because if anything in the shape of "Ingin" comes near Mankato it will be sure to swing. Hence eastern philanthropists have informed the clerk of the weather that "Ingin" summer will be sure to suffer, if it ventures in this vicinity.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.—You can find the largest and most complete stock of Over Coats, Dress and Business Coats, Vests, Pants, Over and Under Shirts, Deawers, Hats, Caps, Buckskin Gloves, and Mittens, Neck Ties, Scarfs, Collars, and Boys Clothing, ever brought to this market, and at prices 15 to 30 per cent cheaper than at wholesale eastern prices to-day, at the Clothing Emporium of Randall & Smith. Give them a call.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr. S. S. Higgins sold this week to Martin Sherman his farm situated in the town of Vernon and Tecumseh, for the sum of two thousand dollars, cash down.

—S. S. Higgins pays 50cts per bushel for prime wheat. He is also in the market for barley, corn and oats.

BANKING AND EXCHANGE OFFICE.—We are pleased to notice that J. J. Thornton & Co. are about to open a banking house over Prael & DuBoissons store. They will be prepared in one week to sell exchange on Chicago, and in two weeks on New York. The parties interested in this undertaking are responsible and enegetic citizens of this place and are sure to succeed.

NEW BAND.—On Monday evening last a few of our citizens met at Leeche's Stone Building for the purpose of forming a band organization. Edwin Howe was called to the chair, and Chas. E. Griswold chosen secretary. The importance of, and the expenses incident to the formation of such an organization were discussed, and the chairman authorized to appoint a committee of three to ascertain the probable cost of instructions and instruments, incidental expenses, also to draft a constitution and by-laws for the organization, with instructions to report at the next meeting. Messrs. Roberts, Oglesby and Howe were chosen as such committee. The meeting then adjourned to Wednesday evening.

On Wednesday evening they again met. The committee's report was read and adopted. The constitution offered by the committee was adopted for the government of their organization. Arrangements have been made to procure a hall for practice, and to engage the services of Mr. Elijah Howe, as instructor. Having, thus formed a new Band they adjourned to meet on Friday evening Nov. 3d at their hall in Leeche's Stone Building. Any person wishing to become a member is requested to be present or present his application.

SCHOOL.—We call the attention of parents to the advertisement of Miss Riggs who is removing her school from the hill to Lamm's new building. A good change.

POST OFFICE.—Mr. James Thompson took possession of the Post Office of Mankato on Wednesday last. Mr. Gude the late incumbent, before his commission arrived, made an arrangement with Mr. Thompson to withdraw in his favor. While his withdrawal was passing to Washington, his appointment came and he took possession. In pursuance of their arrangement, the authorities at Washington sent on the appointment of Mr. Thompson, who, in pursuance thereof, has taken possession. Mr. Thompson was a private in Co. H, 2nd Minnesota regiment, and served through four years of the bloody strife. The appointment could not be more worthily bestowed, as it serves as a recognition of his military services in behalf of the country.

We must however record our regret, that the pressure against Mr. Gude prompted him to sacrifice his chances for the position. Mr Gude for a month has performed the duties of the office quite acceptably, and disproved the slanderous assertions of incompetency made by the Record. While entire confidence is reposed in the ability of Mr. Thompson to perform the duties of the office, all will accord to Mr. Gude the credit of the same faithful performance, and many will regret his retirement.

— A large stock of Undershirts and Drawers, cheapest in the market at RANDALL & SMITH'S.

ANOTHER ADVERTISER.—We desire to call the attention of our readers to a new advertisement, of something new, by P. B. Sparrow & Co. These gentleman who are doing business in the "dilapidated shanty", where hangs the sign of the Coffee Pot, keep anything but a dilapidated assortment of hardware. You cannot always judge a man from the clothes he wears, nor can you have a correct conception of the varied stock of Sparrow & Co unless you go inside their "dilapidated shanty" and make an examination. But this something new, is the Magee Celebrated New Patent Air tight Cooking Stove, which took the first premium at the Illinois State Fair for 1865, Sparrow & Co. are receiving a lot of these splendid stoves, a cut of which will be found in our advertising columns. Sparrow & Co. also have every variety of stoves, as well as a general assortment of hardware and tinware. For the farmers they have a new pattern of Agricultural Furannce & Boiler, also corn shellers which shell large or small ears equally well. For details read the advertisement.

DEMOCRATIC CHANGE.—We understand that the candidate on the democratic ticket for Judge of Probate, has declined the honor and J. A. Wiswell of Mankato has accepted the nomination in his stead. Both candidates for that office reside in this town one a discharged veteran of the Union army, the other a stay at home democrat such as the Hon. Wm. Lochren, the democratic orator, denounced in his speech several nights since, "Wis," you can't beat the "boys in blue," you didn't serve long enough in the war for the Union to learn how to fight them successfully.

GIFT ENTERPRISE.—Mr C H. Slocum has in contemplation a grand gift enterprise, which is to take place at Shoemaker's Hall on the 29 of this month. His circulars and tickets are in print and the latter are on sale at "Slocum's News Depot." He proposes to sell 400 tickets at $2,50 each, making one thousand dollars, and to distribute 155, prizes ranging in value from one dollar to two hundred. Of the 400 tickets, 245 will be blanks, and the remander will draw one of the prizes announced in his circular. Among the prizes are an Automatic Organ, valued at $200, a melodeon at $118, Grover & Bakers sewing machine at $70, and two others of eqnal value. Guitars Violins, Piano stools, music books, maps &c, make up the list. The total value of these articles at the retail price is one thousand dollars. We have no doubt that the enterprise will be conducted in a manner equitable and satisfactory to ticket holders. Particulars can be known by addressing C. H Slocum, Mankato.

FENIANS IN CANADA.

NEW YORK, October 23.—A Toronto correspondence says the members of the provisional government and their supporters in Canada are in a state of great agitation in regard to the Fenian movement. The Fenian movement has been known to exist there for years, but has occasioned little concern until the occurrence of recent events. Owing to what has transpired in this country, England and Ireland, the Canadian government has, it is said, organized and distributed throughout the province a force of spies. Great activity is reported to prevail in military affairs. Changes in the disposition of troops are are being made; garrisons are being strengthened in the regions where the Irish predominate; investigations regarding the loyalty of officers and soldiers are being instituted, and arms are being distributed among the citizens known to be opposed to Fenian designs. The custom authorities are nervous over the recent large importations of war munitions, which, it is believed, will ultimately find their way into the hands of the Fenians; and it is rumored that the present movements in Ireland are merely a ruse, and that the grand design is, when England has thrown her troops into that country, that the armed forces of the order on this side of the Atlantic shall sieze Canada, declare it an independent state, and place it under the protection of the United States.

Another Statement of the President's Views.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The substance of President Johnson's remarks on the subject of reconstruction in the southern states, during a recent private interview with him, is given, with the president's approval, by Major General L. Stearns, of Massachusetts.

The president, in reply to the remark that the democrats claimed that he had gone over to them, intimated that the democratic party had discovered that he was now trying to come up to his standard, and he hoped it would succeed in doing so.

He renunciated his doctrine that, notwithstanding the so-called secession of certain states, they were never out of the Union, but that, by their rebellion course, they had forfeited their civil government, to reconstruct the machinery of which as soon as practicable he considers the chief duty of the times. This, he says, cannot be done in a moment, but such great and happy progress is being made in it that the results sometimes appear to him like a dream.

He said he did not expect to forever deprive the former civil rights even a majority of those who were excluded in the amnesty proclamation, but he intended they should sue for pardon, and thus realize the enormity of their crime.

He is in favor of allowing those negroes who have served in the army, those who can read and write, and those who are possessed of certain other qualifications, to vote, but does not think it is politic, or that he has the right, to force these conditions on the white people of the south, though he believes that they will, ere long, concede this priviledge to the freedmen.

The president also favors basing representation in congress on the number of qualified voters, instead of on population, as at present.

The freedmen in Mississippi refuse to make contracts for employment extending beyond next Christmas, a story having been circulated among them that, on that day, the government will give each of them a tract of land. A resolution offered in the Missippi senate, allowing the freedmen the same rights and privileges only as were enjoyed by free negroes before the war, was tabled by a very decisive vote.

The republican government of Mexico has issued a warning to citizens of foreign countries against the validity of grants made by Maximilian. Mamimilian issued a proclamation on the 2d instant, announcing the departure of Juarez from Mexican territory. On the 3d he issued a decree against parties in arms against the imperial government, directing their execution within twenty-four hours after capture.

—The republican state convention of Colorado nominated William Galpin for governor, and George M. Chilcott for representative in congress. Among the resolutions adopted was one indorsing the conduct of the Colorado soldiers at Sandy Creek, and declaring that "The "threater of Indian difficulties should be "converted into a department, with an experienced Indian-fighting general in command.

A proposition has been made by the English capitalists now on a visit to this country to consolidate the running arrangements of the Atlantic and Great Western and the New York and Erie railroads, and to double track the latter from New York to Salamanca with British capital. A conference has been held on the subject, but no definite conclusion has as yet been reached.

—The republican government of Mexico will place upon the market, at New York, to-day, a loan of $30,000,000, bearing interest in gold at 7 per cent, and the principal payable in twenty years, also in gold. The security offered is the faith of the republic and of the states of Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi, and a national mortgage on 5,000,000 acres of agricultural and 500,000 acres of mineral lands in those states. The first installment, of $10,000,000, will be offered at sixty cents on the dollar.

—The Presbyterian synod of Chicago [old school], at its annual session, in Galena, last week, adopted a resolution indorsing the action of the general assembly of its denomination, repudiating fellowship with such clergymen or laymen as believed slavery to be a divine institution, or had participated in the late rebellion.

—It is reported, on Mexican authority, that a loan of $5,000,000 has been effected by the Juarist minister at Washington, which will enable the liberals to raise a force of from 10,000 to 20,000 men.

AN Illustrated Catalogue, containing full description of style, and testimonials of the most eminent Musicians, as to the superior excellence of our instruments—will be sent free to any address.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instrumetsn constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an upperdage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Difficulty in Breathing, Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of patients in the advanced stage of the disease.

Morse's Expectorant is a vegetable anodyne, prepared expressly to meet the constant demand for a safe and efficient remedy for diseases of the

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preparation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is bro't to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELEIF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW

As Time—the great developer of Events—advances, these truths becomes wider and better known, and this Medicine has already become a simple necessity, with a growing demand, unprecedented in the history of Medicine—the natural results of its INTRINSIC MERITS.

A single trial is all that is necessary to establish the fact that it is the most efficacious remedy ever offered to suffering humanity.

This medicine is put up in 50, 75 and $1,00 bottles and warranted to contain more and better material than any similar medicine introduced to the public in a medicine.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

Helmbold's

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

St Louis, Mo, July 16, 1865.

The Editor of The Tribune.

DEAR SIR: I have had it in contemplation for some time to write and tell you of the pleasure I get from the weekly perusal of the proceedings of the Farmers' club; first I will tell you how recently I became aware of its existence. About the 1st of September, 1863, I noticed an advertisement, and a cut of the Tribune strawberries, and immediately subscribed for The Weekly Tribune, in which I found the proceedings of your club. I have read them constantly, until they have become to me a necessity, and I look for Monday as red letter day in my calendar, and was I to be confined to one agricultural paper alone, I should prefer the Tribune to anything I have yet seen. Yours JOHN HENWOOD.

Another subscriber writes:

I neglected (forgot) to renew my subscription to The Tribune, until so late that I missed the first July No. Can you help me to it? Portions of the Farmers' club reports in that number, particularly, I wish to preserve. In fact, that feature of the paper constitutes ONE of the main reasons why I take it. And I have no doubt that it receives a goodly share of its patronage from persons who wish it well, but would not otherwise bring themselves to the subscribing point.

Yours truly, O. A ALEXANDER

The Wrong Side of the Curve.

AN EX-ENGINEER'S STORY.

Among the many incidents that during the late rebellion was connected with that great national artery, the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, is one that I will relate.

In the fall of 1861, having been detained by business in the town of Cumberland, Md., I was at last about to start for Wheeling, when I learned by a despatch that the road was occupied below Harper's Ferry by a force of rebels, and therefore no train would pass.

This proved to be true in reference to ordinary trains, but a "special" with which was the Hon. Mr. Pierpont, and a few other notabilities, had passed before the rebels had cut the track, and was therefore approaching. On inquiry, I found that the engineer of the coming train had been one of my old chums ere I had discarded engine-driving for a more profitable business. My friend Joe M—— was a cool, bold, skillful engineer, and as generous as reckless of danger.

As I expected, I no sooner saw him and stated my wish to go up the road, than he swore that, special or no special, I should ride with him, if for nothing but to see the "fast time" his engine "Wildfire" would make.

As we dashed rapidly along and were passing through Black Oak Bottom, a couple of ill-looking fellows in citizen's dress fired at the engineer, but doing no damage, merely provoked a laugh of derision from him for their want of marksmanship. On arriving at Oakland, Md., we were disagreeably surprised by receiving a telegram informing us that a party of rebels were making extraordinary haste to reach the railway at a point many miles ahead of us. Also, they seemed to know who the special train contained, and would therefore use all endeavors to capture or kill us.

There was but one car behind the engine, and in it was briefly discussed the question of go or stay, while Joe was having the tender re-filled with wood and water.

Mr. Pierpont's business was too urgent to admit of any possible delay; two or three others concluded to risk the trip, and I—well, if it's not too egotistical to say so—I had run risks too often to back out now because there was danger ahead, while the rest concluded to stay and trust to luck for the opportunity of getting away.

Just as we were about to start, the fireman made a mistep on the "running board," fell and struck the ground with such force as to break his arm. Joe hurriedly picked up the poor fellow, but time was precious just then, so leaving him in care of the gentlemen who had accompanied us, he started directly towards me, asking me to come and "run" for him, as, having no fireman, he would have more than he could do. I told him, however, to consider me his fireman for the rest of the trip as he was best acquainted with the road, so without any more ado I doffed my coat, we jumped on and away we went, past hamlets, through wildernesses of stunted bushes, up grade and down hill, at a speed rarely equaled. Our light train made firing an easy task for me, and I had frequent leisure to scan the beautiful ranges of the Alleghanies along which we skirted. Joe was sitting as was usual with him, with his left hand on the throttle-lever, and his body half out of the side window of the "cab," that he might the better scan the track ahead.

A few miles south of the famous Cheat River Bridge is a deep mountain gorge, with precipitous rocky sides.

It is shaped like an hour-glass, wide at each end, but tapering each way towards the middle. The track runs for quite a distance along one side of the gorge, makes a very abrupt turn to cross the chasm, a very deep one, in a straight line, and then, still curving inwardly, follows the gorge in a line nearly parallel with the track on the opposite side, for three-fourths of a mile.

We were pitching along with that peculiar rocking, bounding motion, so different from the jar of ordinary fast speed. As we swept to the top of a grade around the side of a hill that commanded a view of the gorge—Joe and I both on the lookout—we saw, at a moment's glance, enough to make us concentrate all our thinking faculties, and act in a hurry whatever was best to be done.

There, on the straight track, just at the near end of the gorge, a lot of men, in gray uniform, were hastily piling up some old ties, logs, etc.; while at the point where the curve was sharpest—before reaching the gorge—were several more, tugging furiously at a rail, one end of which seemed to baffle them, as they pulled it outward. We were within a mile of them, when we discovered them, and as each noticed them, the shout came simultaneously from both of us—"The wrong side of the curve!" The ignorant fools were pulling out the inside rail instead of the outside. In the latter case nothing could have saved us from running off the track, and probably into the gorge. Our single brakesman seeing the danger—I suppose from habit—was commencing to tighten the brake, but at a look from Joe I signaled "off brakes," Joe meanwhile opening the throttle to its widest extent as we dashed down the grade at a positively frightful velocity.

As we neared them, a party of them huddled together near the track. I seized a large stick of wood, intending, if possible, to hurt "somebody." We were going altogether too swift to fear their taking aim at us; and for that matter, I suppose they considered our destruction such a certainty that firing at us would be needless. I was poising the big stick of wood, and guessing at the rate of speed—I've had some practice in throwing parcels from trains in motion—when Joe suddenly pulled the whistle rope. The hoarse shriek seemed to startle them for an instant, they huddled closer together, and I tossed the stick outward and downward. I had barely time to see it crash through the group with the force of a thunderbolt, when, with a jarring plunge, the wheels on one side struck the naked ties. That part of the trouble we had feared but little, as the impetus of the engine was almost sure to make it mount the track again. On the track again, but a few rods ahead of us was the formidable barricade, and beyond that the yawning chasm. Joe was standing up now, with eyes blazing, stil holding the throttle wide open, as he braced himself for the shock. I had grasped the brake rod of the tender the instant I threw the piece of wood. Crash! —my hold did'nt avail me, and I was pitched head over heels against the fire-box, and laid flat on my back on the foot-board or floor of the engine.

Joe was as suddenly jerked half around, his back striking a little door in front of where he had stood, breaking the door and shivering the glass to atoms. But we were through; how, we could'nt tell, except we were still on the track, and thundering over the gorge. Joe's spirits rose with the occasion. Extricating himself almost as suddenly as he was deposited in the little glass door, he jerked a tin flask from his pocket, sprung on the top of the tender, and from thence to the roof of the cab. Steadying himself for a moment, with his face toward the rebels, he shouted "good-bye," and then made them a low bow, and took a drink, perfectly regardless of the white puffs of smoke, as one after another discharge their pieces at him, as he afterwards explained, "the engine made too much noise for him to hear the bullets, and they didn't seem to be hitting anybody."

After having, in spite of sore bones, performed a jig which he had extemporized for that occasion for the express edification of the rebs, Joe decended from his perch, and deliberately shutting off steam, stopped.

We were still in sight of them, though at a comparatively safe distance, and now saw a group of them standing near several men who had been wounded, perhaps some killed, by that "irrepressible" stick of wood.

Our damages were a few bruises each, but no serious hurts. Our engine suffered the loss of the pilot or cow-catcher and head light, the front of the smoke-box was stove in, besides sundry dents and bruises on the brass casings of the cylinders; but for running purposes absolutely uninjured, the rebels having piled logs squarely across the top of the track, the point of the cow-killer had gone under them, and, though broken by the shock, had raised them sufficiently to keep them from under the wheels, while the engine dashed them right and left into the gorge.

The rebels seeing us stop, started in pursuit, but as we found nothing serious to impede our further progress, and, as in their case, "distance lent enchantment to the view," we were off again in high spirits, and without further adventure worth recounting, arrived safely at our destination.

Poor Joe, after being shot at so often as to have acquired a sovereign contempt for rebel bullets, was shot dead, about a year ago, while running a government train near Chattenooga.

The Battle of Manassas.

A Southern correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial makes the following statement:

It may not be generally known to the public—at least I do not remember to have seen any such statement—that Jeff. Davis gave positive orders to Beauregard not to pursue our troops after the battle of Manassas.

Early in the morning, when it became known in Richmond that a battle was to take place, Davis took a special train and reached the field towards the close of the afternoon, just as the battle was about ended. Though Johnston was present and ranked Beauregard, the latter still retained command. Davis immediately sought him out and learned from him the situation of affairs. Beauregard represented to him the completeness of their victory and urgently requested permission to pursue and occupy Washington, which they believed they could easily do. Davis positively refused his consent, saying it was not their policy then to conduct an offensive campeign, and that the occupation of Washington did not form a part of his programme. The wisdom of Mr. Davis' course few will doubt, and his subsequent invasive campaigns demonstrate it conclusively.

It will not be forgotten that the publication of Beauregard's report of that battle was for a long time delayed, and that when it finally appeared, it contained only a lengthy detail of strictly military movements. I am informed upon high authority that the report as he wrote it, and a copy of which he still retains for historical uses, contained an exposition of the general policy he proposed to follow and some strictures upon Davis' interference. It was the objectionable portion that delayed the publication; and it was only when this was expurgated that this report was allowed to appear.

A Fish Story—Rather Hard to Swallow.

As one of the Panama steamers was leaving the harbor of Havana, a beautiful widow lady named Howard, was standing by the gunwale, on which her son, a little boy of about four years old, was sitting playing on a sugar flageolet, which his fond mother had purchased for him of an ingenious Spanish confectioner. The child was greatly delighted with the toy, and blew vigorously, while Mrs. Howard seemed to enjoy the flageolet. The transcendent beauty of the mother, and the angelic loveliness of the child, riveted nearly every eye that observed them, and various speculations were advanced as to their history.

After some time a sailor shouted, "A shark! a shark!" and everybody crowded to see the huge monster that was swimming alongside the vessel. As the passengers were remarking upon the appearance of the shark, a shriek was suddenly heard—then a splash, and quick as lightening the ravenous monster darted upon his prey. Little Tommy Howard had fallen from the gunwale, and the widowed mother was now childless.

Mrs. Howard, who had fainted, was carried below in a state of insensibility. The shark still swimming by the vessel's side. Some of the men determined, if possible, to avenge little Tommy's death; and baiting a hook with a piece of fresh beef, they cast it overboard. Almost immediately the shark swallowed it, and fifty stalwart men pulled lustily at the rope. He was an immense monster and struggled violently. As soon as the nose was pulled out of the water, a number of Californians began to practice pistol shooting at his eye. Their balls soon put a quietus upon him, and he was hauled lifeless and limp on board. When his huge bulk was stretched along deck, it was proposed that he should be opened, and the remains of the boy taken out of the bowels and given a christian burial. The proposition was immediately acted upon, when, to the utter astonishment of everybody, the boy was found snugly seated between a couple of the monster's ribs, still playing on his flageolet.

For Whom Do Fashionable Women Dress.

The idea that ladies who lavish enormous sums annually in personal decorations dress to fascinate their husbands, lovers, or man in the aggregate, is a vulgar error. A fashionable woman is not half as anxious to win the admiration of the men as to provoke the envy of her own sex. The truth is, that gentlemen, as a rule, know very little about the commercial value of female attire, and [except when they are called upon to pay the bills] care less. An elegant and becoming toilet, however inexpensive, generally satisfies them. Not so our first family belles and dashing dowagers. Cost is their standard of excellence in costume. And what consummate sumptuary critics they are. No tradesman is a better judge of the articles in which he deals than the creature of fashion is of all the articles her sisters wear. With a single sidelong glance, rapid, keen, and searching, she can "reckon up" the habilaments of a rival in the beau monde almost to a shilling. No pawnbroker, however accustomed to guage the price of costly trumpery, could come nearer the mark. Imitation cashmeres, simulated lace, and false jewelry, however vraisemblaut, do not deceive her for an instant. She sees through the cheat as easily as a banker detects a forged bill, and sneers inwardly at the vain attempt to cope with her genuine extravagance. She triumphs in the reflection that all her splendors are sterling, and that her 'set,' sharp-eyed as herself, can distinguish between cheap eyed fine ladyism and the ruinous grandeur it is intended to cope with, as well as she can. But mole eyed man sees not the difference unless it is pointed out to him. Is it not obvious, from these premises, that the richly bedecked goddessess of fashion's empyrean, dress to provoke envy in each other rather than to command manly worship? Of course they like to be admired by men, but to be envied by women is a supreme luxury.

A Coarse Fashion.

Horrible to relate, it has become the fashion with some of our first physicians to prescribe daily "horns" of either whiskey or beer to ladies with lungs. In this climate, nearly every female has weak lungs; and so it happens that whiskey and porter, but particularly the former, will be found in the closets of women whose ancestresses would have fainted at the very idea of tasting such vulgar compounds. Possibly, whiskey map be very strengthening to the feminine system, and beer very efficient to restore appetite; but are there not in the materia medica prescriptions not quite so gross, not quite so well calculated to insensibly foster a taste for coarse stimulants? Things are coming to such a pass that, if a lady drops a whiskey-bottle while getting into car or stage, it only causes her to be regarded as a fair invalid; and it is rumored that some of our belles take beer, instead of cafe noir, before going to ball or opera!

PERSONAL.

—About two years ago, the late Lord Palmerston sent to Mr. Adams, then as now, United States minister in London, a note demanding explanation for something done by the government at Washington. The tone of the note was replete with the insolence so natural to Palmerston, with an added edge derived from his sympathy with the rebels. Mr. Adams sent it back with the information that official communications could only be received by him through the secretary of foreign affairs, and that the author of this piece of impertinence must never presume to address him again. It was many months before a reconciliation took place between them.

—The Hon. Henry Wilson celebrated his silver wedding last week at Natick, Massachusetts, where there was a gathering of distinguishe company and a festive time generally.

Josh Billings on men of Big Genius.

A big genius is generally a phool; he knows how to do ore or two things so much that he ain't fit for anything else; he is like a grey hound, good for running fast, that's all. You kant larn him enny more than you can an eagle; he nocs how to fli up and look at the sun without winkin, because he was born so, and when he gets up on the peke of a mountain and gets well lit, you kant go tew him, nor he wont kum tew yew, but thare he sets till the dinner bell rings. After dinner he flipze oph agane, and you won't see him till supper time. Tha are like mummeys, very curis critters, and kepe a long time without spileing. If tha only had kommin sense, so yu cud maik taleors or shumakers ov them, thare woud be some sense of having the breed more plenty; but one or too iz all that iz profitable to have on hand tew onst, and tha are enuf to make ana body uneasy about what they are going tew dew next. Tha live about forti yeres ahead of the times, and when the world ketches up with the last one, another iz born, who spends the most of his time in digging up old bones that the last one buried. About the only thing they show any common sense in is, that they almost always die in debt to everybody. The most unfortinit thing that happens by havin a big genius on hand, is that so many try to imitate them, but they don't genrally get ana farther than their vices, and thus one big genius suckels a thowsand phools. Tha don't generally live happy because tha ain't built right to fit things as tha find them. Tha ought tew have a grate plaice tew stop in, where there aint nothin but big generalitys tew dew, and where tha kan pla tost and ketch with the starrs, and krack butternuts and mountains. Tha air kuris britters.

Tha ain't afraid tew straddle a hurrykain without enny bridle on, and stick in the spers, but a mice nibblin in the wanescot will drive him bareheaded into the street. They kan plant, but tha wunt kultivate nor reep.

If I was woman I'd as soon marry a porcupine as a big genius; tha are neither as hot az the stove in a kuntry skule house or as kold and unfeeling as the shoes on a dead omnibus horse. A genius is like a big comet, that appears onse about so often, and makes everybody nervis, and then disappears, and tho we may not at the time be able to put our fingers on the identical good tha have dun us, still there visit is a big one, and the grate reservoys are pumped up fuller, and we poor men, the rest vu us when we stick in our little fountins, find that the waters have been freshened and sweetend by sumbody.

STATE ELECTIONS.

UNION STATE TICKET AHEAD AS USUAL.

RED WING.

Gen. Marshall has 71 majority, and the suffrage amendment 10.

STILLWATER.

The town and city gives a majority of eight for Rice and a majority against the amendment of eighty-four.

MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis elects the straight republican ticket, giving Marshall one hundred and fifty majority and the suffrage amendment seventy three.

ST. ANTHONY.

The town gives two majority for Marshall and 60 majority against the amendment.

WINONA.

Marshall one hundred majority. Majority against the amendment, seventy-one.

LAKE CITY.

The town gives Marshall eighty-five majority, and the amendment sixty-three.

MANOMIN COUNTY.

Rice, Jones, Nash and Hyderstadt received 21 votes, Lochren 20; Marshall, Armstrong, Rogers and Scheffer one each, Colville two.

NICOLLET COUNTY.

The full vote of Nicollet county has been returned showing a complete Union triumph on the State, Legislative and County ticket, with the single exception of Register of Deeds. Marshall's majority is 95 and the amendment is behind only fifty votes.

LE SUEUR COUNTY.

The returns given in the Le Sueur Statesman foot up only 42 majority for Rice, while the democratic legislative ticket has a somewhat larger majority. The amendment is behind.

EASTERN ELECTIONS.

GLORIOUS UNION VICTORIES.

New Jersey redeemed, and New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Wisconsin and Chicago, all go the Union ticket.

NEW JERSEY.

Returns from New Jersey almost unanimously exhibit republican gains over the vote of last year, when the democratic majority was only 7,300. There was not much doubt of the election of Marcus L. Ward, Union candidate for Governor, over Sunyon, by the majority of from 3,000 to 5 000. Returns also show a large Union gain on Assmblymen.

NEW YORK.

Returns from a large number of towns and cities in the State show a large falling off in the democratic vote as compared with last fall. Barlow is certainly elected Secretary of State by a large majority. The whole Republican State ticket is also elected.

Nearly complete returns from the city give Slocum over 20,000 majority, being a democratic loss of 13,000 from last year. The majority in this city will be about 25,000. Returns from the interior generally show Union gains. There is now no doubt of the election of Barlow as Secretary of State.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Our State election took place to-day. Vote small; about two thirds of that of last year, when Andrew had 225,281 and Paine 49,190. Returns indicate a larger proportional loss to the democracy.

Gen. Banks is elected to Congress in the 6th district, to fill a vacancy. The democrats have elected one senator in Suffolk county, the only one in the State.

MARYLAND.

The vote in Baltimore is very light. There was very little opposition, and less than six thousand votes cast. Thomas is elected in the second district to fill vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Col. Webster.

CHICAGO.

The election went off quietly. Returns show that the republican ticket is elected by a majority of from ten to fifteen thousand.

WISCONSIN.

The returns from Wisconsin indicate the election of Fairchild, Union candidate for Governor by a large majority.

Democracy Without a Head.

The St. Paul Pioneer, for twelve years past, the organ of the Democracy of the State of Minnesota, surrendered at discretion to its enemies on the morning of the election "just before the battle." Anticipating the result of the now memorable 7th of November, it surrendered its equipments, and munitions of war without "firing a ballot," or a bullet, though it professed to have been making earnest and loud demonstration of defense at the time of the capitulation. In selling out to Republican proprietors, the Pioneer announces the fact to the ill-fated democracy in the following words:

> With this issue the Pioneer sinks into the black sea of abolitionism; but, thank God! like the Cumberland, it goes down with flying colors, and with a thundering broadside from every port hole.—Pioneer, Nov. 7.

If the democratic party, following in the wake of its organ, will also go down, like the Cumberland, the deeper the water which receives her the better, and no effort will be made to raise its worthless hulk. There is every indication that another "organ" of the democracy will soon plunge into the sea of abolitionism or oblivion. So sure as the constitutional amendment is passed in this State, the proprietor of the Record according to promise, leaves the State, fearing that honest competition with the black man, will greatly work to his disparagement, and end his career in financial ruin. But another and perhaps more potent reason why the Record will abandon the democracy is that it is impossible to hold them to such bargains as the Record and its obsequious attendants choose to make in reference to swapping candidates with the opposition. They won't ratify John C. Wise & Co's promises to the disaffected Welsh Republicans, and the breach thereof calls down loud anathemas upon the head of the Record. But returning to the Pioneer, we briefly state that the concern has been sold to Captain Davidson, and Harlan P. Hall Esq., late local editor of the Press, the latter of whom assumes editorial charge and hoists the Union banner at the head of its columns.

MERCHANS HOTEL OF ST. PAUL,

In whatever contributes to the growth and importance of our State Capital the people of the State take a common interest and pride. Among the many buildings of importance now in process of erection, at St. Paul, the palatial hotel of Col. J. J. Shaw when finished, will, in point of size, finish, and furniture eclipse anything of the sort west of Chicago. Col. Shaw who has been for nearly five years the landlord of the Merchants Hotel, purchased last spring the ground and buildings thereon, and has this season erected the wing of an immense structure which is to be completed next season. This wing will be finished for occupancy by the first of January, and next spring the Merchants Hotel proper, which stands in front of the wing, and is built partly of logs and partly frame, will be numbered with the things of the past, and in its stead, will be erected a tower of beauty, magnificence and comfort. The building when complete, will be four stories high, besides a basement, and will front on Third street 143 feet, and on Jackson street 180 feet. It will be to St. Paul what the Metropolitan is to New York, the Sherman to Chicago, and the Lindell to St. Louis, and it is a matter of congratulation with those who occasionaly visit that city, that Col. J. J. Shaw will not only be its proprietor, but will continue to give his personal attention to its guests.

The wing which is to be completed by January next, is in the rear of the "old" Merchants, and is 70 feet long on Jackson street and 51 feet wide, and formes but a small section of the main building, though on account of its relation to the grand whole, is worthy of mention. On the south end of the wing there is a hall ten feet wide, which, when the main building is completed, will come near the center of it, and pass through from Jackson street. Stairs from both ends of the hall reach to the second story, and so on to the fourth. The first floor will be occupied as a billiard room, the size being 50 feet by 60. On the second floor will be the dining room, of the same size as the room below. This room will easily seat 200 persons at the table, and will be splendidly finished and furnished.

The third and fourth stories will be divided into bedrooms, most of which will be 10 or 12 feet by 18. A few will be made larger to accommodate every variety of taste. The furniture will be new and elegant, having been manufactured especially for this house, regardless of expense. For this wing alone the furniture will cost about $18,000, and including the structure, $75,000 will scarcely cover the cost. When the main building is finished and furnished, the estimated cost of the entire edifice will be $200,000.

There is no man in St. Paul we could more heartily wish success in such an enterprise, than Col. John J. Shaw, simply because he knows how to entertain his guests, and has with the greatest courtesy, and without discrimination catered to the wants of all alike, during a series of years at the old Merchants. It is further notable that during the time of unprecedented, and almost starvation prices, the Merchants' Hotel, for a first class house, has been the cheapest in the west, and remains so to this day. The traveling public, may, with an eye single to their own interest, heartily desire success to the new Merchants' Hotel.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.

We are in receipt of this popular Lady's Magazine for December. It is a splendid number. The principal engraving, "Papa, Papa," is one of great beauty. For many years "Peterson's Magazine" has had a larger circulation than any other monthly in the United States. In 1866 it will be greatly improved: the reading matter will be increased, and each number will contain a Double-Size Steel Fashion Plate, elegantly colored, with from four to six figures—making 'Peterson' the cheapest in the world. The terms will remain two dollars a year to single subscribers. To clubs it is cheaper still, viz: five copies for $8.00, eight copies for $12.00, or fourteen copies for $20 00. To every person getting up a club, (at these rates) the Publisher will send an extra copy gratis. Specimens sent [if written for] to those wishing to get up clubs. Address, post paid, Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

FARIBAULT RETURNS

Winnebago City 80 rep and 18 dem For the amendment 53, against 26. Bolters county ticket, Johnson for Treasurer, Chappel for sheriff, probably elected by 100 majority.

INDIAN TREATIES.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—The Democrat's special from Lawrence, Kansas, says General Harney and Chief Clerk Irwin arrived from the Indian Council from the head waters of the Little Arkansas River. The Council was in session twenty two days and concluded in treaties with the Arapahoes, Cheyennes, Kiowas, Comanches, Caddoes and Apaches. The wildest of the tribes of the plains, the Kiowas, gave up two white women and six children who they had held prisoners eight months. Presents were distributed to the Indians after the treaties were signed. Nearly all the members of the Commission are suffering from fever and ague.

The Democratic Organ and the Democratic Party Sold Out.

It may save the unconscious masses of the Democratic party a good deal of unnecessary trouble in going to the polls to-day on a useless errand, if we inform them that, in anticipation of the overwhelming defeat which is in store for them to-day, they have surrendered in advance to their "Black Republican" enemies. The capitulation was signed, sealed and delivered in the Pioneer office on Saturday night last, when the democratic party and its leading organ were, by those presents, duly and formally granted, sold, released, enfeoffed and conveyed, with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging, for a sufficient pecuniary consideration, to parties of the republican stripe, and who will on and after to morrow, hoist the colors of the republican party. The democracy may, therefore, consider themselves handsomely sold; and as their commander has thus clandestinely forestalled the happy event, struck his colors, and run away from the field, after surrendering their chief arsenal, with all their heavy artillery and ammunition, to their adversaries, there is obviously nothing left for the rank and file to do, but to stack arms and retire from the unequal contest with their tails between their legs.

The chief editor and part proprietor of the new concern is Harlan P. Hall, a young gentleman who for the past two or three years has been connected with the local and news department of the PRESS, and to whom we wish every success. It is understood that the purchase money was mainly supplied by Captain Davidson, proprietor of the La Crosse and St Paul steamboat line, who is the chief party interested.

We cannot help thinking, however, that this transfer of the democratic organ to republican hands, on the eve of an importane political contest, is a poor return for the unnumbered favors and lavish support which its proprietors have received from the democratic party for the last twelve years. The curent private and public patronage which was so profusely bestowed upon it by its democratic friends, was amply sufficient to sustain it, and it was to say the least, not only an ungrateful requital of that generous support, but really an ungenerous betrayal of an implied trust, on the part of its proprietors, to allow it to be converted into a republican paper, and thus to deprive the party, to which it owed all its pecuniary value, of their only organ.—Press, Nov. 7.

The Cholera.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3

Several cases of cholera were brought over to New York by the steamer Atlantic. They got on board at Havre, where the steamer Atlantic called. The sickness was confined to the steerage passengers, none of the cabin passengers being affected with it. Those on board the Atlantic did not know that sickness among them was the cholera until they arrived here. Some of the most intelligent among them surmised that it was the cholera. The phyicians kept the truth concealed from them.

This afternoon, the assistant health officer ordered the Atlanta to the lower bay where she now lies about 100 miles from here The number of deaths amount to 19. The hospital ship Florence Nightengale has been ordered to her old station and the patients will be removed to her and treated on board.

South Carolina—Arkansas.

WASHINGTON, November 1.—James L. Orr, governor elect of South Carolina, was pardoned some weeks ago, but as that state has not repudiated the rebel debt, she has failed to prepare herself for official recognition as a state loyal to the Union.

It seems, from recently received official intelligence, that reconstruction in Arkansas has progressed quietly, and is a success. President Johnson has informed the governor of that state that there will be no interferance with its government, and not only does he invite the state to resume its former relations with the federal government, but promises it all the aid in the power of the government in the premises.

Meeting of the Minnesota Baptist Association.

AVON, Minn., Oct. 28, 1865.

Editors St. Paul Press.

The Minnesota Baptist State Convention held its Seventh Anniversary this week, at Rochester. The attendance was quite large, considering the incessant rain and deep mud.

This Convention represents about 20,000 of the people of Minnesota, among whom there are one hundred and twelve churches embracing a membership of over three thousand—an increase in five years, of twelve hundred and over; and four of those five years were years of war. The ratio of advance in five years, upon the population of the State, as compared with the population of 1860, 172,000, and of 1865, at 225,000 has been about 18 per cent.

Hon. G. W. Keith was re-elected President. Rev. L. B. Tefft, of Winona, Secretary, and D. D. Merrill, of St. Paul, Treasurer.

Rev. Messrs. Wescott, Wilcox, Hazen and Allen, preached on the occasion. The receipts fully met the expectations of the friends. The churches have very generally and generously responded to the calls of the Convention. The resolutions adopted pertaining to our national position and issues, were all that the most radical could ask; and those referring to the great religious and benevolent enterprises of the day found a response in all hearts.

The discussions were full, free, fraternal, and final action unanimous.

The body has a twofold object. It has in charge the noble institution of learning at Hastings; it is also engaged in missionary work among the Scandinavions Germans and Americans of Minnesota.

The next meeting will be held at Winona, commencing on the 11th of October, 1866.

MINNEHAHA.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Mov. 2.

Frederick W. Seward has sufficiently recovered to assume the duties of Assistant Secretary of State. He has not been in attendance at the State Department as yet, but he transacts official business at his residence, to-day for the first time in six months. He attached his signature to a number of dispatches

Henry Ward Beecher had an interview yesterday with the President. Mr. Johnson was very frank in his statement of purpose and convictions that no State lately in rebellion aught to be permitted to resume its tormer status and position in the Union, till they should have adopted the Constitutional amendment, and provided to extend protection to freedmen.

The books of the Treasurer's returns and requisitions in the Department, on the 31st of October, shows a reduction of the National debt, and also reduction of legal tender notes.

The New York Post's Washington special of the 2d says—since the war has ended the navy department has exhibited great activity in fitting out vessels for service in foreign waters—in the Mediterranean. We have 6 vessels and four more nearly ready. In the Brazilian squadron six vessels and two nearly ready: East India squadron three vessels; on the Atlantic coast seven vessels; in the Gulf squadron thirteen; in the Mississippi squadron six; and a number of Iron clads at Mound City, Illinois. Eleven vessels belong to the practice squadron at Annapolis, and thirty-two are used as transports. The total number of vessels in the service is 101, number of guns, 1,115.

Redwood Item.

From Redwood Falls we learn by private letter that the coal seems to prove far more valuable than at first supposed, the deeper they dig the better the coal becomes. That on Tiger creek thus far proves the best. The town is prospering finely, many new buildings completed and a large number in course of construction. Immigration is going on at a healthy rate. No lack of weddings and a prospect of more.

It is a palpable fact that every person is more or less liable to disease, and injury by accident, and in such cases a remedy is necessary—furthermore a good remedy is the only one worth having, and the merits of the medicine is of far greater importance than the price. Beware of cheap medicines. The lowest priced remedies are necessarily made of the poorest quality of drugs, and are not only utterly useless but are positively injurious to the human system. ELECTION AT MANKATO

UNION GAINS ON THE STATE TICKET.

Result Satisfactory !

The number of votes polled at the late election in Mankato was 512, and could the new comers have voted, and all others turned out to the polls we should have cast 600 votes last Tuesday. As it is, the result is gratifying to the Union cause as compared to the vote of last year. On the State ticket the highest Union vote cast, was for Chas. Scheffer, being 245. The highest democratic vote on the same ticket was 265, being a majority of only 20, while last year their majority was 49. For Governor, Rice was only 14 votes in advance of Marshall, and we are encouraged to believe that another year, with an united effort, will see Mankato disenthralled from democratic rule. The bitter opposition to negro suffrage in the democratic ranks called out their full strength and we question if the vote for Governor would not be a fairer indication of the relative strength of the two parties in this town. Upon the above estimate, the Union party has had an accession of 43 voters, and the democracy only 14. Well done for Mankato.

LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

This Legislative District, which is composed of Blue Earth and Le Sueur counties, as was expected, has gone democratic and the returns from Le Sueur indicate that every effort on the part of the Union men of Blue Earth could not have saved their ticket. The democratic nominees, however, have received increased majorities from German Republicans of this county who took that course to redress alleged wrongs committed against them as a nationality. The Welsh towns to some extent participated in the same movement. Elsewhere we give the returns of Le Sueur, as far as heard from, and those of Blue Earth received up to the time of going to press, in tabular form.

COUNTY TICKET

By referring to the table of returns it will be seen that in all probability but two of the Union candidates are elected. The ticket has beaten itself. With a majority of nearly 400 in the county the members of the party have sacrificed all except Register of Deeds and Clerk of the Court.

The Welsh towns bargained away Col. Smith, Union candidate for Register, for Bob Roberts democratic candidate, because Bob was a Welshman and failed to be nominated by the Union convention. In consideration of J. C. Wise & Co. taking up Bob., and running him on their ticket, the Welsh agreed to cut the Union county and legislative ticket. They performed their part of the contract almost to the letter, but the democracy having no sympathy with Bob who was a Union renegade and knowing that the Welsh would perform on their part, with protestations of good faith, the democracy went to the polls, turned on their allies and "scooped out" Bob and the Welsh, giving Col. Smith a rousing majority. The Welsh went out of the party to rebuke alleged grievances and gain redress, but they reckoned without their host and have been devoured by a wolf in sheep's clothing. Bob had much sympathy among Union voters, and would have received more of their votes, were it not for the stupidity or duplicity of his friends in publishing in the Record, the announcement that the entire Union ticket of the county and legislature was to be sold out for one man. An even exchange is no robbery, but further than that, republicans would not go, and therefore voted the straight ticket for Col. Smith.

MAJORITIES.

In 13 towns the Union majority for Governor is 163, and the balance of the State ticket nearly the same. The returns yet to come in will not change the result materially.

Col Smith's majority in the same towns is 112, Paddock's 134. Against amendment 134 maj. Hoerr dem. 61 maj., Wiswell dem. 171 maj. Full report next week.

—Dont forget that the place to get Bargains in the way of Men's and Boys' Wear is at the Clothing Emporium of Randall & Smith.

TO BE MUSTERED OUT.—Companies C, D, E, and I. of the 2nd Minnesota Cavalry, left Ft. Ridgeley last Monday, for Ft. Snelling, to be mustered out of the service. On Wednesday they encamped near St. Peter, and a few of the Blue Earth county boys, came by the way of Mankato, and made us a call. Mr. C. A. Tidland of Judson, who is a member of Company E, and to whom we are indebted for this information, states that Company A. of the cavalry, was ordered to Ft. Wadsworth, and started last Sunday for that place. The only force left to garrison Ft. Ridgley is Company F of the 2nd Cavalry Regiment. The news of the discharge of Company E., which was raised in Blue Earth county, will be received as glad tidings, by their many friends, and relatives. Should they return in a body, the citizens of Mankato should extend to them a hearty and public welcome.

—If you want a Good Overcoat go to Randall & Smith's.

IMMIGRATION.—The Winnebago Homestead says that emigrants are still pouring into this section of the State. The Land Office at that place is every day filled with applicants for homestead lands. There are many desirable locations to be had yet, and the railroads in process of erection to Mankato are rapidly bringing them to a good market.

—The best fine-cut tobacco in town just received by express, at

THOMPSON & PARSON'S.

REMOVAL.—The Mankato Mutual Insurance Company have removed their office from the old stand to the law office of Finch & Pitcher, where their extensive business will be prosecuted for the winter. Their old office is to be occupied by Messrs. Thompson & Young who are engaged in the fur business, and in the manufacture of buck skin mittens and gloves.

SINGING CLASS.—At the meeting held at the City Hall on Tuesday evening last, for the purpose of organizing a class in vocal music, Mr. Thorne proposed to teach at $2.00 per evening. About 20 persons signed to the class, and adjourned to meet at the log school house on Tuesday evening next. Mankato should afford a school of sixty scholars, and all that is necessary to secure a large class is to awaken an interest among the people in an art which apparently has been neglected in this town.

Peabody & Co introduce themselves to the business men of Blue Earth Valley, as wholesale dealers of wines liquors and cigars. Their place of business is 107 Third street St Paul. Mr A W Etter, one of the partners, is visiting Mankato and vicinity taking orders, and his manner of dealing, at once commends his firm to our business men. The reputation of this house is established, and we can commend it to those of our dealers who operate in that line of merchandise.

RAILROAD LANDS.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the Minnesota Valley Railroad Company are prepared to sell 150 000 acres of their valuable lands. They propose to sell lands as far west as range 31 inclusive which reaches two townships west of Blue Earth county. The highest bid received at that date will be accepted. The terms for prairie land are, one fifth cash in hand, and the balance in five annual installments, with interest at 7 per cent per annum. For timbered land one half of the purchase money will be required in advance. Preemptors who settled previous to the passage of the land grant, and have continued to reside thereon, can, upon application before January 1866, secure their lands at the rate of $2 50 per acre. The number of acres sold was 1,427. The amount of purchase money realized was $7,293 25, and the amount paid in cash $1,080 45. The interest which was paid in advance amounted to $244 75. A COMMUNICATION.

MR. EDITOR : In the Record of the 4th inst. I noticed an article styled "The School House Controversy," an article ingeniously written and well calculated to kindle in the minds of the inhabitants of the school district, (and probably intended to cover more territory) prejudice and distrust. A few words by way of explanation, may throw some light upon the subject, and exonerate me of an arbitrary act, in refusing to sign the mentioned contract. I freely admit that I refused to sign a contract for the building of a school house by Messrs. Burrows and Ipson. On the 10th of August last was held a school meeting. The legal voters thereof unanimously passed a resolution instructing the school board to let the contract at once, for the building of a school house, provided the same could be so far completed, that one room could be used for school purposes the coming winter, but in no case to let the contract, unless so much of the work could be accomplished, by the first of January 1866. The stipulations in a contract with Messrs B. & I., must necessarily have been in direct opposition to the resolution. The Record says that the resolution is pronounced illegal by a majority of the lawyers of the town. I care not whether it is legal or illegal it was an expression of the district, and as a servant of the district, I have tried and still shall try to carry out the wishes of the people of the district, regardless of lawyers' melees, or editors recommendations. Strange that the editor of the Record should know nothing of the action of another member of the board, in refusing to sign a contract that did conform to the resolution, he refusing at least six weeks prior to the time of Messrs. B. & I making the expensive trip from St. Paul to Mankato, for the express purpose of negotiating with the board. This trip must have been made by the request of the other members of the board as I have signed no notice for contracts since the rejection of Mr. Giltner's proposal, which as I have said was six weeks prior to Messrs B & I.'s visit to Mankato. Yet "owing to the tardiness of the directors the project is no nearer its accomplishment now than it was a year ago." I refused to sign a contract and the editor of the Record knew it immediately and saw fit to publish a lengthy article (immediately preceding the election) very convincing to the reader (voter) in the country and those unacquainted with the circumstances in town, that I had been maneuvering to deprive the District of the much needed school house. I boldly and fearlessly assert, what nearly every architect and builder in Mankato knows and will endorse what I say, that the school house would to day stand completed, ready for winter use, had it been in my power to have consummated a contract. The Record, too, seems extremely anxious to see the contract awarded to Burrows & Ipson, while the bids of our home mechanics must be thrust aside and rejected by a refusal to sign a contract by some member of the school board, (harmless in this instance) and the bidder ignored. I for one think it fair to give the bids of our home mechanics the same consideration as one from St. Paul or elsewhere. In conclusion, I emphatically declare that I will sign no contract for the building of a school house, in violation of the resolution, till the voters in meeting assembled, declare by resolution or otherwise the revocation of the one now in force, and instruct the Board to contract now for the building of a school house another season. Neither shall I resign the lucrative position of school director at the mere suggestion of a non-resident of the school district.

MAN AND WIFE.—The theory of man and wife, that special theory in accordance with which the wife is to bend herself in loving submission before her husband, is very beautiful; and it would be good altogether if it could only be arranged that that the husband, should be the stronger and greater of the two. The theory is based upon the hypothesis; and the hypothesis sometimes fails of confirmation. In ordinary marriages the vessel rights itself, and the greater and stronger takes the lead, whether clothed in petticoats, or in coat, waistcoat and trowsers; but there sometimes comes a terrible shipwreck, when the woman before marriage has filled herself full with ideas of submission, and then finds that her golden headed god has got an iron body and feet of clay.—Fortnightly Review.

KETCHUM IN THE TOMBS.—The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says:

Ketchum, the forger, is still confined in the Tombs, and bears his fate with remarkable resignation and calmness. He continues to play the role of injured innocence, but declares, with some emphasis, that he is too proud to complain. His wife, it is said, has not visited him; but two or three of his fair friends, in whom he was more deeply interested than he should have been, make frequent calls at his prison quarters, consoling his captivity by their caresses, and softening it by their tears. He passes much of his time in reading poetry and inditing sentimental epistles to the dear divinities to whom I have referred; where he is the recipient of various perfumed, rose-lined billets assuring him that in the midst of adversity the loving heart remembers most.

His cell, if it can be called such, is quite pleasant, and he is liberally supplied with books and delicacies and flowers. He has no doubt whatever of his discharge by the courts, and continues to asseverate that he has done nothing which can make him amenable to the law; that his "financial operations" were unfortunate, but sanctioned by custom in Wall street.

—The New York Herald, in its Washington correspondence, gives a report that Caleb Cushing will supercede Mr. Adams in England(!), and that the latter will become Secretary of State. The same paper states that the government has retained General Rousseau, John H. Clifford, and Wm. M· Evarts, aside from Atty. Gen. Speed, to act as counsel for the prosecution of Jeff Davis, and that Chas. O'Conor R. H. Gillet will appear for the defence.

GETTING MARRIED.—A rather laughable transaction took place a week or two ago in the town of Dewitt, Clinton county, Michigan, in which love and business are so intermixed that it requires an adept to distinguish between the two. A milk-safe pedlar called at a house to sell a "safe." The woman informed him that she was a widow, and would much rather have a man (safer.) The pedlar informed her that, if she would take a safe he would send her a man. She took it, and the pedlar went on his way rejoicing. He soon met a man whom he ascertained had no bosom companion, and directed him to the widow. Going on, he called at a house to sell a safe, and was informed that the man was a widower, and would prefer a wife. He told him if he would take a safe he would direct him where he could get a woman. He took a safe and the pedlar directed him to the same woman. When he reached her, he was about an hour too late, the first having just secured the prize. The kind hearted woman, however, sent him to a second woman, whom he secured; and both loving couples were married that afternoon.—Exchange.

The commission on the revenue matters is approaching a completion of its labors. Mr. Merrill, of the ways and means committee, is of opinion that but little legislation on this subject will be required during the coming congressional session, as the present receipts of revenue are fully up to the expectations of the framers of the law.

Two Prussian officers, Captain Calow and Major Von Schach, fought a duel, recently, at Magdeburg. They agreed to fight until one of them was killed, and twenty-eight shots were exchanged before Captain Calow was fatally hit.

The American missionary society held its nineteenth anniversary in Brooklyn, New York, on Thursday. The annual report of the treasurer shows that the receipts during the last financial year were $139.431.10, and the expenditures $139,-169.39. More than two hundred and fifty missionaries and teachers have been maintained during the year in the south.

The Fenian senate, it is reported, will immediately send agents to Ireland to organize a revolution. John Mitchell—who was released from prison Oct 30th,—is expected to take an active part in the insurrection. The excitement continues in Canada over expected Fenian operations. No arrests have yet been made, but prominent Irishmen are closely watched by spies.

It is reiterated that Caleb Cushing's mission to England is in connection with our claims for damages in the cases of the Anglo-rebel pirates, and Mr. C., it is stated, is preparing an elaborate argument on the subject.

Advices from Matamoras to the 26th instant state that the liberals in that vicinity had been whipped and driven off. Six thousand volunteers are coming from Belgium to reinforce the army of Maximilian.

AN Illustrated Catalogue, containing full description of style, and testimonials of the most eminent Musicians, as to the superior excellence of our instruments—will be sent tree to any address.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instrumetsn constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A PRINCE & CO." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preperation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is bro't to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELEIF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW

As Time—the great developer of Events—advances, these truths becomes wider and better known, and this Medicine has already become a simple necessity, with a growing demand, unprecedented in the history of Medicine—the natural results of its INTRINSIC MERITS.

A single trial is all that is necessary to establish the fact that it is the most efficacious remedy ever offered to suffering humanity.

This medicine is put up in 50, 75 and $1,00 bottles and warranted to contain more and better material than any similar medicine introduced to the public in a medicine.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE,

☞ No Family should be without it.

Cures Secret Diseases

In all their stages little expense, little or no change of diet, no inconvenience, and NO EXPOSURE.

M

USE HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For all affections and diseases of these organs, whether EXISTING IN MALE OR FEMALE,

From whatever cause originating, and no matter how long standing., Diseases of these organs require the aid of a diuretic.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
Is the Great Diuretic.

And it is certain to have the desired effect in all diseases for which it is recommended.

B

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

The reports of the American Institute, Farmers' club, and the various Agricultural reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription. Read what a subscriber in St. Louis says:

ST LOUIS, Mo., July 16, 1865.

The Editor of The Tribune.

DEAR SIR: I have had it in contemplation for some time to write and tell you of the pleasure I get from the weekly perusal of the proceedings of the Farmers' club; first I will tell you how recently I became aware of its existence. About the 1st of September, 1863, I noticed an advertisement, and a cut of the Tribune strawberries, and immediately subscribed for The Weekly Tribune, in which I found the proceedings of your club I have read them constantly, until they have become to me a necessity, and I look for Monday as red letter day in my calendar, and was I to be confined to one agricultural paper alone, I should prefer the Tribune to anything I have yet seen. Yours JOHN HENWOOD.

Another subscriber writes:

I neglected (forgot) to renew my subscription to The Tribune, until so late that I missed the first July No. Can you help me to its Portions of the Farmers' club reports in that number, particularly, I wish to preserve. In fact, that feature of the paper constitutes one of the main reasons why I take it. And I have no doubt that it receives a goodly share of its patronage from persons who wish it well, but would not otherwise bring themselves to the subscribing point.

Yours truly, O. A ALEXANDER.

SHAKOPEE AND MEDICINE BOTTLE

How They Received the Order for Execution.

Correspondence of the St. Paul Press,

FORT SNELLING, Nov 9, 1865.

The order for the execution of the two Sioux Indians, Shakopee and Medicine Bottle, reached Ft. Snelling on Wednesday in the absence of Col. McLaren, the Commandant, and was read to the prisoners by Major Jones, with the aid of Mr. Quinn, a half-breed interpreter. It will be remembered that these two Indians who were among the most prominent of the instigators of, and actors in the horrible massacre at Red Wood and vicinity in 1862, where five hundred whites fell victims to a treacherous uprising of the savages, were in January, 1864, kidnapped from the British territory north of Pembina, having been dexterously drugged for that purpose, and delivered into the hands of Major Hatch, by whom they were, in due time, conveyed to Ft. Snelling On November 25th, 1864, they were tried before a military tribunal, at that place, and convicted of a leading part in the massacre and in the subsequent hostile movements of the Sioux, and sentenced to be hung. The sentence was a few weeks ago approved by Gen. Pope, but his order for their execution was suspended upon an appeal by Bishop Grace, to the President, until a re examination of the testimony upon which the findings and sentence of the court were based should be made by Secretary Harlan, to whom the case was referred. The result of the examination is a final approval of the sentence of the court, and a renewal of the order for their execution. The manner in which they received these tidings was a remarkable illustration of the immovable stoicism of the Indian character. Your columns have already described the inimitable coolness of their demeanor, when after many months confinement, they received the first order for their execution. They joked and chatted about the event with apparently as much indifference as if they were going on a hunting excursion, and bragged about their manhood and pluck as if they were rejoiced at the opportunity of showing white men how Indians could die. When informed of the order suspending their execution they manifested signal indifference and if they felt, a they no doubt did, any inward joy at the prospect of escaping death, no signs of it were visible to the observer. During the interval of their respite they were allowed considerable liberty and were employed daily under the supervision of a guard, in sawing wood, which they did with great industry. They had been encouraged to believe, and no doubt did believe, that they would escape hanging, and indeed everybody else thought so too.

When the final order for their execution was received, on Wednesday, they were removed from the outer guard room and, for greater security, were placed in an inner cell with Pryor, the white murderer, and soon after Major Jones, accompanied by an interpreter, entered their cell and read the order which announced their awful doom.

The announcement must have been fearfully startling and unexpected to them, but their countenances or manner gave no indications even of surprise, much less of any other emotion. They received it with a gay and brave "ho! ho!"—saying in substance that their Great Father probably knew better when they ought to die than they did—that they were ready to die whenever He wished it—that they came from the earth Men and would return to it Men.

On the following day, upon the return of Col. Mc Laren, the "head soldier", as they called him, they sent for him, and he went to see them. Father Ravoux, who had come to offer them such spiritual consolation as they were capable of receiving, acted as his interpreter, and through him the Colonel told them that in their execution he was merely carrying out orders of superiors, and shaking hands, said they had but a short time to prepare for death, as they were to be hung at noon on Saturday. Father Ravoux interpreted this by the usual Indian method of counting on the fingers the number of sleeps they would have before they were executed. Another "ho! ho!" was their reply to this announcement. The Great Spirit made me a man,' said Medicine Bottle, taking his pipe from his month, "and I am willing to die whenever the Great Spirit wishes." "Ho! ho!" grunted Shakopee in assent to this statement. The rest of the conversation on their part consisted merely in repeating these assertions of their manhood, between alternate puffs of the fragrant Kinnickinnie. Medicine Bottle had a request to make. He wanted permission to send an old man living over at Mendota to Faribault, where his wife lived, to convey to her intelligence that he was about to be hung, an intimation which that lady will be likely to receive as an invitation to come up and receive the last farewells of her leige lord. No trace of fear or concern was visible in their manner, except, perhaps, a little extra gaiety, put on for the occasion.

Father Ravoux was left to prepare them for the happy hunting grounds. These heathens professed to be converted to the doctrines of the Catholic Church, or at any rate they readily receive its impression, rites and precepts, as ensuring them a tolerably safe passage to the Indian Elysium.

Shakopee was asked if he had any word to send to his Sioux friends? "You can tell them," he said, rising to his feet, and gesticulating energetically—"that my heart is the heart of a warrior, that the Great Spirit put me on earth a man, and no squaw. I want to be buried among my people," said Shakopee, "but my people have no village, and they are far off in a strange country."

"Ho! ho!" added Medicine Bottle.

Both the Indians usually rise to address their visitors, and after shaking hands with them speak in a loud emphatic tone of voice, with much dignity of manner and violent gesticulation.

When in their ordinary position, lying at full length or sitting squat upon the floor, they talk together in a low, monotonous voice, passing their long stemmed pipes from one to the other, and puffing the smoke through their noses as if they enjoyed it. They certainly exhibibit a degree of pure animal pluck in view of their certain death which seems wonderful to a white man, though doubtless much of it is pure bravado, and they are in fact greater cowards than they seem.

Death of Lord Palmerston.

The great Premier whose name for the last quarter of a century has been associated with the popular idea of English policy and character, died on the morning of the 18th of October, at the ripe old age of 84. For many months his retirement from office on account of the gout had been confidently expected. But we have so long been used to think of Lord Palmerston as a hale, hearty, jovial gentleman, "a glorious old boy," as the Court Journal styled him, that the intelligence of his death comes upon us with a shock of surprise.

Henry John Temple, third viscount Palmerston in the peerage of Ireland, was born at Broadlands in Hampshire, October 20, 1784 He entered parliament as a tory in 1806, and has ever since had a seat in that body. He first held office as a junior lord of the admiralty at the age of twenty-three, and at twenty-five became secretary at war, a post which he retained for nineteen years. He had been for some time gradually changing his political course, when in 1830 he formally joined the whig party, and became secretary for foreign affairs in Earl Grey's cabinet. The address with which he filled this office in most difficult circumstances made him in a short time one of the most famous men in Europe. He never aspired to be a leader of public opinion, but he had a quick insight into the sentiments of the nation, and a wonderful adroitness in placing himself always at the head of the popular majority. Hence Palmerston's name all over the continent, became synonymous with English policy. During the revolutionary movements of 1848–9 he acted very much as he did during our rebellion,—lending all the moral aid of England to the insurgents, but refusing them open assistance. He lost popularity in 1851 by the favor with which he regarded Louis Napoleon's usurpation of the empire, but he regained it all by his refusal to submit his dispatches to the inspection of Prince Albert, for which he was turned out of office. Brought back to power and placed at the head of the cabinet, in 1855, he finished the Russian war, which Lord Aberdeen had so shockingly bungled. Another proof of the strange subserviency which he always showed the French emperor was given in 1858, when, after the attempt at assassination by Orsini, he introduced the "conspiracy to murder" bill, which was so unpopular that the ministry was overthrown. The next year, however, he formed the cabinet, over which he continued to preside, as first lord of the treasury, up to the time of his death.

Lord Palmerston was not a man of genius, nor even of deep thought He owed his success to his strong common sense, industry, adroitness, shrewdness in discerning the signs of the times, and a rare combination with these qualifications of certain personal characteristics which gave him a hold upon every Englishman's heart. In the midst of business he was always full of that sort of humor for which there is no name but "fun," He rejoiced in out of door exercises, and had not missed a horse race for twenty years. He was erect and jaunty in his carriage, careful in his dress, and comparatively young in appearance. In the house of commons, of which he was one of the most powerful leaders ever known, he excelled not so much in eloquence as in appropriateness, good nature, keen sarcasm, and telling effect of everything he said. He was a man of no religious sentiments whatever He believed in nothing but success, scrupled at nothing but a blunder, seemed to hope in no future but a perpetual tenure of office. His death will probably make no change in the policy of Great Britain,

It is said—and the report is credible—that Earl Russel is to succeed him as premier and Lord Clarendon to take the foreign office Mr. Gladstone in that case will probably be leader of the house,

FROM GEORGIA,

The Convention—Plan to Cheat the North.

MILLEDGEVILEE, November 1.

I have spent some days here studying the character of the constitutional convention, and conversing with the leading men who are assembled here by its sessions.

It is plain that all of the war element—that is to say, all the genuine, uncompromising rebels—in the convention mean to do just as little as is absolutely necessary in order to get their relations with the Union re-established. What they desire is to get political power once more into their own hands. That done, they propose, and among themselves they make no secret of it, "to cheat the north." This is their phrase, and there is no doubt that such a purpose prevails very extensively. Whether it will be strong enough to gain ultimately the control of the state, depends entirely upon the temper congress shows towards the delegations from the south. If it should receive them without pledges, and without evidence of due repentance for the past: if it should recognize the state constitutions without insisting upon adequate guarantees for the freedmen and for the future loyalty of the states, then we shall have trouble, and plenty of it.

As yet the following clause in the bill of rights is all that the convention has determined upon the subject:

"SECTION 20. The government of the United States having, as a war measure, proclaimed all slaves held or owned in this state emancipated from slavery, and having carried that proclamation into full, practical effect, there shall henceforth be, within the state of Georgia, neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, save as a punishment for crime, after legal conviction thereof: Provided, this acquiescence in the action of the government of the United States is not intended to operate as a relinquishment, or waver, or estoppel of such claims for compensation of loss sustained by reason of the loss of his slaves, as any citizen of Georgia may hereafter make upon the justice and magnanimity of the government."

It will be a very hard thing to bring this convention to put it on paper, that a negro has a right to acquire and hold property, sue and be sued, and testify in the courts. I am perfectly sure that the proposition would not be listened to at all but for fear that congress would otherwise keep them out. Nothing more than this need be hoped for yet, and even this is far from certain.

The anti-progressive men, or old rebel element, are also strongly against repudiation of the rebel war debt, and will make a desperate resistance to anything of the kind. They have, too, a strong prospect of beating it, for the convention has already declined to declare the secession ordinance and laws "null and void," but has simply repealed them. This shows how gingerly they approach all questions touching the original right of secession; and when it is remembered that the first act of this convention after it was organized for business was to pass a resolution calling upon the President to pardon Jeff Davis and "all other" rebels, the temper of the people and their leaders in Georgia may be fairly inferred. It is the same throughout the South—worse elsewhere, from all I can learn. I have heard men here, who profess to be Union men, regretting that Joshua Hill had had the manliness to oppose that resolution as an imprudent and illtimed act, calculated to annoy the president and to do the parties no good. Some went so far as to say that Hill had "killed himself" as a candidate for the United States Senate.

Another incident which happened here and which I have just learned from the best authority, thoroughly illustrates the temper of these subdued but not conquered rebels. General Steedman, the federal commander of the state, came here to be present at the commencement of the convention. The morning the convention opened a member went to a delegate who had traveled to the State capitol with the general, and said: "I understand you are going to introduce a resolution inviting Gen. Stedman to a seat on the floor?"

"No, I'm not."

"Well, I just wished to say to you that you had better not, for by——the convention won't stand it!"

The great fight in the convention will be made, as I have already intimated, on the repudiation of the rebel war debt. Joe Brown is the champion of the state honor, which means of the payment of the state debt. A great many believe that he will be the next governor, and he has succeeded also in speading abroad the impression that he is deeper in the confidence of President Johnson than any other man in the state. This gives him power with the masses; but the intelligent and prudent detest him as a vain and shallow demagogue. Nor can any true Union man forget his behavior at the beginning of the war. It was he who caused Fort Pulaski to be seized. Would you like to see such a traitor made the governor of the restored state of Georgia?

The Cholera—The Ice-Bag Remedy.

In a letter to the London Times, Dr. John Chapman gives an interesting account of his treatment of the cholera patients at Southampton by the application of ice-bags to the spine. He states the main points of his theory as follows:

That the nausea discharges [illegible], vomiting, copious of the well known "rice water," stools, cold sweat and peculiar odor from the body are due to the combined action of the hyperaemic spinal cord and sympathetic nervous centres, in the same manner as they produce phenonema of the like kind, though less in degree, in cases of summer diarrhea and of sea sickness when it is accompanied with diarrhea.

That cholera is neither contageous or infectious in any cases whatsoever, except through the depressing influence of fear.

That cholera may be completely averted, and when developed, cured by modifying the temperature of the spinal region.

After detailing the symptoms of two cases of cholera which fell under his observation, Dr, Chapman offers the following suggestions for the use of the ice-bag:

1. The cold must be applied along only a narrow strip—not more than four inches broad in the adult—down the very centre of the back.
2. The cold must be dry, not wet, cold.
3. The ice bag should be continued along the whole spine only till the cramps and algide symptoms have been subdued.
4. The ice-bag should be continued to be applied to the lower half of the spine until vomiting and purging cease.
5. The patient should be assiduously watched to guard, in the stage of reaction, against cerebral and pulmonary congestions, the development of which will be facilitated by continuing the ice too long in the cervical and dorsal regions.
6. If such congestions should occur, they will be denoted by heaviness, incoherency, wandering and by laborious breathing, and may be subdued by applying the double columned water bag, at a temperature of one hundred and twenty degrees along the lower part of the neck and between the scapulae.
7 If it be necessary to induce sleep, this may be done by the same bag in the same way.

Twelve cases of cholera and four deaths have occurred at Epping, England—a market town in the county of Essex, ten or fifteen miles from London.

A Curious Case.

From the Peoria Transcript.

Our city readers may remember the case of Bernard Daily, the insane man, who used to wander around about our streets. An attempt was made to get him into the Insane Asylum at Jacksonville, but the building was full. He was then by an order of the Board of Supervisors, we believe, taken to the county poor house. Being a man of great muscular power, he gave the parties who arrested him a great deal of trouble, but was finally secured. Some weeks ago his mother went out to see him. She says she found him confined in a pen or open yard, in company of two other insane persons, exposed without shelter to the sun. Daily requested to be allowed to go home, and when she started to leave him, became uncontrolable, and climing the high wall ran toward town Several persons connected with the poor house started after him, but failing to catch him on foot, took horse. Mrs. Daily came into town and heard nothing of it until the next day. The doctor called and told her that her son was suffering from a wound in the head. It appeared that he had been pursued and hit on the head with a club, knocked down and taken back to the poor house. Mrs. Daily went after him and brought him home. The blow which he received threatened to be serious for a time, but finally the wound healed. The strangest point of the whole affair is that it promises to restore him to his senses. He has come home and works all day at his trade, shoemaking, whistles and sings and is improving rapidly. Strong hopes are entertained of his complete restoration. A parallel case to this is that of one William Moss, a year or so ago, who was rendered insane by an attack of typhoid fever, and while being taken home, fell from a bridge, and striking his head was restored to his senses instantly. A lick on the head will knock most people senseless. We have heard of breaking folks' heads to let the light in, this comes the nearest to it of anything in our experience.

The Advantage of Security.

Some weeks ago I strolled into a friend's counting-room. He being absent I commenced a chat with his clerk, when a good-looking "cullud pussun," entered, doffed his caster, and said:

"Mas' Bob, kin you lend me a quarter till dis afternoon, and I pay him sartin?"

Mas' Bob applied his dexter to his vest pocket but it made no "sign." I turned.

"Well, Buck, you look tolerably honest, but as I don't know you, if you will give me security I will lend you the quarter."

His eyes brightened as he asked;

"Mas' Bob, will you go my security?"

"Yes," replied Bob.

I forked over. Sometime afterwards, wending the same way, as I was about to enter the office, the identical Buck stood before me.

"Buck, where's my quarter? You didn't pay me as [illegible] you promised."

"N[illegible] sah, but I gib you seurity."

"Well, but I want you to pay me—I lent you the quarter."

"Dat's true, sah, but it am de custom down here to zaust the security fust."

An Anecdote of Carlyle

The London correspondent of the Boston Commonwealth, discoursing on the prospects of the cholera, tells the folowing anecdote of Thomas Carlyle:

"When the cholera was raging at Dunmfries, Scotland, a little over thirty years ago, to such an extent that every third person was seized, Mr. Carlyle, who was residing near by at Craigenputtock, called his domestics together and addressed them as follows: 'It is undisputable that the cholera is raging near us. It turns people blue and kills them. It may come here and kill us. It is a comfort to know, that the worst it can do with us is to kill us. All we have to do is to go on, each of us doing his or her proper work, and avoiding those things which are conducive to cholera—chief of which is the fear of it. Therefore, if my authority passes for anything, the word cholera will not again be mentioned in this houshold." All were made stronger by these words, and the cholera passed by them.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

The week closes with a dull, heavy market, with a prospect of goods going lower. Jobbers say the bottom is not yet reached. Importers and commission houses have little to say, and seem to be awaiting events. They are not however, willing to make much concession. Prices of domestic goods for the next few months will depend much upon facts in regard to the actual amount of cotton in the country of this and former crops. On that there is much speculation and guessing; some say the present crop will be half a million bales, while others contend it will not exceed a quarter of a million.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.

Dry goods market unchanged and dull; buyers of cotton holding off for lower prices. Steady but quiet.

COUNTERFEITER'S DEN DISCOVERED.

ASTORIA, L. I., Oct, 13.—Rev. H. Smith, of this place, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue, while in the discharge of his duty during the past month discovered at Morpeth what he supposed to be a retreat for counterfeiters. He last week communicated with Superintendent Folk of the Brooklyn police. The place was watched and this morning seized by six detectives. In the place were found dies, stamps, &., hid in the cellar, and it is reported, $100,000 in counterfeit fractional currency. Two counterfeiters were captured and two escaped.

—A man was knocked out of his wagon at Cincinnati and had his back broken, at the junction of the dorsal and lumbar vertebrae. He was taken to the hospital, chloroform administerd, and he was straightened out and tied fast upon a bed. He rapidly improved, and is in a fair way to get quite well.

—There is positive evidence that Jeff. Davis himself, let others believe as they will, has no idea of giving up the ghost this winter. Col. Owens the most fashionable tailor in Washington, has received order, accompanied by Jeff's measure, for a hundred dollar overcoat, which, owing to the depressed condition of Jeff's finances will be generously paid for by some of his admirers in Washington.

—It is stated that the President contemplates commuting the sentence of Wirz to imprisonment for life.

A man in Philadelphia lately cut a wart off his foot and bled to death.

—All the indications point to an early and severe winter. The snow storm that visited the west week-before last had its counterpart in the east, and sleigh bells are already ringing in northern New England. The fall of snow at Albany, New York, was twelve inches, but it soon turned to slush by a rain storm which followed. Cars came into Springfield, Massachusetts, loaded with about five inches. It snowed hard to within ten miles of Boston, In the immediate vicinity of the lakes, as at Rochester, etc., the fall was slight, these portions of the country being visited with a severe gale.

CHURCH BUILDING.—The Presbyterian congregation, under the charge of the Rev. Mr. Ward, are having a new church edifice erected on Minnetonka street, near Eighth street. The building is under roof, and strong efforts will be made to have it intirely completed before winter sets fully in. This society, yet in its infancy here, promises speedily to occupy a prominent position among our church organizations.—Minneapolis Atlas.

—The statement of the public debt, as it stood on the 31st ultimo, gives the total at $2,740,858,748, bearing an interest of $138,938,078. The amount of legal tenders in circulation is $633,709,581. The amount of coin in the treasury is $3,454,987, and of currency $33,800,501. Since the statement on the 30th of September, there has been a decrease of about $4,000,000 on the debt, and over $44,000,000 in legal tenders.

—A Toronto dispatch states that a number of private soldiers there are under arrest for Fenian sympathies; that the city is picketed as a precaution against attack; and that the brotherhood has a fast steamer ready for armament.

—A hundred and twenty-four employees, male and female, were discharged from the treasury department on Wednesday. Their places will be supplied (so far as the business of the department demands) by disabled soldiers.

CENTRAL R. ROAD.—We understand that the Central R Road Co. have now about two hundred men at work on the road between Medford and Faribault, and will endeavor to get the road in running order to the former place before winter sets in. This would be a great help to Medford, and would secure to the company an immense amount of freight that they would otherwise lose.—Owatonna Plaindealer.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE MANKATO UNION.

Mankato, Minn., Friday Nov., 17. 1865

Result of Election.

The Press gives the following estimate of the election result. Thirteen counties, officially, give Marshall, 2,043 majority, twelve counties estimated give 2,520, others computed at 1,100 total 5,662. Rice's official majority in three counties is 1,105, five estimated 1,363, others computed at 15, total 2,483.

In accordance with reckoning, Marshall's majority in the State will be 3,489.

The Republican candidate for Secretary of State receives a much larger majority than any other.

The official majority against the amendment thus far is 1,330.

The entire Democratic legislative ticket for this district is undoubtedly elected.

Owing to the default of bringing in the full county returns, we are unable to produce the official majorities in full of the successful candidates.

A WORD TO THE REPUBLICANS OF BLUE EARTH.

The recent election in Blue Earth county, which has resulted in the ignoble defeat of a party which boasts of its principles, its power, its devotion to human liberty, and its majorities, suggests to all republicans who are such from principle and not policy, an inquiry into the cause of the shame and reproach which self stultification and suicide has wrought out for the Union party of this county.

While the state ticket is elected by a respectable majority, and for several years past the Union party has held the ascendency in the county, it is the exception, and not the rule, that its power is exerted in the vindication or enforcement of those distinctive principles upon which the party is supposed to be based.

The alternations of success and defeat in the Union party of this county must be traced to some cause and a remedy applied, else the party as a party, will no longer be susceptible of a tangible existence. In treating of the causes of the disorganized condition of the party it were well to strike at the root of the matter. First, the leading republicans, with a few honorable exceptions, have forgotten that honesty is the best policy. They have ignored every principle which should govern the deliberations of political conventions chosen by the people. They have wilfully trampled under foot the plainest proposition in the creeds of political assemblies, to wit, that the expressed will of the majority should bind the whole. And this is not only the case with the voter who has no other influence than that which the casting of a ballot will give him, but men who assume to lead, who attend caucuses, and conventions who talk loud of "our party," overtly doing wonders for its maintenance, and covertly menacing it with weapons of dissension, are the men whom we are addressing. Gentlemen of Mankato, don't suppose for moment that we mean everybody but you. Let each man who has entered the arena of politics, scan his own past record, and see if it be clear of the charges of bolting the will of the majority, of paying off old grudges by breaking your solemn promise implied or expressed, to abide the decision of a majority expressed at your primary meetings. Corruption, political corruption, gentlemen, is not a mild term 'tis true, but with no effort to check the spirit of crimination, the party has been prostituted to the purpose of venting private spleen, ruining because ruling is impossible, defeating, because defeated in open convention, and thus all political honor and integrity is lost. If this is not corruption we ask light to distinguish evil from good. We directly charge upon some of the defeated aspirants for office, the crime of a persistent effort upon their part to defeat the regular ticket. We charge upon others the same effort with ulterior objects in view, and yet these men will have the assurance, in the face of conclusive proof of infidelity, to call themselves true party men. If the party can succeed only by the dangerous expedient of admitting poison to its bosom, let the party fall. If men cannot act from principle and in good faith toward the party, they should be marked from the the list of adherers, or the true men of the county must separate from them, and form a nucleus round which honest voters may rally. Another branch of the subject bears upon claims of naturalized citizens, who, tho' generally to be depended upon, are not wholly blameless for their conduct in the recent election. It seems to be the leading idea with some of them, that the only incentive to join the republican party is the spoils of office, and it has been frequently the practice to crack the whip of "bolting the ticket," in order to secure some official position. Such men are not true to the party, and should never be trusted with an office, while we find some natural born citizens who are faithful under the chagrin of defeat, we find more of all classes who are not content to bide their time and seek redress within its pales. Just so long as strife of this nature continues, so long will the different nationalities fail of a representation among the county officials. Had the ticket been successful this fall, another year, or at the biennial election, the foreign voters would have had ample reason to have pushed their claims. Now all is lost and no prospect in the future, while our political enemies snugly ensconced in their official chairs, with their digits to their nasal protuberances, smile at our folly and discomfiture. Again, how long, pray, is this distinction of nationality to be continued. Are we not all American citizens? Shall children born of Welsh parentage in this county still be called Welsh? Shall children of German birth always bear that nationality, though born on free American soil? We ask foreign born voters in kindness, when do you expect to call yourselves simply American citizens? You affect to fear an old political element denominated knownothingism, but it should be remembered that by drawing lines of nationality you incur invidious distinctions instead of repeling them. There should be but one nationality in America and that be the "American citizen" without regard to birth place or ancestry. Without such a harmonious blending, we may continue this triangular contest indefinitely, to no good purpose. The Germans may bolt one year and the Welsh the next, because their favorites are without a county nomination, and finally natural born citizens for the same reason may discard the nomination of foreign born voters.

Honesty, and a disposition to deal justly by all, will soon right our present difficulties, and nothing else will.

A word to Union voters. Last year when the perils of war almost overshadowed our existence, and enormous sacrifices of money and blood had as yet failed to establish our unity, the republicans of this county in overwhelming majorities voted more men to fill the depleted ranks. Volunteers poured in at their bidding, the army was increased, and the country saved. Our noble defenders return and ask a pitiful recognition of their services, and through the treachery of some, and negligence of others, who remained at home, our soldiers are snubbed, and defeated, and in their stead men who are reported to have rejoiced over the defeat of our armies, or who never professed to be the soldiers friends have been triumphantly elected. What a record for the Union men of Blue Earth county. To the shame disgrace of our party it must be said that internal bickerings with some, and apathy with others, has led us to forfeit those county emoluments which should have been bestowed upon the battle scarred heroes of our country.

INDIAN EXECUTION.

Medicine Bottle and Shakopee Executed Friday last, Nov. 12th.

Extracts from the St. Paul Press of Nov. 12th.

The execution of the two Indians Tah-ta chah manne, alias Medicine Bottle, and Shak opee, alias Little Six, sentenced upon the charge of participation in the massacre in this State, in the summer of 1862, occurred yesterday at Fort Snelling, and was witnessed by a large concourse of people. The manner of their capture, the charges and specifications upon which they were tried, together with the findings of the court martial, have already appeared in our columns, and we need not repeat them. The day was one of the lovliest of our Indian Summer, the sun shining in all his beauty, the rays of which was only slightly obstructed by the hazy, dreamy atmosphere so peculiar to this season of the year in Minnesota. The day seemed too lovely to be marred by the horrors of an execution, but a serious crime has been committed, and innocent people had been brutally slaughtered in an unsuspected moment, the majesty of the law had been insulted and violated by these culprits, and the bleeding wounds of an outraged people, as well as the sacred principles of humanity and justice, demanded this awful penalty to be inflicted. Many will doubtless say that it was nothing less than murder, as the offenders had been driven to the desperation which prompted them to the deed by cruel treatment. It is not our province to enter into an argument with these philanthropic brethren, but it is enough for us to know that the people of Minnesota, who ought to know something about the Indian character, will breath freer and easier when they learn that these murderers of their friends and despoilers of their homes are no more.

AT THE FORT.

We arrived at the Fort between the hours of nine and ten o'clock in the morning, and found the carpenters very busy arranging the gallows. The ropes were being placed over an upper beam, and the noose on each was being arranged so as to work properly. Even at the early hour that we arrived there, we found a number of people from the surrounding country collected to witness the execution.

IN THE CELL OF THE DOOMED CHIEFS.

Through the kindness of Colonel McLaren, commanding the post, we received permission to visit the condemned in their cell. We entered the prison about ten o'clock, passing through a file of armed soldiers in the outer guard room to the inner cell where we found the two Indians reclining upon a bench. The murderor Pryor and a couple of guards were all the persons with them at that time. As soon as we entered they arose from their reclining position and sat upon the bench watching their visitors very closely, but manifesting no signs of fear at the approach of death.

THEIR LAST DEVOTIONS

About half-past ten o'clock Father Ravoux knelt with them in prayer. Medicine Bottle repeated the words that had been taught him, and Shakopee merely nodded assent to the sentiments expressed, by a low mumbling tone of voice and the usual grunt of approbation. These devotional exercises were very impressive. One could not but feel a throb of sympathy for these poor misguided beings, to see them get down upon their knees like other men, an offer up in their own innocent way, their petitions to the throne of grace. Indians as they were, it was an affecting scene, and impressed one very sensibly with the fact, notwithstanding their brutality, they were still human beings. About ten minutes were spent in prayer, when they arose. Father Ravoux then spoke to them a few minutes in a very earnest manner. They listened with marked attention, and appeared to understand what was being said. They again knelt in earnest prayer, and after a few moments spent they arose, and the service ended.

THEY PREPARE FOR THE SCAFFOLD.

It was now a quarter past eleven o'clock, and Colonel Mc Laren came in to announce to them that their time had come. Shakopee, who was smoking his pipe, immediately threw the ashes from it, and handing it to the interpreter, told him to give it to the "head soldier," pointing to Colonel Mc Laren. Medicine Bottle upon receiving the news arose to his feet, and crossing his hands behind his back, told them to tie him, as he was in a hurry. The guard, under command of Captain Palmer, of the reserve corps, bound their wrists together, and they marched out, with a firm and steady step, to the place of execution. They ascended the platform firmly and fearlessly, and took their position upon the drop, still engaged in reciting their prayers.

THE GALLOWS.

The gallows was erected in the open space between Fort proper and the Draft Rendezvous. It was a well built structure ten feet square, with the platform seven feet from the ground, leading to which was a rude stairway consisting of twelve steps. The front scantling were 18 feet high, and to the crosspiece placed on the top of these the ropes were attached. The trap door was made of very heavy planks and was attached to the main platform by three cast iron hinges. It was held up by an upright scantling, the lower end of which rested on one of the cross-pieces at the foot of the gallows. The drop was caused by knocking out this upright, which was done by a beam suspended horizontally by ropes from the centre of the platform. The drop was about five feet, which was quite sufficient to dislocate even the neck of an Indian.

THE FINAL SCENE.

At the conclusion of the reading of the order for their execution, their elbows and feet were bound securely with cord by the executioners. The noose was then placed over the head of each and drawn securely around the neck. Even this did not seem to effect them in the least. They stood without the apparent movement of a muscle, still maintaining that astonishing firmness exhibited from the first. The white caps were drawn over their faces, and the word being given, "all ready," at precisely 12 o'clock the drop fell and all was over. Their necks were both broken by the fall, and Shakopee died without a struggle. A light contraction of the muscles of the legs could be discovered, and that was all. Medicine Bottle, on the other hand, died very hard. His strong, muscular frame clung to life with wonderful tenacity. His writhings were pitiful to behold, and nearly ten minutes had elapsed before his struggles ended. While the bodies were still hanging, Mr. Whitney, of this city, who was present with his instrument, took a photograph of the gallows.

After they had been hanging some twenty minutes, Dr. J. W. Daniels, surgeon of the Second Minnesota Cavalry, examined the pulse and pronounced life extinct, when they were taken down and placed in their rude coffins, which lay in front of the gallows. The lid was placed over them, and they were taken, each coffin bore by four soldiers to the place in the Fort assigned for the dead. They were buried at 6 o'clock P. M., in the military burial grounds.

Thus passed away Shakopee and Tah-ta-chah-manne. They have left their earthly hunting grounds and gone to dwell with the Great Spirit. They are now in their last, long hunting place beyond the great river of death, and with the last glimpse of the canoe which bore them over, the curtain falls, which hides forever the final scene in the bloody drama of the massacre in Minnesota.

HANGING OF THE MONSTER WIRZ.

HE DECLARES HIS INNOCENCE TO THE LAST.

His Undaunted Demeanor on the Scaffold.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.

Captain Wirz was hung between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning. On the gallows he declared his innocence. He died without exhibiting any signs of fear. This morning Father Boyle administered the sacrement to Wirz, and Father Wiget, also of the Roman Catholic Church, then placed upon the prisoner the black cambric, remarking as he did so, "I hope this will be turned into a white one in the other world." At 25 minutes past ten o'clock Capt. Wirz came from his cell in the old Capitol Prison, accompanied by Provost Marshall Russell and other officers, and by Fathers Boyle and Wiget, and passing between the military guard, ascended the scaffold.

The prisoner was then seated. The scaffold was 12 feet square and 22 feet to the top beam, with the trap 12 feet from the ground. The guard consisted of the 195th Pennsylvania volunteers and three detachments of the Veteran Reserve Corps, under the command of Captain Walbridge, military superintendent of the old Capitol Prison. There were several hundred spectators present besides the military, civilians having been admitted on special passes.

Amid profound silence Provost Marshall Russell read the sentence of the War Department, founded on the verdict of the military commission which tried the prisoner. He was charged and convicted of combining, confederating and conspiring with Jefferson Davis, J. A. Seddon, Howell Cobb, John H. Winder, Richard B. Winder, Isaiah White, W. S. Winder, W. S. Shelby, Reed, R. R. Stephenson, S. P. Moore, Kerr, late hospital steward at Andersonville, James Duncan, Wesley W. Turner, Bejamin Harris, and others whose names are unknown, and who were then in armed rebellion against the United States, maliciously, traitorously, and in violation of the laws of war to impair and injure the health, and to destroy lives by subjecting to torture and great suffering, by confining in unhealthy and unwholesome quarters, by exposing to inclemency of winter, and to dews and burning suns of summer, by compelling use of impure water, and by furnishing insufficient and unwholesome food to large numbers of Federal prisoners, to wit; number of about 4,500 held as prisoners of war at Andersonville, within the lines of the so-called Confederate States, on or before the 27th of March, 1864, and at divers times between that day and the 10th of April, 1865, to the end that the armies of the United States might be weakened and impaired, and that the insurgents engaged in armed rebellion against the United States might be aided and comforted, etc., etc.

The order also states that the prisoner was found guilty of the second charge, namely: Murder, in violation of the laws and customs of war, and guilty of the specifications excepting the ninth, tenth and thirteenth, which three set forth that he killed a prisoner by shooting him with a revolver, that he ordered a sentinel to fire upon another with a revolver so that he died.

The order concludes as follows:

SENTENCE.

And the court do sentence him, Henry Wirz to be hanged by the neck until he be dead, at such time and place as the President of the United States may direct; two thirds of the members of the court concurring herein.

And the court also find the prisoner, Henry Wirz, guilty of having caused death in a manner as alleged in specification eleven, charge two, by means of dogs, of three prisoners of war in his custody, and soldiers of the United States; one occurring on or about the 15th day of May, 1864; another occurring on or about the eleventh day of July, 1864; another occurring on or about the 1st day of September, 1864, but with finding, as here expressed, has not and did not enter into the sentence of the court as before given.

The sentence in the foregoing case having been submitted to the President of the United States, the following are his orders:

ORDER OF THE PRESIDENT.

The proceedings, findings and sentence of the court in the within case are approved and it is ordered that the sentence be carried into execution by the officer commanding the Department of Washington, on Friday, the 10th day of November, 1865, between the hours of 6 o'clock in the morning and 12 o'clock, noon.

ANDREW JOHNSON,
(Signed) President United States.

THIRD. Maj. Gen. C. C. Augur, commanding the Department at Washington, is commanded to have the sentence in the case of Henry Wirz, duly executed, in accordance with the President's order.

4th. The Military Commission of which Maj. Gen. Lewis Wallace, United States Volunteers is president, is hereby dissolved by command of the President of the United States.

E D. TOWNSEND,
[Signed] Acting Adjutant General.

When the reading of the order was completed, Wirz conversed with those on the platform with seeming confidence and self possession, and it was remarked that he had a smiling countenance. To his spiritual advisers he said: "I am innocent. I have to die, but I can die like a man. I have hope in the future. I have nothing more to say."

His legs and hands were tied, a noose passed around his neck, and laced over his face. He stood erect without faltering, evidently having nerved himself for the solemn event.

Those on the platform retired to the railing, leaving the doomed man in the centre of the structure. After a few moments of profound quiet, the drop, at a preconcerted signal, fell. The sound of the falling body was heard by the crowd outside, who showed their feelings by shouts of approbation. The convict directly after falling, was convulsed in the legs, but his agony was soon over. He hung about fifteen minutes and then was cut down. His body was placed on a stretcher and conveyed to the prison, where it was placed in a coffin and transferred to Father Boyle for interment. His neck was broken by the fall. All the proceedings occupied about three-fourth of an hour.

STATE NEWS.

From the Winona Rep., Nov. 10.

STEAMBOATS.—We learn that the Pembina, which arrived to-day, will be the last boat in the Northern Line this season. This looks like arranging matters for the close of navigation, and doubtless that is what it means. A few weeks more will bring river business to a close, so far as it is carried on by boats, and then comes "the winter of our discontent."

APPLES.—Our fruit dealers are laying in immense supplies of fall and winter apples It is actually surprising to take a look at the piles on piles of barrels in the warhouses and on the levee, and then to think that the steamboats are every day bringing more. Is it not possible that from so large a stock apples can be sold at a little less than two and a half cents apiece? Come, gentle men, "live and let live."

LUMBERMEN are hurrying up their rafts and stocking their yards preparatory to the opening of the winter trade. A large amount is sent out daily to branch establishments in the interior, at Rochester, St. Charles, and other places on the line of the Winona & St. Peter Railroad.

The warehouses to-day have been surrounded with wheat teams, and trade has been very brisk. Good prices for wheat, fine weather and good roads, all combined, brings the wheat forward pretty rapidly.

A few moments observation at the depot, on the departure of the western train, will astonish one. The passenger cars are full, and the amount of baggage trundled around is strong evidence of the large number of travelers.

IMMIGRATION.—Minnesota is continually receiving an increase of population from immigrants. We notice considerable household furniture on the levee belonging to parties going to the interior.

"OUR CENTRAL."—This important railroad is doing a lucrative business. Long trains leave daily for Shakopee and Faribault. Two passenger trains leave daily, and throughout the winter months will run in connection with stages to Rochester, thus constituting the shortest and best route east. The distance from Faribault to Rochester is forty two miles, and from Winona to La Crosse, thirty six miles. These gaps between the railroads are supplied by stages. Thus the two hundred miles of staging which passengers had to endure last year, has been reduced to seventy-eight miles—no great hindrance to winter travelling.—Minneapolis Atlas.

The Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.

Governor Low and other commissioners appointed by the government to examine the recently completed portion of the Pacific railroad, extending from New Castle to Colfax, distance 23 miles have approved the same forwarded their report to Washington. When the report shall have been indorsed by the President, the company will be entitled to $1,100 000 in government bonds, or $48,000 per mile. The company announce that the bulk of the work to Dutch Flat, nearly 80 miles from Sacramento, will be completed in December.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard, than whom no better business man ever lived, used to say in his old age; "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dullest times as well as in the busiest times, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public, it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost."

There is nothing more valuable to a business man than printer's ink.

EPISCOPAL SUPPER.—The friends of the Episcopal society gave an oyster supper at Shoemaker's Hall on Tuesday evening last, for the benefit of the church. A large and respectable company assembled, passing the early part of the evening in social chat and promenade through the Hall. Between nine and ten o'clock oysters and appertenances were served in good style, in the room under the Hall. Much credit is due the few ladies who assumed the labor and care of the entertainment. We understand that the nett receipts realized from the supper will not fall much short of sixty dollars. It may not always be policy, however, to announce results, as discreet business men say a success in any enterprise should only be known to themselves.

After supper, the opportuni y which the occasion afforded for a few cotillons was embraced by the lovers of that amusement, and music being introduced the hall was soon alive with enjoyment. We were glad to notice that there was no disposition to keep late hours, and that the company dispersed at a seasonable time.

POSTPONEMENT OF METHODIST QUARTERLY MEETING.—We are requested to announce that the Methodist Quarterly Meeting, which was to have been held at this place on Saturday and Sunday next, has been postponed until the 9th of December. The reason of the postponement is that the Presiding Elder, Rev J. O. Rich is called to meet the Centenary Committee of that church at St Paul, and therefore could not be in attendance.

We learn also that Scattergood Bros. have sold their stock of groceries, building and lease, to Thomas Esq., who will continue the grocery business at the same place.

—Wickersham & Co. have received this week an excellent article of Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco. Also a No 1 article Plug Tobacco of various styles, and some of the finest Smoking Tobacco in town.

—A new arrival at Wickersham & Co's of Drugs, Patent Medicines, Chemicals, &c.

MILLINERY GOODS.—Just received at Miss Annie M. Kent's a new, large, and complete stock of millinery goods, consisting of bonnets, both of finest velvet and straw, hats in every styles and variety, feathers, flowers trimmings, and everything in her line. All wanting new winter bonnets of superb style are invited to examine her stock and satisfy themselves. Rooms opposite the post office.

—Keep it before the people that the place to buy Clothing for Men and Boys, Gents Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Gloves and Mittens is at the Clothing Emporium of Randall & Smith. They are also paying cash for wheat.

—A large stock of Buck Gloves and Mitens can be found at Randall & Smith's.

SINGING CLASS.—The singing class of last Tuesday evening was well attended. The number present was above thirty, which it is wished to increase to forty in order to reduce the tuition expenses. Should there be forty the tuition, for 20 lessons, will be $1,00 each. All who would learn to discourse "symphonies of sweet sounds" are invited to attend the course, commencing Monday evening next at the log school house. Tickets at the door.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Several quite important sales of land have taken place during the past week. Hon. M. S. Wilkinson has sold five quarter sections of land within twelve miles of Mankato for the sum of five thousand dollars. Mr. E. Palmer is the purchaser of two quarters, and Levi Houk Esq., takes the other three quarters at three thousand dollars.

Mr. Houk is a brother in-law of Capt. J. J. Thornton of this city, and is a thriving farmer of Indiana. He will remove to his new premises early in the spring and open an extensive grain and stock raising farm. From what we can learn of Mr. Houk, it is to be desired that such acquisitions to our population might be of frequent occurrence.

Through the agency of Messrs. Buck & Freeman, real estate agents a sale of about four acres of land in Warrens Addition, including the house of Mr. Pierce was effected for the sum of $2,865. We believe Mr. Hubbell is the purchaser.

Mr. William Hodgson sold a lot in the ravine, on Front street above the bridge, for $295, to Messrs. Thompson & Young who will erect next spring a large building for the manufacture of mittens, gloves, furs &c. They are now manufacturing extensively and employ 25 women in sewing upon their fabrics.

- Wickersham & Co have this week received a large and fine assortment of liquors, strictly for medicinal purposes.

FARIBAULT COUNTY.—The late election in this county resulted in the success of two democrats, Johnson and Chapell, Treasurer and Sheriff, and the balance republicans.

Mr. Wakefield had but slight opposition for the Assembly.

Amos Preston is re-elected Probate Judge, D. Birdsall Surveyor, and D. P. McDowell Coroner.

The State Union ticket has more than a usual majority in this county, but the negro suffrage vote is light.

THE VALLEY RAILROAD.—The Shakopee Argus of the 14th instant says that the track between that place and Mendota is completed and cars are now running. It is the intention to run regular trains after the 16th—yesterday. The people of Mankato will rejoice to know that twenty miles of cruel stage travel is avoided by the completion of this road. A beautiful passenger car for this road has been received by this company, which will be an agreable change from the man-killing schooners of the stage line.

SLOCUM'S Gift Enterprise comes off on the 29th inst. Those still desirous of purchasing tickets should procure them immediately as they are fast being disposed of. Buy a ticket all you venturesome souls and draw a prize.

—A large assortment of Slates, School Books, Paper, Copy Books, &c., at Wickersham & Co's.

—Putty, White Lead, Paints, Oils, Machine Oil, Kerosene, Window glass, Lamp Chimneys at Wickersham and Co's.

—If you want an elegant perfume for the handkerchief go to Wickershams &Co's.

SCHOOL HOUSE.—Our readers have doubtless perused the article of Hon. C. C. Harrington, in reference to the action of himself and the school committee, which appeared in the UNION last week. Mr Harrington very properly refuses to sign a contract which, in its terms, is not in accordance with the instructions of the school district. As the matter now stands, no further action will be taken until a school meeting is called and further instructions given. It is doubtless true, that much of the work on the building might be done this winter, and thus avoid the contingency of delay next season, on account of the scarcity of help. Would it not be wise therefore to call another school meeting, and make another effort to agree upon some plan of construction and let the contract forthwith. The long delay has caused many of the subscribers for the school bonds to consider themselves released from their obligations, and the only true method to be pursued and avoid difficulty, is to begin anew settling upon the plan of the building, the time of its completion, and renewing the subscription to the bonds.

TAXING HOMESTEADS.—K. Thompson Esq., of Buss Lake, has received a letter from Commissioner Edmunds, of the land office at Washington concerning taxing homestead lands, which we publish for the benefit of those concerned:

K. THOMPTON ESQ.—SIR: I am in receipt of your letter of 26th ult., enquiring as to the right of the State of Minnesota to tax Homesteads, and in reply would state that the act requires five years continuous actual settlement and cultivation from date of entry, before the defendant can give a fee simple title by patent; Should a party after entry abandon, or should otherwise not meet the requirements of the statute, his claim would be invalid and void, and the land would fall back into the mass of the public domain.

Then again the 4th section of the statute declares that "no lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall in any event, become liable to the satisfaction of any debts, contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor.,' With such legal stipulations and conditions, whilst the fee simple remains in the United States, it must be quite apparent that the taxing power could not be successfully exerted in so far as taxing the land is concerned, whatever might be the authority to tax improvements on the premises; a question however which it is not the province of this office to determine, where no act is done which might interfere with the administration of the law by the department in any particular case.

Very respectfully, &c.,
J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner,

MR. DILLON O'BRIEN will deliver a free lecture at the City Hall this (Friday) evening, at 7½ o'clock. Subject,—"My Experience." No 2.

—Wm. Johnson, only brother of the President, died in Texas, a few days ago, from the effects of an accidental gun shot wound. Mr Johnson held the position of collector at Velasco.

—A Salt Lake letter states that the Mormon leaders proclaim that they will sustain polygamy by force of arms, and will oppose openly the authority of the federal government.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION.

In obedience to the Statutes of Minnesota, in conformity with the recommendation of the President of the United States, and in compliance with the desire of all good citizens I, STEPHEN MILLER, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do set apart the first Thursday of December next, "as a day of public and solemn thanksgiving to Almighty God for his blessings to us as a State and a Nation."

He has vouchsafed health to our people;

He has rewarded our husbandmen with an abundant increase of the fruits of the earth;

He has conferred unusual prosperity upon every branch of industry;

He has blessed us with internal peace and tranquility;

He mercifully prevented anarchy and confusion when our martyr President was stricken down by the hand of the assassin;

He has overthrown the great and atrocious rebellion;

He has thoroughly re established the authority of the National Government; "for the punishment of evil-doers, and for the praise of them that do well."

He has by the means of our army and navy, proclaimed anew, with resistless emphasis, the right and capacity of the people to govern themselves.

By His great aid, "such right represt,
Heaves with the deep earthquake's fierce unrest,
Then flings with fiery wrath the mountain from its breast."

He has returned from the field of danger and conflict to peaceable pursuits and domestic enjoyment many thousands of our patriotic citizens.

He has impressed the multitude with reverence for the fallen, and respect and sympathy for the surviving heroes of the recent war for the preservation of the Union.

Through His good providence the manacles corroded by the rust and wrong of centuries—have been stricken from the limbs of every slave in the land

For these and the manifold blessings which He has heaped upon us during the year. I earnestly recommend that, suspending their usual labors, the people of the entire State, do, on the said day, "enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise."

It becomes us also to heartily repent of our many personal and national violations of duty, and to seek for reconciliation with the Father of all mercies through the infinite merits of Him "who was wounded for our transgressions," and by whose "stripes we are healed."

{SEAL} In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed, at St. Paul, this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

STEPHEN MILLER.

By the Governor:
D. BLAKELY, Secretary of State,

—A death from cholera is reported in St. Louis; but doubts are expressed as to whether it was a clear case of the Asiatic malady. But few new cases of cholera have occurred among the passengers of the Atlanta since their removal from that vessel; and the disease has assumed a very mild form. A vessel from Cuba, which ran the quarrantine guard in the lower bay of New York, has been sent back to the quarrantine station.

—Chief Justice Chase objected to trying Jeff Davis before a United States circuit court at Richmond, on the ground, first, that was not sufficient time before the meeting of the supreme court; second, that it would be improper to hold federal courts in rebel states previous to their complete restoration to the Union; and, third, that it would not become justices of the supreme court to exercise jurisdiction where martial law was in existence.

Plan of Drawing.

As soon as the tickets are sold the drawing will take place at Shoemaker's Hall in the presence of the ticket holders. Three persons will be selected from the audience to conduct the drawing. A wheel will be provided, in which will be placed 400 slips, or the same number as there are tickets sold, which will be thoroughly shaken up. Upon 155 of these slips will be written the different prizes; the remaining 245 will be blanks. A list of numbers, and the names of holders of tickets will be kept by the clerk, and the drawing will proceed in this wise: The numbers of the tickets will be called, commencing at number one. At each call the wheel will turn once round, a man blindfolded will draw a slip, and its contents, be it a blank or a prize, will be announced, and recorded opposite the number called. This plan of placing the prizes, without being numbered, in the wheel with the blanks, gives each ticket holder an equal chance, and does away with all possibility of the manager knowing who will draw the valuable prizes. The prizes are all beautiful and valuable, and will surely be placed in the wheel.

ADMISSION.

Purchasers of tickets, accompanied by a lady, will be admitted to the hall, by showing their tickets to the doorkeeper. All other persons upon payment of 50 cents.

Every arrangement necessary to conduct the drawing in an orderly manner, and to the satisfaction of all parties, will be complete.

TICKETS $2,50 EACH.

Tickets for sale at Slocum's News Depot, Mankato. Persons from a distance can send money by mail, stating the No. they wish, and the ticket, if not taken, will be returned by the next mail. Prizes will be shipped per order of the drawer. See small bills on the evening of the drawing. Address

To Measure a Crib of Corn.—An estimate of the contents of a crib of corn in the ear, may be made as follows:

Level the corn in the crib, measure the length, breadth, and heigth which it occupies; multiply these together, and this product by .4. (the decimal .4;) this will give the amount in shelled corn—supposing that a bushel of ears will produce but a half bushel of grains. If the above product be multiplied by .8, we will have the actual contents of corn in the ear. Ears which are very productive will yield more than half; for this, proper allowance is to be made.

Remedy for Cracked Hoofs.—Take a piece of copper four inches long. and two inces wide, and drill eight holes, four in each end, so as not to interfere with the crack, and screw it fast to the hoof, crossways of the crack; then take a hot iron with a sharp edge and burn the crack at the edge of the hair, till it goes through to the quick. After this, let the horse on pasture, and it will begin to heal up in a few weeks. This remedy I have tried, and it did the work complete, and I worked the horse all the time. Care should be taken to close the crack tight before the plate is fastened on. So says a practical farmer.

Beet Root Coffee.—A very good coffee can be made of beet root in the following manner:—Cut dry beet root into small pieces, then gradually heat it in a close pan over the fire for about fifteen minutes. Now introduce a little sweet, fresh butter, and bring it up to a roasting heat. The butter prevents the evaporation of the sweetness and aroma of the beet root and when fully roasted it is taken out, ground and used like coffee. A beverage made of it is cheap, and as good for the human system as coffee or chickory.

Hard on Lawyers.—One day, at the table of the late Dr. Pease, (Dean of Ely) just as the cloth was being removed, the subject happened to be on the extradionary mortality among lawyers.

"We have lost," said a gentleman, "no less than six prominent barristers in as many months."

The dean who was quite deaf, rose as his friend finished his remarks, and gave the company grace:

"For this and every other mercy, the Lord's name be praised."

How to Cut and Trim Pork.—The following directions, says the Baltimore Sun, may be found useful at the killing season, to such of our readers as are able "to go the whole hog."

Have the hog laid on his back on a stout table. Clean the carcass of the leaf fat. Take off the feet at the ankle joints. Cut the head off close to the shoulders, separating the jowl from the skull, and open the skull lengthwise on the under side, so as to remove the brains fully. Remove the back bone in its whole length, and with a sharp knife cut off the skin—then the fat, leaving only about one-half inch fat on the spinal column. The middlins or sides are now cut from between the quarters, leaving the shoulders square shaped, and the ham pointed, or it may be rounded to suit your fancy. The ribs are next removed, partially or entirely from the sides. The trimmings or fat from the hams, and flabby parts of the sides, are rendered up with the backone strips for lard. The sausage meat is cut off from the leaf fat and ribs; and other lean pieces are used for the same purpose. The thick part of the backbone that lies between the shoulders is called the chine; it is cut from the tapering bony end; and the latter part called the backbone by way of distinction. The backbone used while fresh; the chine is better after being smoked.

A Young Woman Locked up in a Church for Three Days.—Yesterday morning an advertisement was brought to this office asking for information of the whereabouts of a young lady who had been missing since Sunday afternoon, and of whom no trace could be found, and whose absence had caused deep distress among her relatives. In the afternoon before the Eagle went to press, a gentleman came in to stop the publication of the advertisement, stating that the missing lady had been found, and he related the following singular story: The young lady went on Sunday afternoon to the Presbyterian church, corner of Atlantic and Bond streets, after the Sunday school exercises she went to her place in the gallery. The minister having to leave town to attend the Synod, no service was held in the afternoon, and the sexton, supposing the congregation had retired, closed up the church, locking the young lady in the building all alone. She in vain tried to get out, but the door resisted her efforts to force it open, the windows were beyond her reach, and she was unable to make herself heard outside the church. She remained a close prisoner in the church until Wednesday afternoon, when the sexton went to prepare the place for the usual evening prayer meeting, and discovered the missing lady, in a very exhausted state for want of food, having been fasting in solitary confinement for seventy hours.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The first class Hotel in Boston, which reduced their price to four dollars per day, a few months ago, have again increased to four and a-half.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instrumetsn constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.
GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the nameboard, in full, "Geo. A Prince & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

THROAT AND LUNGS,

Diseases of those organs are so prevalent and dangerous that a reliable Medicine is a necessary safeguard in every community. In such a remedy for family use, the absolute absence of danger from accidental overdoses, freedom from poisons, and the adaptation to patients of every age and condition, of either sex, is indispensible. These qualities are most combined in this preperation, and so admirably is it adapted to the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended, that its entire influence is bro't to bear against them, and so perfectly assist nature in its efforts to rid the system of disease, that the most delicate constitution can use it with perfect safety and a fixed certainty that a RELEIF AND A CURE WILL SPEEDILY FOLLOW

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE
PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,
For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—
FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,
in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"
INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,
For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,
AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,
An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works:

See Dispensatory of the United States.
See Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic.
See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, Phila.
See remarks made by Dr. Ephraim McDowell, a celebrated Physician and Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, Ireland, and published in the Transactions of the King and Queen's Journal.

The Editor of The Tribune.

Dear Sir: I have had it in contemplation for some time to write and tell you of the pleasure I get from the weekly perusal of the proceedings of the Farmers' club; first I will tell you how recently I became aware of its existence About the 1st of September, 1863, I noticed an advertisement, and a cut of the Tribune strawberries, and immediately subscribed for The Weekly Tribune, in which I found the proceedings of your club I have read them constantly, until they have become to me a necessity, and I look for Monday as red letter day in my calendar, and was I to be confined to one agricultural paper alone, I should prefer the Tribune to all others. Yours JOHN HENWOOD.

MID AIR MATRIMONY.

Bridal Balloon Voyage—Poetical Incident on the Way, etc.

From the N. Y. Tribune, 9th.

The announcement that a bona fide marriage was to take place above the clouds in Professor Thos. S. C. Lowe's balloon United States, yesterday, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, caused a great crowd to assemble in the large enclosure whence the party were to take their departure from this terestial sphere. About 3,000 persons, nearly one half of whom were women, were congregated around the baloon, at the corner of Sixth avenue and Fifty-ninth street, while probabably as many more occupied positions on the roofs of buildings and lofty rocks overlooking the enclosure.

THE BRIDAL CAR.

At one end of the platform, over which the partially distended baloon occilated fitfully in the strong gale, was erected a pretty gate of woven evergreen, bearing the motto: "Ever Thus," through which the bridal party were to pass to the balloon. The bridal car was very handsome, the outside being covered with gold and crimson damask, and the inside cushioned with pale green silk, with a capacity for four voyagers. It was elegantly tented with pink silks, bordered round with drooping festoons of lace of bridal white.

THE PARTIES CONCERNED.

Miss Mary West Jenkins, late of St. Louis, Mo., was the blushing bride; Professor John W. Boynton, M. D., of Syracuse N. Y., was the happy and eccentric man. They had been engaged for some time, and according to advertisement, it was expected that they would be accompanied by the Rev. F. Dewitt Talmadge of Philadelphia, to the pure untrammeled realms of space, and there united in the holy bands of wedlock, with the eternal stars for witnesses, the sun and moon for groomsman and bridesmaid, the fires of sunset for their hymenial torch, and the blue empyrean for their domestic sphere. Of course, here was poetical novelty enough to attract throngs of sight seekers, who, however, were compelled to wait two dreary hours in the cold open air, keeping their feet and hands from freezing by incessant applause, and clamoring for the spectacle to commence, as they had paid their admission fee in good faith.

ARRIVAL OF THE BRIDAL PARTY.

Owing to the accident which had taken place at the Manhattan Gas Works, Prof. Lowe was compelled to make his own gas, which occasioned considerable delay, but at about 4 o'clock the balloon was ready for her voyage, and soon after the carriages containing the bridal party drove into the deep inclosure from the Fifth avenue side amid roars of laughter and deafening cries of "Hi! hi!" "Here they come!" "I see the bride!" "Look at the old man!" and similar expressions. A moment after two little girls, half clad in white and cheap spangles, and shivering with the cold, sprung from the foremost coach and scattered flowers along the platform, which was now densely crowded with spectators, whom the policemen, with all their efforts, were hardly able to keep back from the narrow path which had been cleared for the passage of the bridal party, consisting of the bride and bridesgroom, the two daughters of the latter and the sister of the former, with a few other friends.

THE BRIDE AND BRIDESGROOM.

Soon after the arrival of the party it was given out that the marriage ceremony had taken place a few hours before, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and that the only legal ceremony to be performed on high would be the signing of the marriage contract. The reason given for this change of programme was that the clergyman of the occasion had to return to Philidelphia by the next train; but the actual reason probably was that the reverend gentleman, accustomed to operate solely in mundane matrimony, had backed out at the eleventh hour, and tied the knot in the manner with which we groveling mortals are usually contented.

"Which is the gal what's to be yoked?" asked a vulgar fellow at our elbow. "That is the bride," we replied, instinctively, indicating a beautiful woman of about five and twenty, who had just alighted from the carriage.

She was tall and comely, with bright dark eyes, pale cheeks, and a somewhat nervous smile about her pretty lips, as she passed through the throngs, with a step-daughter hardly younger than herself on either side. She was dressed in a plain but elegant traveling dress of dove-colored silk; her rich dark hair was modestly disposed beneath an elegant bonnet of the latest style, and she kept her eyes cast down as if sad and dejected. The "happy man" was a large, portly gentleman, about double the size of his new wife. The latter looked pretty and sweet as she was lifted into the gay cabin of the air ship, but as the husband stepped over the edge of the car, there was a pittiless laugh from the crowd, as though he had made that one step from the sublime to the ridiculous of which the poet speaks. Owing to the scarcety of gas, it was found impossible for Miss Lule Boynton to accompany her father and step-mother, as was originally intended. Her place was therefore occupied by a little sister of the bride. Prof. Lowe then stepped in, and all was in readiness.

THE START.

The ballast was on board. A dozen men were clinging to the unsteady car to keep it down.

"Give us one good swing, boys, and then let us sail!" cried Prof. Lowe. The next moment there was a strong puff—a flapping sound, like that of wings in motion; the crowd below caught one more glimpse of the pale-faced bride, with the nervous smile upon her lips, and then the air-ship was afloat and rising slowly on her heavenward way. The Professor emptied a sand-bag just in time to clear the eaves of the little house at the corner of the enclosure. As it was, the car came squarely in contact with the flag-staff on the roof; but the slender mast bent like a willow wand, and the next moment they were clear and rising rapidly, with the Professor waiving his hat triumphantly over the side of the car.

THE BRIDAL VOYAGE

was a happy success, and is thus described by one of the voyagers, who is evidently of a poetic turn:

"It was not near so cold as we thought it would be. Immediately after clearing the walls of the inclosure, the balloon seemed to become perfectly motionless, and the world sunk under our feet like a peopled dream. The city was spread below us like a map, with its hundred spires and myriad casements gleaming in the last flash of sunset, which flooded the west like pallid gold, with here and there an island of white cloud. For a moment we seemed to be perfectly motionless, and then, by watching the Central Park, directly beneath us, we saw that we were moving rapidly toward the North.

"Then as the wind began to weep
A music out of sheet and shroud,
We steered her toward the crimson cloud
That land-like slept along the deep.

Our nervousness was quickly gone, and we were soon chatting merrily. Lesser and dimmer grew the world as we soared and swept along, over Harlem and along East River, with its hundred isles, with the wide glittering waters of the Sound beyond, like a dazling shield, and hamlets, hills and woods, the latter flushed with Autumnal purple and gold, fleeing beneath us like the vistas of an enchanted realm.

It all seemed strange and fairy-like. It brought to mind the "Day Dream" of Tennyson. By but a slight stretch of the fancy, the bride became the sleeping beauty, newly awakened by her true-lover's kiss; by another stretch—quite a stretch, it is true—Proffessor Boynton became the fairy prince, "lighter footed than the fox," who bore her to her father's halls. It was the sweet day-dream of youth and love.

And on her lover's arm she leant,
And around her waist she felt it fold,
And far across the hills they went,
In that new world which is the old,
Across the hills and far away,
Beyond their utmost purple rim
And deep into the dying day,
The happy princess followed him.

Even as the sweet Day-Dream, the happy couple in the air ship left the world behind, and mounted starward as though to make their bridal home in some bright bower beyond the clouds.

And o'er them many a sliding star
And many a merry wind was borne,
And, streamed through many a golden bar,
The twilight melted into morn.

* * * * * * * * *

And o'er them many a flowing range
Of vapor buoyed the crescent bark,
And, rapt through many a rosy change
The twilight died into the dark.

A wedding cake, ornamented in the highest style of confectionery, was kindly presented by Messrs. Stetson & Bradford, of the Casino, to the bride and bridegroom, as also a basket of wine. The cake was ornamented with a fine representation of the balloon, with cords, car, flags, &c., complete.

LANDING AND RETURN OF THE BRIDAL PARTY TO THE CITY.

After a delightful trip, rendered remarkably so by the clear and cloudless state of the sky, the balloon landed as gently as a snow flake, and without any difficulty, in Mount Vernon, at sunset. The view had of the beauties of nature during the trip was admirable, and well rapaid the happy pair for the courage they displayed. They returned to the city last night by the 8:10 train, and drove to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where they will remain for some time.

A Good Character.

A good character is to a young man what a firm foundation is to the artist, who proposes to erect a building on it; he can build with safety, and as all who behold it will have confidence in its solidity, a helping hand will never be wanted. But let a single part of this be defective, and you go on hazzard, amid doubting and distrust, and ten to one it will tumble down at last, and mingle all that was built upon it in ruins. Without a good character, poverty is a curse; with it, scarcely an evil. All that is bright in the hope of youth, all that is calm and blissful in the sober scenes of life, all that is soothing in the vale of years, centers in and is derived from a good character. Therefore acquire this, as the first and most valuable good.

Woman.

Woman is the most important sex, and if but one-half our race are educated, let it be woman instead of man. Woman forms our character. She is with us through life. She nurses us in infancy, she watches by us in sickness, soothes us in distress, supports us in adversity, and cheers in the melancholy of old age. Her rank determines that of her race. If she is high-minded and virtuous, with a soul that is thirsting for that which is lofty, true and distinguished, so is it with the race. If she be light and vain, with her heart set on nothing but trifles, fond alone of pleasure—alas! for the community, where she is so, it is ruined.—Standard.

Elections in the Eastern States.

The elections on the 7th, in New York, New Jersy, Wisconsin and Massachusetts, were overwhelming Union victories. In New York the majority against Slocum was 17,000. There was a loss of 13,000 Dencratic votes in New York city alone, while Buffalo went Union for the first time in many years, electing Wells, the Union candidate for Mayor, over Fargo, by 150 to 200 majority. The Republican gain in Buffalo is over five hundred. Rochester gave a Union majority of about 200. The Union State ticket elected is as follows:

Secretary of State	P. C. Barlow.
Comptroller	T. Hillhouse.
Attorney General	J. Martindale.
State Treasurer	J. Rowland.
Inspector of Prisons	H. A. Barnum.
State Engineer	J. P. Goodsell.
Canal Commissioner	R. C. Dorn.
Clerk Court of Appeals	P. P. Jones.
Judges Court of Appeals	W. Hunt. J. K. Porter.

In New Jersey, Marcus L. Ward, Union, is elected Governor by from three to five thouand majority, and, what is of much greater importance, a legislature is elected favhrable to the passage of the constitutional amendment. The efforts of the Union men have been directed to this object especially.

In Wisconsin, the entire Union ticket is elected by a majority of over six thousand. The vote of the State was not more than three-fourths that of last year. General Fairchild's majority is larger, in proportion to the vote cast, than the majority for President Lincoln, on the home vote in 1864. The Legislature in both branches is largely Union. The amendment endowing colored citizens with the right of suffrage, is defeated by a small majority.

In Illinois, the county elections show heavy Republican gains, particularly in the strong Democratic cites. In Chicago, the regular Republican ticket for county officers was elected by over ten thousand majority, notwithstanding the opposition ticket embraced many strong Republican names.

In Massachusetts, where the vote was only two-thirds that of last year, the Democrets have the largest proportionate loss. Alexander H. Bullock, the Union candidate for Governor, received 75,000 out of about 100,000 votes cast. The Democrats have elected only one senator.

The official vote of Colorado at the election Sept. 5th, is declared as follows: For the Constitution, 3,025; against, 2,870; showing a majority of only 155 in favor of State Government. On the proposition to strike the word "white" from the new consitution, the ayes were 476, and the nays 4,192.

The new legislature of the State of Iowa is politically divided as follows: Senate, Republican 43; Opposition 5. House, Republican 83; Opposition 15. Republican majority on joint ballot 106.

SECOND CAVALRY.—Companies C and E of the 2nd Cavalry have arrived at Fort Snellin to be mustered out. Two companies of the 10th regulars will take their place on the frontier.—Press November 12.

—The United States Marshall at New Orleans telegraphs that, in the election in Louisiana, "the Johnson policy, as represented by Wells, is triumphant by an overwhelming majority,—over 6,000 in the city. The remainder of the state will follow in the same track." In North Carolina, twenty-one precincts give Holden, Unionist, 1,689 votes, and Worth, secessionist, 3,015. There are indications that every ultra Union candidate for congress has been defeated, and that men have been elected who cannot take the oath. Bulger is elected governor by a small majority. His majority in Mobile is 1,240.

Saint's rest, (wich is in the State uv Noo Gersy,) Oct. 28, 1865

Written for the Cincinnati Commercial.

Day afore yesterday I attended a meetin in the next town to Saints' Rest, and addressed a highly intelligent body uv Dimmecratick constitooents on the issues uv the day, and wuz returnin on the nite trane on the Camden and Amboy railroad, which is the beauty and glory uv Noo Gersey. I wuz sumwhat elevatid, hevin consumed 12 cubik feet uv stimulance, wich iz more than my yoosual allowance. But I wuz provoked in2 doin it. A parsel uv returned soljers kept a irretatin me by makin irrelevant remarks doorin my speach, sich as pintin revolvers at me and pullin me orf uv the stand, et settry.

When the conductor cum around I remarked to him that I wuz a humbul worker in the grate coz uv Dimmocrisey—that I hed no munny and never hed, and, therefore, I expected to be passed to my home free!

The effect upon him wuz wonderful. The poor man turned ez pail ez a gost, and staggrin agin the side uv the car speechlis, he beckoned to a brakeman, and made a motion. Instantly I wuz seezed, and bore orf the trane.

I saw a akkount uv the incident in the daily papers the next mornin, under the follerin hed lines:

Alarming progress uv Radikalism—The Bulwarks uv society Breakin Away—A Feend Incarnate Demands to be Dedheded Over the Camden & Amboy—Prompt and Heroic Ackshun uv the Conductor—His Salary Raised by the Cumpany.

Fallin in2 a convenient hole alongside uv the track, I swooned. While in that I saw on the fence near me the form uv Satan himself.

"Avant!" cried I. "Comest thou to torment me afore my time?"

"Don't skeer," retorted he, "I ain't after yoo yit. Didst ever read the remarks uv the wise old man to the boys. 'My sons,' said he, 'why club orf the apples from the trees when if yoo let them alone they will fall to you uv their own accord.' No! no! I'd never take the trouble to cum after yoo and sich as yoo."

"Why art thou here then?" sed I.

"For various reasons," sed he. "Im amoosin myself. Noo Gersey is a favorite place for me for pleasurin purposes. I've more friends in proportion to the population, here than in any other locality."

Re assured, I asked his majesty some questions, ez to what kind uv bizness he wuz doin now-a-daiz, &c.

"Bully!" sez he; "bully! When the South rebelled my sole expanded with gov. I hed ded wood then on them localities. O! it did me good to see the clergy uv the South fling off their sackerdotel robes and gird on the sord and go for slavery. They never had much religion, and that little they dispensed with immediately. I flattered myself that I had a good thing uv it. I knowed that ef it wuz a success that the poor whites would be made poorer, and the rich richer, wich is a state uv things to be desired, as piety don't flourish much under $10,000, and not a bit over $100,000. It is between those sums that you find pious men. Well, so long as Micklellan and Booel wuz in command everything worked well and I gushed. But alas. when Grant & Sherman & Thomas & Sheridan got holt, my visions were blasted, and az the confedaracy went down my sole went with it. Finally the confederacy collapst and I shreekt, satisfied that the Almighty had concluded to take that section uv cuntry out uv my hands, after lettin me role it so long. O! it wuz crooel!"

"Why, then, do you feel so well now?" sed I.

"Becoz I allus feel well in Noo Gersey, and becoz things ain't workin so bad after all. The South ain't disposed to give up their idees at all. I notice the Guvners in the Suthern States are spiteful. They speak uv the North ez "Radikale Republikins," wich shows they mean to make hed agin the only ones in the Yoonited States I ever feerd. Also slavery is nominally ded, but not really. If it hed been killed in earnest, planters woodent hev hed the means to drive fast hosses, and gamble, and buy fancy octoroons; and, per consequence, and some of the Commandments wood hev bin better served. The South perpose to give the nigger $5 per month, wich wont keep him in terbacker. The Northern Legislachers will all pass laws forbiddin him to come North; so cuff is atween the upper and nether millstone, after all. The will oppress him and they can't get away. Then follers steelins, and robbins, and murders, and arsons, and insurrections,—[here he rubbed his hands]—and more such doins than yoo ever dreamed uv. The nigger never'll larn to read, and will in consekence, kum to my hand naterally; his master will grow fat on his labor, and git corrupt and uv coorse I'll git him.

"Then, agin, the indications are hunky, in the North. When sich men as Beecher gits into the pardon mood, I'm safe. Why, tother day, I read in the Herald [a paper I allus took] a sermon in which he spoke highly of Geneal Lee, the same indivijooel who wuz in command with Belle Isle and Castle Thunder stinkin under his nose, and I coodent repress a smile.

"'Hunky for Beecher!' sed I in extacy. 'Long live Henry Ward!' ekoed all my principal fallen angels 'for lord he's gitten to be merciful to'ards them ez serve us,' and palis re ekkoed with three jubilant shouts. There aint no yoose uv tryen to keep me down so long ez the Dimocrasy hev pluck, and the South ai'nt all killed off. They'll demand and you'll give, and their demands and your givens suit me eggzeckly."

At this pint, in a bust of irrepressible joy, his majesty threw his arm about my neck. It schorched ez though a bar of red hot iron wuz twisted around it, and shreekin with agony, I awoke.

I wuz happy to find myself in the same hole into which I had dropped when ejected from the train, and overjoyed to find no Devil on the fence.

—The cost of living is so high in Washington [the leading hotels have raised their rates to $5 a day], that many congressmen have engaged rooms in Baltimore during the season. Fifteen or twenty members now at the capital have agreed to urge a temporary removal of congress to Philidelphia,—fears being entertained, in consequence of the condition of Washington, of a visitation of the cholera.

The Baltimore ladies who visited the president to petition for the pardon of Jeff. Davis, have have furnished an account of their interview with Mr. Johnson, which is given in full in our Washington special. They state that the president, in his reply to their address, said: "Almost every arrangement has been made for the trial of Mr. Davis; but no one can tell now what changes may be brought about in the course of a few weeks. When the proper time comes for the exercise of magnanimity, I trust that I shall not be found wanting." An effort is being made to induce the president to have Jeff Davis tried under the indictment found last June in a District of Columbia court.

A movement is on foot to get the entire congressional delegations from the rebel states to act with the democrats of the north in preventing any organization of the house that does not include all persons who apply for admission.

The recent election in Colorado resulted in a majority of 155 for the state constitution, and a majority against negro suffrage of 3,716.

Worth is elected governor of North Carolina by from 5,000 to 10,000 majority.

The present executive organization of the Fenians, it is announced, is not intended for the government of the future Irish republic, but only to aid the Irish people in the struggle for independence. General Breckenridge intends, if he secures a pardon from the president, to settle in Texas. General Forrest expects that the president will not pardon any officer of his class, but will disfranchise them; but he intends to go to Washington and try the effect of pecuniary influences.

The whole veteran reserve corps will be mustered out, or merged into the regular army, by the beginning of 1866.

It is probable that the entire correspondence between the President and Chief Justice Chase, in regard to the trial of Jeff. Davis, will shortly be made public.

ELECTION RETURNS.

After a good deal of impatient waiting for the returns of the late election in Blue Earth county to come in, we are enabled to give the official statement this week. Not until late last Friday was the canvass made, which, of course, was too late for our last issue. The result will be seen by refering to the table, but for convenience we give the majorities as follows: Majority for Marshall, 205; Armstrong, 196; Rogers, 199; Schaffer, 205; Colville, 190. For senator, Stewart, republican candidate, has 32 majority.

The vote for representatives is as follows. Democrats—Buck, 758; Thompson, 757; Maynard, 625. Republicans—Allen, 743; Harrington, 685, Skinner, 643.

Walbridge, Democrat, is elected Sheriff by 95 majority; Smith, Republican, Register of Deeds, 170 majority; Hoerr, Democrat, Treasurer, 63 majority.

Wiswell, Democrat, Judge of Probate, 75 majority.

Paddock, clerk of district court, 182 majority.

Stebbins, Republican, Surveyor, 16 majority.

Freshultz, Republican, but on the Democratic ticket, for coroner, 136 majority.

Against negro suffrage amendment, 149 majority.

The vote in the district on the Legislative ticket is as follows: Butters, Democrat, 1,458; Stewart, Republican, 1,093—365 maj.

Representatives—Democrats, Buck, 1,498; Thompson, 1,450, Maynard, 1,352.—Republicans—Allen, 1,165; Harrington, 1,095; Skinner, 1,058.

"HOW ARE YOU 'SINCERITY?'"

Under the caption of "Professions of Doubtful Sincerity," we have perused a few paragraphs emenating from the pen of the self constituted champion of political virtue, the Record, commenting upon our letter of advice to the republicans of this county which appeared in the UNION last week. Were it not for the leaders which appear in the UNION from week to week, the Record would make sad work in producing original matter for its readers. Waiting the long weary week for the UNION to suggest a theme for editorial elimination, it catches up our suggestions, and with a slight variation, just enough to deceive its democratic adherers into the belief that it does not desire to be the republican organ of Blue Earth county, manages to fill its editorial columns in some respects creditable to the craft.

The Record says that we, following the example of the man who locked the stable after the horse was stolen, "addressed an epistle to our friends" concerning the defeat of our ticket. That statement is entirely original with that paper. It is probably news to most of its readers, that the man who locked his stable under the above circumstances, addressed an epistle to his party friends on the subject of the defeat of the republican ticket in this county. If he did, his example was followed by the UNION But we doubt if the man was fool enough to promulgate an epistolary announcement on politics, simply because his horse was stolen, and differing with the Record in such a conviction, we are of the opinion that the UNION did not "follow his example."

Another elegant and appropriate simile of the Record is that our article confessing, or rather charging the party with dishonesty, reminds him of one who has turned states evidence to avert the penalties of the law, and in the next breath it says that we have suffered the penalty in the defeat of the ticket. It thus places us in the anomalous position of turning states evidence after sentence of the law, and after we have suffered the penalty. Our contemporary is quite unfortunate in his illustrations, but its none of our funeral, except so far as it becomes us to say that it deserves no sympathy, because our attempt to expose and correct the errors of the republican party is none of its business, unless he has also an interest in the success of that party. It professes to have been aware of these errors in the party, and has reiterated them for five or six years, though what for, does not appear, but if it was for the purpose of correcting its evils (and no other hypothesis will explain the object) surely he must take great interest in keeping it up, and a corresponding estrangement toward the democracy must exist. He reminds us of an off ox improperly yoked and pulling for the other side. He is not content to build up his own party, but for five years has attempted to correct the weakness of his antagonist by reiterating and exposing its weak points. That must be a pleasant fact for the true democracy of Blue Earth county to contemplate, and yet the truth is not half told. The Record is democratic only for the amount of money and patronage which innocent democrats yearly bestow upon that concern, in support of a faithful party organ. When the democratic speakers orated at Mankato, only ten lines of the Record were appropriated to a report of the meeting, while nearly a column was occupied in reporting the speeches of Marshall and Miller. He recommends the party to nominate republicans on their ticket, and advocates their election. He already proposes to send a republican to the legislature as fireman next winter, not even dreaming of his duty, as the organ of the democracy, to nominate men of his own party, especially in view of the fact that the entire legislative democratic ticket of this district is elected. On the other hand republicans are button-holed, elbowed, feted and flattered, and supported as far as can be without losing democratic patronage. The Record gives the completest contradiction to the scriptures, that "no man can serve God and Mammon," we have yet met. Anything but a wishy-washy, namby pamby, tweedle dum tweedle-dee, "now you see it and now you don't see it," pretended party organ. We cannot accept the tendered offer of the Record to strengthen our party by exposing its weakness. Let him attend to his own funerals, and when we have any, we are competent to the task without any assistance from the preteneded democratic organ of this county.

But while the Record is attempting to ventilate the errors of our party, it forgets that it is playing a part similar to the thief who, to avoid detection, rushes through the streets crying, stop thief! With uplifted hands, and hypocritical demeanor, it contemplates with holy horror the short comings of union men, but if it would for a moment lift that "calico of charity" which covers the motives within it, a revelation of the foulest political corruption, would be the result. Not a year in the past five, but has been blotted with miasmic stench arising from political bribes offered by J. C. Wise & Co. to sore headed republicans, and the very corruption which the Record would load upon the union men, is made more foul by its connection with the political scullduggery of the Record and its adherents. It is not content to influence voters by fair means but it bargains and sells to those same men whom it denounces as corrupt, and its own fair pledges are wantonly broken, as in the case of Robert Roberts, late democratic candidate for Register of Deeds. Bah! what a record to place before honest people While the organ of union men confesses the errors of its party with a view to purge it of corruption the Record would cover deep its own infamy by diverting the scrutinies of the people to a lesser evil.

STATE ELECTIONS.

The returns given in the St. Paul Press show a majority of 3 310 for Marshall. The rest of the ticket has a some what larger majority. The majority against the amendment thus far reported is 2,807. The whole vote cast is 31,000, a falling off of 11.000 from the vote of last year. The republicans polled about 8,000 less than last year and the democrats about 4 000 less.

CLARK W THOMPSON, late Indian Superintendent of the Northwest, was married in New York city to a Miss. Weils on the 14th inst.

Fourteen citizens of St. Paul pay more than one half of the income tax of the city. This fact is shown by the Press to prove that the rich bear the heaviest of the burden of United States taxes. Only 842 persons in the 2nd district pay an income tax while there are at least 20,000 voters in the district Another proof that the tax falls where it should, on the rich.

The Peace Commissioners.

The progress of the Commissioners appointed to effect treaties with the hostile Indians on the Upper Missouri has from time to time been noticed in these columns. Gen. Sibley returned yesterday, the Commission having closed their labors for this year They met full representations of four bands numbering nearly two thousand warriors, and were enabled to conclude satisfactory treaties with them. Partial representatives of five other bands were present, but not a sufficient number to warrant a treaty.

The Commission found that the work desired was greater than could be done in a single season, even if they had commenced in the spring, and we understand that the Interior Department will be advised of the importance of sending out two Commissions another year, one to visit the bands on the upper Missouri, and the other to treat with those along the Ft. Laramie route. It is probable that treaties will be effected with all the hostile bands, save the outlaws who were engaged in the horrid massacre of 1862.

The size of the bands has been under estimated. Many of them number one thousand warriors, and some of them can muster even a greater number. The labors of the Commissioners have been signally successful thus far, and millions of dollars have been saved, besides the annoyance and barbarism of a long frontier war.—Pioneer, November 18.

State Items.

THE INCOME TAX.—Our publication of incomes makes some curious revelations.

Three St. Paul men pay more income tax than all Hennepin county (including the towns of Minneapolis and St. Anthony!)

Four St. Paul men pay more than Minneapolis, St Anthony and all the rest of Hennepin county, and all of Goodhue, Annoka, Sherburne, Wright, Crow Wing, Carver McLeod and Chisago counties combined.

Nine St. Paul men pay within a fraction of as much as all the counties named with Dakota, Wabashaw, Washington and Stearns counties united.

It also reveals another class of facts. A great many men in St. Paul support large families, keep two or three hired girls, two or three boys, three to five horses, travel extensively and give grand parties, all on a nett income of six hundred dollars! Extraordinary financiers!

A number of St. Paul men who do a large business making according to their daily reports on the streets from fifteen to thirty dollars per day, make only six to eight hundred per year according to their report to the assessor. This case puzzles the boys in arithmetic badly.—Press, Nov. 21.

THE WINTER REGIME.—The Burbank line of stages has commenced its winter trips to La Crosse, and starts at 7 A. M The traveller has his choice of going by this all stage route or of taking the Minnesota Central, and mingling car ridin with his long stage ride. Both the routes are now in operation, and are supplied with the finest and most comfortable coaches and fast teams. Winter travel will be a pleasure this season.—Pioneer, Nov. 19.

CARS FOR THE CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The Clara Hine passed up to Mendota, yesterday, having two barges in tow with two first class passenger cars, two mail and baggage cars, one box freight car, all for the Minnesota Central Railroad.—Press 16.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Letters from Acapulco to the 3d inst., state that the French garrison there had been strengthened by the arrival of 500 men from Mazalan.

Late news from Michoacan states that the French collected a considerable force and scattered the Juarists forces, capturing five Liberal generals, Generals Ortega, Parnparajos, Dios, Salazar and Tornerzo, who were subsequently shot. This angered Gen. Alvarez, who proclaimed the life of every captured French or Imperial general forfeited.

THE JAMAICA REBELLION.

NEW YORK Nov. 18.—The Jamaica Standard says over 1,059 rebels have been hanged and shot in the parish of St. Thomas in the east, and it is not unlikely, ere the court martials close their sittings over 2,000 will have paid the penalty of their lives for a vile attempt to exterminate the white and colored race of the island.

The Atlanta was allowed to come up to the city to day.

—The Hon. Preston King, collector of the port of New York, is supposed to have committed suicide on Monday, by jumping from a Hoboken ferry boat He had been for some time laboring under great depression of mind caused by difficulties arising from his official position, and is thought to have been laboring under mental abberation at the time of the commission of the fatal deed. Preston King was born at Ogdensburgh, St Lawrence county, New York, October 14, 1806 He graduated at Union college, and studied the profession of law. He was for several years a member of the New York legislature; was a representative in congress from 1844 to 1847, and from 1849 to 1853: after which he was elected to the United States senate. In 1864 he was a delegate to the Union national convention at Baltimore; and in September last was appointed collector of customs at New York.

FROM ST LOUIS.

Return of the Treaty Commissioners.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—Colonel Taylor and Rev. Mr. Reed of the Indian Commission, sent to treat with tribes of the North West, arrived at Ft. Randall, Dacotah, on the 5th, on the steamer Calypso, other members of the Commission having gone home overland. The Commission concluded treaties with nine tribes of Sioux nation. The treaties stipulated for peace among the Indians themselves as well as with the Government. Congressman Hubbard, of Iowa, who has been investigating the frauds perpetrated by Indian Agents on different tribes in that country was on the Calypso en route to Washington Four companies of the Fourth United States Regulars, Lieut Colonel Thornton, compose the garrison at Ft. Randall for the winter. Paymaster Shreve is now there paying troops.

Siege of Matamoras.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—The latest Brownsville advices say that the liberals under Gens. Escobedo, Cortinas, Canales and Mendes, were vigorously continuing the siege of Matamoras. On the 5th they captured the steamer Rio Grande, and brought her to Clarksville to transform her into a gunboat. The Liberals hold the river above and below the town, which has been evacuated by the women and children, who sought refuge on the American side. It is thought that they will capture the place. The Federal forces are enthusiastically cheering the progress of the liberal besiegers.

On Thursday last the imperial steamer Possano fired four shots upon them. The casualities by this strange proceeding are unknown.

The population of Des Moines, Iowa, is 6,900—an increase in two years of 2,500.

The comptroller of the currency is in favor of moving his bureau from Washington to New York.

The 21st, 38th, 42d, 51st and 59th Illinois regiments have been ordered mustered out.

—United States Senator Colamer, of Vermont, died at his residence, in Woodstock, on Thursday evening.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Through Messrs. Buck & Freeman, Real Estate agents, on Thursday last, Mr James Shoemaker made sale of twenty-two feet of Lot 8 in Block 8, to Daniel Haire of Le Sueur Township, for the sum of seven hundred dollars. The condition of this sale is that a good business building shall be erected thereon next season.

On the same day Mr. Shoemaker purchased of S M Walker about nine acres of land adjoining the farm of Andrew Hanna Esq. This property formerly formed a part of the town site of West Mankato and was sold for about fifty dollars per acre.

Mr C. H. Slocum sold his residence and one lot on Second street to Wm Hoerr proprietor of the American House, for the sum of nine hundred dollars.

By Messrs Buck & Freeman a sale was made on Wednesday last of the south half and north east quarter of Section 15 Town 108, Range 26, 120 acres of timber land to A Burd of Mankato for $1 200. This land lies about 3 miles from Mankato.

ATTENTION FARMERS.—Potter and brother near Garden City advertise for sale 15 splendid breeding bucks of the Spanish Merino blood. See advertisement in another column.

DOWN WITH OBSTRUCTIONS.—The town ordinance which prohibits obstructions on the side walks is to be enforced. On Wednesday last about twenty five of our business men on Front street were served with written notices to clear the pavements of posts, awnings, or other obstructions. Although it may work a hardship to some, but as the public good will be greatly subserved by the removal, we trust all will obey the injunction without any unnecessary delay.

—Higgins at the Feed Store, pays fifty cents in cash for wheat.

—Fresh ground Graham Flour at Higgin's Feed Store.

—Fresh white and yellow Indian Meal at Higgins.

ANOTHER TRADER.—We understand that Mr Temple of St. Paul has leased the spacious store under Shoemaker's Hall and will soon open a clothing store.

PERSONAL.—Adjutant Ira Smith an old citizen of Mankato, and a member of the fraternity editorial, arrived on Friday last, having been discharged from the military service. The Adjutant enlisted as a private in the 9th regiment and received promotions on account of his superior ability. He will probably remain in the city and become again a settled resident.

—The awful rush continues at Clark & Smith's, yet they keep adding to their stock every day and will supply you with what you want.

—Hats, Caps, Gloves and Mittens in great variety at Randall & Smith.

—Good Bargains in their line can always be had at Randall & Smith.

THE VALLEY RAILROAD.—Trains are running regular on this road from Mendota to Shakopee, both morning and evening. Twenty miles of staging is avoided, and late risers will be glad to know that their slumbers at the St Paul terminus will no longer be disturbed at 4 o'clock A. M. The stages leave St. Paul at half past six instead of four o'clock as formerly, connecting with the cars at Mendota, which arrive at Shakopee at 8:50 A. M. The arrangement is an improvement in more respects than one. Passengers are not disturbed so early in the morning, or arrive so late at night in St. Paul. The change from stage to cars, give the passengers an opportunity for rest. At the Mankato terminus the time of arrival and departure is not materially altered.

—The best Sorghum Molasses in Minnesota is only $1 10 per gallon at Higgins.

—Cash paid for all kinds of grain at Higgin's Feed Store.

—Any quantity of lime and of the best quality can be had at Higgins.

TRANSPORTATION.—We call the attention of shippers of Mankato and the Blue Earth Valley to the advertisement of the Minnesota Central Railway. This road is prepared to ship freight from Minneapolis or St. Paul to Faribault and intermediate points. From Mankato to Faribault the distance is only 45 miles so that by shipping by that route nearly half of wagon carriage is avoided.

—If you want some good flour go to Ray, Williams & Bro's.

—If you want a piece of cheese that will remind you of "better days," call at Ray, Williams & Bro's.

HOTEL AT BLUE EARTH CITY.—The Blue Earth City Advocate says that Mr. Constans, the proprietors of the Union Hotel in that place, will erect a new hotel on a large scale, and in the modern style of architecture. The work will be completed next summer.

WHOLESALE HOUSE. We call attention of merchants and others to the card of D D Merrill, of St. Paul, wholesale and retail dealer in books, stationery, albums and other goods included in the book and stationery trade. Mr. Merrill has the largest and best assorted stock of books and stationery to be found west of Chicago. Any thing in his line not to be found in Mankato, can be had by addressing D. D Merrill. Dealers will be furnished at the lowest wholesale rates.

SIDE WALKS.—The spirit with which our enterprising business men, on Front street, are prosecuting the sidewalk business is certainly commendable. Block 11 is the first to complete a continuous walk, while others are pounding away quite industriously. A few more days of the present beautiful weather will see a radical change in our main thoroughfare.

—Arctic Over Shoes, the only kind that will keep your feet warm and dry at Clark & Smith's.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Capt J. R. Beatty formerly of the 2d regiment met with an accident last week which will probably confine him in doors for several months. While shaving a board with a drawing knife, his position was such, that the knife, accidently slipping, struck with great force under the knee cap, opening a large wound and almost severing the cords. Drs. McMahan and Frisbie were called and dressed the wound, and placed the limb in a position for healing but the nature of the wound is such, that it will disable him many months.

—Slocum will receive next week, a fresh lot of stationery. Such as letter and commercial rule paper, envelopes, pens, pencils, ink, blank books, school books, and a choice assortment of albums, diaries for 1866, and ladies visiting cards.

SOLDIER'S RETURNING.—On Tuesday last seven of the members of Brackett's Battalion arrived in Mankato, on twenty days furloughs from Sioux City. One of them remarked that probably they should not return to the service. This looks a little as if there was "trouble in the camp," or else the Battalion is soon to be discharged.

MAGAZINE CLUBS.—Slocum's clubs for the various magazines are progressing finely. He is desirous of closing the clubs by the first week in December. Send in your names, and get a magazine cheaper than ever before.

Subscribers to the N. Y. Tribune club are requested to give in their names and money to Slocum, by the 12th of December. He furnishes it at $1 50 per year.

ONIONS.—The Record announces as news extraordinary that a farmer near Winnebago City raised 45 bushels of onions on a quarter of an acre. Guess it did not take much pains in hunting up large yields. Mr W. Wilson, living almost under its nose here in Mankato, has raised this year 142 bushels on 42 rods, or 155 bushels on a quarter of an acre. This is at the rate of 540 bushels per acre, and at the price for which they were sold $675 per acre would be realized. The correctness of this statement is vouched for by Mr Wilson.

—Tickets for Slocum's Gift Enterprise are still for sale at $2 50 each. Sales will close Monday evening next, and all who wish tickets must purchase before that time.

SCHOOL HOUSE.—As we have already noticed in another column, the Record in another instance gathers from the UNION the subjects of editorial remark. We suggested last week some ideas concerning the building of a school house, and the Record takes its text therefrom, giving in its approval of our desire to call a school meeting and set the ball in motion. The UNION possesses originality enough to suggest ways and means, while the Record, though in a spirit of contemptible meanness and misrepresentation, can only adopt our propositions. Every candid reader knows that we have advocated the erection of a building of dimensions suitable to the means of the School district without delay, provided it was built in accordance with the will of the people. On the other hand the Record has advocated the erection contrary to law, and being effectually squelched in the attempt very properly charges the result to us, and finds vent to his spleen by a willful misrepresentation of facts.

But notwithstanding this abuse it does make some admissions though probably unintentional which are in our favor. It says:

While we believe that the foolish policy of the past has been of serious injury to the district and that it will be impossible to secure as favorable terms as were heretofore proposed and rejected, being sincerely and honestly in favor of a school house, we accept and reiterate the suggestion of our neighbor.

The Record unwittingly plays into our hand. The foolish policy of the past is just what we have been contending against, and have avowed in tones that have at least been heard that it would have been an injury to the district. It may be true that we cannot secure terms as favorable as were heretofore proposed and rejected, but they were proposed by Mr. Giltner and rejected by the identical members of the board whom we have censured, while the Record justifies their action. We cannot however give it credit for "returning reason," but are inclined to the belief that in its zeal to heap abuse upon the UNION, prompted by the chagrin of defeat, it has got itself into a snarl.

—We were surprised yesterday as we accidently stepped into the Boot and Shoe Store of Messrs Clark & Smith, to see the large and extensive stock they have in store, and judging by the boxes and packages being taken away, they are doing the largest business of any establishment of the kind in the Valley. This is a new enterprise, and just the right men in the right place, and they are making it an object for dealers to buy here in preference to going to Chicago, as they sell by the case cheaper than others can buy East and get them here, and at no loss of time waiting for goods to arrive.

Parties wishing to purchase, should not fail to call before buying elsewhere.

—Just received by express a large lot of Gents Traveling Shirts Knit Under Shirts and Drawers, also another lot of Pants, Coats and Vests, and will be sold at prices to suit the times at the Clothing Emporium of Randall & Smith. Give them a call.

—Ladies remember that those Polish Gaiters have arrived and are going fast at Clark & Smith's.

—If you want some nice pared peaches, dried blackberries, or in fact any thing to satisfy the "inner man," go to Ray, Williams & Brother.

WIND MILL AT BLUE EARTH CITY.—The Advocate says that the wind mill, which is in process of erection at Blue Earth City, has been purchased by Wm M Piper of Ohio, who will have everything in readiness for grinding flour in the spring. It has been demonstrated that wind can be used as an element of power with almost as certain success as water, and it is only necessary to adopt the most approved machinery to secure a good flouring mill for the large population of that vicinity.

—J. ADAMS ALLEN, M D. L. L. D. Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Rush Medical College, and Editor of the Chicago Medical Journal, writes as follows:

Dr. Swain's Bourbon Bitters are a vast improvement on the heterogeneous mixture in vile half distilled whiskey or worse rum generally palmed upon the bilious or invalid public. The manufacturer exhibits a praiseworthy confidence in the character of the menstruum he employs by giving publicity to the formula.

Most of the Bitters in the market are but adroit combinations to disguise the physical properties of the worst possible Alcoholic Tinctures of Fusil Oil.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—We are pleased to call attention to the advertisement of the Great Gift Distribution by Hamilton & Co. 34 and 36 Liberty Street New York. Those gentlemen stand No. 1 for their respectability and dealings, and will, no doubt, give satisfaction to all contributors. Great inducements are offered to agents. Read the advertisement.

—If you want regular old codfish, go to Ray Williams & Bro's.

REDWOOD CITY.—This pseudo young city of the Redwood river is situated about twenty miles above Fort Ridgely, and has for the past season been the subject newspaper ventilation, and under the quickening influence of printers ink has already grown into a large and important mining town "on paper." The prospect of rich coal discoveries in that region published by our State papers has induced immigration until Redwood is to Minnesota what Oil City and Pithole City are to Pennsylvania "on paper." The fact is that the coal, agricultural, and commercial importance of Redwood and vicinity have been overstated by unscrupulous speculators who have gone there as town site adventurers. We have taken pains to inquire as to the real merits of that point, and find that there are not more than fifteen houses in the place, that these are mostly tenanted by such as have been induced thither by false representations. Coal on the brain prevails to a greater extent than the genuine article, and notwithstanding the tests of the existence of this mineral, which have proved so satisfactory "on paper," no one has felt warranted in undertaking to open a lead. The inducements to emigrate thither are in reality no greater than they are for emigrating to any other settlement on the frontier. Settlers had far better seek a home in Blue Earth Valley where the land is far superior in quality, just as cheap, and at no great distance from a good market.

EARLY COMPLETION OF THE M. V. R. R.—The prospects of an early completion of the Minnesota Valley Railroad to Mankato are quite encouraging. The portion of the road between Mendota and St Paul will be graded the entire length by the first of May next. The contract is let and a large force is daily pushing the road to completion. It will be built to the foot of the bridge at West St. Paul. We further learn from Ex-Senator Wilkinson that the Company, at his solicitation, are taking into consideration the expediency of pushing the road immediately to Mankato without regard to cost. On the one hand the difficulty of obtaining money for such an immense work is obvious while on the other, it is equally obvious to the company that no substantial or important income can be derived from the road until it reaches this place. In view of the latter premise, the company have concluded to complete the road to Le Sueur next season, and possibly further. The road already being graded to Belle Plaine the cars will probably reach that point by the 4th of July next.

MARRIED.

A Strange Story—Remarkable Discovery.

—Mr. James Lumley, an old Rocky Mountain trapper, who has been stopping at the Everett House for several days, makes a most remarkable statement to us, and one which, if authenticated, will produce the greatest excitement in the scientific world.

Mr. Lumly states that about the middle of September he was engaged in trapping in the mountains about seventy-five or a hundred miles above the Great Falls of the Upper Missouri, and in the neighborhood of what is known of Cadotte Pass. Just after sunset one evening he beheld a bright luminous body in the heavens, which was moving with great rapidity in an easterly direction. It was plainly visible for at least five seconds, when it suddenly seperated into particles, resembling, as Mr. Lumly describes it, the bursting of a sky-rocket in the air. A few minutes later he heard a heavy explosion which jarred the earth very perceptibly, and this was shortly after followed by a rushing sound, like a tornado sweeping through the forest. A strong wind came up about the same time, but as suddenly subsided. The air was also filled with a peculiar odor of a sulphurous character.

These incidents would have made but slight impression on the mind of Mr. Lumley, but for the fact that on the ensuing day he discovered at a distance of about two miles from his camping place, that as far as he could see in either direction, a path had been cut through the forest, several rods wide, giant trees uprooted or broken off near the ground—the tops of hills shaved off, and the earth plowed up in many places. Great and wide spread havoc was everywhere visible. Following up this tract of desolation, he soon ascertained the cause of it in the shape of an immense stone that had been driven into the side of the mountain. But now comes the most remarkable part of the story. An examination of this stone, or so much of it as was visible, showed that it had been divided into compartments, and that in various places it was carved with curious hieroglypics. More than this, Mr. Lumley also discovered fragments of a substance resembling glass, and here and there dark stains, as though caused by a liquid. He is confidant that the hieroglypics were the work of human hands, and that the stone itself although but a fragment of an immense body, must have been used for some purpose by animated beings.

Strange as the story appears, Mr. Lumley relates it with such sincerity that we are forced to accept it as true. It is evident that the stone which he discovered was a fragment of the meteor which was visible in this section in September last. It will be remembered that it was seen in Leavenworth, in Galena and in this city by Col. Boonville. At Leavenworth it was seen to seperate in particles or explode.

Astronomers have long held that it is probable that the heavenly bodies are inhabited—even the comets—and it may be that the meteors are also. Possibly meteors are used as a means of conveyance by the inhabitants of other planets in exploring space, and it may be that hereafter some future Columbus, from Mercury or Uranus, may land on this planet, by means of a meteoric conveyance, and take possession thereof—as did the Spanish navigators of the New World in 1492, and eventually drive what is known the "human race" into a condition of abject servitude. It has always been a favorite theory with many, that there must be a race superior to us, and this may at some future time be demonstrated in the manner we have indicated.—Missouri Democrat.

Beast Worship in England.

The Primate of Ireland—Archbishop Collen— treats in a curious and original manner of the cattle plague in a late pastoral. He says, substantially, that it is a judgment for a sort of Egyptian beast worship, which has grown up in Great Brittain. Fortunes are given for fancy horses, who are attended groomed and stabled like the favorites of the Roman Emperors. Cattle and sheep are also fed and cared for more tenderly than human beings. They live in every comfort, and are fed to repletion, while the poor are crowded into wretched places or turned out to starve. A correspondent of the New York Times, in noticing this pastoral declaration of the reverend Bishop, says:

The Primate of Ireland is right. I do not say about the judgment, but certainly about the preference here given to animals over human beings. How often have I seen in the same number of a London paper rewards of £5 for a lost poodle, and the death of some poor creature by starvation whom this £5 would have fed a year. Enough money is spent on a horse to feed twenty families. I have seen a fat coachman, two tall footmen, a female servant or companion, and two high stepping carriage horses, looking as if they scorned the earth they trod, all employed in giving an "hairing" to my lady's lap dog. The horses have their groom as well as their driver, for an English coachman scorns to do anything else but drive, just as an English footman will see a housemaid carry up stairs a big scuttle of coals, while he is taking up a card or note on a silver salver. And these gorgeous flunkeys must have their five meals a day, three of which must be of meat, and of the best. And, for all this, the poor will be grumbling about the rich, and reading radical newspapers. Whether the cattle plauge was sent to punish the beast idolators, or not, they doubtless feel it a most disagreeable and disgusting infliction.

—The last wonderful discovery made is that by a Frenchman, that electricity applied to a certain small apparatus repels rain, and he places that small apparatus in his cane, which he holds above his head, when the rain pours off in all directions. The people of the town in which he lives gaze at him it is said, with a sort of mysterious awe as he walks in the midst of the rain without being wetted. The days of umbrellas are over.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instrumetsn constructed on this European plan of 'double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an apperdage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!

Helmbold's

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

THESE Machines make the lock stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silk that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do; will Hem, Fell Gather, Cord, Braid, Bind, &c., and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in family, for they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marseilles without stopping and make every stitch perfect, or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, or even the stoutest harness leather without changing the feed, needle or tention, or making any adjustment of Machaine whatever!!!

They are simple in construction, and easily understood; and if any part is broken by accident, it is readily replaced.

A NEW WAY TO PAY DEBTS.

BY OLIVER EZRA WENDELL.

Advanced in years to the age of fifty —a period when most men begin to diminish fond memories of childhood and become absorbed in the opening prospect of the grave—Peter Allbone the once successful but now bankrupt merchant, lay, stripped of nearly all but a change of clothes, a convalescent on a bed not his own, and where he had tho't he was very soon to breathe his last.

This almost complete recovery did not seem to bring with it a corresponding cheerfulness, for he was deeply in debt, and now as before his sickness his spirit was depressed and his energies were cramped by the conviction that if he made great efforts to retrieve his fortunes, his hardest creditors would seize all he might acquire before he had time fully to develop his success. They would hurl him down before he was fairly up again.

So in despair he reflected upon suicide.

'That is easy,' mused he, ' and effectual. Some say it is wicked to part with ones life; but since it was given to us without consent on our part, I don't see why we haven't a right to exercise our own consent in getting rid of it. Turn about is fair play, and the turnabout to the grave is the happiest turnabout for those who wish to turn about no more. Now, I would prefer life. and lots of good luck; but when I consider how my creditors wouldn't let me up, I see that my chance is altogether too slim to encourage me into the effort I could otherwise make. I am down and I want to go about six or eight feet deeper. I will confer with my poor old nurse upon the subject. She has been grateful for past favors when in my employ, and given this lodging and long tending in her humble dwelling; and it is no more than due that I should give her timely warning that I prefer a house with a green roof and a chimney with no hole in it.

He accordingly conversed with his kind old nurse and former housekeeper, Mrs. Mehitable Standby, and she for a time dissuaded him. But alas! what was the result? It was, that one day about a dozen of his chief creditors, men to whom he owed thousands, were summoned at her residence, there to hold a council as to the division of the property, and to hear her read to them the will!

They went, and were greatly surprised and shocked to hear that their mutual debtor had shuffled them off and his coil of clay and cares, several days before, and that his mortal remains were now lying embalmed, in his coffin up stairs.

They hastened up, with various painful emotions, surrounded the coffin, and regretfully surveyed the well known figure there.

'This operation,' said the aged Mehitable, referring to the embalmment, 'was performed in compliance with his dying request, before public notice was given of his death, in order that his creditors should not interfere to prevent it and save the expense.'

'What a commentary on his opinion of us!' sighed they; and a thrill of something like remorse shivered through them, as they gazed on those fixed features, once so beaming with generosity and enterprise.

But a habit of viewing most things in a business light soon calmed their more tender emotions.

'Embalmed,' muttered one. 'Very careful of his body. He didn't think much about his soul. A debtor, and suicide.

'Sorry for Peter. He was once worth —I don't know how much. Excellent business faculties. I would much rather have given him more credit than have him die of morphine.'

'Of morphine, at last,' suggested the nurse, solemnly; 'but of hard creditors, in the main. He told me that distrust made him despair of ever getting up again.'

'He can never get up now, whatever he might have done had he died solvent, or lived till somebody made arrangement for him. I wish I could have happened in, before he went off, in this unceremonious way.'

'I have lost so many friends, and so much, and felt dire calamity in this world, 'till I am not so strongly moved, so sentimental, as I used to be; but I, also, should have liked very much to see Peter, and hear a few of his last words'

'You will find them in the documents he has left,' replied Mrs. Mehitable. 'I was for many years his hosekeeper, in brighter days than any of us will ever see again; and it was his wish that I should perform the melancholy task of reading to you, in the presence of his body, what he wrote.'

They seated themselves gloomily around, and she unsealed, and read as follows:

'TO MY CHIEF CREDITORS.

'I owe you sundry heavy sums, which you know that I am unable to pay. I owe something more which I am able to pay; namely, my farewell-respects, prior to a long journey, and my thanks for the credit you once reposed in me. I wish it had been more, for your sake, for had it been more, I should have made it less: hope would have renewed my force and restored you all your own. I wish you to give me a little more credit; not credit for sincerity, when I write that my death is at hand; for ere you get this, death will get me, as you will see; but credit for honest intentions is what I now ask of you. I had them, and it is scarcely probable that I, a dying man, would lie.'

'Of course not—Peter meant right,' was the general sigh.

'You knew my losses, and unavoidable bankruptcy thus ensuing, Messrs. Wunk, Pounce, Grip, Wildcat, Mink, Tarry, Weasel, Badger, Lynx; Wait, Hope, Grimmer, etc., and though you saw as I did when I could pay as you could, you failed to hope as I did when I couldn't go on as you could.'

'What a rigmarole! He is crazy. All suicides are.'

'No; that's all sound enough. Go on Mrs.'

'Hence, you worried me much, as I shouldn't, if you had been I—for I couldn't! I saw, at last, no encouragement to live and strive, fearing that you, latterly so severe, might rush in and take your pay before I was ready for you. I have therefore made ready to take a shorter cut, and I hope you will forgive, if not pray for me—though whether you pardon or not will make but little difference to me.'

'That's rather harsh in Peter.'

'No; it's independence; he should have that, at least, in the grave.'

'I wish, before going, to make a farther disclosure, which may soften any feeling of animosity you may harbor, for my toiling on, like a crippled ass, simply to pay for a dead horse. Believe, or not, this testimony of a dying man—dead when you hear it read by my faithful nurse.'

'A disclosure!'

'Concealed money, somewhere, I suppose.'

'I would willingly take ten cents on a dollar.'

'I would take five.'

'Hush! This is mercenary—unnatural.'

'It is of a supernatural character. During the past year, before my sickness drove me to the refuge of the humble roof beneath which I die, I have been nightly visited by the ghost of a poor rich man—rich at first, poor at last—who gave out, groaned and died, under similar circumstances—in debt, dismayed, in age, at up hill work, and a suicide- and he found that he, that is to say, his spirit, could not rest, and he returned to earth, to ease himself by influencing affairs in favor of some creditors, while others, the hard shelled ones, the object of his mission was to persecute and injure.'

'Horrible, if true!'

'He visited me, as I have said—boarded with me nightly—absorbing food as I did—eating and drinking with me at my lonely table, which owing to his never failing visits I kept duly prepared for him—and he worried me much—not so much through the cost of the food, which I could ill spare, as by the natural uneasiness which even a bankrupt must feel, when taking tea with a ghost.'

'Peter was certainly demented when he wrote this!'

'I see nothing of the kind. I see nothing but a sound mind, calmly deliberating upon its own extinction. His affairs were unsettled but not his intellect. If we had let him up a little, he would have been a sound busines man, as he used to be, in times past, living and fresh as ever.'

'Pshaw! A man who don't settle his business affairs till he settles himself, has a poor look of settlement, in this world or the next.'

'Gentlemen, don't interrupt; hear the old lady read.'

'Yet this ghost had a special sympathy for me—my kindred condition caused the attraction. In time I grew famillar, and without reserve I finally told him I should kill myself. He said, "No; for if you do, you may be doomed as I, to return, in this troublesome manner, till good and bad creditors are rewarded or punished.' I told him that as a friend, I would think of it; but finally said that I would run the risk—and then he came no more. His mission, perhaps, was ended, because mine, perhaps, was begun. You see that I have run the risk; though you may smile at this, and call it mere superstition; but time will yet resolve the mystery, if the doom of that strange phantom shall be mine.'

'He seems to have been serious in his folly—frenzy, I should say.'

'Patience; there is more to come.'

'My particular object in calling you together, as I have requested you shall be, in such a manner and in such a time, is this, that, in the presence of my corpse, you may feel some compunction —ah! how much better it would have been for all, had you been relenting before I died!—which may lead you to do an act of charity, and leave what remains of my property, little as you know it is, free from liability, to my good nurse. Let the sight of my body open your hearts and give her a quitclaim to all, as far as you are concerned by signing the document I have left, saying that you absolve me of all I owe you. This will be grateful in you, and allow my spirit to rest in peace, more fortunate than that poor ghost—for I don't wish to be obliged to come back. Whether you are superstitious or not, sign; and this will at least relieve that faithful nurse from apprehension. Farewell! Farewell!'

'Yours, bent and broken on change,
'PETER ALLBONE.'

Having finished the reading of this posthumous paper, Mrs. Standby placed it upon the table, where all glanced over it, and they all sat down in silence for awhile.

'Well, gentlemen,' said one, 'it becomes us to decide promptly upon this painful petition of poor Peter. We all know he had nothing, and now that he has gone, we certainly sign away nothing by affixing our signatures as he has requested.'

'How do you know that?' returned another. I believe we represent, altogether, about forty thousand dollors of his indebtedness; and though he is lost to us, and we are truly sorry for that which can't be helped, it seems prudent, before we sign, to know about how much he has left. Five of the forty he owed me; and speaking as an eighth, I would like to see an inventory of his property.'

'That is contained in the document, which he desired you would sign,' said the nurse; and she produced the paper, which excited expressions of pity from all, though some could not repress a smile at the idea of making a division of so little, which consisted chiefly of two suits of clothing, a little jewelry, a silver watch, a trunk, a few books, and a gold-headed cane.

'It is positively fearful to contemplate such a state of destitution!' said the most cautious creditor who had spoken. 'The whole thing wouldn't bring more than a hundred dollars under the hammer.'

'I am confident this is all he had,' sighed Mrs Standby. 'He assured me of it, and so states the paper.'

'I have now no doubt Madam; and I am ready to sign; but I certainly tho't Peter might have a few hundred, which might have been collected from some stray old debtors, or been given him by kind friends.'

'Come, come, Mink, all our names are down.'

The reluctant creditor took the pen, and signed away his 'eighth' with a sigh, saying as he did so:

'He needn't have made so much fuss when dead, and all about so little! And, now I think of it when he failed he had furniture. I wonder what became of that. He may have sold it, and not got his pay, and forgot everything about it he seems to have been so flighty.'

'No doubt he lived on that, for his business was gone; perhaps he and the ghost ate the last of it.'

'Tut, tut! this is not time or place for trifling. There is your paper, Madam, duly signed; and rely upon it, some of us will not forget you hereafter.'

'I for one.'

'And I. Poor fellow! I wish I had known of his despair in time. He was always a bit eccentric, and long trouble made him thus crazy, and a suicide at last. What's done can't be repaired now.'

Another's heart grew so warm, in relating what he knew of Peter's honesty and goodness in early days, that he talked of a monument.

Some nodded approval of the suggestion, but the majority thought this was going a little too far for practical purposes, and, agreeing with Mink who said:

'Nonsense! He has cost us enough already.'

Wildcat began to cite his losses, Weasel spoke of what he would have done had Peter come to him; and thus conversing, divided in sentiment, they left the room and the house, the last sounds heard by the nurse, as they walked away, being—'Cost me'—'Monument'—'Died in my debt'—'Folly' —'Monument—monu—'and she closed the door.

All had signified to the nurse their intention of being at the funeral, which they understood was to take place on the morrow; but their surprise was great, when they came that day, to find the house closed and the faithful Mrs. Stanby gone!

At first there was some suspicious of foul play; but these subsided that Peter had been privately buried, according to some secret directions, which they tho't was 'Another oddity of his, poor fellow!' or the indecorous behavior on the previous day had deeply offended the good lady, and determined her to see them no more. So they went about their business, to wonder while they worked. It was not long, however, before they discoverd the whereabouts of Peter Allbone's body.

That singular individual, freed from liabilities, appeared to them, one and all, in the streets and elsewhere, and he was cheerful, hearty, and actively at work. According to his own statement—if such an apparition was to be trusted—he was so much revived as to be engaged in the successful pursuance of business.

'If I am my ghost,' said he to their astonishment, 'you had better let me alone, or I will haunt you at night and injure you by day; but if I am Peter Allbone, your former debtor, I am invulnerable to you, for I have your receipt in full. I work with a solid hope and a free swing now, in no danger of having my tools wrested from me while engaged in the building of my proper fortune; and, gentlemen, if you behave yourselves, I will not commit suicide again, until I have paid every dollar I owe you.'

They concluded that he was a live man, and that this was best; and in course of time they were all paid, as he had intimated, having learned the humane wisdom of a lesson, not to crowd a poor debtor too hard; and with cause to bless the suicide and signatures which had led to such a resurrection.

HUMOROUS.

An ill looking fellow was asked how he could account for Nature's forming him so ugly. "Nature was not to blame" said he, "for when I was two months of age I was considered the handsomest child in the neighborhood, but my nurse to revenge herself on my parents for some fancied injury at her hands, one day swapped me away for another boy, belonging to a friend of hers, whose child was rather plain looking.

"There now," cried a little girl, while rummaging a drawer in a bureau, "grau' pa has gone to heaven without his spectacles."

"What is the chief use of bread?" asked an examiner at a recent school exhibition. "The chief use of bread," answered the urchin, apparently astonished at the simplicity of the inquiry, "is to spread butter and jam on it."

At one of our hotels the landlord said to a boarder:

"See here, Mr. B., the chambermaid found a hair-pin in your bed this morning, and it wont answer."

"Well," replied the boarder, "I found a hair in the butter this morning, but it does not prove you had a woman in it."

The two men looked at each other for about ten seconds, when each smiled and went on his way, no doubt pondering on the peculiarities of circumstantial evidence.

"Six legs, Sir."

"How do you make that out?"

"Right. Now Sam! Where does the sun rise?"

"In the east sir."

"What makes the sun rise in the east?"

"I suppose the [y] east makes him rise Sir."

Abuse of the Hair.

Somebody has been writing a sensible and useful book on the human hair, its uses and abuses, in which strong ground is taken against the popular and heathenish practice of plastering the locks to the head with oils and pomatums. This practice, says the author, is not only uncleanly and barberous, but it destroys the vigor of the hair and causes it to fall out, or turn prematurely gray. Amongst the Indians, who never use grease upon their head, thin hair is almost unknown, and civilized society might well take a lesson therefrom. The good sense of this argument must commend it to the approbation of everybody. The fact that hair-greasing is a positively unclean habit, should, of itself, be sufficient to make it fall into disuse.

DIVORCE.

There is urgent need that the law of divorce should be uniform in all the States of the Union, and that it should be so shaped as to forbid any appeal to it by those not having the extremest claims for its protection. That such reform is peremptorily required by the social system of our country, must be evident to all respectible people; for applications for divorces upon the most frivolous pretexts, have become fearfully numerous of late in all the States, and the principles upon which some are granted can hardly fail to increase the evil. Marriage is a covenant with God no less than with society, and its contracts should neither be assumed in haste, nor set aside with ease. Make the law of divorce properly exacting, and uniform over the whole country, and there will be fewer rash marriages to be annulled.

THE PIANO FORTE.

Some one writes to a daily paper that the music in our respectable places of popular resort would be more of a pleasure and less of a bore if the musicians would only condescend far enough from "high art" to perform something else than opera and oratorio occasionally. As New York is neither Florence nor Boston, our public are not enthusiastic appreciators of Wagner, Gounod, Mendelssohn, and Bach, and rather prefer something like "Home Sweet Home" to "Di provenza il mar." The same good-natured criticism may be applied to modern parlor music, which from the silly dispostion of very many young ladies to continually "show off" their operatic attainments, has rendered the piano-forte an instrument of unspeakable torture. Why must the home music of our American household be an eternal and meaningless jangle of foreign discords, when there are so many delightful ballads and familiar airs to make it an exhaustless source of pleasure and true refinement?

News in Brief.

The southern papers are all of them exercised greatly over the result of the recent State elections. The Richmond Times acknowledges that "the Northern Democracy have sustained a most crushing and overwhelming defeat." New Jersey, it informs its readers, has "yielded to the enemy," and although the Democracy fought with the courage of desperation, they have not been successful in a single State.

Pithole Oil News.

From Pithole Record, Nov. 4.

ANOTHER FLOWING WELL.—A flowing well was struck Wednesday morning on the Clark Farm, Upper Cherry Run, which promises to be one of the finest in this section. Oil was reached last week but the pump got out of order, and pumping was stopped until yesterday morning, when it re commenced pumping. A barrel of oil was first pumped out and then a barrel of water, and immediately the well commenced flowing at the rate of 800 to 1,000 barrels per day, according to the estimate of the owners. The fortunate proprietors are Mr. Charles Sentell, the Editor of the Seneca Co. [N. Y.] Observer, and Mr. Jeremiah Cronin, of Waterloo, N. Y.

THE Rooker farm [Boute] company is building a road across the Rooker farm for the accommodation of oil teams, etc. It is being well macadamized and will prove a great benefit. Under Mr. Boute's management the farm is being rapidly developed and improved.

No. 150 Morey Farm was tubed yesterday, and is now pumping and flowing alternately. The water is not yet exhausted, and it is difficult to tell what the prospects of the well are, although indications are excellent.

Tidioute, Pa., rejoices in a "Chronicle," the second number of which lies before us. It contains among other matters, the following items about wells on Denis Run:

The Shaw well—which struck oil not many days ago—yielded at the rate of fifty barrels a day several days last week; one day, just to show how much it could do, it yielded eleven barrels in one hour and thirty minutes—actual measurement and time. The oil seekers at this depot have been somewhat bothered for water, but this trouble has been obviated and, as we write, the yield is in the neighborhood of one hundred barrels.

At the Pilgrim [Loring] well, oil was reached at the depth of two hundred and thirty-six feet, on Friday, Oct. 27th, since which time the yield has been upwards of one hundred barrels a day, the engine running on slow motion. The difficulty has been with the barrels and tanks—not room enough for the oil; this is nearly overcome and is believed that when ran to its full capacity the well will yield over two hundred barrels of oil.

The Combs Well has yielded from 25 to forty barrels a day, for several days past.

The Gilson Well pumped at the rate of about fifty barrels a day, for a portion of Friday and Saturday. By next week the status of this hole will probably be definitely fixed.

The Babcock well—No. 8, Green property—has been tubed. Vein of salt water not yet exhausted.

Southern Election Returns.

—The returns from the Arkansas election for members of congress, which took place on the 7th, are meagre, but it looks as if Judge Byers had been elected in the first or Helena district; Lorenzo Gibson in the 2nd or Little Rock district; and Colonel J. M. Johnson in the 3d or Fort Smith district.

—Dalton advices report the election of Charles J. Jenkins as Governor of Georgia, and of Johnson [what Johnson is not stated] as United States senator.

—A dispatch dated Montgomery, Alabama, November 10th, states that the returns for Governor appear to be closer than was anticipated, and it is now thought Robert M. Patton has been chosen over Colonel Bulgar. Patton is a Douglas democrat, and has served as a member of the state legislature for over twenty years. In the 2nd congressional district, George C. Freeman, a major in the rebel army, is reported elected, and General Buttle in the 3d congressional district.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE MANKATO UNION.

Mankato, Minn., Friday Dec., 1, 1865.

"OUR DEVOTED HEAD."

The Record says that its "devoted head" was last week the subject of the vials of wrath poured out by the UNION. Yes, the Record is right, but that equivocal word "devoted" is susceptible of a little explanation. That "head" (what little there is of it) has been "devoted" to political chicanery to such an extent that the presumption of a pious devotion" would be far fetched indeed. The proof of such devotion is in the special pleading of the Record last week, which by its silence in reference to our charges, and its attempt to raise an extremely small issue, confesses the extent of bribery and political treachery which we laid at the door of J. C. Wise & Co. The Record says that our leaders of late are not pointless, a furthur confession that the goad of justice quickens the sensibilities of a guilty conscience, when wielded by the hand of the UNION.

But how about that bargain with the Welsh? We wish to "reiterate," How about the bribery of two years since which secured the election of a democratic officer? We "reiterate." If the Record can "reiterate" any worse charges than we can prove against it and its democratic adherents, then let that sheet throw stones. But as long as glass houses are so much the rage with its party, better keep its ammunition confined. Confirmatory of the statement of the Record that our leaders are not pointless we mention the fact that a prominent democrat called at our office especially to compliment us on having told the truth (but not the whole truth) about the Record and its adherents.

The propensity of the Record to receive suggestions from the UNION is again exemplified in its last issue. True to our statement that the Record was not susceptible of originality, it follows in our wake and accuses us, as we did him in not being original.—in short that we borrow from the Record. Any other charge than such as we make he has no talent for originating or "reiterating." He says that we copy from the Record. Well, who does the most of that business? We can count twelve articles in the UNION of Friday which appeared in the Record of Saturday. The Record has taken articles of ours entire and published them. But what of this? We allow it from courtesy, as any other Gentleman would. But as to the real merit of the two papers we think the evidence of a leading Democrat of Winnebago City is conclusive. He says that the Record is worthless to him because the news is all anticipated by the UNION which reaches that city first. He takes it only as an act of charity to the concern.

RAILROAD TO MANTORVILLE.

The Winona & St. Peter Railroad is completed to Mantorville and cars both passenger and freight are running to that point. The Mantorville Express is in very good humor in contemplating the fact. There is one feature in the case, however, that cannot be very encouraging to the people of that town. The railroad does not come nearer than two and a half miles, and the depot is already located that distance from Mantorville on land donated to the company by a Mr. Kasson. This gentleman has already plotted a town site and is selling lots near the depot. The effect must be to materially check the growth of Mantorville. The new town Kasson takes its name from its proprietor, and from its locality must become a rival of its older neighbor.

The completion of the road to that point brings a change in the arrival and departure of the stages at Mankato. Instead of leaving at 8 o'clock A. M. they now start at 3 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Mantorville the same evening. The distance is about seventy miles. Thus gradually is the space between us and the Mississippi, being, as it were, annihilated and Mankato nears its connection with the eastern metropoles.

ASSAY OF MINNESOTA QUARTZ.

Professor Eames our State geologist has made an assay of the specimens of gold quartz obtained at Vermillion Lake. He finds that one ton of quartz contains twenty-eight dollars and thirty five cents. If quartz of this value can be found to any extent, gold seekers will have a rich field for the development of the mineral wealth of Minnesota. Next spring we expect to see the mines fairly tested, and the question of the richness of these quartz leads definitely settled.

STATE CENSUS.

The town of Plainview in Wabashaw county, having failed to make a return of the census of that town, at the time the census of the State was published, it is necessary now to add its population to the published return. Its population is estimated at 1,280, which added to 248.848, the number already returned swells the population of the State to 250,128. Besides this there are several counties of sparse population which have made no return and would probably number several thousand.

CONGRESS.

The first session of the thirty-ninth congress convenes on Monday next. The President is preparing his message, and has already submitted portions of it to his cabinet. We confidently expect to place it before our readers in the next issue of the UNION. The peculiar condition of national matters must render it a document of unusual interest.

HATCH'S BATTALLION.

We learn that Company E. of Hatch's Battallion which was lately ordered to Ft. Snelling expecting to be mustered out has been ordered to Ft. Ripley. This indicates that the Battallion will be retained in the service.

Election Majorities.

The Republican majority being about four thousand less this year than last, the Democrats have been highly pleased with the result and have evidently convinced themselves that they have increased and multiplied at a furious rate. A slight mathematical investigation shows that this castle is founded upon sand. Last year the counties which went Democratic gave majorities for McClellan, amounting in the aggregate to 2,066 and this year the Democratic majorities for Rice, amounting to 2,490 an actual Democratic increase in county majorities of four hundred and twenty four. The Republican county majorities last year footed up 9,682, while this year they are 5,859 showing that a sufficient number of Republicans took no interest in the election either way, to reduce the county majoritie- three thousand eight hundred and twenty-three. The Republican stay-at-homes, did the mischief, and not the Democracy.

Newspaper Changes.

A. R McGill of the St. Peter Tribune has withdrawn from its management and Mr. Williams assumes the entire business.

The St. Paul PIONEER has been enlarged to an eight column paper and is now the size of the PRESS. It promises to be a first rate paper under its new management.

The Winona Republican thus speaks of the late newspaper changes in Rochester:

The newspaper fraternity at Rochester has been undergoing a general change of late. Mr. Blakely, we understand, has sold the Post to Messrs. Leonard and Booth, with a design of removing to Chicago, there to connect himself with the Daily Post of that city. The Republican of Rochester has been sold by Mr. Mitchell to Messrs. Shaver & Eaton, both experienced newspaper men. We regret to part with our old editorial friends at Rochester, but hope that both they and their successors will find the change mutually beneficial.

JUBILEE AT WINNEBAGO CITY.

The Winnebago Homestead says that the few democrats of that town, who opposed the negro amendment, held a jubilee over the result of the election Richardson's grocery was the theater of demonstration-. One of the speeches of the occasion the Homestead reports as follows:

"Brother Democrats, [cheers] we have met, [cheers] to get tight, [vociferous cheering] and glority over the downfall of the nigger. [Cheers.] We know that he is more intelligent than we are, therefore we must keep him down. [Cheers] He is black, but he is intelligent; we are white, but as ignorant as hell. [Cries of 'we are not to blame for having no brains.'] True my friends, but we don't want to associate with the nigger. If he was allowed to vote how long would it be before every one of you would have a wench for a wife, and your beautiful and blushing daughters be clasped, with connubial fondness, in the arms of a big buck nigger? Only a few short years hence and who of you could point to a white child and call it your own? [Cries of 'not one of us.'] How keenly you have felt this horrible danger. You know that did not the law stand between you and the nigger, you could not restrain your natural inclination to take to your bed a nigger wench. [Cries of 'that's so.'] Then my beloved brethren we must keep that law between us. Why, their heels stick out behind, and this alone should exclude their voting. Then again many of them have thick lips, and should persons with thick lips be allowed to vote? [Cries of 'no, no.'] They are smarter than we are, and of course they would not let us hold office We have done a glorious work We have said by our vote—though between you and me it is a most damnable lie—that the nigger is only equal to the dumb brute. [Cheers] We all know better, but it will never do to let him have a chance or we are gone up sure. [Cries of 'that's so.'] My friends this is a a great occasion, and I would like to address you more, but my eloquence has 'petered,' and I'm damned dry. Let's liquor."

This last clause was responded to by tremendous cheering.

The St. Louis Democrat states positively that arrangements have been effected between the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company of New York and the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship company of St. Louis, by which a through line is established for business between the two ports. The pioneer steamship of this line—the Matanzas—left New York for New Orleans several days since. This is a very important matter to the people of this great valley, and every one will rejoice to see the consummation of so great a work at this early day.

An investigation of cotton frauds in Alabama shows that, of 90,000 bales of forfeited confederate cotton, nine-tenths, worth some. $15,000,000, has become the prey of swindlers, official and non-official.

From Mexico.

The imperialists claim that, in the repulse of the republicans at Matamoras, on the 25th ultimo, the loss of the latter was some 500, while that of the former was scarcely anything. There is a rumor that Bagdad is besieged by the republicans; and another, that the French admiral demanded of General Weitzel the surrender of the steamer captured by the republicans, and was answered with a refusal. Maximillian has granted to a company the right of building a telegraph line from the United States to the city of Mexico, and the work is expected to be finished by the 1st of July next.

Roll of the House.

The report that Clerk McPherson had sent the roll of members of the House to the printer, including those from rebel States was premature. The list will not be prepared before Saturday, owing to the non-receipt of credentials both from the North and South. According to the latest enunciation of McPherson's intentions he will place the names of all members elect upon the roll, and leave the House to decide upon the test oath question after a Speaker is chosen.

Serious Accident.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 24.

D. A. Olin, Esq., President of the City Board of Councillors and Assistant Superintendent of the Milwaukee and St Paul Railway, met with a serious accident this afternoon, at Hartland, on the above road. He jumped from the engine while the train was in motion, and a loose stone turned his ankle so that he fell with one leg under the wheel, which passed over it below the knee. Amputation of the ankle was necessary.

Steamer Sunk and One Hundred Lives Lost.

Memphis, Nov. 25.

A collision occurred last night between the Niagara and Post Boy, on the Mississippi river, seven miles above Helena. The Niagara sunk in twenty feet of water One hundred deck passengers, mostly discharged colored soldiers, were drowned. The cabin passengers and crew were all saved. The Niagara was valued at $130,000. No insurance. She had 200 tons freight on board. The Post Boy escaped uninjured.

Extensive Frauds.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 22.

Frauds in the Quartermaster's Department here, upwards of one hundred thousand dollars, have been discovered. It is supposed they will greatly exceed that amount. Military authorities request the suppression of the names for the present.

FROM MILWAUKEE.

The Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Torn Up.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 28.—The track of the LaCrosse Railroad was torn up and a bridge burned near Germantown, eighteen miles from this city last night, supposed to be the work of farm mortgagees who have mortgaged their farms along the line of the road to the amount of a million of dollars which mortgages are being foreclosed. The farm mortgagees threaten to destroy the entire road if the company fail to make provision for the payment of the mortgages. A great deal of trouble is apprehended.

The War Not Ended.

A Washington dispatch states that "Congress will act upon the theory that the war is not ended. It is precisely the ground occupied by the president and every one of the departments of the government. Volunteers not yet discharged have repeatedly demanded their discharge, in compliance with the terms of their enlistment, and the invariable reply is, 'The war is not yet closed.' The treasury department also holds, in reference to the payment of bounties, that the war still exists. The president, while he protects the freedmen with the bayonet, does it under the theory that the war has not come to an end; that is, time enough has not yet elapsed to satisfy the president and congress that the people of the south are steadfastly loyal."

European News.

We have European dates, by the steamship City of London, to the 9th instant,—four days later. The pirate Shenandoah arrived in the Mersey on the 6th, and was surrendered to the British authorities. The captain states that, as soon as he heard of the termination of the rebellion, he consigned his guns to the hold and steered for England. The officers and crew have been released on parole; and The London Times says that they cannot be given up to the United States under any circumstances, but may possibly be tried by an English court for piracy. A Liverpool paper says there may be some point raised as to the turning over of the vessel to the American government. Earl Russell has been installed as premier of the British ministry, and Lord Clarendon as minister of foreign affairs. The French evacuation of Rome was to commence on the 15th. The Cholera is fast disappearing at Paris, Malta, and other points. Oil springs have been discovered in England.

STATE NEWS.

MAN DROWNED—Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, as the Itasca was lying at the levee, a cry was heard of "Oh! oh!" immediately followed by a splashing in the water. It was discovered that a deck hand had fallen overboard, and before assistance could be rendered was drowned. The supposition was that he had stepped on the end of a plank, which gave way, and struck him on the head. We were not able to learn the name of the unfortunate man. He had been paid off but a day or two before, and had considerable money on his person. His body has not yet been found.—Winona Rep. Nov 25th.

GOOD APPOINTMENT.—We see that the Valley Railroad Company have secured the services of Hon. Isaac Lincoln, at this place, as General Freight and Ticket Agent. This is an appointmen that could not have been bettered "in a day's travel," as Mr. Lincoln is a pleasant and accommodating gentleman and a man whose business qualifications are perfect. The appointment is one that will give universal satisfaction in this community. —Shakopee Argus.

THIEVES.—The Shakopee banditti have again made their appearance in this town, and our citizens had better be on the lookout. On Sunday night last they made a raid upon a hogshead of sugar lying on the levee, belonging to Hatha way & Briggs, broke it open and carried off about 150 pounds. This band are residents among us, and have been in the business of hen-roost-robbing and wholesale plunder at intervals, for a number of years.—Shakopee Argus.

A BEAR.—We learn that James Ward residing in the Big Woods above Belle Plaine, slew a tremendous bruin a few days since, weighing five hundred pounds. —Shakopee Argus, Nov. 28.

RAILROAD IRON—The G. H. Gray brought up yesterday two barges of railroad iron for the first division of the St. Paul and Pacific road. The Annie Johnston is now on her way up with another lot, which will be sufficient to complete the road to Big Lake. The track will be laid and cars running to that point in a few weeks—Press, Nov. 28.

WINTER STEAMBOAT EXCURSION.—We learn that some parties here are getting up a grand steamboat excursion to some point down the river on Friday next, the 1st day of December. If the good weather should continue until that time it could certainly be made a pleasant affair, and then the idea of going picnicing on the first of December in this lattitude would be something to remember. We hope the weather will permit of its being carried out.—Press, Nov. 28.

BRANCH RAILROAD.—By the provisions of their charter the Minn. Central Railroad are obliged to build a branch road from Hastings to Farmington in this county. The time of doing this is left entirely with them, but we hear, from good authority, that they have commenced the survey, and expect to have the track in running order by July next.—Hastings Conserver.

The Rochester Republican of Thursday says that there is about 12 000 to 15.000 bushels of wheat received at the elevator in that place, daily. The elevator is driven to its utmost capacity.

RECEIVING WHEAT.—We understand that the Railroad Company expect to be prepared to receive wheat at the station in about ten or twelve days,—as soon as side tracks are laid and arrangements made for weighing. We should judge it might be five or six weeks before the elevator will be in working order.—Mantorville Express.

PERSONAL.—Brigadier General John T. Averill, for whom our friends have the kindest regard, recently returned from the east, where he has been since September on business and pleasure General Averill received the cordial greetings of a host of friends, who welcome him to his old home in Lake City. The General again takes up his residence among us, and we are glad to receive back so honored a citizen.—Lake City Leader.

THE WINONA AND ST. PAUL ROAD.—The Hastings Conserver says that eight miles of the Winona and St. Paul Railroad are graded. This is pushing the work vigorously.

MORE MAIL ROBBERIES.—The Milwaukee Sentinel says that the mail on the St. Paul and Milwaukee route has been repeatedly robbed of late, and no clue has been obtained to the robber. At this office the Eastern mail bags arrived for five consecutive days cut open and robbed. It appears to us that even the most bungling detective might ferret out the guilty parties in such a case as this. —Pioneer, Nov. 26.

☞ A Dwelling House to Rent!! Enquire of T. Parsons.

For Sale.—Two small Job presses, one described as a Druggist press, the other, a Foster press. Both in good order and for sale at a bargain.

Job Work.—We have just received from New York, a Gordon Job Press, and are prepared to do Job Printing, where the orders are large, at greatly reduced rates, and with despatch.

Wanted.—A girl who would like to work for her board and go to school will hear of a good opportunity by applying at this office or to Rev D. Tice.

—Temperance Lecture.—Rev. Mr Gregg lectured on the subject of temperance at the City Hall last Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. The subject was handled in a masterly manner and will result in good. On Saturday evening next a Good Templar's Lodge is to be organized at the Hall in Leech's stone building.

Appearance of Deer.—Deer have commenced to make their appearance in the neighborhood. Mr Lyman Shaw of Garden City killed a fine animal at the Blue Earth rapids this week.

—Hon. J. B. Brisbin of St. Paul will deliver the first lecture before the Mankato Lecture Association on Tuesday evening next at Shoemaker's Hall. Subject—George Washington. The public are invited to attend this opening lecture.

District Court.—The District Court of Blue Earth county convenes on Tuesday next at 11 o'clock A. M. We understand that Shoemaker's new Hall has been secured as the place of holding court. The number of cases on the new calender will be between fifteen and twenty.

Personal.—We were pleased to receive a call from W. L. Coon Esq., who has just been mustered out of Co. E. 2nd Cavalry. To him we are indebted for our items of news concerning the movements of his cavalry Regiment. Being an old resident of Mankato, he will soon resume his place among the business men of our town.

Thanks.—We are under obligation to the millinery establishment of Miss Annie M Kent next door to the Union office, for a beautiful little hat tastefully trimmed and presented to our "Cora Bell." We trust that her business will continue as prosperous as she is generous.

Church in Butternut Valley.—The Welsh Congregational Society of Butternut Valley are making preparations to build a church edifice early next spring. Six hundred dollars have already been subscribed, and in addition [illegible] labor toward the erection of it has been pledged. Further assistance will be necessary to complete the building and probably the citizens of Mankato and vicinity will be solicited to throw in their mite in aid of the cause.

Meat Market.—Roberts and Edwards have their new meat market in full blast, first door [illegible] the post office. They keep the choicest steaks, nice, well dressed poultry, and are determined to please their customers. It is a pleasure to order steaks where you can get a choice of "cuts," and where one can have them brought to your door. Give them a call, and patronize those that endeavor to please you.

—By a typographical error in the advertisement of P B Sparrow & Co., the celebrated Magee Cooking Stove is said to have taken the premium at the Illinois fair in 1862. It should have read "1865." The Magee stove is not an old patent, but is something new and desirable.

Something Nice.—Mr. Albert Reed has just opened a fancy goods and yankee notion store next door to John Meaghers hardware store. If the ladies are in want of anything nice, it can be found at Reeds. Mr. Reed has just returned from the war and resumes civil life by commencing trade in Mankato, and soliciting a share of public favor. See his advertisement in another column, and favor him with a call.

Business Change.—The news, book, and stationery business of C H Slocum has been purchased by Messrs Ira Smith and H Humphrey, who will continue the business at the stand next door to the post office. These gentlemen have greatly enlarged their stock, and have for sale at low rates a fine assortment of school and miscellaneous books, stationery, &c., bought in New York personally by Mr Ira Smith.

Purchasing from first hands they can and will give bargains which will satisfy. We have been shown a complete set of instructions for book-keeping prepared for schools which are very desirable and are sold low. A new book from Dickens entitled "Our Mutual Friend" is on their counter. We recommend this new firm to the reading public, knowing that satisfaction in all their dealings will be guaranteed. See their advertisement.

Thanksgiving.—Next Thursday is the day set apart by the President of the United States, and by the Governor of Minnesota, as one of public thanksgiving for the success and prosperity which has crowned the labors of the year. The various churches of Mankato will unite in a public service at the Presbyterian church, at 11 o'clock A. M. Rev. Mr. Marshall, Rev. D Tice and Elder Craven will conduct the exercises. The address will be delivered by the Rev D Tice. The reputation of Mr Tice as a public speaker warrants us in promising a lecture well worth the attention of our readers.

Wagon Road to Le Sueur.—We have already mentioned that the Valley Railroad is completed to Shakopee bringing us within [illegible] miles of railroad communication via St Paul. The company hope to complete the road next season to Le Sueur.

The people of Mankato, to meet the road at that point, should build a wagon road on this side of the river. It will save distance as well as one dollar ferriage on each trip. We learn that Messrs. Burbank & Co, are willing to give five hundred dollars toward the building of this road. If the citizens of Mankato will add three hundred to that sum, the road can be completed early in the spring, and will be of immense benefit to the place and surrounding country.

The Second Cavalry.—Companies C., E., and I, were mustered out of the service last week. Company E., which was from this county was mustered out last Friday being paid to the 21st inst. The most of its members arrived here last Saturday and Sunday. Among those returned we mention W. L. Coon, G. N. Parrett, D. C. Wood, F. H Fowler, F Heinze, F Dittman, J. Gessel, C. H. Hamlin. Capt. Slaughter is still at the Fort, but will return to Mankato as soon as the business of the company is settled. Lieut. H Ruegg will also return and prosecute the pork-packing business in company with Mr. Du Buisson. 2d Lieut J. R. Howard, of Chrystal Lake, is on detached service at Sauk Center in the quartermaster's department. He will soon finish up business and return home. Co's D. IMPROVEMENTS IN MANKATO FOR 1865

$100,000 Expended in the Year.

We print below a list of buildings erected in the past season in this city. It is not only indicative of its growing wealth, but it proves that its population is on the rapid increase. It should be understood that many of the buildings are small because erected late in the season to supply the pressing wants of new-comers, and are only built to meet the emergency. The total amount of improvement in buildings foots up $88,730, and side walks on Front St. costing $2,310 will soon be completed.

In addition to this, there are many improvements which may be valued at $100 and are not included in the list, which will swell the amount to at least $100,000. Of shops and factories there are 14, stores 12, additions 8, stables 6, residences 35. One public Hall and one Church, making a total of 77 buildings in one year.

Literary Association.—In pursuance of a call signed by about 80 of our citizens, a meeting was held on Wednesday evening last at Shoemaker's Hall, to organize an association for the purpose of securing to the citizens of Mankato a series of public lectures for the coming winter. The object of the meeting being stated, Judge S Finch was called to the chair and J. J. Thornton appointed secretary. A committee consisting of Judge Brown, Dr Lewis and Mr. Hathaway was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, and the meeting adjourned to Friday evening to hear the report of the committee, and elect officers. This movement is well calculated to subserve the literary wants of our town, and provide a pleasant and instructing recreation for the winter. If proper encouragement is given to the enterprise we shall doubtless succeed in obtaining a course of lectures. The intention is to charge a small admittance fee to every lecture, and employ the best lecturers the money will afford. The receipts will be applied to the payment of the hall and lectures, so that the full benefit of the funds will be realized by patrons of the association. We trust our citizens will not overlook the importance of the undertaking.

We call attention to the card of C. H. Slocum. He has disposed of a portion of his stock, and will devote his time hereafter to the sale of the articles he advertises. His machines and organs are all first class and warranted.

Holiday Presents.—At Christensen's may be found a fine assortment of children's toys for Christmas and New Year. Horses, buggies, guns, horns, swords, soldiers, doll, are among their endless variety of toys. Parents will recollect the place.

Ladies Goods.—H. P. Christensen & Bros have for sale a large assortment of beautiful furs, shawls, nubias, ladies shoes, dress goods trimmings, &c. Drop in and see them.

Albums.—Christensen has a fine assortment of albums, beautiful in style and endless in variety.

Ornaments.—Christensen has received some very pretty mantle ornaments. For sale very low.

—Marks has a splendid lot of Teas, which they are selling cheap.

—Remember that Marks has the best stock of Ladies Dress Goods and Trimmings in the town.

If you want No. 1 goods for pants and coats go to Isaac Marks.

—The place to buy your Clothing is at the Clothing Emporium of Randall & Smith.

—Go to Randall & Smith's to buy your Hats and Caps.

Railroad Accidents.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.

The through train from New York for Washington this morning, while under full speed, ran off the track at a turntable a little below Market street, through the neglect of the switch tender. W. L. Gordon, proprietor of Willard's hotel, Washington, was killed outright, and a boy from New Brunswick, named Brick, so seriously injured that he has since died. G. W. Mosely, a recently arrived foreigner was fatally injured, and Captain Mitchell of the steamer Colyer, and several of his crew slightly.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The following has been received:—The express train on the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad last evening, owing to a misplaced switch two miles east of Morris, Illinois, was thrown from the track and the whole train with the exception of the locomotive and sleeping car, precipitated down the embankment, turning six coaches and two baggage cars upside down. Two coaches were smashed to pieces and several passengers injured; six seriously. None were killed. Mr. Davis and John Curry, of New York are among the injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.

The through train from New York for Washington which left at 8 o'clock this morning, ran into a turn-table on the New Jersey railroad. Two men were killed and several injured, including Dilks, baggage master, who was slightly hurt. Further particulars will be sent.

From Washington.

Washington, Nov. 18.

The Times special says, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to-day decided that a deed or conveyance from a State bank association to a National bank is subject to a stamp duty as in cases of conveyance of real estate from one owner to another. The commissioner decides that such a transfer is a change of ownership.

It is rumored on the street that Judge Otto, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, will vacate his position, to be succeeded by Jesse O. Norton, of Illinois.

The Times' special says among candidates for Sergeant at Arms for the House of Representatives is Colonel Ingraham of New Bedford Mass. Mr. Ordway is also a candidate for re-election.

The Herald's special says President Johnson telegraphed Governor Brownlow of Tennessee yesterday that a pardon of John Overton, a wealthy man of that State, had been revoked.

The Herald's special says the trial of Captain Pettit is progressing before the General Court Martial at Alexandria. Captain Pettit was for a long time the officer in charge of the jail and Provost Marshal's at Alexandria and is charged with cruelties and extortions practiced upon the inmates of the Institution during the later months of the war. The evidence so far fixes a great deal of abuse of power upon the accused. He is alleged to have been so active in the arrest and imprisonment of deserters that he did not confine himself to legitimate cases, but seized citizens of Alexandria and stray soldiers without passes, forcing them by systematic cruelty to confess they were deserters from some imaginary or remote regiment, when he would pocket the customary $30 for their arrest. Men considerably higher in rank are said to be implicated and efforts will be made to keep the investigation from the public.

Sales of medical stores and hospital furniture continue. Six months will be required to clear out the stock. Only moderate prices are demanded by the Government for these articles.

The World's Washington special says Chief Justice Chase will be here tomorrow to preside in the Supreme Court at the December Term. It is not improbable his presence may result in some developments relative to the trial of Jefferson Davis.

The World's Washington special says ex-Senator Johnson of Arkansas is in the city claiming the restoration of his plantations now in the hands of the Freedman's Bureau. It is thought probable that the property will be turned over to him.

Adjutant General Thomas has been ordered on an inspecting tour of colored troops in Louisiana.

The Tribune special says that a large number of women have been appointed in post offices of the South on account of inability of men to take the oath.

The overland mail route to Salt Lake City costs the Government $385,000 annually. Postal receipts $6,200.

John Minor Botts is in the city urging the claim of $10,000 for wood taken off his estate near Brandy Station, Virginia, by our troops. He has already received $4,000. The Quartermaster General considers the demand somewhat extortionate.

The Navy Department has in the yards in Washington, Portsmouth, Boston, New York and Philadelphia, over 1,000 condemned cannon which will be offered for sale by the Ordinance Department soon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Mr. Baker, detective, against whom indictments have been found for robbery, false imprisonment and extortion, Mr. and Mrs. Cobb being complainants, appeared in court this morning and gave bail in the sum of $1,500 for his appearance. The trial is to take place on the 2nd Tuesday in December. F. P. Stanton is his counsel.

The Commercial's special says Secretary McCulloch will soon again exercise the power conferred upon him by the act of March last, and offer to fund all compound interest bearing legal tender notes at par, with accrued interest into 5-20's at a fixed price. There will be no limit as to time for the subscriptions.

Ex Speaker Collax arrived this morning. He will be seranaded this evening.

The Cherokees have deposed John Russ and proclaimed Downing as Chief, with the approbation of our Government.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A. PRINCE & CO." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Muscular System,

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

France and Mexico.

The recent proclamation of the Austrian fillibuster in Mexico, in which he maintains the legitimacy of his invasion on the ground that the presidential term of Juarez had expired, has been eagerly seized upon by the liberal journals of Paris as an argument for the recall of the French troops and the withdrawal of Louis Napoleon from that disgraceful transaction. In fact, after several years of attempted subjugation, the Hapsburg usurper is still compelled to recognise the existence of the president of the republic; and whether Juarez or Ortega fills the presidential chair, the archduke cannot get out of his dilemma, and is obliged to brand his expedition in his own proclamation as an abortive invasion of the rights of a sovereign and independent people.

No doubt on the opening of the French chamber, Louis Napoleon will be made to feel still more forcibly the dissatisfaction that prevails in France on the subject of this ill judged scheme. While on the one hand exposed to this irresistible current of public opinion in Paris, he will on the other hand be subjected to the comments of Congress at Washington and public opinion on this side of the ocean, which has lately been aroused on this question.

It is to be hoped that the emperor of the French, who himself founds his claim to his throne on universal suffrage, will not be forsaken on this momentous occasion by his wonted sagacity, but will gracefully yield, as he knows so well how to yield, to the demands of the popular voice, which are now more than ever the demands of justice. This country is allied by many interesting historical ties and personal sympathies with the French people, and Louis Napoleon is not the ruler to sacrifice everything in the dangerous experiment of the overthrow of an American republic. He cannot fail to remember that the circumstances under which his undertaking was planned no longer exist. The United States was then involved in the woes of civil war, but is now restored to unity, and endowed with mightier claims upon the respect of foreign nations than ever before.

Democratic Philosophy.

A democratic contemporary, speaking of the recent election intelligence, says its receipt reminds him of the story of an old farmer whose little boy came to him one morning and said:

'Father, the old black sheep has bro't a pair of twin lambs.'

'Good that is the most profitable ewe I ever owned.'

'But, Father, one of the lambs is dead.'

'All right, my son, the other will do better.'

'But both of them are dead.'

'Its just as well, the old sheep will get fat now.'

'But, father, the old sheep is dead, too.'

'I am glad of it, she was a troublesome old thing, always the ringleader of the flock.'

The Constitutional Amendment.

So many persons desire to obtain the language of the Constitutional Amendment now before the States for adoption or rejection, that we reproduce it below:

Joint resolution, Jan. 31, 1865. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States; when ratified by three fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the said Constitution, namely:

ART. 13—Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Sect. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Reconstruction Proposals.

The essential conditions of reconstruction as proposed by the President in form of official proclamations or dispatches, or familliar conversations with Southern men, seem to be about as follows:

First—The recognition, in the new State constitutions, of the abolition of slavery.

Second—The declaration that the State ordinance of secession and all the acts, debt and obligations of the State under the rebellion, are not repealed but null and void.

Third—The declaration that the obligations of the national debt must be shared by the South, in common with all the other States.

Fourth—The ratification by the initial State Legislatures of the amendment of the Federal Constitution abolishing and perpetually prohibiting slavery within the limits and jurisdiction of the United States.

Fifth—The concession of the civil rights of citizens, in the courts, etc., to the emancipated blacks.

It is difficult to see why he should not take one step farther, especially while prohibiting illegal voting. For if traitors could be punished with disfranchisement for their treason, the merit of loyalty unto death, it would seem, could and should be rewarded with the full authority, with the rights of citizenship.

How the President Dispatches Business.

The Washington Star says:

Were it not for the relief from daily annoyances, afforded by the cabinet meetings on Tuesdays and Fridays, no physical constitution, however strong, could endure the exhausting labor performed by the President of the United States. There is no office of the government so burdened with responsibility and anxiety, and no man living required to listen to such an endless recital of private griefs, as unsophisticated visitors pour into the President's ear at every private interview. President Johnson has few equals in industry. He rises at six, and until breakfast, which is served at half past seven, looks over the newspapers. Immediately after breakfast he goes to the executive departments and commences the labors of the day.

First there are bundles of letters to be read and replies dictated to the secretaries. Applications for appointments, promotions, discharges from the army and political advice, petitions for executive clemency, and innumerable other subjects, are disposed of, but before half completed, the visitors have commenced to flock into the ante-rooms and swarm on every hand. Former owners of confiscated property pace up and down before the door of the President's room, and females with decided effrontery insist upon being immediately admitted.

After the most important business of the morning has been disposed of, the visitors are admitted one by one, and the President submits himself to the artesian process. This lasts till about one or two, sometimes three o'clock, when the doors of the apartment are opened and the whole crowd admitted.

At such times, Colonel Johnson, son of the President, or Col. Browning, private secretary, stands near the President, and takes memoranda as dictated by him on the cases of the visitors who succeed one another with subjects for executive action, like the dense throng at the post office window. The President's manner at such times is always pleasant, and gives confidence to the most timid. His decisions are quick, and each individual who lays his case before the President learns in a half dozen courteous words the final decision. When all have been listened to and the halls are once more empty, the President turns again to papers on his table, until four o'clock, the hour for dinner. After dinner he returns to his office, and there generally remains until a late hour, seldom retiring before eleven o'clock at night.

In addition to all these duties, it must be remembered that there are distinguished visitors constantly presenting themselves. Representatives of Foreign Courts, Governors, Senators, Generals, and hundreds of lesser magnitude must be received, each having some important business requiring care and deliberation, while over all towers the great and ever present problem of reconstruction. Cabinet days and the Sabbath afford three days of rest from the petty and exhausting annoyances that beset the President, but at no time is he free from the oppressive weight of national difficulties which now more than ever before, obscure the future.

President Johnson and the Freedmen.

The following is an extract from a speech by General Fisk, in New York, on Tuesday, at a meeting in aid of the South:

The President said to me yesterday: "We must follow the indications of Providence. Many say, oh, he was born in the South, and must do justice to the blacks." I saw the great tears roll down his cheeks as he said, I am determined to do justice to these people. [Applause] That good man Lincoln, made them free and I am determined that they shall be. [Applause]. I am resolved they shall have a fair chance, and that justice shall be done them. If the people of the North could know how I am badgered and tempered, if they could know of the difficulties that surround me, they would think I had something to do. And in regard to the suspension of the Freedmen's Bureau, I say it will be discontinued when the people of the South treat the colored people with justice and fairness. Take back your resignation, Sir; go back to your work and do the best you can and I'll stand by you.' [Applause.] I tell you my friends I came away from the interview more than ever convinced of the honest patriotism of Andrew Johnson. [Applause.] And I tell you we must carry him on the pinions of our prayers to God, and stand firmly by him, sustaining and encouraging him in his great and good work.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A Charleston dispatch of the 25th says the assumption of the command of South Carolina by General Sickles in place of Gen. Gillmore, took the people by surprise, they being inclined to think it indicated the displeasure of the President at their short comings in the work of reconstruction and a purpose on the part of the government to reestablish martial law and call another session of the State convention. The people were in great excitement. Gen. Sickles has removed the department headquarters to Charleston.

Only meager returns of the elections for Congressmen had been received. Gen. ex-Gov. Aiken has been chosen in the second district, which includes the city of Charleston, which is looked upon as a defeat of the secessionists.

There had also been in session in Charleston a convention of colored people of the State. The proceedings were marked by a great display of ability, and their resolutions strongly disavowed any insurrectionary designs or feelings of enmity toward their former masters, and declared their only object to be the improvement and elevation of their race. Over twelve hundred negroes left Charleston in a body on the 22d inst. to return to the employment of their former masters on the sea islands, very jovial at their anticipated return to their old homes.

Fenianism in the Kitchen.

From the Kingston Whig, Nov 14.

A 'citizen' writing to the Montreal Herald concerning the circulation of 'Fenian bonds' in Canada, says:

The writer was shown one yesterday in the hands of a servant girl. It was a $4 bond, and most beautifully got up. I am informed that these bills are selling freely in this city and at Quebec, and that there can be no difficulty in disposing of them. Although these bonds will never be redeemed, the infatuated purchasers are of the opinion that it will free Ireland from the yoke of British rule, and they would be willing to sacrifice the last shilling to accomplish this object.

Accounts from the Shenandoah valley represent that the farmers are rapidly recovering from the ravages of the war. New barns are springing up on sites which a few months ago were heaps of smouldering ashes, and fences are everywhere being replaced. Not the least among the evidences of returning prosperity is the revival of numerous lost newspapers, and the appearance of new ones.

Mount Hood.

Mount Hood, one of the highest mountains in the world, has, after a silence of nearly half a century, re-opened her tremendous volcanic batteries. A squad of soldiers, doing picket duty at Fort Vancouver, one beautiful starlight night not long since, were looking toward the lofty summit of the mountain, and a grand conflagration seemed to be in progress. The very heavens were ablaze, and the stars paled their fires before the huge flames that leaped up into the clouds above the mountain. Telegraphic despatches from Oregon tell us that the old volcano has re-opened, and is now vomiting forth lava at a great rate.

HUMOROUS.

In Mississippi a rebel was caught and was accused of being a spy. As usual in such case, there was strong talk of hanging. Before starting on the march the next morning, the question arose, what had been done with the spy? 'They hung him at daybreak this morning,' says some, confidently. 'No, they didn't' said our orderly sergeant, dryly, 'he had a sore throat, and they excused him.'

A Pennsylvania seven year old was reproved lately for playing out-doors with boys; 'she was too big for that now.' But with all imaginable innocence she replied: 'Why, grandma, the bigger we grow the better we like 'em!' Grandma took time to think.

Boy.—'I don't wish to go to school any more this week. I don't think I can stand it.'

Father.—'Why, is my little boy very sick.'

Boy.—'No sir—not quite sick—but I have some very bad spells every day in school.'

Father.—'Bad spells! Why, how, does my child feel when they come on?'

Boy.—'The blood flies into my head, and I feel red in the face, and my knees feel weak.'

Father.—'Is it so? And does the teacher do anything to cure them?'

Boy.—'Oh, he tries to cure me, but he only makes me worse.'

Father.—'What remedy does he use?'

Boy.—'Birch and hickory—puts 'em on snug just below the waistband of my trowsers.'

Father.—'Monstrous! Does he flog you when you have those bad spells?'

Boy.—Yes, sir, he does—and he brings on all these bad spells himself.'

Father.—'Worse and worse! How does he bring them on?'

Boy.—(Edging towards the door.)—'Why, sir, he puts out—such big, long, crooked words, I—cant spell 'em'

[Exit boy in the twinkling of a bed-post.]

An ediotr, in describing the doings of a mad dog, says:—'He bit the cow in the tail, which has since died.' This was very unfortunate for the tail; but we naturally feel some interest to know what became of the cow.

'Thou rainest in this bosom,' as the chap said, when a basin of water was thrown over him by the lady he was serenading.

What freak of nature do we see in the colored people at the South? We see the knee grow [negro] out at the elbow.

A QUAKER JOKE.—K——, the Quaker president of the Pennsylvania railroad, during the confusion and panic of last fall, called upon the W—— Bank, with which the road kept a large regular account, and asked for an extension of part of its paper, falling due in a few days. The bank president replied rather abruptly, in a rough tone to the functionary:

'Mr. K——, your paper must be paid at maturity, we cannot renew it.'

'Very well,' our Quaker friend replied, and left the bank. But he did not let the matter drop here. On leaving the bank he went quietly to the depot and telegraphed to all agents and conductors on the road to reject the bills on the W—— Bank.

In a few hours the trains began to arrive full of the panic, and bringing the news of the distrust of the W—— bank all along the line. Stockholders and depositors flocked to the bank, quaking with panic, inquiring thus—

'What is the matter? Is the bank broke," etc., etc.

A little inquiry by the officers showed that the trouble originated in the rejection of the bills on the railroad.

The president seized his hat and rushing down to the Quaker's office, came bursting in with the inquiry—

'Mr. K——, have you directed the refusal of our currency by your agents?'

'Yes,' was the quiet reply.

'Why is this? It will ruin us.'

'Well friend L——, I supposed the bank was going to fail, as it could not renew a little paper for us this morning.'

It is needless to say Mr. L—— renewed all the Quaker's paper, and enlarged his line of discount, while the magic wires carried all around the road the sedative message:

'The W—— bank is all right. Thee may take all its currency."

'I'm a gone sucker,' as the child said when his mother weaned him.

The new bridge about to be suspended over the Ohio river at Cincinnati, will be the longest structure of the kind in the world, being more than two hundred feet longer than that over the Niagara river, and five hundred feet longer than the Menai bridge, England. Its total span will be one thousand and fifty seven feet.

THE ATTEMPT TO POISON WIRZ.—The Washington Republican has the following: 'Gen. Baker, Chief Government Detective, informs us that the statement that Mrs. Wirz attempted to poison her husband is true; that the published [illegible] is a mistake; that he was made to give up the bitter pill to the [illegible] Gen. Baker; the pill was [illegible] Judge Advocate General H[illegible] minutes after the deed was [illegible] that Mrs. Wirz visited her husband in prison at least seven times, and that Wirz, before his death, made a written confession to him [Baker], which will throw light on the whole subject when published."

One More Unfortunate.

A young woman, Fanny L——, daughter of respectable parents living in Detroit, committed suicide in that city a few days since, while being supported as mistress to a well known [illegible] The Free Press says:

Facts have come to light which [illegible] ate at least a portion of the [illegible] and show that the young [illegible] whom she was apparently so [illegible] had a desire that she should recover [illegible] fallen womanhood, and live for the future a virtuous life, and that on more than one occasion he proved himself to be a benefactor, when others more closely allied had spurned her from their doors. It has appeared also that she, too, has endeavored to reform, but met with disheartening rebuffs at every turn, which in the end drove her to the terrible act of self-destruction. Her expenses were at one time defrayed to a Catholic Seminary at Auburn, N. Y., where she had been promised admission, but on the officials learning that she was not an orphan, they refused to admit her unless accompanied or recommended by her parents. This was not done, and she returned again to Detroit. A effort was made to find her an asylum in Milwaukee, but this also failed. She subsequently went to St. Louis, but after a futile search for employment, again sought her friends in Detroit. She, it is said, made a last appeal to her father to be received into his household, but was rudely denied, when she resolved to end her miserable life, which she did as already stated.

The Status of Free Men of Color in Louisiana.

No class of people have their civil rights better protected by the laws of Louisiana than the free colored people. Even before emancipation, a free colored person had all the civil rights of a white man. In all civil matters he could sue and be sued, give testimony for or against a white man, make contracts, exercise his trade or profession, make wills, or receive legacies. Under this law some eight or ten thousand colored people have lived in this city ever since it was established, and have had full protection of law for their persons and property, happy and prosperous. Many of them have grown rich, and have proved valuable and productive members of society. Now, by the act of emancipation, the whole negro population is placed on a level with the free colored people, on their own race, indeed, on the free basis, and all distinctions as regard to them and the rest of the people, have been abolished by the existing Constitution and laws of Louisiana.—N. O. Picayune.

BAD PAPER.

If our patrons will forgive us for using such miserable paper this week and next, we will secure a better article hereafter. We were disappointed in procuring our usual supdiy from Chicago and are obliged to take "Jack at a pinch," though it costs as much as good paper.

CONGRESS—MESSAGE.

Up to the hour of going to press, late Thursday evening, we have no report of the proceedings of Congress. This is owing to a break in the telegraph line between Trempeleau and La Crosse so that up to yesterday no paper in the State had the slightest news concerning the Congress, or the President's Message. We must either go to press without it or delay the southern mail until Monday. We prefer the former.

CONGRESS—CLASSIFICATION.

The political aspect of the thirty-ninth Congress which convoned on Monday last, standu about as follows:

Without the Southern members who will probably seek admittance, the Senate will stand, Republicans 38, Democrats 11 and the House, Republicans 138, Democrats 33. It is most likely that Southern members if admitted, will act with the democrats, but notwithstanding this fact, the republicans, with the united strength of the northern democrats and Southern members against them, will still have a working majority. The following classification of the House is made by the New York Herald:

Conservative republicans	55
Radical republicans	83
War democrats	30
Copperheads	10
Southern secessionists	54

If this table is correct the republicans will have a majority of 44 over all peradventure, unless upon issues involved during the session, the conservative and radical elements refuse to act harmoniously.

There are members of Congress who always act upon the principle that a part of a loaf is worse than none, and unless a measure embodies exactly their views, no matter how many redeeming features it may contain, it must be defeated at every hazard to the public good. If the republican party must, from the head-strong element of radicalism, or the pusilanimity of conservatism, be divided in its deliberations, it were as well to surrender at once and at discretion to the opposition. In no way can the pol[illegible] [illegible]ies of the party as reflected by the [illegible] the different state conven[illegible] [illegible] a practical fulfill[illegible] [illegible]ugh an united co-opera[illegible] [illegible]an congressmen in the [illegible]national legislation this winter.

RAILROAD OUTLET.

Although Minnesota can boast of two hundred miles of railway, it is still shut out from the eastern world for the want of few miles of railway constructed and operated in the right place. There seems to have been a curious destiny marked out for the State in the manner of opening its railroads with a view to benefit the carrying trade. Of the several roads which are now in process of construction, not one of them, unless we except the Root River Valley Road, has a terminus which will connect us with the eastern market. The Minnesota Central, and Minnesota Valley roads both terminate for the winter at unimportant inland points, within the State limit, nor do either of them even reach the important metropolis of the State, St. Paul. The Winona and St. Peter road has its eastern terminus at Winona, which is between thirty and forty miles from communication by rail, whil the St. Paul and Pacific is emphatically a local institution, having its terminus at St. Paul. The citizens of the Blue Earth country are becoming impatient over the needless interruption in railway communication, and will certainly probe the matter in search of a remedy to this evil. Two methods of communication present themselves. Either the road from Winona to La Crosse must present some guarantee of its early completion or we must look to the Root River Valley road as a means of egress and direct communication. If the road could vary its line of survey and strike the Winona and St. Peter Rail Road at Owatonna, we would then be enabled to reach the railroad at La Crosse. It has been said that the road would never be built, through the Root River Valley, on account of natural obstructions, but it is an accomplished fact, that the company have made commendable progress this season, and will soon have 18 miles in operation. The difficulty attending its construction has been the security of the Winona road, and that city, so long as its construction seemed hopeless, was not possessed of any great interest in the Winona and La Crosse road. We heard an officer of the Winona and St. Peter road in the summer declare that the Root River road could not be built. Hence the indifference to a railroad connection from Winona east. But Winona has discovered that it can and will be built, and is now moving to secure the connection via Winona, touching the La Crosse road a few miles east of that city. It is reported by the Winona Republican that the charter for that piece of road is held by the Winona & St Peter Railroad company, and that a stockholder of that company from mercenary motives is discouraging its construction. Unless the company will build the road next season or surrender the charter to some one who will, we must cast about us and search for an early outlet in the direction of the Root River Rrilroad.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

The Central Republican published at Faribault, has been sold by its proprietor, Orville Brown Esq., to a Mr. McKinstry, late editor of the Censor, Fredonia, N. Y.. The Republican stands among the first of the inland papers of Minnesota, and while under the management of Mr Brown was ably conducted. The citizens of Faribault are fortunate if his successor sustains its present reputation.

TRADE AT THE CAPITAL.

An estimate of the trade of St Paul for the year 1865 is given by the Pioneer from which it appears that the city has enjoyed another season of increased prosperity. The trade of that city for this year in dry goods amounts to one million and a half of dollars. Of this amount eight hundred thousand dollars were wholesaled, and seven hundred thousand retailed. This is an increase of fifty per cent over last year. In the wholesale grocery business the sales amount to three million dollars,—an increase of one million over the wholesale trade of last year. In the boot and shoe trade $175,000 have been wholesaled. In the drug business there are three houses whose united sales amount to two hundred and twenty five thousand dollars. Of hardware the estimate is $450,000. Fur has been bought and sold to the amount of $300,000.

—The President issued a proclamation on Thursday, restoring the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, except in the States of Virginia Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, the District of Columbia, and the territories of New Mexico and Arizona.

—Magruder, rebel general and brother in law of Lord Abinger, formerly the military lion of New York secessionists and copperheads, has been appointed surveyor general of what the Austrian fillibuster in Mexico coolly terms his "colony lands." Magruder is one of the greates drunkards and blockheads of rebeldom, and may Heaven have mercy upon the new settlers in Mexico if he is to control their destinies.

North Carolina Ratifies the Amendment.

Gradually but surely the great work for the abolition of slavery goes on. North Carolina is the last candidate for honors, as the following dispatch indicates:

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 1.

To His Excellency Andrew Johnson. President of the U. S.:

The Legislature has ratified, with but six dissenting voices, the Congressional amendment, abolishing slavery. Five Judges have been elected, all good selections. Three of my personal appointments have been confirmed.

[Signed] W. W. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor.

This makes the twenty fifth state which has ratified the amendment and but two more are necessary to complete the work. It is sure to receive this winter the ratification of Oregon, Iowa and New Jersey, and undoubtedly other Southern States will fellow in their wake.

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA RAILROAD.—We are informed by Dr. Miller, who has just returned from the work, that nine miles of track, extending east and west from Hokah, is now down and a large force is now engaged in putting down the remainder of the iron. The Dr. further informs us that the company have 20 miles of iron, including that already down, that the grading for the same is almost completed and that the ties are on the ground. It is confidently expected that the cars will be running over twenty miles of this road by the first of January next.—Chatfield Democrat.

—A frightful accident occurred at the sash and door factory of Messrs. Houston and Presentt in this place on Saturday afternoon. Mr. James Pierce, who was working the planer, had his left hand drawn into the machine, and literally cut to pieces. He was wearing buckskin gloves at the time, and one of the knives caught the glove near the middle of the back of the hand, which drew his hand forward so that another knife hit it near the wrist joint, cutting through to the skin of the palm below the knuckle joint. The glove and bones of the hand so clogged the machine that it stopped. The belt was instantly run off and it was found impossible to remove the mangled member until the machine was ungeared and the cylinder taken out. Amputation was performed above the wrist joint by Doctor A. W. Giddings.

Mr. Pierce is a young man, and served in an Eastern regiment during the war.—Anoka Union.

We are informed that a new hotel is to be erected in this place next spring, to which we say amen!—Wilton News.

The flood of emigration still continues to pour through this place, notwithstanding the lateness of the season. We noticed ten covered wagons in one company, only a few days since.—Wilton News, Nov. 30.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—On Monday last, Willie, son of T. L. and Elizabeth J. Fishback, of this city, was almost instantly killed by being run over by a wagon. A neighbor of Mr. Fishback's was drawing a load of straw with an ox team near Mr. F's house, where little Willie, in company with another boy about his own age was near when the wagon passed. Willie ran forward of the wheel just in time to be crushed under it—the wheel passing directly over the little fellows bowels. He died in about twenty minutes.—Rochester Post.

BUILDINGS.—It is certain that at least a dozen of first class stone or brick stores will be erected on Bridge street alone next year. Besides these, a project is on foot by eastern capitalists to erect ten fine stone buildings on Washington Avenue, with the intention of establishing wholesale stores. These parties embrace men of wealth, who have had ample experience in eastern cities. The future of Minneapolis is full of promise.—Atlas.

IMPORTANT PROJECT.—Certain well known capitalists are now agitating the project of organizing a company with a large capital, for the purpose of creating a new, as well as a gigantic extention of our almost mammoth Water Power. It is no less an undertaking, than to construct a tunnel from the Falls under the bank of the river, to a point near Bassett's Creek, where that stream enters the river. This tunnel to be made underneath the strata of limestone, causing the main fall. In addition, a canal will be dug along the bank of the river, from Bassett's Creek to the Suspension Bridge, or lower if found necessary. By sinking "shafts" from this canal down into the proposed tunnel, a perpendicular fall is obtained of thirty six feet. Thus a sufficiency of power can be obtained to propel successfully one hundred manufacturing establishments. As the canal needs no greater depth than of the channel of the river opposite, no rock excavation is required. The rock composing the river bottom extends at the same level under the whole of the site of Minneapolis, thus admitting of an extention of water privileges commensurate with the extent of the whole volume of water composing the Mississippi river at this point.

This project, gigantic as it appears, is far from being impracticable, or even involving a great outlay of capital. Messrs. Eastman, Gibson & Co, have demonstrated the entire feasibility of success for tunneling under the sub strata of limestone indicated above.—Atlas.

From Washington.

No credentials of southern congressmen have been received at Washington, except from Virginia and Tennessee; and consequently, no difficulty is expected on Monday on the question of the admission of such members. Judge Warmouth intends to present credentials to the house of his election as "delegate from the territory of Louisiana." A caucus of republican representatives will be held to night, to select candidates for officers of the house. There is said to be no opposition to Mr. Colfax for speaker and but little to Mr. McPherson for clerk. Henry J. Raymond is mentioned in connection with the chairmanship of the committee of ways and means.—Chicago Rep. Dec. 2.

Miller is sole surviving trustee, and $1,205,036,62 on bonds and coupons issued February 1st, 1855.

It is located on the summit of the hill immediately in the rear of the receiving vault or cemetery, and in a few days the casket containing the remains of Mr. Lincoln will be transferred to it, there to remain until the national monument shall be ready to receive the precious dust.

—On Monday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, while the Hon. George W. Julian was waiting in the ladies room of the depot at Richmond, Indiana, he was approached by Solomon Meredith Esq., who, after speaking a few words, struck him (Julian) and partially knocked him down. Meredith then drew a cowhide from under his coat and proceeded to apply it to Mr. Julian, continuing until bystanders interfered. The immediate cause of the difficulty is not known. The parties were recently rivals for a congressional nomination.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 1, 1865.

To Whom it May Concern.

C. H. Slocum of Mankato, is our authorized agent for Blue Earth county to canvass and receive subscriptions for the ST. PAUL PRESS and give receipts in payment of monies therefor.

PRESS PRINTING CO.

NEW MUSIC.—Diapasons, Key Notes, Bertini's Piano Instructor and Root's Companion for the Organ just received and for sale by C. H. Slocum.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.—Capt. N. Dickerson, of South Bend, met with a serious accident last week while engaged at some work on his house. Standing upon a chair he accidentally fell and, and striking a post broke three of his ribs. The wound is quite severe, and will probably disable him for some time.

—Read the advertisement of Wm. H. Temple. It speaks for itself. Temple is one of the heaviest dealers in Clothing in St. Paul. The branch which he has just opened here is conducted by Mr. J. H. Marx, who will be happy to have his goods examined, and thinks he cannot fail to suit the views of buyers.

—We would call attention to the advertisement of Hasking & Co., in another column. They want Agents to sell fine steel engravings, and offer great inducements; they are an old established house and have the reputation of dealing promptly and honestly with their customers. Many of our young men may find it very profitable to employ their spare time in selling for them.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.—We are pleased to call attention to the card of Bohrer, Morrisson & Reeves, wholesale grocers of St. Paul. They succeed the well known firm of Cooley, Carver & Co., and are equally able to supply the trade in their line. Their stock was brought to St Paul by river and will not be subject to high winter freights. Our merchants will find in them a convenient house to draw their varieties from during the winter.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.—We have published for several weeks the prospectus of Harper's Weekly pictorial, which may be seen on our fourth page. We take pleasure in commending it to the public as the best pictorial paper published. Aside from the illustrations, which are always interesting, the reading is always elevating and entertaining, and especially can it be said, that its editorial matter, which deals largely in the affairs of the nation, is always prepared in conformity to sound sense and logic, and patriotic devotion to the Union.

ST. PAUL PRESS.—As the year draws to a close, the St. Paul Press in common with other large publishing establishments renews afresh its promises to the reading public, by issuing its prospectus for the year 1866. We commend our readers to an examination of the prospectus, with the suggestion that no better paper for every department of news can be found in the State. Its promises in the year past have been fully redeemed, and we doubt not will be as fully realized by those who patronize it the coming year.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER—completes Vol. 42d,—contains Lord Palmerston, Napoleon III, Washington, Cæsar, Hon. D. S. Dickenson, Blind Tom, with Portraits, Characters and Biographies. Also "Work for Women," a new History of Civilization; Destiny of America, Beauty, Vigor and Development; Symmetry of Character; Phrenology in the Pulpit; Animal Types of Human Physiognomy; Gymnastics for men, women, and children; including Ethnology, Physiology, Phrenology, Physiognomy and Psychology—only 20 cents, or $2 00 a year. New volume begins with Jan No. Address FOWLER & WELLS 389 BROADWAY New York.

THANKSGIVING.—The day was bright clear and wintry. According to announcement, our citizens met in goodly numbers at the Presbyterian Church and listened to an excellent address. The music was quite good if we except Old Hundred, which was trotted through on the double quick, a gait quite unsuitable for that antiquated melody. Court adjourned to observe the day. Turkeys were made sensible of a peculiar era in their existence. A dance was the evening programme at Shoemaker's Hall. Every body except the printers of the UNION office, whose work is never done, seemed to make the day one of recreation and joy.

DISTRICT COURT.—Court convened on Tuesday. The Grand Jury found an indictment against Mary Kaufman for receiving stolen goods, and were discharged Wednesday evening. The case of Fall vs Atwell was dismissed. Anthony Case, vs E. P. Evans et. al., dismissed. T. D. Warren vs F. E. Van Brunt et. al. to be tried by the court. B. Lassalem vs W. Weston. De Witt Clinton Atwell vs G. Atwell et al. Application of A. E. Atwell vs estate of G. W. Atwell, Walter Atwell vs same, A. Wood vs W. B. Bows et al. Village of Mankato vs C. B. Thurston et al. Albert Sturgis et al vs E. H. Smith. John Shaubut vs O. Taylor, all continued.

A. T. Noble vs G. Ruble was tried by jury. Verdict for defendant under special instructions from the court.

The case of the State vs. A. G. Lagrange for shooting Graves at Garden City last January, will be tried to-day.

Tom. McCarty who assaulted Mr. Tyner at the Washington Hotel a few weeks since, was discharged because not arraigned on a proper charge.

—Why is it that people who have used Morse's Expectorant cannot be prevailed on to use no other Cough Medicine. It is because there is no other that is a sure cure, and no other cures so quickly.

GOOD TEMPLARS LODGE.—The Rev. C. Gregg, Grand Worthy Chief Templer of the State, on Saturday evening last, at the City Hall, organized a Good Templars Lodge of thirty one members. An election of officers took place resulting in the choice of the following ladies and gentlemen.

W. C. T.—Benj. Hotaling.
W. V. T.—Mrs. M. S. Wilkenson.
P. W. C. T.—Rev. T. Marshall.
W. T.—Mrs. E. D. B. Porter.
W. S.—J. W. Mitchell.
W. F. S.—B. P. Sibley.
W. M.—W. Y. Smith.
W. C.—Rev. David Tice.
W. A. S.—Miss Sarah Wickersham.
W. D. M.—Miss Lucy McKinney.
W. I. G.—Miss Hanna Tyner.
W. O. G.—L. A. Meacham.
W. R. H. S.—Miss Maggie Todd.
W. L. H. S.—Miss Clara McKinney.

Hon. M. S. Wilkinson was appointed Lodge Deputy for this District.

If this organization will bring forth such results as are intended thereby, to wit, the abatement of intemperate habits in Mankato, many of our citizens will have occasion to rejoice. To eradicate an evil it must first be exposed, and this step once taken, it will be known where the remedy may be successfully applied. Mankato presents a wide field of usefulness to the movers of the temperance cause. It is a fact as patent as that Mankato has an existance, that many of our business men are too fond of the flowing bowl. If the breaks are not soon applied, they will become confirmed enemies to themselves and to the circle of their influence. It may be urged that it is none of our business what abuse another heaps upon himself. We grant, that if a man locks himself from public view, gets drunk in his own dwelling, and sobers off without coming in contact with society, he is beyond our reach. But when the effect of strong drink is apparent on the streets, in public halls, and assemblages, it becomes a subject of public discussion, and we for one must pronounce our deprecation in terms not to be misunderstood. We hope the organization will be able to effect a change for the better. Many prominent ladies as well as gentlemen are participating in the movement which fact is an omen of good. Another meeting of the Lodge will be held Monday evening next, at the City Hall.

LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—The first lecture before this association was delivered on Tuesday evening last, at Shoemaker's Hall, by the Rev. Thomas Marshall of this city. The Hall was crowded with a very respectable and appreciative audience, which, to the association, is a flattering omen of the success of their undertaking. Hand bills were circulated in the afternoon of Tuesday stating that Mr. Brisbin having disappointed the society, a FREE lecture would be given by Mr. Marshall. Our opinion is that the lecture of Mr. Marshall would have given abundant satisfaction had the admittance fee been collected. The lecture was the best effort we have as yet been permitted to hear from that gentleman. It was replete with beautiful passages, nicely rounded periods, sound sense, pointed thrusts, and practical and moral injunctions to all. The delivery was materially relieved from a monotone which sometimes characterizes Mr Marshall's sermons. It is with pride, however, that we record the marked improvement of home talent, and we are of those who believe 'ere long, that the peers of Mr Marshall will be found among those who are justly celebrated for literary attainments.

SORGHUM RAISING.

Testimony of one of our Citizens.

EDITOR UNION:—I will give you a statement taken from my pocket note book, which perhaps will be of some interest to Sorghum raisers, next season:

RELATIVE YIELD OF THREE VARIETY OF CANE.

Mr. Wm. H. Miller and myself took 7½ acres of cane to manufacture into syrup, for Mr Ira Hawley, of Le Hillier, from which we obtained the following results:

THE HONEY DEW

which might more properly have been called Poor Do, yielded 60 gallons of syrup from 1½ acres or 40 gallons per acre. The Sacrometer stood in the juice obtained from this variety at 7 degrees and gave 1 gal of syrup to 9 gal of juice. About half of the canes of this variety had no juice in them at all, and greatly injured the syrup of the good canes.

THE OTEHEITEN

included about 5 acres and gave us 468 gallons of syrup or 93 3-5 gallons (2⅓ bbl) per acre. The Sacrometer stood in the juice at 9 degrees giving us 1 gal of syrup to 7½ gallons of juice.

THE QUAKER

gave us 80 gallons of syrup from 13-16 of an acre or about 96 gallons per acre. The Sacrometer stood at 3 degrees in the juice of this variety, but thickened up before crushing so that we obtained 1 gallon of syrup to 8 gallons of juice.

RECAPITULATION.

Honey Dew,	1½ acres.	60 gal.	40 gal per acre.
Oteheiten,	5 "	468 "	93 3-5 " "
Quaker	1 "	80 "	96 " " "
Total,	7½ "	628	average 81 1-15.

HARVESTING.

At Mr. Hawley's suggestion we harvested the entire crop and drew it to the mill, ricked it up in ricks of about four feet high each, and covered the ricks with hay before we began to crush. When hands can be obtained at reasonable rates, it would perhaps be better to harvest and crush the cane the same. Although, with good sheds, (so that the cane can be kept perfectly dry,) it may be secured in this way much longer than in the field.

THE MILL.

Mr. Hawley has one of Hedge's verticle three roller mills, with Clark's improved fluted feeder; the capacity of the mill is about 80 gallons of syrup in ten hours when the cane is good.

THE WORKS.

Mr. Hawley has constructed his works with a view to convenience. The pans are the common flat pan, (Cook's evaporator being rejected on trial.) One arch to each pan, constituting four arches with four pans. These arches are double, each double arch has one flue, and is provided with a crane, pulley and windlass, by means of which the pans are lifted off and on the arches. The pans will contain from 50 to 60 gallons of juice each, and will evaporate two barrels of syrup per day. The syrup is all boiled down to 230 degrees Farenheit, when it is drawn off into a large tin bucket, holding about 12 gallons, and carried to the coolers (zinc pans) holding about the same as the bucket. It is left in these coolers until cool, skimmed and drawn off by means of tin troughs into the barrels. These works, with some slight improvements, can be managed with the ease and certainty of the most perfect machinery.

There are a number of other works near Mankato, each of which, from 12 to 20 barrels of syrup have been manufactured this fall. Making a rough guess, (in common phrase) there certainly has been not less than 10,000 gallons or 250 barrels of syrup manufactured in this county this fall. Had the cane yielded as well as it did last season, not less than 20,000 gallons would have been made. As it is we have made about 1 gallon of syrup for each man woman and child in the county.

Yours truly,
G. DARR.

Crime in Nashville.

Outlawry in the suburbs of Nashville culminated in a terrible transaction last week Wednesday night, since when the military and civil officers and the citizens have united in the most comprehensive measures for protection. On that (Wednesday) evening Mr. Wm. Heffernan, Street Contractor, was driving home—some three miles in the suburbs,—with his wife, daughter and son-in-law, when he was set upon by five men. Determined to sell his life as dearly as possible, he jumped from the wagon, and was in the act of firing upon the villains when a ball entered his brain. Mr. Tracy, his son-in law, fired with better success, and shot one of the men through the breast. The horses ran, and meanwhile the ruffians escaped with their wounded comrade.

A faithful old negro woman followed them, however, and gave information which led to the arrest of the wounded man, who gives his name as Crotts, from near Rochester, N. Y. Three others were arrested upon information extorted from him—Thomas Closky, of Illinois, Jimmy Lysaught, of Augusta, Ga., and Joseph Jones—all employed in a government corral. It is believed that these corrals, by furnishing employment and refuge to the most abandoned characters, have been the fruitful source from whence has emanated the almost daily murders and robberies of the past few months. Whatever can be done by the military authorities, assisted by a large police force and mounted patrols, will be done to give security to the distracted city of Nashville. And it is high time for reform.

What it Costs to Live in New York.

It isn't a very easy matter to live in style here just now. What with high rents, high coal, high provisions etc., $5 000 a year won't make you half fashionable; and, if you want a box at the opera, suppers at the Maison doree, with a couple of fast horses for the Central Park, $10 000 won't leave much of a surplus when the year is over. Of course if one wants to be leader of the fashion, $20 000 will disappear with amazing swiftness; but, with $900,000,000 in paper floating around, the aristocracy can stand even that. If you want to know what New Yorkers pay for furnished houses, I will give a few items. The following are advertised: House on Twenty eighth street, near Fifth avenue, furnished, $650 per month; house on Forty-fourth street, furnished, $600 per month; large houses on Fifth avenue, furnished, $1,200 per month; house on Union square, furnished, $1,000 per month. When a man pays $12 000 a year for a residence he may be fairly suspected of shoddy antecedents; but I suppose that is no affair of the public's. Although New York is the market of the country, it is about the most expensive place for a family living on this continent, and all who can live elsewhere should give it a wide berth.

FLORIDA.

The Constitutional Convention admit Negro Testimony before the Courts.

The following is the language of the ordinance, which passed by a vote of 29 to 9:

"In all criminal proceedings founded upon injury to a colored person, and in cases affecting the rights or remedies of colored persons, no person shall be incompetent to testify as a witness on account of color. In all other cases the testimony of colored persons shall be excluded, unless made competent by future legislation. The jury shall judge of the credibility of the testimony."

This secures to the colored people the right to testify in all cases where the person or property of such is involved, whether the action is between a white man and a black man or between two blacks, but denies them the right of testifying in cases where the interests of whites only are involved. As simple justice to the blacks is all that is demanded, the action of the convention is expected to give satisfaction to the friends of the administration and to the world at large. The granting of this privilege to the freedmen was not effected without a long struggle. It was first submitted to a regular committee, and afterwards a special committee of 13 was added, composed of the best talent in the convention, who should prepare and present to the convention an ordinance which would give satisfaction to all without a long debate.

The Mississippi Imbroglio.

Major General Thomas left here yesterday morning for Mississippi, whither he has been ordered by the President to settle the difficulty between the Provisional Governor Sharkey and the so called Governor of that abominable State. Gov Sharkey will be sustained by the President, nor will the election of Humphreys be recognized unless Congress shall admit the delegation of that State. Recent developments show clearly that Mississippi is disposed to act perfidiously, and she should accordingly be reined in with a strong hand. For the present no attention will be paid to the late election, and Governor Sharkey will continue to act as the executive. Whether he be the proper person for that position is a matter of serious doubt. If General Thomas could be spared from Tennessee he would be a much better person to quell the disloyal spirit of that refractory State.—Knoxville Whig.

In the suit of Geo B. Beech against his wife for divorce in Chicago, the defendant has withdrawn her answer. The bill is therefore taken pro confesso, and referred to a master to report. Mrs. Beech, it will be recollected, shot her husband, in the neck with a pistol, because he would not withdraw the bill.

A striking curiosity has lately been discovered in Nevada Territory. It is a mountain of rock salt, situated about twenty miles from Meadow Valley, and only eighteen miles from the head of navigation on the Colorado river. It rises abruptly from the plain, about 400 feet in height, a mountain of pure, sparkling crystalized salt.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate, but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell,) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.
GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A PRINCE & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE
PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,
For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,
	Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—
FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,
In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases."

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,
For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,
AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.
NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,
An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30 000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works:

Letter from Wirz to the President.

The following letter, without date or signature, was written by Wirz's own hand to President Johnson, four days before his execution; but his counsel, Mr. Schade, deemed it unadvisable to present it:

"With a trembling hand, with a heart filled with the most conflicting emotions, and with a spirit hopeful one moment and despairing the next, I have taken the liberty of addressing you. When I consider your exalted position; when I think for a moment that in your hand rests the weal or woe of millions—yea, the peace of the world—well may I pause and call to my aid courage to lay before you my humble petition. I have heard you spoken of as a man willing and ready at all times and under all circumstances to do justice, and that no man, however humble he may be, need fear to approach you, and therefore I have come to the conclusion that you will allow me the same privilege as is extended to hundreds and thousands of all. It is not my desire or intention to enter into an argument of the merits of my case. In your hands, if I am rightly informed, are all the records and evidences bearing upon this point, and it would be presumption upon my part to say one word about it. There is only one thing I ask and it is expressed in a few words; pass your sentence. For six weary months I have been a prisoner; for six months my name has been in the mouth of every one; by thousands I am considered a monster of cruelty; a wretch that ought not to polute the earth any longer. Truly, when I pass in my mind over the testimony given, I sometimes doubt my own existence. I doubt that I am the Captain Wirz spoken of. I doubt that such a man ever lived such as he is said to be, and I am inclined to call upon the mountains to fall upon and bury me and my shame. But oh! sir, while I wring my hands in mute and hopeless despair, there speaks a small but unmistakable voice within me that says, 'Console thyself. Thou knowest thy innocence. Fear not. If men hold thee guilty, God does not; and a new life will prevade your being.' Such has been the state of my mind for weeks and months, and no punishment that human ingenuity can inflict could increase my distress. The pangs of death are short and therefore I humbly pray that you will pass your sentence without delay. Give me death or liberty. The one I do not fear; the other I crave. If you believe me guilty of the terrible charges that have been heaped upon me, deliver me to the executioner. If not guilty in your estimation, restore me to liberty and life. I breathe, sleep, eat; but it is only the mechanical functions I perform and nothing more. Whatever you decide I shall accept. If condemned to to death, I shall suffer without a murmer. If restored to liberty, I will thank and bless you for it.

I would not convey the idea to your mind, Mr. President, that I court death. Life is sweet. However lowly and humble man's station may be, he clings to life. His soul is filled with awe when he contemplates the future, that unknown land where the judgment is before which he will have to give an account of his words, thoughts and deeds. Well may I remember that I have erred like all other human beings, but of those things I may perhaps suffer a violent death I am not guilty, and God judge me. I have said all I wish to say. Excuse my boldness in addressing you, but I could not help it. I cannot bear this suspense much longer. May God bless you and be with you. Your task is a great and fearful one. In life or death I shall pray for you and for the prosperity of the country in which I have passed my happiest and my darkest days."

The Assault on Hon. George W. Julian.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of the 1st instant, contains the following account of General Sol. Meredith's assault on Hon. G. W. Julian, member of Congress from Ind.

Mr. Julian had, during the day, been informed that a conspiracy was on foot to assail him, but having met Meredith fifty times or more since the close of the war, when he manifested no disposition to attack him, and not being aware of any fresh cause of complaint by Meredith against him, he disregarded the warning as he had done many similar ones in the past few months. Mr. Julian has been in feeble health during a considerable part of the past summer and autumn, and never carries weapons. Meredith found him with his shawl around his shoulder and tucked under his elbow, with a bundle under his left arm and a cane hooked over the same. Approaching him in a pleasant manner, Meredith asked if he had requested the Agent of the Associated Press to publish a dispatch stating that he (Meredith) had been relieved from command at Paducah on account of sympathy with traitors. Mr. Julian replied in the negative, as he did in reply to a question whether he had made a similar request of the editor of the National Republican. Therenpon Meredith struck him one or more heavy blows over the head with a piece of iron held in his hand, and, seizing him by the shoulders, he threw him upon the floor, which he did the more readily from the fact that Mr. Julian has a lame knee and was encumbered by his shawl and the bundle under his arm. Falling under the shelf of the ticket window, with the ends of the shawl under his body, Mr. Julian's arms or rather his elbows, were pinioned to the floor, while he was stunned by the wounds upon his head, one of which was bleeding freely. Meredith proceeded to inflict a dozen or more blows upon his head and face, plucking out a handful or more of hair, which was afterwards picked up by a bystander. Finally, he drew a heavy whip or cowhide, and continued to beat Mr. Julian till he was tired or willing to stop. During all this time the cowardly brutes around him were cheering him on, crying, 'Give it to him!' 'Flog the damned abolitionist!' 'Give him what he deserves!' 'Hands off!' 'Let them two fight it out,' etc. Mr Julian was not making, and could not make any resistance. Two or three of his friends were present, namely: Judge Johnson, of this county, and Mr. Cheney, of Randolph, neither of them men of any physical strength. Mr. Roswell Forkner, of Centreville, hitherto, I believe, a friend of Meredith, but a gentleman and a friend of fair play, united with the other two in repeated efforts to relieve Mr. Julian, all of which were defeated by the confederated bullies who had come for that purpose, and who hurled them violently back, threatening them with a flogging if they persisted. They did persist to the last, however, and one of them implored a prominent lawyer of Richmond, who was looking on with a complacent and serene countenance, to 'Come for God's sake, and assist in stopping this disgraceful outrage.' With undisturbed equanimity the prominent attorney replied: It was no use! They were determined to flog Julian! Nothing could be done!' &c., &c., and refused to show, by voice or gesture, his disapprobation of the proceeding. And so the murderous, cowardly and devilish work went on. Outsiders did not as you were informed, succeed in their attempts to interfere.

An Afflicted Editor.

The Charlottesville, Virginia, Chronicle has grown desperate over the learning that surrounds him and "takes on" thus:

Charlottesville is fairly entitled to be called the literary center of the South. There is first, the University of Virginia with learned professors on all sorts of subjects. Then we have two large female seminaries, where young ladies learn thirty or forty things ending in—ology. Then we have some half dozen first class academies for boys. Then several select schools. Then a number of schools for the English branches. And then the whole negro population, of all sexes and ages, is repeating from morning till night, a b—ab; e b—eb; i b—ib; c-a t—cat; d-o g—dog; o n-p—; etc,—through all the varieties of the lesson in orthography. There are some four or five colored schools, and little negro chaps darken every door with primers in their hands. If we pass a blacksmith shop, we hear a-b—ab; if we peep into a shoemakers' shop it is a-b—ab; if we pass a negro church in the suburbs of town, we hear the sound of a-b—ab; if the cook goes out to suckle her infant, it is a-b—ab; Jerry blacks boots, saying, with rapid strokes a-b—ab; the whole air is resonant with a-b—ab. The little yellow boy who sleeps in our chamber awoke us the other night, muttering a b—ab Mr. Greeley has stirred up thunder here. If you send a little negro boy on an errand, he is spelling everything he meets in one syllable. The little white boys look at them wonderingly, and try to cork them. In a month or so we expect to issue an evening edition of the Chronicle in monosylables, to increase our circulation—perhaps a pictorial with tubs and spades, and ants and cows, and owls and bats—like the primers.

Pulpit Ingenuity.

A preacher in the neighborhood of Blackfriars, London, not undeservedly popular, had just finished an exhortation, strongly recommending the liberal support of a certain very meritorious institution. The congregation was very numerous, and the chapel crowded to excess. The discourse being finished the plate was about to be handed round to the respective pews, when the preacher made this short address to the congregation: "From the sympathy I have witnessed in your countenances, and the strict attention you have honored me with, there is only one thing I am afraid of; that some of you may feel inclined to give too much; now it is my duty to inform you that justice, though not so pleasant, should always be a prior virtue to generosity; therefore, as you will be immediately waited upon in your respective pews, I wish to have it thoroughly understood, that no person will think of putting anything into the plate who cannot pay his debts." I need not add that this produced an overflowing collection.

—Ex Governor Clark of Mississippi, who was a conspicuous rebel, lately wrote a very temperate reply to an invitation to address the legislature of that state, in which he said of the national flag: "With all of you, I marched under that flag in a foreign land, and it was victorious. With all of you I marched against it, and it was victorious. It again waves over us, is our flag, and may it ever be victorious." Amen!

—General Sterling Price, now in Mexico, has forwarded to Washington an application for permission to return to the United States, and also for pardon. Eustis, John Slidell's secretary, who is now in Europe, has also applied for pardon; and it is rumored that Mason, the rebel agent, has done the same thing. Slidell declares that he will never make such an application.

A SURPRISE TO A WOOD THIEF.—A gentlemen living in Terra Haute, whose stove wood melted away faster than was warranted by the mildness of the weather, charged a fine looking stick with a few ounces of powder, and left it on the pile. The Express thus relates the sequel:

Wednesday afternoon an explosion was heard in a house near by, and a kitchen window was spared no panes. On going to the spot a sight might have been seen. The stove had joined a peace conference, a kettle of pork and cabbage shot up through the roof like an arrow A dish of apples stewing on the stove gave the ceiling the appearance of a map of California. A cat that was sleeping under the stove went through the broken window as though after the devil or doctor. The cat has not been heard from since, but a smell of burnt hair prevades that house very thoroughly. A flat iron was hoisted into a pan of dough—a chair lost three legs, the wood-box looks sick, while the roof of the house looks like a bursted apple dumpling.

THESE TIMES.—An eastern correspondent says:

"I was lately in a large jewelry establishment when a young gentleman and wife came in and began to look at some very expensive articles of ornament. After they had purchased what they wished, and were apparently on the point of leaving, the lady spied some beautiful ear-rings and asked the clerk to let her look at them.

"Ain't they cunning? Ain't they cunning?" said she. "Husband get em for me, come. How much are they I wonder?"

"Only $2,500" quietly remarked the clerk.

"Is that all?" replied the lady. "Then

COTTON IN ILLINOIS.—The Illinois cotton crop is the largest ever raised in the State, and is rarely excelled in what are known as the cotton States. The product per acre this year will range from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds seed cotton. It is estimated that Jackson county alone will average 10,000 bales, while Perry, Williamson, Saline and Union counties will more than double this amount. The fall weather has been peculiarly favorable for maturing and opening the bolls. There has been no killing frost yet, and all the late bolls are maturing and will be as good as the early ones, thus making the yield very extraordinary.

INDICATION OF OIL.—We are informed by several reliable gentlemen, that oil has been discovered in the springs at the foot of the bluff on the opposite side of the river. It has been tested and in all respects is pronounced equal to the crude oil of Pensylvania. There is a plan proposed for sinking a shaft in case the necessary capital can be obtained.—St. Peter Tribune.

LAND SALES.—During the month of November, 84 entries under the Homestead Act were made at the St. Peter Land Office. These entries cover an area of 8,145 98 acres. 5,669 86 acres have been purchased—making the total number of acres entered in November, 13,815 84. About 8,000 acres were claimed for pre-emption.—St. Peter Tribune.

The revolutionists in Peru have triumphed. They captured Lima on the 6th ultimo, and obtained possession of Callao and the national fleet a day or two subsequently. The president took refuge on a British man of war, and proceeded to Panama. Canzeco, the revolutionary leader, is now enstalled as head of the government. It is considered certain that the new government will repudiate the treaty with Spain, and make common cause with Chili. The Spanish Admiral Pareja has announced that the Chilian blockade is confined to six principal ports. He continues to threaten bombardment, but has not as yet carried his menance into effect.

Congress—Second Day.

In the Senate, on Tuesday, the house resolution on reconstruction was received, and went over under the rules. Bills were introduced for the survey and sales of mineral lands; to define the jurisdiction of the United States courts in California, Nevada, and Oregon; in relation to the qualification of jurors in cases of treason; and repealing all laws in the District of Columbia and the territories making distinctions on account of color. The credentials of Messrs. Sharkey and Alcorn, senators elect from Mississippi, was presented and laid upon the table.

In the house, memorials were presented in behalf of the parties contesting the seats of James Brooks, of New York city, and R. C. Trowbridge, of the 5th district of Michigan. The Rev. Dr. Boynton, Congregationalist, was elected chaplain. Resolutions were adopted reviving the special committee on a uniform bankrupt law; instructing inquiry into the expediency of abolishing the office of provost martial general; delaring that the public debt, principal and interest, ought to and must be paid; and providing for a committee, to join a committee from the senate, to consider and report what token of respect congress should adopt to express the deep sensibility of the nation on the event of the decease of President Lincoln. A bill was introduced to extend the suffrage in the district of Columbia. The house resolved to adjourn from to day until next Monday.

The senate committees are announced. Mr. Fessenden is chairman of the committee on finance. Gov. Morgan is transferred to the finance committee from the committee on military affairs. Mr Dixson is chairman of the postal

THE MANKATO UNION.

Mankato, Minn., Friday Dec., 15, 1865

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

REDUCTION OF CURRENCY EARNESTLY RECOMMENDED.

Defense of the Reconstruction Measures.

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives:

To express gratitude to God, in the name of the people, for the preservation of the United States, is my first duty in addressing you.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN.

Our thoughts next revert to the death of the late President, by an act of parricidal treason. The grief of the nation is still fresh. It find some solace in the consideration that he lived to enjoy the highest proof of its confidence by entering on the renewed term of the chief magistracy to which he had been elected; that he brought the civil war substantially to a close; that his loss was deplored in all parts of the Union; and that foreign nations have rendered justice to his memory. His removal cast upon me a heavier weight of cares than ever devolved upon any one of his predecessors.

SUPPORT OF ALL DEPARTMENTS DESIRED.

To fulfil my trust I need the support and confidence of all who are associated with me in the various Departments of the Government, and the support and confidence of the people. There is but one way in which I can hope to gain their necessary support, and it is to state with frankness the principles which guide my conduct, and their application to the present state of affairs, well aware that the efficacy of my labors will in a great measure depend on your and their undivided approbation.

PERPETUITY OF THE UNION.

The Union of the United States of America was intended by its authors to last as long as the States themselves shall last.

"The Union must be perpetual," were Confederation; "to form a States," is the was never

tainly the government of the United States is a limited government, and so is every State government a limited government. With us this idea of limitation spreads through every form of administration, general, State and municipal, and rests on the great distinguishing principle of the recognition of the rights of man.

The ancient republics absorbed the individual in the State, prescribed his religion and controlled his activity. The American system rests on the assertion of the equal rights of every man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; to freedom of conscience, to the culture and exercise of all his faculties. As a consequence the State Government is limited as to the general Government, in the interests of the Union, as to the individual citizens in the interests of freedom.

States, with proper limitations of power are essential to the existence of the Constitution of the United States. At the very commencement, when we assumed a place among the powers of the earth, the Declaration of Independence was adopted by the States; so, also were the Articles of Confederation, and when the people of the United States ordained and established the Constitution it was the assent of the States one by one which gave it vitality. In the event, too, of any amendment to the Constitution, the proposition of Congress needs the confirmation of the States; without the States one great branch of the Legislative Government would be wanting; and if we look beyond the letter of the Constitution, to the character of our country, its capacity for comprehending within its jurisdiction a vast continental empire, is due to the system of States. The best security for the perpetual existence of the States is the supreme authority of the Constitution of the United States.

FOREGOING PRINCIPLES APPLIED TO RECONSTRUCTION.

I have thus explained my views of the mutual relations of the Constitution and the States, because they unfold the principles on which I have sought to solve the momentous questions and overcome the appalling difficulties that met me at the very commencement of my administration. It has been my steadfast object to escape from the sway of momentary passions, and to derive a healing policy from the fundamental and unchanged principles of the Constitution. I found the States suffering from such as for myself I could unless on occasions of great emer

y, consent to exercise. The wilful exercise of such powers, if continued through a period of years, would have endangered the purity of the general administration, and the liberties of the States which remained loyal. Besides, the policy military rule over a conquered territory would have implied that the States whose inhabitants may have taken part in the rebellion had, by the act of those inhabitants ceased to exist. But the true theory is that all pretended acts of secession were from the first null and void. The States cannot commit treason nor screen the individual citizen who may have committed treason, any more than they can make valid treaties to engage in lawful commerce with any foreign power.

The States attempting to secede placed themselves in a condition where their vitality was impaired but not extinguished, their functions suspended but not destroyed. But if any State neglects or refuses to perform its offices, there is more need that the general government should maintain all its authority, and as soon practicable resume the exercise of all its functions. On this principle I have acted, and have gradually and quietly, and by almost imperceptible steps, sought to restore the rightful energy of the general government and of the States.

PROCESS OF RECONSTRUCTION.

To that end Provisional Governors have been appointed for the States, conventions called, governors elected, legislatures assembled and senators and representatives chosen to the Congress of United States. At the same time the courts of the United States as far as could be done have been re-opened so that the laws of the United States may be enforced through their agency. The blockade has been removed and the custom houses re established in ports of entry so that the revenue of the United States may be collected. The post office department renews its ceaseless activity and the general government is thereby enabled to communicate promptly with its officers and agents. The courts bring security to persons and property. The opening of the ports invites the restoration of industry and commerce. The post office renews the facilities of social intercourse and of business.

And is it not happy for us all, the restoration of each one of these functions of the general government brings with it a blessing to the States over which they are extended? Is it not a sure promise of harmony and renewed attachment to the Union, that, after all that has happened, the return of the general government is known only as a benefice? I know very well that this policy is attended with some risk; that for its success it requires at least the acquiescence of the States which it concerns; that it implies an invitation to those States by renewing their allegiance to the United States to resume their functions as States of the Union, but it is a risk that must be taken.

PARDONING POWER.

In the choice of difficulties, it is the smallest risk, and to diminish and if possible to remove all difficulties, I have felt it incumbent on me to assert one other power of the general government, the power of pardon. As no State can throw a defense over the crime of treason, the power of pardon is exclusively vested in the executive government of the United States. In exercising that power, I have taken every precaution to connect it with the clearest recognition of the binding force of the laws of the United States, and an unqualified acknowledgment of the great social change in regard to slavery which has grown out of the war.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The next step which I have taken to restore the Constitutional relation of the States, has been an invitation to them to participate in the high office of amending the Constitution,

Every patriot must wish for a general amnesty at the earliest epoch consistent with public safety. For this great end there is need of a concurrence of all opinions, and the spirit of mutual conciliation. All parties in the late terrible conflict must work together in harmony,

It is not enough to ask in the name of the whole people, on one side, that the plan of restoration shall proceed in con unity with a willingness to cast the ts of the past into oblivion, and the other, the evidence of sin-

much to ask of the w resuming their amily of the Union to give this pledge of perpetual loyalty and peace.

Until it is done, the past, however much we may desire it, will not be forgotten. The adoption of the amendment reunites us beyond all power of disruption. It heals the wound that is still imperfectly closed. It removes slavery, the element which has so long perplexed and divided the country It makes of us once more a united people, renewed and strengthened bound more than ever to mutual affection and support.

WHEN STATES TO RESUME THEIR PLACES.

The amendment to the Constitution being adopted, it would remain for the States whose powers have been so long in abeyance to resume their places in the two branches of the national legislature, and thereby complete the work of restoration. Here it is for you, fellow-citizens of the Senate, and for you, fellow-citizens of the House of Representatives, to judge, each of you, for yourselves, of the election returns and qualifications of your own members.

COURTS IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

The full assertion of the powers of the general government requires the holding of circuit courts of the United States within the districts where their authority has been interrupted. In the present posture of our public affairs strong objections have been urged to holding these courts in any of the States where the rebellion has existed, and it was ascertained by inquiry that the circuit court of the United States would not be held within the district of Virginia during the autumn or winter, nor until Congress should have an opportunity to consider and act on the whole subject. To your consideration the restoration of this branch of the civil authority of the United States is therefore necessarily referred, with the hope that early provisions will be made for the resumption of all its functions.

TREASON TRIALS.

It is manifest that treason most flagrant in its character has been committed. Persons who are charged with its commission should have fair and impartial trials in the highest civil tribunals of the country. In addition, that the Constitution and the laws may be fully vindicated and the truth clearly established and affirmed, that treason is a crime, that traitors should should be punished and the offense made infamous, and at the same time that the question may be judicialy settled, finally and forever, that no State of its own will will have the right to renounce its place in its place in the Union.

FREEDMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

The relations of the General Government towards the four millions of inhabitants whom the war has called into freedom, have engaged most serious consideration. On the propriety of making the freedmen electors by the proclamation of the Executive, I took for my counsel the Constitution itself, the interpretation of that instrument by its authors and their contemporaries, and recent legislation by Congress. When at the first movement towards independence the Congress of the United States instructed the several States to institute governments of their own, they left each State to decide for itself conditions for the enjoyment of the elective franchise.

During the period of the Confederacy there continued to exist a very great diversity of the qualifications of electors in the several States, and even within a State a distinction of qualifications prevailed with regard to officers who were to be chosen. The constitution of the United States recognizes these diverities when it enjoins that in the choice of members of the House of Represntatives of the United States the electors in each State shall have qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

After the formation of the Constitution it remained as before. The uniform usage for each State to enlarge the body of its electors according to its own judgement, and under this system one State after another has proceeded to increase the number of its electors until now universal suffrage, or something very near near it, is the general rule. So fixed was this reservation of power in the habits of the people, and so unquestioned has been the interpretation of the Constitution, that during the late civil war the late President never harbored the purpose, certainly never avowed the purpose of disregarding it, and in the acts of Congress during that period nothing can be found which, during the continuance of hostilities, much less after their close, could have sanctioned any departure by the Executive from a policy which has uniformly obtained. Moreover, a concession of the elective franchise to the freedmen by act of the President of the United States, must have been extended to all colored men wherever found, and so must have established a change of suffrage in the Northern, Middle and Western States, not less than in the Southern and South-Western States. Such an act would have created a new class of voters, and would have been an assumption of power by the President which nothing in the Constitution and laws of the United States would have warranted. On the other hand, every danger of conflict is avoided when the settlement of the question is referred to the several States. They can, each for itself, decide on the measure, and whether it is to be adopted at once and absolutely, or introduced gradually and with conditions.

In my judgment, the freedmen, if they show patience and manly virtues, will sooner obtain a participation in the elective franchise through the States, than through the general government, even it it had power to intervene. When the tumult of passions that has been raised by the suddenness of the social change shall have subsided, it may prove that that they will receive the kindliest usage from some of those on whom they have hitherto most closely depended.

SECURITY OF FREEDMEN

But while I have no doubt that now, after the close of war, it is not competent for the general government to extend elective franchise in the several States, it is equally clear that good faith requires the security of freedmen in their liberty and their property; their right to labor and their right to claim the just return of their labor. I cannot too strongly urge a dispassionate treatment of this subject, which should be carefully kept aloof from all party strife. We must equally avoid hasty assumptions of any natural impossibility for the two races to live side by side in a state of mutual benefit and good will.

The experiment involves us in no inconsistency. Let us then go on and make that experiment in good faith, and not be too easily disheartened. The country is in need of labor and the freedmen are in need of employment, culture and protection, while their rights of voluntary migration and expatriation is not to be questioned. I would not advise their forced removal and colonization. Let us rather encourage them to honorable and useful industry where it may be beneficial to themselves and to the country, and instead of hasty anticipation of the certainty of failure, let there be nothing wanted to the fair trial of the experiment.

TIME AN ELEMENT OF REFORM.

I know that sincere philanthropy is earnest for the immediate realization of its remotest aims, but time is always an element in form. It is one of the greatest acts on record to have brought four millions of people into freedom. The field of free industry must be fairly opened to them and then their future prosperity and condition must after all rest mainly on themselves. If they fail, and so perish away, let us be careful the failure shall not be attributable to any denial of justice.

In all that relates to the destiny of the freedmen, we need not be too anxious to read the future; many incidents which from a speculative point of view might raise alarm, will quietly settle themselves.

THE EVILS OF SLAVERY,

Not that slavery is at an end or near its end, the greatness of its evil in the point of view of public economy becomes more and more apparent. Slavery was essentially a monopoly of labor and as such locked the States where it prevailed against the incoming of free industry. Where labor was the property of the capitalists, the white man was excluded from employment or had but the second best chance of finding it, and the foreign emigrant turned away from the region where his condition would be so precarious.

With the destruction of this monopoly, free labor will hasten from all parts of the civilized world to assist in developing the various and immeasurable resources which have hitherto lain dormant. The eight or nine States nearest the Gulf of Mexico have a soil of exuberant fertility, a climate friendly to long life, and can sustain a denser population than is found as yet in any part of our country, and the future influx of population to them will be mainly from the North or from the most civilized nations of Europe.

A BRIGHT FUTURE.

From the sufferings that have hitherto attended them during our late struggle, let us look away to the future which is sure to be laden for them with greater prosperity than ever before known. The removal of the monopoly of slave labor is a pledge that these regions will be peopled by a numerous and enterprising population which will vie with any in the Union in compactness, inventive genius, wealth and industry.

Our government springs from and was made for the people, not the people for the government. To them it owes allegiance, from them it must derive its courage, strength and wisdom; but while the government is thus bound to defer to the people from whom it derives its existence it should, from the very consideration of its origin, be strong in its power of resistance to the establishment of inequalities.

DANGER OF MONOPOLIES.

Monopolies, perpetuities and class legislation are contrary to the genius of free government, and ought not to be allowed here. There is no room for favored classes or monopoly; the principle of our government is that of equal laws and freedom of industry. Wherever monopoly obtains a foothold it is source of danger, discord and trouble. We shall but fulfil our duty as legislators by according equal and exact justice to all men, special privileges to none.

The government is subordinate to the people, but as the agent and representative of the people it must be held superior to monopolies, which in themselves ought never to be granted, and which where they exist must be subordinate and yield to the goverment. The Constitution confers on Congress the right to regulate commerce among the several states.

FREEDOM OF COMMERCE.

It is of the first necessity for the maintenance of the Union that commerce should be free and unobstructed. No State can be justified in any device to tax the transit of travel and commerce between States. The position of many States is such that if they were allowed to take advantage of it for purposes of local revenue, the commerce between States might be injuriously burthened, or even virtually prohibited.

It is best, while the country is still young, and while the tendency to dangerous monopolies of this kind is still feeble, to use the power of Congress so as to prevent any selfish impediment to the free circulation of men and merchandise. A tax on travel and merchandise in their transit constitutes one of the worst forms of monopoly, and the evil is increased if coupled with a denial of the choice of route.

THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Secretary of the Interior explains the condition of the public lands, the transactions of the Patent Office and the Pension Bureau, the management of our Indian affairs, the progress made in the construction of the Pacific railroad, and furnishes information in reference to matters of local interest in the District of Columbia.

THE PUBLIC LANDS.

It also presents evidence of the successful operation of the Homestead Act, under the provisions of which 1,160,533 acres of public lands were entered during the fiscal year, more than one-tenth of the whole number of acres sold or otherwise disposed during that period.

It is estimated that the receipts derived from this source are sufficient to cover the expenses incident to the survey and disposal of the lands entered under this act, and that payments in cash, to the extent of forty to fifty per cent, will be made by settlers who may thus, at any time acquire title before the expiration of the period at which it would otherwise vest. The homestead policy was established only after long and earnest resistance—experience proves its wisdom. The lands in the hands of industrious settlers, whose labor creates wealth and contributes to the public resources, are worth more to the United States than if they had been reserved as a solitude for future purchasers.

PENSIONS.

The lamentable events of the last four years and the sacrifices made by the gallant men of the army and navy have swelled the records of the Pension Bureau to an unprecedented extent. On the 30th day of June last the total number of pensioners was 85,986 requiring for their annual pay, exclusive of expenses, the sum of $8,023,445. The number of applications that have been allowed since that date will require a large increase of this amount for the next fiscal year.

The means for the payment of stipends due under the existing laws to our disabled soldiers and sailors, and to the families of such as have perished in the service of the country, will no doubt be cheerfully and promptly granted. A grateful people will not hesitate to sanction any measures having for their object the relief of soldiers mutilated and families made fatherless in the efforts to preserve our national existence.

POSTAL AFFAIRS.

The report of the Post master General presents an encouraging exhibit of the operations of the Post office Department during the year. The revenues of the past year from the loyal States alone exceeded the maximum annual receipts from all the States previous to the rebellion, in the sum of $6,038,091, and the annual average increase of revenue during the last four years compared with the revenue of the four immediately preceding the rebellion, was $3,533,845.

The revenues of the last fiscal year amounted to $14,556,158, and the expenditures to $13,694,728, leaving a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $61,430.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

It appears from the report of the Secretary of the Navy that, while at the commencement of the present year there were in commission 530 vessels of all classes and descriptions, armed with 3,000 guns and manned by 51,000 men, the number of vessels at present in commission, is 117, with 830 guns and 12,128 men. By this prompt reduction of the Naval forces the expences of the government have been largely diminished, and a number of vessels purchased for naval purposes from the merchant marine have been returned to the peaceful pursuits of commerce.

Since the suppression of active hostilities, our foreign squadron have been re established, and consist of vessels much more efficient than those employed on similar service previous to the rebellion. The suggestion for the enlargement of the navy yards, and especially or the establishment of one in fresh water for iron-clad vessels, is deserving of consideration, as is also the recommendation for a different location and more ample grounds for the naval academy.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

In the report of the Secretary of War, a general summary is given of the military campaigns of 1864 and 1865, ending in the suppression of armed resistance to the National authority in the insurgent States. The operations of the general administrative bureaus of the War Department during the past year are detailed, and an estimate made of the appropriations that will be required for military purposes in the fiscal year commencing the 30th day of June, 1866.

The national military force on the 1st of May, 1865, numbered 1,000,516 men. It is proposed to reduce the military establishment to a peace footing, comprehending 50,000 troops of all arms organized, so as to admit of an enlargement by filling up the ranks to 82,600, if the circumstances of the country shall require an augmentation of the army. The volunteer force has already been reduced by the discharge from service of over 800,000 troops, and the department is proceeding rapidly in the work of further reduction.

The war estimates are reduced from $516,240,131 to $138,144,61, which amount, in the opinion of the Department, is adequate for a peace establishment. The measures of retrenchment in each Bureau and branch of the service exhibits a diligent economy worthy of commendation.

Reference is also made in the report to the necessity of providing for a uniform militia system, and to the propriety of making suitable provision for wounded and disabled officers and soldiers.

OUR NATIONAL FINANCES.

The revenue system of the country is a subject of vital interest to its honor and prosperity, and should command the earnest consideration of Congress.

The Secretary of the Treasury will lay before you a full and detailed report of the receipts and disbursements of the last fiscal year, of the first quarter of the present fiscal year, of the probable receipts and expenditures for the other three quarters, and the estimates for the year following the 30th of June, 1866.

I might content myself with a reference to the report, in which you will find all the information required for your deliberations and decision, but the paramount importance of the subject so presses itself on my own mind, that I cannot but lay before you my views of the measures which are required for the good character, and I might almost say for the existence of the this people.

The life of a Republic lies certainly in the energy, virtue and intelligence of its citizens, but it is equally true that a good revenue system is the life of an organized government. I meet you at a time when the nation has voluntarily burdened itself with a debt unprecedented in our annals. Vast as is its amount it fades away into nothing when compared with the countless blessings that will be conferred upon our country and upon man by the preservation of the nation's life.

Now on the first occasion of the meeting of Congress since the return of peace, it is of the utmost importance to inaugurate a just policy which shall at once be put in motion and which shall commend itself to those who come after us, for its continuance We must aim at nothing less than complete effacement of the financial evils that necessarily follow a state of civil war. We must endeavor to apply the earliest remedy to the deranged state of the currency and not shrink from devising a policy which, without being oppressive to the people, shall immediately begin to effect a reduction of the debt, and if persisted in, discharge it fully within a definitely fixed number of years.

It is our first duty to prepare in earnest for our recovery from the ever increasing evils of an irredeemable currency without a sudden revulsion, and that without ultimately procrastination For that end we must each in our respective positions prepare the way. I hold it the duty of the Executive to insist upon frugality in the expenditures, and a sparing economy is itself a great national resource

Of the banks to which authority has been given to issue notes secured by bonds of the United States, we may require the greatest moderation and prudence, and the law must be rigidly enforced when its limits are exceeded. We may each one of us counsel our active and enterprising countrymen to be constantly on their guard to liquidate debts contracted in a paper currency, and by conducting business as nearly as possible on a system of cash payments or short credits, to hold themselves prepared to return to a standard of gold and silver

To aid our fellow citizens in the prudent management of their monetary affairs the duty devolves upon us to diminish by law the amount of paper money now in circulation Five years ago the bank note circulation of the country amounted to not more than $200,000,000, now the circulation, bank and national, exceeds $700,000,000.

The simple statement of the fact recommends more strongly than any words of mine could do the necessity of our restraining this expansion The gradual reduction of the currency is the only measure that can save the business of the country from disastrous calamities, and this can be almost imperceptibly accomplished by gradually funding the national circulation in securities that may be redeemable at the pleasure of the government.

While in our import system, through means of which increased vitality is incidentally imparted to all industrial interests of the nation, the duties should be so adjusted as to fall most heavily on articles of luxury, leaving the necessaries of life as free from taxation as the absolute wants of the Government economically administered, will justify.

No favored class should demand freedom from assessment, and the taxes should be so distributed as not to fall unduly on the poor, but rather on the accumulated wealth of the country. We should look at the national debt as it is. It is not a national blessing, but a heavy burden on the industry of the country to be discharged without unnecessary delay.

It is estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury, that the expenditures for the fiscal year ending the 30th of June, 1866, will exceed the receipts $112,194,947. It is gratifying, however, to state that it is also estimated that the revenue for the year ending the 30th of June, 1867, will exceed the expenditures in the sum of $111,682,818.

This amount, or so much as may be deemed sufficient for the purpose, may be applied to the reduction of the public debt, which on the 31st day of October, 1865, was $2,740,854,750. Every reduction will diminish the total amount of interest to be paid, and so enlarge the means of still further reduction until the whole shall be liquidated, and this as will be seen from the estimates of the Secretary of the Treasury may be accomplished by annual payments even within a period not to exceed thirty years.

I have faith that we shall do all this within a reasonable time; that as we have amazed the world by the suppression of a civil war which was thought to be beyond the control of any government, so we shall equally show the superiority of our institutions by a prompt and faithful discharge of our national obligations.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The Department of Agriculture, under its present direction, is accomplishing much in developing and utilizing the vast agricultural capabilities of the country, and for information respecting the details of its management, reference is made to the annual report of the commissioner

I have dwelt thus fully on our domestic affairs because of their transcendant importance. Under any circumstances our great extent of territory and variety of climate, producing all that is necessary for the wants and even the comforts of man, make us singularly independent of the varying policy of foreign powers, and protect us against every temptation to entangling alliance, while at the present moment the reestablishment of harmony will be our best security against nations who feel power and forget right. For myself it has been and it will be my constant aim to promote peace and unity with all nations and powers, and I have every reason to believe that they will all, without exception be animated by the same disposition.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

Our relations with the Emperor of China, so recent in their origin, are most friendly. Our commerce with his dominions is receiving new developments, and it is very pleasing to find that the government of that great Empire manifests satisfaction with our policy and reposes just confidence in the fairness which marks our intercourse

The unbroken harmony between the United States and the Emperor of Russia is receiving new support from an enterprise designed to carry telegraph lines across the continent of Asia, through his dominions, and so connect us with all Europe by a new channel of intercourse.

Our commerce with South America is about to receive encouragement by a direct line of mail steamships to the rising empire of Brazil. The distinguished party of men of science who have recently left our country to make scientific explorations of the natural history, and rivers and mountain ranges of that region have received from the Emperor that generous welcome which was to have been expected from his constant friendship for the United States, and his well known zeal in promoting the advancement of knowledge.

A hope is entertained that our commerce with the rich and populous countries that border the Mediterranean sea may be largely increased Nothing will be wanting on the part of the government to extend the protection of our flag over the enterprise of our fellow citizens

We received from the powers in that region assurances of good will, and it is worthy of note that a special envoy has brought messages of condolence on the death of our late chief magistrate from the Bey of Tunis, whose rule includes the old dominions of Carthage on the African coast

Our domestic contest, now happily ended, has left some traces in our relations with one, at least, of great maritime powers The formal accordance of the belligerent rights to the belligerent States was unprecedented, and has not been justified by the issue.

But in the systems of neutrality pursued by powers which made that concession, there was a marked difference The materials of war for the insurgent states were furnished in a great measure from the work shops of Great Britain, and British ships manned by British subjects and prepared for receiving British armaments, sailed from the ports of Great Britain to make war on American commerce under the shelter of a commission from the insurgent states.

These ships having once escaped from British ports ever afterwards entered them in every part of the world to refit and to renew their depredations. The consequences of this conduct were more disastrous to the States than the rebellion, increasing their desolation and misery by the prolongation of our civil conflict.

It had moreover the effect to a great extent to drive the American flag from the sea, and to transfer much of our shipping and our commerce to the very power whose object has created necessity for such a change These events took place before I was called to the administration of the government.

The sincere desire for peace by which I am animated, led me to approve the proposal already made to subject questions which had thus risen between countries to arbitration. The questions are of such moment that they must have commanded the attention of the great powers, and are so interwoven with peace and interest of every one of them as to have ensured an impartial decision

I regret to inform you that Great Britain declined the arbitrament, but on the other hand, invited us to the formation of a joint commission to settle mutual claims between the two countries, from which those for the depredations before mentioned should be excluded. The proposition, in that very unsatisfactory form has been declined.

The United States did not present the subject as an impeachment of the good faith of a power which was professing the most friendly disposition, but as involving questions of public law, of which the settlement is essential to the peace of nations; and though pecuniary reparation to their injured citizens would have followed incidentally on a decision against Great Britain, such compensation was not their primary object. They had a higher motive, and it was in the interests of peace and justice to establish important principles of international law. The correspondence will be laid before you

The ground on which the British Minister rests his justification, is substantially that the municipal law of a nation and the domestic interpretation of that law are the measure of its duty as a neutral, and I feel bound to declare my opinion before you and before the world that that justification cannot be sustained before the tribunal of nations

At the same time I do not advise any present attempt to redress by acts of legislation For the future friendship between the two countries must rest on the basis of mutual justice. We should regard it as a great calamity to ourselves, to the cause of good government, and to the peace of the world should any European power challenge the American people, as it were, to the defense of Republicanism against foreign interference

We cannot foresee, and are unwilling to consider what opportunities might present themselves, what combinations might offer to protect ourselves against the designs inimical to our form of government. The United States desire to act in the future as they have ever acted heretofore. They never will be driven from that course but by the aggression of European powers and we rely on the wisdom and justice of those powers to respect the system of non interference which has so long been sanctioned by them and which, by its good results, has approved itself to both countries.

The correspondence between the United States and France in reference to questions which have become subjects of discussion between the two governments, will at the proper time, be laid before Congress

When on the organization of our government under the constitution, the president of the United States delivered his inaugural address to the two Houses of Congress, he said to them and through them to the country and to mankind, that the preservation of the sacred fire of liberty and the destiny of the Republican model of government are justly considered as deeply, perhaps, as finally staked on the experiment entrusted to the American people.

The House of Re[illegible]tives answered Washington by the [illegible]sion. We

…e free Constitution which was the work of their hands might be sacredly maintained, and the inaugural words of President Jefferson held up the preservation of the General Government in its Constitutional vigor as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

The Constitution is the work of the people of the United States, and should be as indestructible as the people. It is not strange that the framers of the Constitution which had no model in the past should not have fully comprehended the excellence of their own work.

* * * * * *

The absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority was at the beginning of the century enforced by Jefferson as the vital principle of Republics and the events of the last four years have established we hope forever that their lies no appeal to force.

The maintenance of the Union brings with it the support of the State governments in all their rights but it is not one of the rights of any State government to renounce its own place in the Union nor to nullify the laws of the Union. The largest liberty is to be maintained in the discussion of the acts of the federal government. But there is no appeal from the laws, except to the various branches of that government itself, or to the people who grant to the members of the legislative and of the executive departments no tenure but a limited one, and in that manner always retain powers of redress.

"The sovereignty of the States," is the language of the confederacy, and not the language of the Constitution. The latter contains the emphatic words, "The Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties or which shall be made under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any thing in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding." Certainly adore the invisible hand which has led the American people through so many difficulties, to cherish a conscious responsibility for the destiny of Republican liberty.

More than seventy-six years have glided away since these words were spoken. The United States have passed through severer trials than were forseen, and now at this epoch in our existence as one nation, with our union purified by sorrow, and strengthened by conflict, and established by the virtue of the people, the greatness of the occasion invites us once more to repeat with solemnity the pledges of our fathers to hold ourselves answerable before our fellow men for the success of the republican form of government.

Experience has proved its sufficiency in peace, and in war it has vindicated its authority through dangers and afflictions and sudden and terrible emergencies which would have crushed any system that had been less grimly fixed in the hearts of the people.

* * * * * * * *

Here, under the combined influence of a fruitful soil, genial clime and happy institutions, the population has increased fifteen fold within the century. Here through the easy development of boundless resources, wealth has increased with twofold greater rapidity than numbers, so that we have become secure against the financial vicissitudes of other countries and alike in business and in opinion are self centered and truly independent.

Here, more care given to provide education for every one born on our soil. Here religion, released from political connection with the civil government, refuses to subserve the craft of statesmen, and becomes, in its independence, the spiritual life of the people.

Here toleration is extended to every opinion on the quiet certainty that truth needs only a fair field to secure the victory. Here the human mind goes forth unshakled in the pursuit of science, to collect stores of knowledge, and acquire an ever increasing mastery over the forces of nature.

Here the national domain is offered and held in millions of desperate freehold, so that our fellow citizens beyond the occupants of any other part of the earth constitute in reality a people.

Here exists the Democratic form of government by the confession of European statesmen gives a power of which no other form is capable because it incorporates every man with the State, and arouses everything that belongs to the soul.

Where, in past history, does a parallel exist to the public happiness which is within the reach of the people of the United States? Where, in any part of the globe, can institutions be found so suited to their habits and so entitled to their love, as their own Constitution?

Who will not join with me in the prayer that the Invisible Hand which has led us through the clouds that gloomed around our path will so guide us onward to a perfect restoration of fraternal effect.

Then we of this day may be able to transmit our great inheritance of State Governments in all their rights of General Governments in its whole constitutional vigor to our posterity and to theirs, through countless generations.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Notice is hereby given that John V. Griswold of University Place, is duly authorized to collect and receipt for all advertising bills due the UNION office, in New York city.

THE MESSAGE.

We have neither time, space, type or inclination, for a careful comment upon the message of the President, which we present to our readers this week. We are not quite satisfied with it as a logical production, but in the main the document has much to commend itself to the people.

CONGRESS—FIRST DAY.

The thirty-ninth Congress was organized on Monday afternoon, Dec. 4th, Mr. Colfax being re-elected Speaker of the House, and Mr McPherson Clerk. Mr. King, of the Minneapolis Atlas, who has held the position of Postmaster to the House for two years past, was defeated for that position by Col. Given of Ohio. Rev. Dr. Boynton, of Cincinnatti, was elected chaplain. The President's message was read on Tuesday, the 2nd day at 2½ o'clock P. M. For other proceedings of the second day our readers are referred to our first page.

CONGRESS—THIRD DAY.

On Wednesday, the third day of the session, the various committees and the chairmen thereof were appointed. Senator Doolittle introduced a bill to modify the qualifications of jurors so that opinions expressed concerning the guilt of the rebel leaders will not disqualify persons to act in the capacity of jurors.

FOR SPEAKER.

A number of our exchanges and many of the friends of the Hon. J. B. Wakefield of Blue Earth City, are presenting his name for the speakership of the House of Representatives. The friends of Mr. Wakefield are welcome to any word we can say in favor of his nomination. He is competent and courteous, and will ever keep in view the interests of this locality. His friends, however, should not rely upon newspaper endorsement for his election. By proper exertion at the proper time, success is easy of accomplishment.

FAIR.—The ladies of the Episcopal Church will give a public fair on next Wednesday evening, Dec. 20th.

RATHER TOO STRONG.—Our statement that "many" of our business men were fond of the flowing bowl, we wish to modify. We should have said that some of them are, and for the sake of inconsiderable numbers it is well that a movement to correct the habit be instituted.

FROZEN.—We learn that the stage of Monday evening last for Mankato, got lost in the storm between this place and Wilton, and was out all night. Four passengers were in the coach, who escaped any serious freezing, but the driver was badly frozen in his limbs, and some doubts are entertained of his recovery.

DISTRICT COURT.—The court has occupied the most of the week in the case of Thomas D. Warren vs Flora E. Van Brunt. This suit involves a 40 acre tract adjoining the city, which Mr. Warren claims by previous preemption right. The case of State vs A. G. Lagrange, continued to next term.

John Simpson advertise's Fresh Oysters for Christmas. See his notice under new advertisements.

WOOD.—Great complaint is made that wood dealers are swindling the people by giving short measure. It is essentially necessary that the town authorities appoint a wood measurer, so that wood buyers may receive an equivalent for their money. It is no wonder a cord of wood will hardly last a week. Fair play is a jewel.

WINTER.—Sunday night threatened a storm and Monday morning ushered it in. It snowed all day Monday and Tuesday, and Wednesday morning, the storm abating, the thermometer stood at nineteen degrees below zero. The weather has been so severe that but one mail up to last evening had arrived during the week. Sleighing is good.

CONVEYANCES RECORDED.—In the month of September there were 56 conveyances recorded at the Registers Office. In October 84 in November 108. Total for three months 248. This statement does not enclude entries made at the Land Office, nor the record of patents. Many transfers are not yet filed for record.

SMITH & HUMPHREY, next door to the Post Office, are receiving subscriptions for all the leading Papers and Magazines. They have on hand a good stock of school books, beautiful transparencies, ambrotypes, histories, biographies, and toy books, for the young. Orders for Standard Books, Magnetic Globes and Sheet Music, promptly filled. They are establishing a Circulating Librrry, by which a person may obtain a good readable book, for ten cents.

BANK.—In our list of new advertisements will be found the card of J. J. Thornton & Co Bankers. The want of such an institution has been seriously felt by the business men of the country. We speak for them a liberal patronage, and the business character of the firm warrants us in predicting for them a successful business. We would say to all who wish to buy or sell compound interest notes, bonds or other government securities, or exchange on St. Paul, Chicago, New York or other eastern cities. Give them a call.

MAKE YOUR HOMES COMFORTABLE.—Every man should go to Meagher's at the City Hall, and buy one of his Parlor Stoves, for making his home comfortable for the Holidays. There is but very few things that add more to the comfort of the home circle than a good parlor stove, with a bright warm fire these cold nights. It is impossible for a man to be anything but kind and affectionate when he comes home in the evening and finds a cheerful wife and handsome warm stoves. Meagher's is the place to buy them cheap.

AN Illustrated Catalogue, containing full description of style, and testimonials of the most eminent Musicians, as to the superior excellence of our instruments—will be sent free to any address.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instrumetsn constructed on this European plan of 'double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A PRINCE & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

SEND 25 CENTS FOR CERTIFICATE.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the certificates, paying postage, and doing the business 25 cents, each which must be enclosed when the certificate is sent for. Five certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5, sixty five for $10, and 100 for $15

GENUINE

PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!

Helmbold's

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the Blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

GEN. GRANTS REPORT.

PANORAMA OF THE WAR—LEADING FEATURES OF GEN. GRANT'S REPORT.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin selects some of the leading features of General Grant's report, and comments upon them. We quote. The first report of General Grant, since he assumed the command of all the armies of the Republic, is now before the American people, and we do not hesitate to say that it is the greatest military report ever submitted to any nation. Its material is vast and magnificent. Its manner is lucid, its style vigorous and terse, and its general is so modest, that the reader can perceive that General Grant desires to praise every one of his faithful Lieutenants, rather than himself.—The period of this report embraces the time from March, 1864, until December, 1865, a space of one year and nine months. Neither Napoleon, Caeser nor Alexander had such deeds to record, as has this modest son of an Ohio tanner, to exhibit it to the world.—While the war continued General Grant had over a million of men under his command, and, too, soldiers, such as before, never marched under a warrior's banner.

General Sheridan is evidently one of Grant's favorites if not his chief favorite. Whenever he speaks of him, he has occasion to commend him. When he visited the Shenandoah valley in the autumn of '64, to determine whether it would be safe to attack Early, he was so much impressed with the masterly strategy of the soldier, that he had simply to say, "Go on," and significantly added General Grant: "the result was such that I have never deemed it necessary to visit General Sheridan before giving him orders."

When Sheridan made his raid upon the James river counties west of Richmond, in March, he was ordered to join Sherman in North Carolina. The rebels, however, had burned all the bridges over the James, which constrained Sheridan to abandon that plan, and return to Grant's camp by north of Richmond. Perhaps this was fortunate, as thereby Grant secured the co-operation of Sheridan in the final attack upon Lee. The masterly management of Sheridan at the battle of Five Forks, is spoken of by the Lieutenant General, in a way that must satisfy the world that Grant is so large a man that he can afford to give credit to all but himself:

"General Sheridan, when unexpectedly attacked by the enemy's infantry, displayed great generalship. Instead of retreating with his whole command to tell the story of superior forces encountered, he deployed his cavalry on foot, leaving only enough men mounted to take care of the horses. By this means he delayed the enemy's advance until our own infantry got up, when he drove him back to Five Forks, assaulted and carried his strongly fortified position, capturing all his artillery and between 5,000 and 6,000 prisoners."

In the Shenandoah valley campaign, General Hunter did not obey all of Gen. Grant's orders, one of which was the possession of Charlotteville, which was really of more importance than Lynchburg. He gives Sherman the credit of suggesting the march to the sea, and is most generous in suppressing all the particulars of Shermans first arrangement with General Joe Johnston. Gen. Grant did not like General Rosencrans' campaign in Missouri. His language is plain in censuring that officer: "The enemy was brought to battle ont he Big Blue and defeated, with the loss of nearly all his artillery and trains, and a large number of prisoners. He made a precipitate retreat to Northern Arkansas. The impunity with which Price was enabled to roam over the State of Missouri for a long time and the incalculable mischief done by him, shows to how little purpose a superior force may be used. There is no reason why General Rosencrans should not have concentrated his forces and beaten and driven Price before the latter reaches Pilot Knob."

He thought General Thomas very slow in striking Hood's army, and was so much concerned that he started west to see what was the matter. He thus developes on this point, showing that he fully appreciates the illustrious qualities of Gen. Thomas:

"Before the battle of Nashville I grew very impatient over, as it appeared to me, the unnecessary delay. This impatience increased upon learning that the enemy had sent a force of cavalry across the Cumberland into Kentucky. I feared Hood would cross his whole army and give us trouble there. After urging upon General Thomas the necessity of immediately assuming the offensive, I started west to superintend matters there in person. Reaching the city of Washington, I received General Thomas' dispatch concerning his attack upon enemy, and the result as far as the battle had progressed. I was delighted; all my apprehensions were dispelled. I am not yet satisfied but that General Thomas, immediately upon the appearance of Hood before Nashville, and before he had time to fortify, should have move out with his whole force and given him battle, instead of waiting to remount his cavalry, which delayed him until the inclemency of the weather made it impracticable to attack earlier than he did, but his final defeat of Hood was so complete that it will be accepted as a vindication of that distinguished officer's judgment."

From this report we learn that in his campaign against Richmond, General Grant designed that General Butler should envelope Richmond on the south side of the James, with the army landed at Bermuda Hundreds. Butler could not carry out this programme, and hence the long wearisome march against Richmond. Baldy Smith is blamed for his delay in not attacking Petersburg when General Grant thought it could have been easily secured. It is true that Smith only waited a few hours. Those few hours, however, were sufficient to enable the rebels to concentrate; thus keeping us out of Richmond many months.

Butler was not ordered to take command of the Fort Fisher expedition, but rather assumed the command, it being in his department. General Weitzel was intended to be the commander General Grant gives the full credit of the powder boat experiment to General Butler.

The whole scope of this report manifestly proves the inestimable value of vigor and celerity in war. General Grant shows that on divers occasions, thousands of lives and millions of treasure could have been saved, had the generals in command been fully aware of the value of hours when confronting an enemy. General Grant declares he firmly believed that the rebellion could only be crushed by "hammering continuously against the armed forces of the enemy and his resources, until by mere attrition, if in no other way, there should be nothing left to him but an equal submission with the other sections of our common country to the Constitution and laws of the land." He considered it necessary to fight the bloody battle of the Wilderness in order to establish the unquestionable superiority of the army of the Potomac over that of Lee. Tho' our losses were numerically greater, he believed the advantage was decidedly with us on every point. It in a great measure subsequently parallyzed the vigor of Lee's army, as it dared no longer attempt an attack. On this point he remarks, and his words deserve the profoundest consideration.

"The battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania, North Anna and Cold Harbor, bloody and terrible as they were on our side, were even more damaging to the enemy, and so crippled him as to make him wary ever after of taking the offensive. His losses in men were probably not so great, owing to the fact that we were, save at the Wilderness, almost invariably the attacking party, and when we did attack it was in the open field."

The conclusion of the report is so eloquent, so noble, and so wise, in commenting upon the character of the Western and Eastern soldiers, and the compliment which it renders to the bravery of the rebels so just, that it is calculated to anchor the Lieutenant General still more firmly in the affections of the whole people. His words thus glow with the warmth of burning patriotism:

"It has been my fortune to see the armies of the West and East fight battles, and from what I have seen, I know there is no difference in their fighting qualities. All that it was possible for men to do in battle, they have done. The Western armies commenced their battles in the Mississippi Valley and received the final surrender of their old antagonists at Appomattox Court House, Virginia. The splendid achievements of each have produced no national jealousies—of which we have unfortunately experienced too much, and the cause of crimination and recrimination that might have followed, had either section failed in its duty. All have a broad record, and all sections can well congratulate themselves and each other for having done their full share in restoring the supremacy of law over every foot of territory belonging to the United States. Let them hope for perpetual harmony and peace with that enemy whose manhood, however mistaken the cause, drew forth such herculean deeds of valor."

THE NAVY.

SYNOPSIS OF THE REPORT OF SECRETARY WELLES.

Secretary Welles rehearses in his report the immensity of the task of reorganizing the navy, and maintaining the blockade and the operations of our fleets towards the close of the war. In four years the navy added 208 steam vessels and 43.900 men to its rolls, beside purchasing 418 vessels, of which 313 were steamers, which on sale have depreciated in value $12,700,000. The co-operation of the navy in the capture of Wilmington, Charleston and Mobile will be read with keen interest. The conduct of England in building and equipping privateers and blockade runners is referred to in emphatic terms, and an enlargement and perfection of our navy yards is urged that we may be prepared for any emergency that may arise in the future. There are now five squadrons of national vessels—on the coast of Europe 7, Brazil 10, East India 4, Pacific 11, West India 8. At the highest period of efficiency of the blockading squadrons in January last, there were 471 vessels, with 24,559 guns. Of prizes there have been captured of all kinds 1,151 vessels, of which 210 were steamers, rams and gunboats, 17; and 335 of all kinds have been sunk or destroyed. The estimated value of those destryed and captured is over $31,000,000. The amount of prizes condemned up to the first of November is $21,829,543.96; and a number of important cases are still before the courts. Most of the whole has been British propert.

There are on the pension roll 2,027 receiving an annual sum of $248,529.50. An increase of the salaries of officers and clerks is asked for. The resources of the Department for the fiscal year were $140,091,125.99, and the expenditures $116,781,675.95, which, together with unexpended appropriations and those for the current year, leaves a balance for estimated current expenses of $142,291,919 40, exclusive of the sales of vessels, etc. The working expenses of the navy for the year ending June 30, 1867, are estimated at a little less than $24,000,000.

The Secretary offers some suggestions for the laying up of iron-clads; [illegible] of a Naval Academy, an for the education of seamen. He concludes by saying that the navy is in a state of excellent physical and moral efficiency; congratulates the country, his subordinates, and himself upon the success of their past labors and commends the naval force to the cherishing care of the government as the best hope of our national defense and glory.

THE FINANCES.

ABSTRACT OF MR. M'CULLOCH'S REPORT—HIS VIEWS ON THE CURRENCY, THE PUBLIC DEBT, AND OUR INTERNAL REVENUE SYSTEM—A SUCCINCT AND INTERESTING SYNOPSIS.

The report of the Secretary of the Treasury is a very lengthy document, and cannot find room for it all, but we give instead the following faithful synopsis of its most important statements of fact and of opinion including the three topics, of Currency, Public Debt, and Revenue, and pursuing the order in which they are treated by Mr. McCulloch.

I. The Currency.—The key to the financial policy which the Secretary advocates may be found in the declaration of his belief that the authority of Congress to make the obligations of the Government a legal tender resides outside the Constitution, and the inflation which has followed upon the necessary exercise of that authority during the war is prejudicial to both public and private interests. While, therefore, he does not advocate the repeal of the legal tender acts, nor believe it possible to reduce the volume of the currency by violent measures, he is of opinion that those acts should be regarded as only temporary, and that the work of retiring the notes which have been issued under them should be commenced without delay and carefully and persistently continued until all are withdrawn. The rapidity of the process will depend upon the ability to dispose of securities. The specific measures recommended are as follows:

First. That Congress declare that the compound interest notes shall cease to be a legal tender from the day of their maturity. These notes were intended to be a security rather than a circulating medium, and such a declaration by congress would be neither injurious to the public nor an act of bad faith to the holders.

Second. That the Secretary be authorized in his discretion to sell bonds of the United States, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent., and redeemable and payable at such periods as may be conductive to the interests of the Government, for the purpose of retiring not only compound interest notes but the United States notes.

The amount which the Secretary estimates as necessary to be retired in order to bring the currency within proper limits is from one hundred to two hundred millions, in addition to the compound notes, the amount of which latter, Oct. 31, was $173,012,141, due in 1867 and 1868 The total paper circulation of the United States at that date was $704,218,038, to which should be added $30,000,000, the estimated amount of compound interest notes actually in circulation. The total is likely to be still further increased by the issue of notes to the national banks now daily going on, and destined to continue till the limit of $300,000,000 authorized by law shall have been reached, as it will be at no distant date. As but $185,000,000 of National Bank notes are included in the estimate of $734,218,038.20, there remain $115,000,000 to be added, and the aggregate amount of circulation will then be $846,218,038 20. If the recommendations of the Secretary in regard to contraction be fully carried out by retiring $200,000,000 of United States notes and the $30,000,000 of compound interest notes actually in circulation, there will still remain a total circulation of $619,218,038.20, even supposing that no extension of the amount of National Bank notes now authorized to be issued is granted by Congress. It is, perhaps, be view of these or similar calculations that the Secretary adds to his suggestions the remark that "neither the amount of reduction nor the time that will be required to bring up the currency to the specie standard can now be estimated with any degree of accuracy. The first thing to be done is to establish the policy of contraction."

II. The Public Debt.—The Secretary regards it as a public burden, the work of removing which should not be long postponed. He sees no way of doing that except by an increase of the national income beyond the national expenditures. The first step is to fund the obligations that are soon to mature. The next, to provide for raising revenues necessary to pay the interest on the debt, and a certain definite amount annually for the reduction of the principal. On the 31st of October, since which time no material change has taken place, the public debt amounted to $2,808,549,437 55; for the items of which total, readers may refer to the report itself. Receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1865, were $1,898 532,533.24, of which $864,863,499,.17 were from loans applicable to expenditures, and $607,361,241 68 from loans applied to payment of public debt, and $209,464,215,25 from internal revenue. Expenditures were $1,897,674,224.09, of which the War Department is charged with $1,031,323,360.79; redemption of debt as above stated; interest on public debt, $77,397,712, Balance July 1, 1865, $858,309.15. Total increase of public debt during the year, $941,902,537.04.

The receipts for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1865, were $440.226,770.27; expenses, $373,068,[illegible] 83; leaving balance Oct. 1. $67,158,515.44. Estimated receipts for the remaining three quarters of the year ending June 30. 1866. are:

Balance		$67,158,515·44
Customs	$100,000,000,00
Lands	500,000,00
Int'al Revenue	175,000,000,00
Miscellaneous	30,000,000,00	305,500,000,00
		$372,658 515 44

Estimated expenditures for the same period are $484,853,462.64, of which the war Department (for paying of troops and closing up existing balances) wants 307,788,750 57, and interest on the public debt, $96,813,868.75 Defficiency for the year, $112,194,947.20.

For the year ending June 30, 1867, estimates are:

Receipts.
Customs	$100,000,000 00
Int'n Revenue	275,000,000 00
Lands	1,000,000 00
Miscellaneous	20,000,000 00	$396,000,000 00
Expenditures.
Civil Service	$42,165,599 67
Pensions and Indians	17,609,640 23
War Department	39,017,416 18
Navy Depart'nt	43,982,457 59
Interest on Public Debt	141,542,068 50	284,317,181 82
Estimated surplus of receipt		$111,682,818 12

The past due debt on the 31st October, besides the compound interest, the United States and the fractional notes, amounted to $1,373,920 69; debt due in 1865 and 1866 to $187,549,646.46; debt due in 1867 and 1868 to $848,323,591.80. Of the latter item, $830,000,000 consists of 7 3 10 notes. As they are convertible into bonds only at the pleasure of the holders, the Secretary desires to be authorized to fund them, whenever it can be advantageously done, in advance of their maturity. To meet deficiency for the present fiscal year, he desires authority to sell, in his discretion, bonds of a similar character, to reduce the temporary loan, to pay maturing certificates of indebtedness, and also to take up any portion of the debt maturing prior to 1869 that can be advantageously retired.

"It is not probable," remarks the Secretary, "that it will be advisable, even if it could be done without pressing them upon the market, to sell a much larger amount of bonds within the present or next fiscal year than will be necessary to meet any deficiency of the Treasury, to pay the past due and maturing obligations of the government, and a part of the temporary loan, and to retire an amount of the compound interest notes and United States notes sufficient to bring back the business of the country to a healthier condition. But no harm can result from investing the Secretary with authority to dispose of bonds if the condition of the market will justify it, in order to anticipate the payment of those obligations that must soon be provided for."

The total debt on the 1st of July, 1866, is estimated at $3.000,000,000 The Secretary believes the whole amount may eventually be funded at a rate of interest from 5 to 5½ per cent., and he suggests the application $200,000,000 per annum to the payment of principal and interest together, by which the whole would be extinguished in from 28 to 32½ years.

III. Internal Revenue.—The Secretary recommends frequent and careful revision of the system of taxation, with a view to its becoming always more simple and productive. For specific recommendations he awaits the report of the special commission, expected early in present session. In reference to the Southern States, the Secretary recommends that the collection of taxes accruing before the establishment therein of revenue offices be indefinitely postponed; that sales of property for direct taxes be postponed till the States have an opportunity of assuming those taxes, as the loyal States did; and that all transactions invalid for want of stamps be legalized so far as lies in the power of Congress.

THE WAR REPORT.

A SUMMARY OF THE IMPORTANT FACTS IN THE REPORT OF MR. STANTON.

The Secretary emphasizes the beginning of his report by contrasting the expenditures of the Department in the last year of the war and the first of peace—the former being $516,240,131.70, the latter, by estimate, $33,814,461.83. On the 1st of May, 1865, there were a million of men in the army; to-day there are less than 200,000 and by May next it is expected the number well not exceed 50,000. The progress and success of the war which made this vast reduction possible are detailed at considerable length. Immediately after its close, orders were issued to stop drafting and recruiting, reduce purchases of arms, &c., muster out supernumerary officers, and unfetter trade and commerce. From the Veteran Reserve Corps nearly all the enlisted men have been mustered out at their own desire.

Recruiting for the veteran regular regiments still continues. Lest it be thought that the proposed standing army of 50,000 (which will be capable of increase to 82,600 without additional organization) be too small for possible emergencies, the Secretary reminds us that either against a renewal of the insurrection or in case of foreign war it will be possible to call out on the instant an immense number of veteran troops; that the Government has in its arsenals more than a million of small arms, more artillery than it can conveniently take care of, three years' supply of ammunition, and an abundant stock of clothing and quartermasters' stores. The present military organization embraces nineteen departments.

The operations of the different bureaus are detailed at considerable length. Eight volumes of reports of battles, with maps and indexes are in press.

The Adjutant General describes the rapidity and precision with which the mustering-out of the troops proceeded. Regiments began leaving the army of the Potomac, numbering 162,851 officers and men, May 29, and in six weeks the whole were gone. The average per month of the whole army was 296,442. The Provost Marshal General includes in his statistics the enormous number of 2,759,049 men as the aggregate of quotas called for. The number constructively put into service was 2,656,553, and the deficiency of 102,496 would have been speedily made up but for the close of the war. The total disbursements of the Paymaster General since the beginning of the war, were $1,029,239.000 of which, during the year ending June 30, 1865, $300,738,635.95 were paid to volunteers. Losses and defalcations were 4541,000; expenses of disbursment $6,429,600, being less than three fourths of one per cent. The Surgeon General reports that during the last year there were 204 general hospitals, with a capacity of 136,894 beds; and in general hospitals alone 1,058,423 cases of sick and wounded have been treated during the war, the rate of mortality being 8 per cent.

The extraordinary services of the Quartermaster General's Bureau are duly recounted, among which not the least remarkable was the transfer of Hooker's command in 1863, numbering 23,000 men, with artillery, trains, animals, and baggage, from the Rapidan to Stevenson, a distance of 1,192 miles in seven days. The Quartermaster depots supplied to the army during the war 23.000,000 bushels of corn, 78,000,000 of oats, 1,500,000 tons of hay 550,000 cords of wood, and 1,600,000 tons of coal. During the last fiscal year alone, 141,632 cavalry horses were purchased. The retrenchments in the Department since the close of the war have been numerous and thorough. The Commissary General of Prisoners reports 98,802 prisoners in custody from Jan. 1st to Oct. 20, besides which 174,223 surrendered and were released on parole.

The whole number of colored troops enlisted during the war was 178,975. Their losses from all causes except muster out were 68,178. After existing orders for discharge are executed, the number remaining in service will be 85,024.

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

SYNOPSIS OF THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

It appears from the report of the Secretary of the Interior, that during the past year 4,513.728,46 acres of the public lands have been granted to various parties, and that on the 30th September there was still 132,285,035 acres surveyed and undisposed of. For lands sold he has received 748.427.25 dollars, an excess of ten per cent. over the previous year. Different regulations are in force in the different territories regarding claims to unoccupied lands, and some uniform law is asked. The lands are very wisely sold for the sum necessary to survey and transfer them to actual settlers and purchasers.

It is estimated that 250,000 able-bodied men are mining upon the public domain without paying anything for the privilege. In view of the tax upon most other pursuits, it is suggested they be not neglected.

The number of pensions added to the roll during the year was 15,328, requiring 1,220,785.90 dollars annual payment. Allowed during the year were 24,693, at an annual charge of 2,574,179 dollars. Of naval pensions there were 266 awarded. and 205,480.62 dollars paid, which is amply provided for by the investment of the Government share of prize money. The increasing number of pensioners demands a largely increased appropriation.

There are within our boundaries about 350,000 Indians, most of whom have been amicable, and a few loyal and progressive. Some, however, have been incited by rebels and by resentment to wage war against the Government, and in the Territories, by the collisions with the white race, have kept up predatory warfare which we have sent troops to suppress. It ought not to be the policy of the Government to exterminate the red men, but rather, through missions and treaties, to pacify them.

There have been 6,291 patents granted during the fiscal year. The work of the census has been pushed as far as was possible. The work upon the several branches of the Pacific Railroad appears to be progressing satisfactorily, and they will doubtless be finished by the specified time of their charters. Surveys are being made of the main line westward.

More money is asked for the completion of the Capitol. The inhabitants of the District also want the Government to help them pay the local taxes, and to clean the city, and for other benevolent and humane purposes.

THAT RAILROAD OUTLET.

There are some signs of animation visible among the railroad men of this State, concerning the early completion of an outlet and eastern railroad connection. The press of the State and especially the Winona Republican, have sought to know why the important connection between Winona and La Crosse has not been made. The Republican has called forth from Mr. Angus Smith of Milwaukee, who is largely interested in the Winona and St Peter railroad which holds the charter for building this connecting link, a letter in which he states that he has no doubt that the road will be built before another winter. He proposes to build it in connection with the Nortwestern, or the Milwaukee and St. Paul road. The Northwestern does not propose to extend its road any faster than to bring it to Winona at the same time the St Paul and Winona road is completed, which will probably be several years hence. Therefore unless Mr. Smith has made his arrangements with the St. Paul and Milwaukee road or independent of either, we are not sure of the connection by next winter. We want the road built beyond peradventure by the time navigation closes next fall. Promises have been made before. They are more easily manufactured than railroads. We trust that a fulfillment of this promise of Mr. Smith may this time be realized. We believe its fulfillment probable, however, more on account of other influences bearing upon the interest of the Winona and St. Peter road, and the influence of Winona, than because we have the promise of Mr. Smith or any other man. Later advices from Winona report that a contract has been let for the work, and that it is to be commenced immediately. The report however still needs confirmation.

The Democratic Press of Winona makes this announcement, but the Republican simply says that the road will be built next season, not referring to any particular contract. In referring to our article last week the Rep. says that we labor under an erroneous impression in thinking that the St. Peter and Winona company do not desire to comlete this road. In the sense in which we intended to use the language we still think they have not desired to build it, not because it would be injurious to their interests, but because they were not in a condition to build it, and while in this condition, it cannot be said that they desired to, while they held the charter and refused to surrender it to parties who would construct it immediately

RIVER AND RAIL MONOPOLY.

Never since the territorial times of Minnesota have its people been so completly at the mercy of a river and railroad monopoly as they have for the last two past years. Last year under the guise of greatly increased expenditures on account of low water, the river transportation companies plied their scheme of swindling and created a belief that their incresed rates were owing to the difficulties of navigation. This last spring they incrased the rates of freights notwithstanding a fine stage of water, just to prove to the people that their disposition was to "go the whole hog" for freight, leaving only the tail for producers. Receding from the advanced rates in June they have still maintained low water rates notwithstanding a fine stage of navigation the entire season. Not satisfied with controlling the river business, through the procurement of Capt. Davidson of St. Paul. the La Crosse, Prairie Du Chien, and Dunleith railways have combined with the river lines and so established such extortionate rates that the anathemas of the entire State are called forth in remonstrace against this shameful abuse of commercial power. Until quite recently the press of the State have paid little or no attention to the matter, not even so much as to denounce the monopoly, much less suggest the remedy. Some farmer has been attempting to ventilate the matter, through the columns of a Hastings paper, and at last the St. Paul Press has reluctantly, exposed the swindle. It confesses a fear of pecuniary loss in arraying itself against the monopoly, but proposes to "fight it out on this line." The people will perhaps feel under obligation to the Press for espousing their cause even at this late hour, but why a leading journal professing to act without "fear or favor" should have winked at this enormity for two years, and failed to advocate the interests of the people who have thrown their whole patronage into that office, and enriched its proprietors, may seem a little queer. But now that the subject is under agitation what is proposed as a remedy? Competition is one, but it must be formidable to break down the present combination. Legislation is another, which should be exercised whenever the fundamental law will admit of it. If by this means, present evils cannot be corrected, the legislature should have at least learned the lesson that no more grants or favors to any river or railway corporations should be made, unless conditioned upon a rate of freights to be established by law and governing the company in its charges.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED.

Resolutions have been proposed in Congress and read a first and second time and referred to the Judiciary committee looking to the amendment in several particulars of the Constitution of the United States. One amendment proposed is that neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any portion of the rebel war debt. This amendment would be almost or quite, superfluous, especially as a part of the fundamental law. The rebellious States themselves are already declaring the war debt void, and it is hardly possible the national Congress will ever become so corrupt as to frame a law for its payment.

"No tax or duty shall be laid on any articles exported from any State." These words it is proposed to expunge from the ninth section of first article of the Constitution. This is the first step to be taken in order to prepare the way for an export duty on cotton, and is in pursuance of the recommendation of the Secretary of the Treasury. From a slight export duty on cotton; the Government will realize a very handsome revenue.

Another amendment proposed is that representation in Congrees shall be apportioned according to the number of legal voters. Legal voters are declared to be either natural born citizens or naturalized foreigners. A census is to be taken of the voters when the regular census is taken. This amendment would take from the Southern States quite a number of their representatives, as three fifths of the negroes who form a part of the representation basis now, are not voters and would not be counted under the new system.

It remains to be seen in case the amendment should pass, whether the South would enfranchise the blacks to preserve their present basis of representation, or submit to smaller representation in Congress. It would probably stimulate them to elevate the black man as soon as possible to that mental preparation which is necessary to a judicious exercise of the voting power, and then to confer upon him the right. Another quite important amendment proposed is that all laws State and national shall be equally applicable to all citizens without regard to color.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY CONNECTION.

The Chicago Tribune announces that the North Western Railway Company have entered into an agreement to complete their line of road to Winona by the time the St. Paul and Winona road is completed to the latter place. These roads in connection with the St. Paul and Pacific road will give an air line railway from the northern boundary of the State to Chicago, and will necessarily form the shortest route to that city. The Winona Republican deems this information reliable, and says that the fulfillment of this design is of the greatest importance to the State and especially to Winona. It settles the question of the commercial supremacy of Winona over all other river towns in the State Winona will doubtless reap a generous share of the benefits arising from the completion of this enterprise, on account of which we extend to her citizens a word of congratulation, but to the entire State the benefit of an air line, from its northern and western frontiers to Chicago direct, is no mean addition to our railroad facilities. According to the arrangement the extention of the North Western will be made as soon as the St. Paul and Winona is completed. The citizens of Minnesota will be glad to know how fast the work on the latter is to be prosecuted. Thirty miles are now graded and a heavy force will enter upon the work early in the spring, but at what time the company intend to reach Winona we have not learned.

GEORGIA RATIFIES.

The legislature of Gorgia has ratified the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery. It also proposes to pass laws protecting the fredmen in their rights, and in certain cases allowing them to sue, and testify in court. This is the 28th State which has ratified the amendment, and with the action of Ga slavery is dead throughout the United States. The amendment is now adopted by the requisite three-fourths of all the States and has passed into and become a part of the fundamental law,

PALMER'S INDICTMENT QUASHED

General Palmer who has charge of the military District of Kentucky, was not long since indicted by the Grand Jury of the circuit court in that State, on the charge of aiding the slaves to escape. The case was made upon the fact that the General had given the negroes passes to leave the State. The court dismissed the indictment upon the ground that slavery at the time he was indicted, did not exist, because a sufficient number of States had ratified amendment abolishing the institution of slavery. By this decision Kentucky found herself "out of court," and so was the General. Upon the heels of his acquittal he promulgates the following order in reference to negro rights.

The General commanding announces that, though the fact has not been officially anounced, enough is known to warrant the statement that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting slavery has been ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the States, and is to all intents and purposes, a part of said Constitution.

Whatever doubts may have heretofore existed on the subject, slavery has now ceased to exist in Kentucky, and with it fall all the laws of the State heretofore in force intended for its support.

General Orders Number Thirty-two [32] and Forty-nine [49] and all other orders from these headquarters relating to the issuing of passes to colored people, having become unnecessary, are therefore rescinded. From henceforth colored people will be under the protection of the general laws of the land, and if the owners or operators of boats and railroads shall disregard their undoubted right to travel at pleasure, upon conforming to reasonable regulations, they are advised to apply promptly to the courts for redress.

Mexico in Congress.

Senator Wade, of Ohio, has offered several resolutions in the senate on Mexican affairs. They are very clear and outspoken, preceded by a lengthy preamble reciting the policy of Maximilian and the outrages he has already perpetrated against the Mexicans. The whole matter was referred to the committee on foreign affairs. Senator Howard of Michigan, moved that the president be requested to furnish the senate all correspondence in possession of the government touching the occupation of Mexico by the French troops. Mr. Chandler, Senator Howard's colleague, offered a motion that the president be requested to furnish the senate with all correspondence in regard to the barberous decrees of Maximillian, ordering Mexicans to be shot for the defense of their independence. From all this it is evident that we are bound to to take a decided, active stand on the Mexican question.

NOT TO BE ADMITTED.

We are not disappointed in the action of the lower house of congress, in refusing to suspend the rules for the admission of a resolution giving southern representatives the privilege of the floor. There is no use in the minority fillibustering about the matter. The southern states are not to be represented in either house of congress this term. Possibly Tennessee may have a seat, but her case is unlike all others. It is time the lesson were learned from some quarter that treason is a heinous crime and that it must be punished. This mad haste to get into Congress, by the southern states, ill comports with so much talk we used to hear about their inexorable determination to have nothing more to do with the Yankees, in governmental affairs. We now see it was mere bluster. Why can not these men learn something from the past. They are in a fair way to get an important lesson.

STATE NEWSPAPERS.

We are in receipt of the Houston county Journal, a neat seven column paper just established at Caledonia. It promises to become a good local paper, and has made a very commendable beginning.

The Owatonna Plaindealer has enlarged to a seven column sheet, with the columns same width of the UNION. Until its enlargement the UNION bore the palm for large columns, no paper in the State of the same style having the same width. The Plaindealer probably anticipates by a few months only the time when Owatonna on account of its railroad connections and its growing importance, would demand and support a paper of respectable dimensions.

A number of our exchanges have adopted a new plan of publication, which in a few cases is quite advantageous to the proprietors. The insides of these papers are printed by a firm in Chicago who furnish them to country papers, and charge a small sum over the cost of the paper, [which by printing in large quantities they can afford to do] thus supplying the country press with reading matter for the inside every week, to which is added their local and State news on the outside. Of those which have adopted this system, we may mention the Lake City Leader, Shakopee Argus, St Peter Tribune, and last week the Le Seur Statesman, enlarges to an eight column sheet, the inside being printed at Winona or La Crosse. This system is quite advantageous to papers located where the business of advertising is not large enough to crowd out the reading matter, or the subscription list is too small to pay for any great amount of reading matter. We congratulate our country neighbors in this happy solution of the perplexing question, how to print a newspaper successfully without the assistance of business patronage, and with only a small paying subscribtion list.

ROCHESTER POST.

The new proprietors of the Rochester City Post have taken possession of the concern and issued their "announcement." They promise to be republican in politics, holding the correct view that no political principle can be established or supported except by party organization. They promise to be a faithful reflection of local events and to enlarge and improve the Post so as to admit of more general news and business matter.

Appointments of Lieutenants.

About four hundred and seventy first and second lieutenants are required to fill up the old organizations of the regular army. The Secretary of War proposes to give to members of Congress the privilege of filling up something over one half this number, or one lieutenant to each Congressman. Mr. Stanton has accordingly addressed to the members of Congress the following circular letter:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5, 1865.

SIR: In order to fill existing vacancies in the regular service of the United States army by equal apportionment among the States, one first lieutenant or one second lieutenant will be appointed from the congressional district you represent upon your nomination of a suitable person having the requisite qualifications. If you desire to make such nomination you will please cause the accompanying application to be signed and returned to this department with your recommendation annexed on or before the first day of January, 1866, to the end that if the applicant is found qualified by the examining board he may be speedily appointed. By order of the Secretary of War. E. SCRIVER, Inspector General, U. S. Army.

STATE NEWS.

The Minnesota stage Company is now running from eight to twelve coaches daily from here to La Crosse, to meet the requirments of passengers, mail and Express traffic. Notwithstanding the bad roads and dangerous crossing of the river no accident has occurred whereby any person has been injured or any mail or goods lost; neither have they failed a single day to bring the eastern mail. One day last week it was necessary to carry the mail across the river at La Crosse, upon the backs of men, a distance of over one mile, and then great caution had to be exercised to prevent breaking through the ice. Next Monday it is expected the ice on the river will be sufficiently strong to run the stages by that route, which will lessen the time three or four hours. Aside from railroading the Minnesota Stage Company eclipse everything else in the traveling line.—Winona Rep. Dec, 15.

BLOODY AFFRAY AT WACONIA.—Fritz Moy of Waconia was dangerously stabbed at a "Dance" in that town a few days since. It seems to be a difficult matter to tell who was the guilty party but as near as we can learn, two brothers George and David Schauer felt insultep by Fritz and while the crowd held him to prevent him using them up they attacked him with a knife and inflicted some half dozen ugly gashes, one on the thigh being nearly three ieches deep. Another bad flesh wound was inflicted between the 4th and 5th ribs also a gash about three inches long on the side of the neck. It was evidently their intention to kill him but he being a very powerful man managed to avoid their blows just enough to save his life. After the affray he started to walk home but soon fell to the ground faint from loss of blood and was carried home and attended by a physician.

It was thought for awhile that he could not recover, but we understand that he is now in a fair way to get up again.—Chaska Valley Herald.

OUR RAILROAD.—We understand the Engineers are locating our Railroad [Saint Paul and Winona] about three miles above Hastings, and that they will be here this week and definitely determine at what particular point to cross the river, and that the work in this vicinity will be prosecuted with vigor early in the spring.—Hastings Ind. Dec. 14.

ABSCONDED.—P. E. Lavin and R. M. Jackson, contractors on the main line of the St. Paul & Pacific Railroad, west of Minneapolis, absconded a fed days since with about $5,000, which they had drawn to pay the hands in their employ. These men came from the East not long since, and having recommendations of the highest character from well known railroad men in whose employ they had been, they were received with favor by the Company, and contracts awarded them. They had the contract for grading 20 miles of the road, and were to have it completed by the 1st of June. The money was drawn on Monday, the 11th inst., since which time the contractors have been neither seen or heard from. Lavin, we understand, had recently taken to his bosom a companion for life. and the two are now, in all probability, enjoying the honeymoon under the protecting ægis of the British Law.

DEATH OF COL. DANE.—We regret to learn that Col. Nathan Dane of Ottawa died last night, of disease of the heart.—St. Peter Tribune, Dec. 13th.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A Post office has just been established in Lake Prairie, and Elias Larson appointed Postmaster. The new office is called Norseland, and it will accommodate the people of Scandian Grove and New Sweeden. The mail will leave St. Peter every Wednesday and Saturday at 4 P. M.—St. Peter Tribune, Dec. 13.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

In the Senate on Thursday a resolution was offered instructing inquiry into the expediency of providing by law for the adoption of the eight-hour system of labor. Mr. Foote offered resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Senator Collamer; and eulogies of the deceased statesman were delivered by Messrs. Foote, Harris and Johnson. The Senate adjourned till Monday.

In the House, the committee to inquire into the condition of the late so-called Confederate States was announced, as follows: Messrs. Stevens of Pennsylvania, Washburne of Illinois, Morrill of Vermont. Grider of Kentucky, Bingham of Ohio, Conkling of New York, Boutwell of Massachusetts, Blower of Missouri, and Rodgers of New Jersey. A resolution was adopted for an adjournment from the 21st to the 9th proximo. A bill appropriating $50,000 to repair and refurnish the President's house was passed; as also a bill appropriating $15,440,000 for the payment of invalid and other pensions. A resolution declaring treason a crime that ought to be punished was adopted unanimously. A resolution was adopted providing that no representatives from Southern States shall be admitted to seats until Congress shall declare that such states are entito representation; also, a resolution instructing the Committee on Reconstruction to enquire into the expediency of establishing a National Bureau of Education; whose duty it shall be to enforce education, without regard to race or color, upon the population of all such States as shall fall below a standard to be established by Congress; also a resolution looking to a reclamation by the governmet of its jurisdiction over that portion of the District of Columbia ceded to Virginia. Mr. Morrill delivered a eulogy upon the late Senator Collamer. The House adjourned till Monday.

CONGRESSIONAL.—Senate.—Senator Wilson intorduced his bill of last winter, establishing a uniform militia system throughout the United States. Mr. Doolittle introduced a bill authorizing the President to maintain a uniform Freedman's Bureau throughout the late slave States. Mr. Trumbull made a speech in favor of enlarging the powers of the Freedmen's Bureau. The President sent in a message, accompanied by copy of General Grant's report of his trip throughout the South. The General's report is in favor of a speedy reconstruction of the late rebel States.

House.—A resolution was passed promising to co-operate with the Secretary of the Treasury in contracting the currency. Action was postponed on a resolution calculated to wipe out polygamy. A bill was passed authorizing every railroad company to carry passengers, government freight, mails, &c., from one state to another. This hurts Camden and Amboy. A bill was also passed granting $25,000 to Mrs. Lincoln on account of the salary of the late President.

HOW CONGRESS RECEIVED THE MES SAGE,

Col. Forney read the Message to the Senate and Mr. McPherson to the House. The Senate received it with the gravity becoming that dignified body. But, in he House, a correspondent says.

The passages in the message which were applauded in the House during the reading, were those asserting that traitors should be punished and the offense made infamous, and at the same time the question judicially settled, finally and forever, that no state of its own will has the right to renounce its place in the Union; that a tax on travel and merchandise in their transit constitutes one of the worst forms of monopoly, and the evil is increased if coupled with a denial of the choice of route; and the President's declaration that the justification of England in fitting out cruisers during the rebellion cannot be sustained before the tribunal of nations, and that the friendship between the two countries must hereafter rest on the basis of mutual justice. The applause when this part of the message was read was emphatic, and there was a general clapping of hands both on the floor and in the galleries on the conclusion of the reading of the document.

News in Brief.

—A company was organized on the 13th inst. to build a railroad from New York and Oswego, over the middle route; the capital being fixed at $10,000,000.

Mr. Tice will deliver a sermon at the Methodist Church (City Hall) appropriate to the day following, Christmas, and will also preach in the evening touching upon the same. On Christmas evening the members of the Presbyterian Church will give the children of the Sabbath School a Christmas Tree. Appropiate services will take place at the same time.

FIRE AT GARDEN CITY.—Just as we are going to press and too late to obtain full particulars, we learn of a destructive fire which occurred at Garden City night before last, and by which the store and several hundred dollars worth of wheat, belonging to James Thompson Esq. of this city, were totally destroyed. We learn that most of contents of store were saved. No insurance. Amount of loss not ascertained.

—The Fair held by the ladies of the Episcopal society on Wednesday evening last was well attended, and the most of the articles of their handiwork were sold. The best specimens with a few exceptions had been taken from the room before our arrival, but we saw several articles which revealed a superior taste among some of our ladies. Such efforts on the part of the ladies, and for the cause of the church in its infancy, are worthy of encouragement. The Presbyterian circle which was to meet on the same evening adjourned to assist the enterprise—a good turn, it will deserve another.

A NEW ESTABLISHMENT.—Mr. F. H. Fowler and Co. advertise this week the opening of a new Jewelry, Cutlery, and Yankee Notion Store, next Door to the Record Office. They have a nice variety of these articles including gloves, scarfs, work boxes, table covers, shoe packs, kid gloves and so many other things we haven't room to mention them. They claim that their facilities for purchasing are superior to most dealers, and they will sell correspondingly low. We bespeak for them a "call before purchasing elsewhere, ACADEMY AT CHASKA.—An academy for the instruction of the youth of both sexes is in successful operation at Chaska a flourishing little town in Carver county, three miles above Shakopee. We are in receipt of a circular from the Superintendent giving the object of the school, method of conducting it, and the terms. Chaska being the place of our former residence, we are personally acquainted with the faculty of this school and are thus able to judge of its merits. There are four teachers besides the superintendent, all of whom are accomplished scholars, as well as teachers of rare excellence. The school has a library of school books, chemical and philosophical apparatus, and a fine piano for the use of students. It not only recommends itself by its intrinsic merit, but has the endorsement of many of the prominent men of the State, such as Governor Miller, Gen, W. R. Marshal, Thompson Brothers, D. D Merrill and others of like prominence. We do not know of a school in the State we can more conscientiously commend to the public than this academy. For particulars address the Moravian Academy at Chaska.

ANOTHER LODGE—The Rev. Mr. Gregg has organized a lodge of Good Templars at Vernon Center consisting of twenty-five members. We are under obligations to one of the members for furnishing us a list of the officers of the lodge. They are as follows:

W. V. T.—Mrs. E L McCracken.
W. S.—Wm. Ellas.
D. G. W. C. T.—Pearl Otis

A number of propositions for membership were received at a subsequent meeting and the lodge may be considered in a prosperous condition. Wednesday evening is designated as the time for regular meetings. Success attend their efforts.

—If you want to make your "sweetheart" a Christmas present of a piece of nice jewelry, go to F. H. Fowler & Co's.

—The weather for this month has been more severe than any we have known since coming to the State. Two weeks have elpsed in which either storm or excessive cold has prevailed contiually. The sleighing has been of the very best, but it is almost too cold to enjoy it yesterday morning our thermometer dropped to 38 degrees below zero, but to-day the weather is moderating.

TO DISCHARGED SOLDIERS
Veterans and Others.
The present Congress will probably make some provision by law, so that the soldiers who enlisted in the first part of the war will receive the same amount of bounty as those who enlisted afterwards. I would invite all soldiers who have not received the highest bounty allowed to any, or who did not receive the full bounty promised them when they inlisted, either by reason of their being discharged before the expiration of their term of service, or from any other cause, to call at my office and bring their discharge papers with them, or write me, giving their full name, number of regiment in which they inlisted, when discharged, and the amount of bounty received; also would invite all to call and see me who have not received any pension, State bounty, or back pay to which they are entitled. I am now making out papers to forward as soon as Congress acts on the matter and with my successful experience in prosecuting soldiers claims heretofore, I think I can give entire satisfaction to any soldiers who intrust their claims to me. No charge unless successful, and then, terms reasonable.

new, and 922 conversions from State institutions. Two banks have failed. The result of the conversion has been rather to diminish than to increase the circulation. National bank notes in circulation Oct 1, were 171,321,903 dollars; State banks, 78,867,575 dollars; legal tender and fractional currency, $704,584,658. Including bank notes not issued, the whole amount of the nominal circulation at that date was 1,083,452,233 dollars; from which the Comptroller makes large deductions in order to arrive at the actual circulation. National bank notes not delivered to banks are 109,152,045 dollars; legal tender held by banks, 193,094,365 dollars; compound interest notes, mostly held as investments, 121,314,195 dollars; currency in United States treasury, 56,236,440 dollars; altogether, 499,323 097 dollars; leaving the actual circulation, 460,844,229 dollars.

It is recommended that as the most efficient means to curtail expansion, a system of compulsory redemption at the financial centers be adopted. The emergency, which required an irredeemable paper currency no longer existing, resumption of specie payments should ensue at the earliest possible moment. As one step towards it, the tariff should be so adjusted as to discourage inordinate importations; increasing the tariff as gold and foreign exchange recede in price. Internal taxation at the same time should be simplified. In addition to $120,000,000 from the tariff, the Comptroller's estimates are $100,000,000 on whisky, malt liquors, and domestic wines; 15,000,000 dollars on tobacco; 125,000,000 dollars on cotton, 15,000,000 dollars from stamps; 20,000,000 dollars from licenses; 10,000,000 dollars from premiums on surplus of gold; in the aggregate 405,000,000 dollars, a sum probably 100,000,000 dollars in excess of expenses, the whole or part of which could go to the yearly reduction of the debt. By restricting the Internal Revenue tax to a few articles the cost of its collection would be greatly diminished, and dissatisfaction with the law be abated. The Comptroller protests warmly against all schemes of State taxation of National securities as a violation of public faith, and proposes the transfer of the bureau which he administers from Washington to New York, as demanded by economy and convenience.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate, on Tuesday, Dec. 12, the House reconstruction resolution, as amended by the Senatorial caucus, was passed by a vote of 33 to 11—Messrs. Dixon, Cowan, and Doolittle voting with the Democrats in the negative. A bill was introduced granting to certain persons the right to establish telegraphic communication between New York and the West Indies. A resolution was presented to restore the writ of habeas corpus in every State in the Union. Mr. Cowan's resolutions, calling upon the President for information as to whether the rebellion has been suppressed, was amended by requesting the President to furnish copies of the reports of the Hon. John Covode, Gen. Schurz, and other agents sent to investigate the condition of affairs at the South; and, as amended, was adopted.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Raymond, the credentials of the Tennessee Representatives were referred to the select committee on the so called Confederate States, by a vote of 126 to 41. A resolution to admit the Tennessee members to the privileges of the floor pending the decision of their case, was adopted [after having been rejected] by a vote of 133 to 35. Inquiry was instructed into the expediency of providing by law for the equalization of bounties, and of revising the laws regulating the commerce of the lakes and rivers on our northern frontier. The House refused to second a demand for the previous question on a resolution sustaining the President in his reconstruction policy. The Committee on Territories was instructed to affix the name of Lincoln to one of the Territories.

The reconstruction resolution, as it passed the Senate yesterday, will, it is expected, be passed by the House today. It is the intention to send a subcommittee to the various capitals of the Southern States, to take testimony as to the working of the President's plan of reconstruction. This business will probably occupy several months. Mr. Raymond's move to have the case of Tenn. made the first business of the joint committee, is said to have been made at the personal request of the President.

From Europe—Fenian Trials.

New York, Dec. 14.

Advices are received, per City of Boston, from Liverpool, to November 30.

There is no news of Stephens, the escaped Fenian Head Centre of Ireland. The Governor of the prison from which he escaped, has been punished by being suspended.

The Fenian trials are progressing.

Captain Corbett, who commanded the pirate Shenandoah at the time of her transfer, is being tried at Queenstown for a breach of the Foreign Enlistment Act.

There is no additional news from Chili or Spain.

Breadstuffs firmer.

[Per steamer Java]—The Fenian trials are progressing. Luby, proprietor of the Irish People, has been found guilty and sentenced to twenty years penal servitude. The Morning Post says that Stephens has arrived at Paris.

In the Court of Queen's Bench the trial of Captain Corbett, on the charge of selling the Shenandoah to the rebels, and enlisting men for her, resulted in his acquittal.

Mr. Bright has been making a strong reform speech at Blackburn. He denounced in unmeasured terms, the massacres in Jamaica, and held the Governor and his accomplices responsible for murder, and predicted that they would yet appear at the bar of justice.

The Mississippi Legislature has declined to ratify the anti-slavery constitutional amendment, on account of objections to the second clause.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

Caution to Purchasers.

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,

Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

CENTENARY HYMN.

BY

GEORGE LANSING TAYLOR.

A hundred years! O Lord our King,
A century's joy thy people sing!
God, grateful millions mingling raise
Their song of sweet triumphant praise!

How small the seed with weeping sewn,
How vast the boundless harvest grown!
From many a land, o'er many a sea,
Tongues, races ransomed shout to Thee!

Hosanna! Let the anthem roll
From clime to clime, from pole to pole,
Till alleluias blend and rise
From all the world, through all the skies!

Free Grace, the New Birth, Perfect Love,
The Spirit's witness from above,
The faith whose zeal sets realms aflame,
For these, O Lord, we bless Thy name!

Descend and breathe, O Holy Ghost,
On all our tribes, through every coast,
Till 'neath Immanuel's name unfurled,
They bear Thy Gospel round the world!

A Terrific Governor.

In Jamaica they have a Governor and a Constitution, two Legislative chambers, and all the paraphrenalia of a government. The Governor's name is Eyre. They have had a riot in Jamaica, in which the blacks of one portion of the parish got up a parade, ending in violence to the property of some of the planters and factors who rule the island. In their rage they murdered a few persons who were obnoxious to them. For this riot [and it was only a riot] there can be no legal justification. The guilty should have been arrested and punished as the law directs. There was no insurrection, however, as the riot was a surprise to the other blacks of the island, thousands of whom took part in its suppression. But Eyre was as much scared as was Governor Wise in the John Brown affair. He buried himself in his mansion, and called lustily for the British army and navy to save him. He abandoned the government and surrendered all authority over life and property to a court martial, and that court martial, sitting by day and by night, sentenced and caused to be hung over two thousand men and women. The records of modern times do not contain the history of a more infamous, cowardly, or brutal sacrifice of human life. The colonial Legislature has been assembled, and the brave governor finds an opportunity to vent his rage, and at the same time render himself an object of contempt to the whole human race. He insists that Jamaica "is still on the brink "of a volcano, which may at any time "burst into fury." And we think that any country cursed with such a madman for a governor ought sooner or later to burst into a fury. He describes the political condition of the country to be in a most lamentable state, and declares that—

"There is scarcely a district or parish in the island where disloyalty, sedition, and murderous intentions are not widely disseminated, and in many instances openly expressed. The misapprehensions and misrepresentations of psnedophilanthropists, in England and in this country, the inflamatory harangues of seditions writings of political demagogues, of evil minded men of high position and of better education, and of worthless persons without either character or property to lose; the personal, scurrilous, vindictive, and disloyal writings of a licentious and unscrupulous press; and the misdirected efforts and misguided counsel of certain ministers of religion, sadly so miscalled, if the Saviour's example is to be the standard, have led to their natural, their necessary, their inevitable result among an ignorant, excitable, and uncivilized population—rebellion, arson, murder.

When it is remembered that the government of Jamaic consists, in addition the governor, of two councils, one of which is appointed by the governor, and the other elected upon a large property qualification, and that the local magistracy and colonial judiciary are selected by the governor, the picture drawn by his excellency as to the sentiments of the people, no matter how just it may be, is not very complimentary to himself as the political ruler of the island. The policy of Governor Eyre has been to starve the blacks out of existence; all that has been accomplished has been the social degradation of the race, which is increasing in numbers, even while reduced to the most squallid poverty. His policy has been to stop the payment of wages to negroes. and to compel them to be virtual slaves to the planters. This they refuse to do, any in their refusal are upheld in England and on the island; and this opposite policy he pronounces to be disloyal, seditions, and murderous.

One of the first acts of the court-marial was to hang one of the leading merchants of the island; a Mr. Gordon, who was also a member of the legislature. This act will undoubtedly be fearfully overhauled by the British government. The governor, however, as if to impress the world with the magnitude of a forty eight hours rebellion, proposes that the constitution be changed; that the two houses of the Legislature be abolished; and a "strong government," one capable of hanging more than two thousand persons without trial, be established, of which he shall be the head. Pursuant to the governor's recommendation, bills have been introduced into the Colonial Legislature for the following objects:

"A Bill to amend the constitution of the island. A Bill to indemnify his excellency the Governor and all others engaged in suppressing the late rebellion in this island. A Bill for the confiscation of the property of persons engaged in the rebellion. To compensate certain persons for loss of office, consequent on the remoddeling of the constitution of this island. To authorize the purchase by government of cutlasses now in the island, and to prohibit the importation and sale of cutlasses, and to regulate the disposal of firearms. To regulate places of worship and meeting houses and religious services held therein."

It will be seen that, accompanying the bill that amends the constitution and abolishes the legislature, there is another bill making compensation to the members for their loss of office. We think that any pecuniary compensation that would rid the island of both the legislature and its present governor would be wise expenditure for a wise purpose.

Throughout the governor's excited, and we may justly say frenzied, "speech from the throne," there was not a word suggesting the propriety of remedying existing evils, of removing the terrible oppressions under which the people labor, or of any change of policy that will incline the hearts of the people to the government. His cry is for blood, and nothing else will satisfy him except blood.

Gov. Eyre has, in the peculiar gubernatorial style of ol oratory so prevalent during the war in the rebel States, far surpassed the example furnished him by the American governors. Like them, he forgets that he is not possessed of royal prerogatives, and that, like them he may be hurled from place and power by the hand of an offended and outraged people. The extraordinary course pursued by this brutal coward may it is to be hoped, result not only in his dismissal, but of the establishment in Jamaica of some form of government that will be regulated by principles of justice and humanity. Eyre proposes to abolish all forms of religious worship among the blacks, save that of the English church, and that proposition ought to be the last which he should be permitted to make as governor of Jamaica

Employment of Women in Government Offices.

Mrs. Jane G. Swishelm has written a long letter to the New York Tribune on the employment of women in the departments at Washington. She starts out by saying that it is still regarded as experimental, that the Interior Department is about to give it up as a failure, and that ex-Secretary Dana and many other men of liberal views are in favor of the exclusion of women from all the departments. Mrs. Swishelm thinks Washington the center of snobism, and therefore a very bad place to try the experiment. She finds fault with the male clerks:

"There is not one in twenty who can go to a room where women are employed, and transact any business with one of them without, in some way, reminding her of her womanhood. They are "sorry to trouble the ladies," or they "hope the ladies are quit. well,' or, "it is a pity to have ladies shut up in offices such beautiful weather," or, "it is unpleasant for ladies to come out in such unpleasant weather. In som way the ladies are to be dale red to or encouraged and their shortcomings excused because they are ladies. The idea of treating them as copyists and clerks—simply this and nothing more—is beyond the mental calibe: of almost any man with whom they are brought into personal relations,"

But Mrs. Swishelm's description of some of the female clerks, and of the influences that secured their appointment, and of conduct, is racy indeed:

"Some Honorable Senator or Representative has a female friend without visible means of support. He gets her a a place and she makes her appearance, perhaps a little piece of painted impertinence, who might have been stowed away in the catacombs in the day of the Pharaohs for all one can tell of her age, but who studiously assumes all the airs of a miss o sixteen. Her wrinkles are filled out with pipe clay or some other light colored mud—her eye-brows are made of black-lead or lampblack, or something in that line—her hair is died until it is dead enough to satisfy any respectible undertaker of the proprietor of burial, and one who wonders she does not add a setting of green leaves to the magnetia colored roses on her thin face. She comes tripping in on the toes of her infinite-simal gaiters, gets off her things and displays a head which reminds one of a drop chandalier trimmed for the ball and undergoing the process of dusting, while her pins, chains, bracelets, frills and other fixings, would set up a tin-box pedler in trade. She establishes herself at the table. opens her basket, gets out her beads and goes to counting and stringing, 'one, two, three, four, and then a large one; one, two, three, four, and then a knot,' etc., etc.

A piece of writing to copy is given to the 'little piece of painted impertinence,' which she blotches dreadfully; the clerk [male] points out her mistakes, when she smiles at him and 'cocks her eye at him like a canary,' when the clerk (in pants) retires, "swearing not loud but deep." Another female clerk "pure as New England frost," spends her time in knitting, and another in gossipping. But we will let Mrs. S, describe another class:

"The lady who must see the clerk for whom she is recording or copying, and who, when he comes, strikes a Saint Agnes attitude, folds her hands meekly, draws her lips to a 'prunes, prism and potato' pucker, turns up her eyes like a duck in a thunder storm, or a juvenile bovine in the act of becoming veal, makes a pun and an impression, or several puns and as many impressions, grows witty, tells the unfortunate man that she dreamed last night that she was married to him, is self-satisfied and subsides in a simper, while there is no one with the authority to order her out of the room, and see that she never returns."

In conclusion, Mrs. Swisshelm says there are thousands of women perfectly able to perform the duties of clerks, and "it is mean and cowardly for the government to set the example of driving such from occupations well suited to their capacity, as the shortest way of disposing of abuses for which government officials are responsible." She calls on the heads of departments to sustain heads of departments against the type of congressional influence which "carries corruption of the worst kind into the departments, and makes government offices places of assignation, or excludes honorable women from honorable or suitable employments."

RELIEF OF MRS. LINCOLN.

Mr. Wentworth has introduced a bill in Congress providing for the payment to Mrs. Lincoln of one hundred thousand dollars, that being the amount of salary which her husband would be entitled to had he lived to the end of his term. There is no precedent for any such bill as this. A civil pension list has never been tolerated in this country. The nearest approach to anything of the kind was when Gen Harrison died in 1841, after one month's service. The Whigs were largely in a majority in both branches, and it was at first proposed to vote to Mrs. Harrison the $100,000, but after reflection this was abandoned as wholly indefensible. A bill was finally introduced giving her the salary for the year which he had in part served, and in that form it had passed, not, however, without strenuous objection. Many persons who were opposed to the bill absented themselves at the final vote. When General Taylor died, his family only received the salary due him at the time of his death.

The death of Mr. Lincoln was not, however, of an ordinary character, nor were his services rendered under the ordinary circumstances. He was President during all the harrassing period of the war, and he finally died at the hands of an assassin. The case has its peculiaraties, and, between a strong desire to do all that is proper to mark the peculiar respect of the country for Mr. Lincoln, and a shrinking from the commencement of a civil pension list, Congress will have to decide the fate of this bill as the facts may seem to demand.—Chicago Rep.

THE STOCK OF COTTON.

The Secretary of the Treasury in his report estimated that the cotton in the the United States would probably be about 1.500,000 bales; but recent and more detailed examination shows that the stock is not less than 2,000,000 bales—or 1.650,000 of old, and 400.000 of the crop of 1865. Of this, 1,090;-394 bales have already been sent to market. The Secretary estimated a revenue at two cents a pound, from this cotton of $13 800,000, while the increase of the supply to 2.000,000 bales will increase the revenue to $19,320,000. If the suggestion that has been made to fix the tax at eight cents per pound, instead of two, be a opted, the annual crop of cotton will hereafter yield most liberally towards the payment of the interest on the national debt. It is strongly urged in favor of this tax that it will have to be paid mostly by foreign nations, who will thus contribute to our relief.—Chicago Rep.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate, on the 18th, a petition was presented from 1,100 naval officers, headed by Vice Admiral Farragut asking for an increase of pay. A resolution, for the expenditure of $1,000,000 for the support of destitute Indians was adopted. A resolution was offered looking to the relief of regular officers who did not render meritorious service during the rebellion. Bills were presented granting 1,000,000 acres of public land for the benefit of the puplic schools of the District of Columbia; authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis; and giving to U. S. District Courts original cognizance of all suits now originally cognizable in U U. Circuit Courts. The joint committee on the death of President Lincoln reported in favor of a meeting of Congress on the 12th of February next, to hear an address from Secretary Stanton upon the life and character of the deceased Chief Magistrate.

In the House, a resolution was offered that no rebel State should be entitled to representation until it had adopted constitutional amendments securing the payment of the national and the repudition of the rebel debt. The credentials of an Arkansas member were presented, and referred to the Committee on Reconstruction. A resolution was introduced calling on the President for information as to why Jeff. Davis has not been brought to trial. A bill was presented for the repeal of the fishing bounties. A resolution that the elective franchise belongs exclusively to the regulation of the States was tabled. A bill was passed appropriating $25,000 for the relief of Mrs. Lincoln. A bill was reported extending the right of suffrage in the District of Columbia. Mr. Stevens of Pensylvania, made a speech on reconstruction, in which he took the ground that the rebel States must come back into the Union as new States, or remain as conquered provinces.

THE VERMILLION GOLD DISCOVERIES.

What Captain Fisk Thinks of Them.

WHITE BEAR LAKE, Dec.. 18, 1865
Editors St. Paul Press.

As the subject of gold discoveries near home has come to be one of unusual interest, and a good deal noised, I find myself besieged with letters and personal inquiries as to "what I think of it?" "what does it amount to?" "will it pay?" "how about the titles?" &c., &c., to such an extent that I ask to avail myself of the use of a brief space in your paper, that I may communicate a general reply, or such suggestions as are warranted by my limited knowledge of the facts.

1st. I have no doubt of the existence of gold in quartz ledges about Vermillion Lake, but as to whether that precious metal is deposited there in paying quantities, I am not prepared to say. The certificate of assay furnised by our State geologist does not in my mind, demonstrate that there is a field for the masses in which they can certainly amass fortunes.

If my memory serves me right, the ore assays less than $30 per ton, which will most certainly require the use of all the most modern improvements in machinery and scientific processes for gathering the gold, and those means must necessarily then be applied on a large scale, and under the auspices of organized capital, to make it pay. It will prove a very rare diversion from former developments in the geological world, if we find these, so far from the great upheavals of the country, what experienced quartz miners would term rich deposits of gold.

But I may say that if further tests sustain assurances that the ledges of the Vermillion Lake District will simply pay the capitalists and no one else to develop, it will bring out of isolation and almost despair, to bloom with a metropolis, rendered accessible by speedily constructed railroads and and a lake decked with sail, a commercial base rating higher in my judgment, than any in the Northwest. None more than myself will rejoice to see this much, at least, as the result of these discoveries.

2nd. As to the title to the lands in question, I am of opinion the government will recognise the right of the Indians now occupying them but will speedily negotiate therefor, and probably then Congress will then cede said lands to the State or at least the right to control them under municipal rule—and the claimant, or squatter or miner will exercise the privileges afforded in the common mining laws of the State. Should our own statutes lack in detail, then I suppose the specific regulations in common use in State and Territories where the required legislation has been had, would meet the exigency until our own law makers could fill the bill.

Hoping that the highest hopes and anticipatians of all parties may be realized, and the State at large reap the harvest it will bring,

I am, very truly,
JAS. L. FISK

Wonderful Domestic Tragedy.

The following extraordinary domestic tradition is extracted from a new book, entitled "Napoleon the Third and his Court," which is much talked of in Europe:

The Duke of Alba, the brother-in-law of Napoleon the Third, is a short, little man, who has something icy about his whole manner. Small and weak, his face displays an alabaster hue, which gives him a ghost-like aspect. In Spain the story is current that the Duke was buried before he was born. When his mother was enciente with him she was so desperately ill that all attempts to restore her remained fruitless.

The Duchess died far away from Madrid, at a chateau which had always been her favorite residence. She was buried in the family vault; and, as it is the custom of the Spanish nobility, several valuables, among others her rings, were put into her coffin. The treasures which had been left to oblivion with the Duchess aroused the cupidity of some ruffians: they broke into the vault the day following the funeral, robbed the dead woman, and would not leave the coffin until they had plucked a flashing diamond from the finger of the corpse. The diamond was on her little finger and would not come off.

This gave the body snatchers the truly cannibal idea of cutting the finger. The pain aroused the apparently dead woman; she came to her senses, sat up in her coffin, and, by her unexpected wakening, put the robbers to flight. When they departed they forgot to close the vault. The Duchess found sufficient strength to quit her coffin and return to the chateau, where she was at first taken for a ghost, and a priest was called to exorcise it, but as he was unable to banish the spectre, the people in the chateau gradually began to believe in her corporal existence. The Duchess recovered and gave birth to a boy, who has never lost the deathly palor which he brought into the world with him.

THE MANKATO UNION.

Mankato, Minn., Friday, Dec., 29, 1865

THE NEW YEAR.

It becomes our journalistic duty to chronicle the approaching exit of the year of our Lord 1865 into the shades of the past, and while lingering at the scene of setting day, to point to the morning star which precedes the effulgent rays of a HAPPY NEW YEAR. Before the UNION makes another weekly visit, the opportunity of presenting our compliments for the year 1866 will have passed, we therefore, anticipating the time by three days only, wish the patrons of the UNION a happy new year. How regularly once each year is this wish of mortal man reiterated, but how few at the expiring term can say of the past, the wish has been fully realized. Happiness unalloyed is not for mortal man to enjoy, but the enjoyment of that degree of contentment attainable by the human family is dependent mainly upon the disposition of the one desiring it. Contentment is seldom ever promoted without an effort, and to this end it becomes all who would live in harmony with themselves and the world in the coming new year to frame their own minds to the varied circumstances into which by the turn of fortune's wheel they may be placed.

DRESS FOR THE NEW YEAR.

It was our intention to issue on the 1st of January, 1866, the UNION in a new burgeois type, which was ordered from Chicago in November, but as yet has failed to reach us. Two weeks ago to-morrow the material left St. Paul for Mankato, and altho' we have been as far as St. Peter in search of the goods, our attempts to discover their whereabouts have been fruitless. Either there has been a gross error in forwarding the goods or some faithless scamp has appropriated them to his own use.

We shall take measures at once to recover the type or replace the loss, and hope at an early day to present the UNION to our readers greatly improved in typographical appearance. We take this occasion in the closing issue of the old year to thank the friends of the UNION, and as well, our personal and political friends for the many courtesies, and favors it has been our pleasure to receive during our brief editorial career in Mankato.

In addition to purchase money of the office we have expended nearly $700 in new material greatly improving our job department. Our job work has increased in proportion to our increased facilities, proving that what is worth doing at all is worth doing well. We have received numerous compliments from our business men, concerning the execution of work ordered at this office, for which, many thanks. We shall endeavor as far as means and industry will permit to so improve our facilities for business that no occasion will arise for ordering work away from home.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

The law provides that the Legislature of the State of Minnesota shall convene on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of each year. The first day of the session will therefore come on Tuesday next, the 2nd day of January A. D. 1866, at which time the Legislature convenes at St. Paul. The Republican caucus which will probably be held on Monday evening next, will be attended with some interest, as its action will settle the various aspirations for office in either branch of the Legislature, and determine who shall receive the entire vote of the party at the election. Upon the question of public printing there will be a diversity of opinion as well as votes also. Last year there was no Republican paper to compete with the Press in bidding for the work. This winter the Pioneer which has changed hands, and is now published by good Union men as a Union paper, will compete for the favor which the Press has enjoyed for three years. We predict as a result of the election for this lucrative position, that the establishment which receives the highest vote will do the State printing.

Governor Miller will issue his outgoing address, and General W. R. Marshall will be inaugurated as the new Governor. As there is no U. S. Senator to elect, the business of the Legislature will be confined to local interests.

SLAVERY ABOLISHED.

The Secretary of State has issued his proclamation, officially announcing the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery from the limits of the United States. This is the fourth, and by far the most important constitutional amendment ever ratified by the several States. On the 31st day of Jan. 1865, Congress submitted this amendment to the States for ratification. Illinois was the first to ratify. Other loyal States followed in rapid succession, until nearly all the northern States whose legislatures were in session last winter and spring had ratified before adjournment. Since the approach of winter, South Carolina the fiercest rebel state in the Union, was the first to ratify. North Carolina came next, then Alabama and Georgia. Still later the Pacific States of Oregon and California have swelled the number to twenty nine which is one more than the constitutional requirement. This great achievement of human philanthropy though consummated directly by peaceful legislation is the offspring of a mad section, which with the intention of more closely riveting the chains of the oppressed, placed at defiance the power of the goverment, and under the folds of a traitorous banner, ignominiously lost the stake for which they were playing. The enchained are in chains no more, but the world will never appreciate so keenly the immense sacrifice of blood which gained to us this triumph of liberty, as will those members of the private families around whose hearth stones the nation's heroes will never again assemble.

MINING COMPANIES.

Three mining companies have been organized at St. Paul for the purpose of opening the quartz leads lately discovered at Vermillion Lake. The first was organized on the 7th day of November last, C. Draper Williams being elected President, and E. A. Dodge Secretary, and is called the Vermillion Falls Mining Company. Another organized on the 5th instant, is called the Minnesota Gold Mining Company. General Sibley is president and J. E. Thompson secretary. The third is called the Mutual Protection Gold Mining Association, and is under direction of Major Newson. This company consists of twenty-five men who have prepared themselves with ox teams, sleds, provisions, &c., and started last Wednesday for the Vermillion country where they will immediately settle upon the mining district, take claims and prepare for operations in the spring.

DEATH OF TOM. CORWIN.

On the 15th instant, Hon. Thomas Corwin while in Washington was suddenly struck with paralysis, and died from its effects on the 18th. Mr. Corwin was born in Kentucky but while yet an infant was removed to Ohio where he has since lived and become identified with its growth, politics, and history. His father resided near Lebanon which town has still been deemed the home of Mr. Corwin. We clip a brief sketch of his public life from the Chicago Republican which may be found elsewhere.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.

By a joint resolution of both Houses, Congress adjourned from Thursday the 21st instant to the 9th day of January next. Our columns this week present in brief the business of that body up to the time of adjournment.

THE HON. THOMAS CORWIN.

Rapidly are passing away the giants who adorned by their intellectual greatness the statesmanship of the country during the last half century. The last of these great men who has fallen is the Hon. Thomas Corwin of Ohio, who died at Washington on Monday afternoon

Mr. Corwin was born in Bourbon county, Kentucky, July 29, 1794, and was in his seventy-second year when he died. His ancestors were originally Hungarians, and settled in New Jersey, moving thence to Kentucky, and from Kentucky came to Ohio when Mr. Corwin was an infant. His father resided in the vicinity of the present town of Lebanon, Warren County, Ohio. Young Corwin was raised at hard labor on a farm until twenty years of age, and, despite the poor opportunities of learning at that time, acquired considerable information. At the age of 14 he exhibited evidences of that oratorical capacity which in later days he employed with such effect. At twenty years of age he left the farm, and served one year as deputy clerk in the office of the clerk of Warren county. He then commenced the study of the law, and in May, 1818, was admitted to the bar. He at once entered upon a good circuit practice, his power of oratory being a great auxiliary. In 1822 he was elected to the Legislature, and made himself famous in a speech against a bill for the restoration of the whipping-post for the punishment for petty offences. He served in the Legislature until 1830, when he was elected to Congress. He supported Clay in 1824 and Adams in 1828, and continued always an active member of the Whig party. In 1840 he was elected Governor of Ohio, having stumped the entire State in support of Harrison, whose cause he warmly espoused. In 1845 he was elected to the United States Senate, and the next year made that celebrated speech on the Mexican war, denouncing it as a scheme of territorial acquisition. That speech has become historical. In 1848 Gen. Taylor died, and Mr. Corwin was selected by Mr. Fillmore and appointed Secretary of the Treasury. In 1853, at the close of that administration, he retired to private life. In 1858, and again in 1860, he was elected to Congress, and his political action was that of the old Whig school, as distinguished from that of the Democratic and Republican parties. He supported Mr. Lincoln for the Presidency in 1860.

In 1861 he was appointed by Mr. Lincoln as Minister to Mexico, where he continued as long as there was any semblance of the Republican Government. He then returned and has since resided in Washington.

Mr. Corwin was a man of strong physical structure; he was renowned for his wit, which flowed constantly. He was in his day one of the most effective popular orators the country has produced. He always enjoyed life, seeking the sunny side under all circumstances. He was an able lawyer, a skillful advocate, an earnest friend, and a most entertaining companion.

MR. STEVENS'S SPEECH.

The Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, of Pennsylvania, delivered one of his most earnest, eloquent, and striking speeches in the House of Representatives at Washington, on Monday the 18th inst, on the subject of reconstruction of the Southern States. Mr. Stevens takes up the most advanced position upon this momentous question, expressly absolving the Republican party from all responsibility for his sentiments. In his view the Southern States as such have by the events of the war ceased to exist. They are now only conquered provinces, to be disposed of as the conqueror may deem advisable. They can only come back into the Union as new States. It is for Congress to fix the terms of their readmission. The true way, as he holds, is to appoint territorial governments for them, as they will not be ready to resume their places as loyal States for some years to come. During this probationary stage the qualifications of their voting population would be subject to the Congress of the United States. In this way the negro —to whose vote Mr. Stevens looks for the means of defeating the inevitable alliance between the Southern secessionists and the Northern Copperheads, and a consequent revolution in the Government—would, with the aid of the white Union minority in the South, maintain the balance of power, and keep the control of public affairs in loyal hands.

If the negro is to be denied the right to vote, then, in the judgment of the veteran Pennsylvania statesman, he should cease to be an element of representation in Congress, and thus the preponderance of disloyal representatives would be averted. The President's scheme of reconstruction having, in Mr. Stevens's judgment, utterly failed, it became the duty of Congress to take the subject in hand. Not only must they fix the status of the rebellious States, but that of the negro also. The freedmen must have homesteads and ample protection. He scouts the proposition that the acts of the newly assembled Legislature of the Southern States have any validity whatever, and denies that the constitutional amendment is yet adopted by virtue of any assent of theirs. His peroration is an indignant repudiation of the doctrine that this is a "white man's Government." We print the fullest report that has yet come to hand of his speech, satisfied that, however much the reader may dissent from the views of the old man eloquent, he cannot fail to be interested in whatever may come from such a source upon such a question.—Chicago Rep.

Congressional.

In the Senate; on the 21st, the President was requested to report why Jeff Davis was not brought to trial. The following gentleman were announced as the Senatorial portion of the Committee on Reconstruction: Messrs. Fessenden, Grimes, Harris, Howard, Johnson, and Williams. A resolution was offered calling for a list of persons indebted to the United States. Mr. Wilson introduced a bill to maintain and enforce the freedom of the inhabitants of the United States. Mr. Stewart replied to Mr. Sumner's speech on the 20th, and argued that the Southern States have not been reduced to territorial condition. Mr. Wilson also spoke on the reconstruction question, replying to the remarks of Mr. Saulsbury on the proceeding day.

In the House, on the 21st, resolutions were offered, declaring that our Government ought never to recognize any Governments upon this continent established by European arms; indorsing the President's annual message; and directing inquiry as to the expediency of admitting a delegate into Congress to represent the District of Columbia. The latter was adopted. The President's annual message was taken up in Committee of the Whole, and speeches were made by Messrs. Raymond of New York and Fink of Ohio, controverting the position taken by Mr Stevens of Pennsylvania, and denying that the rebel States were ever out of the Union. Inquiry was instructed into the expediency of establishing a national system of telegraphing. A resolution was adopted accepting the French invitation to the United States to be represented in the Paris Exposition.

STATE NEWS.

DREADFUL MURDER!—On Monday evening of this week our ears were stunned, and our hearts made sick, with the news of a cold blooded murder resulting in instant death. The details given us, as follows, by one of the jurymen at the coroner's inquest are about as near the correct version as may be:

Patrick McEntee, the murderer, is about twenty-three years of age, and lightly built. He was working with a threshing machine at Mr. J. S. Decker's about two miles east of town. About four o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, a few unpleasant and irritable words passed between McEntee and Mr. I. W. Padden, the murdered man, in regard to passing bundles. This was thought o no consequence by the hands as words and severe passes between individuals occur thousands of times, causing no after thought to either party. Mr. Padden is an old settler, and had just returned from a three years campaign in the army. It is said by the neighbors that he was naturally very passionate, and this caused him often to abuse his wife; but they could see nothing in his language which would be regarded as sufficient provocation for such an act. About an hour later McEntee said his feet were damp, and made this an excuse to go to his boarding house about half a mile distant, where it appears he borrowed a revolver of a young man stopping there from Frankford. He came back on the run. It being at this juncture about dusk, and a belt having broke on the machine, it was thought best to stop work for the day. Mr. Padden was standing leaning on his fork, when McEntee walked up to him, and said "I am ready to fight you now," and ordered him to put down his fork and take off his coat. This Padden refused to do. McEntee then stepped back a few feet, and took from his overcoat the revolver, and pointing it at his breast, shot him dead through the heart!

The murderer coolly put the revolver into his overcoat pocket, put on the coat and walked deliberately away. After a few minutes he came back, and one of the men came out of the house and asked him into supper. He said he did wish any supper, but told him to ask some of the men to come out. The murderer's father came out and they walked to the barn together, when he jumped on to a horse and rode away. All this was accomplished, without an effort being made by the threshers—six or seven stout men—to capture him, or even notice which way the scoundrel took to escape.

A coroner's inquest was held in about an hour after the transaction, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.

Officers have been dispatched in all directions after the murderer, but up to this time[Wednesday afternoon]no clue has been heard as to his whereabouts. It is a clear case of wilful malicious murder, and if the offender is caught, he will undoubtedly suffer capital punishment.

The funeral sermon of the unfortunate Padden was preached at the M. E. Church yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, by Rev. W. H. Soule.—Mower county Register December 21

A HARD CASE.—As we feared, somebody was frozen during the terrible cold that prevailed Wednesday. John Headman started from Redwing Wednesday morning to go to Hastings on foot. He walked about five miles beyond Hungry Point and being frozen and despairing of reaching Hastings, turned back and attempted to reach Hungry Point. This he was unable to do, in his own language his "legs refused to go ahead." In this condition he was found by a man who brought him to Hungry Point, and a teamster brought him from that place to Red Wing.

The man who first found him says at the the time he so found him he was unable to move. He was under an oak tree, around which he had beaten the snow all down and had kicked the bark all off, near the roots, in his efforts to keep warm.

We saw him at the Goodhue House shortly after he was brought into town. His right hand was done up, being frozen so badly that it was completely useless. Every finger on the left hand was more or less frozen.

His boots were frozen to his feet so hard that it was for a time impossible to get them off. His feet were put into pails of cold water, and after a while one of his boots were gotten off, but, horrible to tell, his whole foot was frozen as hard as ever a piece of meat was yet frozen. The other boot was not taken off at that time, and we left to write this article, with more acute pity than we ever before felt for any human being.—Red Wing Republican.

A FACT.—One well posted informs us that a much larger number of men have gone to the pineries this winter than that of any year since the winter of 1856 We, therefore, if the weather proves favorable, may reasonably expect a full supply next spring.—Minneapolis Atlas

ANOTHER EASTERN CONNECTION.—The United States Telegraph Company have completed their line from here to La Crosse, and are now prepared for the transaction of business. They have a continuous line from Winona to all important Eastern cities, and have as perfect a system for operating the same as any of the older companies. Special pains were taken in building the line from Winona to La Crosse, to have it strongly and safely put up, so that it is believed there will not occur the frequent breaks that have been heretofore so annoying to our business men on a competing route. By having two lines of telegraph, one advantage will be secured, in being able to transact business at any time, as it is not probable that both will be out of order at the same time. The U. S. Company have also completed their line to St Charles, along the rail road, and in the spring it will be extended westward to the terminus of the road. On this line they have the right of way, although the Northwestern Company have also extended their line to Rochester by the same route. The latter company have the right of way along the Minnesota Central Railroad. The office of the United States Line is in the brick building adjoining Huff's Hotel which makes it very convenient for the officers of the railroad.—Winona Rep. Dec. 22.

News in Brief.

The President has nominated Lewis D. Campbell of Ohio, for Minister to the Republic of Mexico (Gen. Logan declining the position); Mr. Van Valkenburk of New York, for Japan [Mr. Depew declining], and John Bigelow for Minister to France [Mr. B. now serving as Minister ad interim]

In consequence of Gen. Grant's remarks upon the conduct of the agents of the Freedmen's Bureau, Gen. Howard, the Commissioner of Freedmen's Affairs, has issued an order calling the attention of Assistant Commissioners to the report of the Lieutenant General, saying that "the most thorough inspection will at once be made, and the evils complained of be corrected."

The representatives from the rebel States held a caucus on the 21st, and decided to return to their homes, leaving one person from each State to represent their interests before the Committee on Reconstruction.

It is asserted in Paris that Gen. Schofield's mission is to inform the American Minister there of the views of our Government on the Mexican question.

Two millions of Mexican dollars coined at El Paso, have been deposited in a Washington bank, to the credit of the Mexican Republic.

The troops recently ordered to be mustered out amount to about 30,000 men.

TO DISCHARGED SOLDIERS
Veterans and Others.

The present Congress will probably make some provision by law, so that the soldiers who enlisted in the first part of the war will receive the same amount of bounty as those who enlisted afterwards. I would invite all soldiers who have not received the highest bounty allowed to any, or who did not receive the full bounty promised them when they inlisted, either by reason of their being discharged before the expiration of their term of service, or from any other cause, to call at my office and bring their discharge papers with them, or write me, giving their full name, number of regiment in which they inlisted, when discharged, and the amount of bounty received; also would invite all to call and see me who have not received any pension, State bounty, or back pay to which they are entitled. I am now making out papers to forward as soon as Congress acts on the matter and with my successful experience in prosecuting soldiers claims heretofore, I think I can give entire satisfaction to any soldiers who intrust their claims to me. No charge unless successful, and then, terms reasonable.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES—As we want to close out the following articles we now offer them at greatly reduced prices, viz: Overcoats Business coats, Pants, Shirts, Drawers, Gloves, Mittens, Hats, Caps, and a large assortment of ladies and gents furs, and other articles too numerous to mention. —A New Years ball will be given at Shoemaker's Hall next Monday evening. The tickets are only one dollar each Uncle Tom, will furnish oysters, at his stand on the corner opposite Christensen & Bros. (Howe's Quadrille Band will discourse "symphonies of sweet sounds" for the occasion.) A pleasant time is anticipated.

CALL AND SEE.—H. P. Christensen & Bro's are selling off their extensive stock of toys and yankee notions at very low prices, and all in search of such articles for New Year's presents should give them a call.

—Grain is coming in more freely though not in such quantities as may be expected soon. Buyers estimate that about 30 loads arrive daily, making the receipts about 1,200 bushels per day. As the price of grain has receded at Faribault it will hardly pay farmers to haul it so far to that point, and we may on that account expect a greater influx here Wheat is firm at fifty cents per bushel, and Mr S S Higgins says he will buy at the highest Mankato rates. His place of business is at Leach's stone building, where he will promptly wait on grain producers who wish to dispose of their products

—Godey's Lady's Book for January, 1866, is received. It opens with a fine steel engraving entitled "The Farewell Sermon" and "The String of Pearls,"—each worth the price of the book. Then follows the usual double fashion plate, "Waiting for the Stage" and "The Magic Lantern." Also a piece of original music, together with numerous patterns, in fact Gody's Book is becoming more and more attractive.

Smith & Humphrey, at the News Depot, receive subscriptions or sell them by the single copy.

—The Atlantic Monthly for January, 1866, is received. It contains 150 pages of both amusing and instructive reading matter from many of the most talented authors, and is offered to the public at $4.00 per annum for the ensuing year.

Persons desirous of subscribing to a first class monthly will always find the Atlantic replete with miscellaneous reading, an inducement well worth attention.

WESTERN RURAL.—We are in receipt of a copy of this agricultural periodical It is an 8 column edition of neat typographical appearance, published weekly, simultaneously in Chicago and Detroit, contains much useful reading matter for the farmer. It is far superior to many eastern journals. Price $2.50 per year. In clubs of 4 $2.00. Send for a sample copy to H N F. LEWIS,
Pub. Western Rural,
Detroit or Chicago.

—Our Carrier, who, in his weekly round brings the UNION to the doors of our city subscribers with unfailing regularity, proposes, according to a time honored custom, to publish his yearly issue and solicit subscriptions thereto on Monday next, the 1st of the new year Through thick and thin, cloud and rain, cold and heat, snow storms and drifts, the week's task must be accomplished. To add to the small remuneration afforded by this office, his address will be offered for sale. We may here also mention that the mechanical part of the address in every particular will be the work of our carrier to whom we give the liberty of the office for that purpose. We bespeak for him a liberal appreciation of his toil and promptitude.

THE PIONEER.—We print this week the prospectus of the St. Paul Pioneer. We have had occasion to do so before, and to speak in terms complementing it as one of the best news journals of the State. While sustaining its former reputation as such, we are able to add another feature in its publication which will commend it to the reading public. It is now published as a Republican paper and has at its helm two staunch, enterprising union men of large newspaper experience. In the words of its former proprietor, it has sunk into the black sea of abolitionism, which body of water at the present juncture of American affairs, has become a place of fashionable resort. Of course the paper must also become popular, and we can do no less than recommend it as inferior in no particular, to any paper west of Chicago.

SKATING.—We noticed on thanksgiving day as many as one hundred persons enjoying this exhilerating exercise on the river opposite the levee. Since that time the river has been covered with a heavy body of snow and we hear of but little indulgence in that amusement. 'Tis useless to present a friend with a new pair of skates unless a place can be found to operate with them. A skating park is the fashion of other cities, and why may not we afford the same luxury. An enterprising yankee "or any other man" would be well paid for keeping a plat of ice clear of obstructions so that at a small cost the ladies and gentlemen, and lads and lasses of Mankato may venture out on a mild day and enjoy the freshness of the winter air.

TERRIBLE AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—We are informed that Mr. Bartholemew, living near Blue Earth City, was suddenly crushed to death on Wednesday afternoon, the 21st inst. Mr. J. S. Mead had employed some of the neighbors to assist him in removing an old barn from the country to the village to be used as a blacksmith shop. Two lines of teams were hitched to the building, and Mr. Bartholemew's team being on the right, in order to drive, he walked between the two lines. It is probable that he slipped and fell, as when first discovered, the building was passing over him. The teams were halted, but two late to avail anything. It was evident that Mr. Bartholemew was dead, and as there seemed no other way to extricate the body the building was dragged over, and off from it. Upon examination it was found that life was extinct, that both legs were broken in three different places, and the back in two places, and the flesh mangled and mutulated almost to a pulp. The body was taken home where his good lady had just spread the tea table, anticipating his safe and early return. There's not half a spans breadth 'twixt life and death.

—$125 will buy a good work horse if applied for soon Enquire of PIERCE CO.

CHRISTMAS.—Our first Christmas in Mankato was, as nearly every other day is, mostly devoted to business. As the UNION takes its accustomed appearance this week, and the labor of six days cannot be crowded into five, it was our necessity, if not our inclination, to keep open doors. Friend Marks, closed his store early in the morning, and with a clean face and new hat perambulated the streets urging his fellow tradesmen to go and do likewise. Only a few heeded the injunction, but the amount of trade done during the day would'nt make a tradesman of small pretentions very happy. The people seemed to have remained at home, or to have gone sleigh riding, more probably the latter, and horse flesh if it could but speak, would doubtless corroberate the statement. The weather was mild affording a fine opportunity for out door enjoyment, and every sleigh was brought into requisition. In the evening two public entertainments crowned the joys and festivities of the day. At Shoemaker's Hall, forty-seven couples, the largest company ever gathered in a Mankato ball room "with lightsome step" danced to the music of Howe's Quadrille Band, until the merry Christmas had been carried upon the wings of time, to the oblivious past, and the wee morning hours bade them separate and relinquish their amusements. At the Presbyterian Church, the contents of a magnificent Christmas Tree was distributed among the scholars and teachers of the sabbath school. The tree was placed on the pulpit, the desk being first removed It was a cedar limb and reached to the ceiling of the church a heighth of 18 feet, and was loaded with every variety of Christmas gifts, consisting of gloves, baskets, book marks, mantle ornaments, toilet articles, books, skates, sleds, silver cups, money, slippers, etc, etc. We noticed a five dollar bill in the tree, and we since learn that a purse of fifty dollars was also hanging in that "leafy branch" for Miss Ada Belden, the pianist who plays the organ of that church.

The exercises of the evening consisted in singing, prayer & brief addresses by Dr. Zenopolski and Rev Mr. Marshall. The remarks of the Doctor were not easily heard by us, as a concert of family organs was in full blast near the door. But it was in reference to certain customs adopted by a class of people, who, during the holidays forgot sobriety. The address was abundantly appreciated as "Young America" "cheered to the echo" when the Doctor retired, much to the chagrin of the pastor who reminded the children that they were in God's house and not in a theater. The remarks of Mr. Marshall explained the probable reason of bestowing gifts on Christmas. The children sang with the spirit and understanding also. The house was crowded, to its utmost capacity, and happy hearts beamed forth through every countenance. The gifts distributed, the assembly dispersed at an early hour.

PERSONAL.—Hon, Daniel Buck, representative elect from this legislative district, will leave to-morrow morning for St. Paul, to attend the legislature which convenes next Tuesday.

FROZEN—A TALE OF WOE.—We are indebted to Mr. Nathaniel Hudson of Co. H. 2nd Minn. Cavalry, who has just arrived on furlough from Ft. Wadsworth, for the following frightful story of the freezing of four men while en route to Fort Ridgley from Fort Wadsworth.

Mr Benjamin Franklin of the 2nd Cavalry, a resident of Blue Earth City, Thomas Lamrose, a discharged scout resident at South Bend, a Mr. Curley who was in the government employ, and the driver of the hack, all started from Fort Wadsworth for Fort Ridgley on the 9th instant with a two horse team. They had traveled until Monday evening the 11th and made about 55 miles, when the storm had increased to such violence that large drifts of snow had formed, obstructing the road, and the driving storm had drifted the whole party into a bank of snow so that it was almost impossible to extricate themselves. In attempting to free the horses their hands were all so frost bitten that they were powerless to do anything for the team. They abandoned it and started on foot, two of them in one direction and two in another in search of the Minnesota river bottom. Nothing was heard of them until the 19th instant, when an Indian Scout discovered two of them, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Lamrose, in the high grass about twenty-five miles from where they left the team. These men were still alive struggling against the shafts of cold and starvation. They had then been nine days without food and without fire, their limbs having been so badly frozen that neither locomotion nor manipulation were possible Our informant and Major Jo. Brown came up to them while on their way to Fort Ridgley, and had them conveyed there, where they arrived on Christmas day. At the time they were discovered they were 112 miles from the Fort. Both of them are frozen as solid as bone to the knees and elbows. The surgeon at Fort Ridgley says that Franklin cannot possibly survive, while serious doubts are entertained as to the recovery of Lamrose. Curley the Frenchman was discovered at Lac Que Parle and taken to Yellow Medicine. He will probably recover not having been as badly frozen. The driver who was taking the unfortunate party down, probably perished in the storm, as no tidings either of him or his team have been received.

MARRIED.

On the 13th instant, in Judson Township, by the Rev W. Williams, John Edwards to Jane Jones, all of Judson.

Cautions for Those Having Sheep.—We copy the following excellent suggestions about sheep from a circular, issued by F. C. D. McKay, Esq., the General Agent of the American Emigrant Company. The company have already over 10,000 sheep scattered among the farmers who have purchased land of them, in flocks ranging in size from fifty to two hundred head:

1. Keep sheep dry under foot with litter. This is even more necessary than roofing them. Never let them stand or lie in mud or snow.
2. Take up lamb bucks early in summer, and keep them up until December 1st following, when they may be turned out.
3. Drop or take out the lowest bars as the sheep enter or leave the yard.
4. Count every day.
5. Begin graining with the greatest care, and use the smallest quantity at first.
6. If a ewe loses her lamb, milk daily for a few days, and mix a little alum in her salt.
7. Let no hogs eat with the sheep—by no means in the spring.
8. Give lambs a little "milk feed" in time of weaning.
9. Never frighten sheep if possible to avoid it.
10. Sow rye for weak ones in cold weather, if you can.
11. Seperate all thin or weak or sick from those strong, in the fall, and give them special care.
12. If any sheep is hurt, catch it at once and wash the wound, and if it is fly time, apply spirits of turpentine daily, and wash with something healing. If a limb be broken, bind it with splinters, tightly, loosening as the limb swells.
13. Keep a good number of bells on them.
14. Don't let sheep spoil wool with chaff or burrs.
15. Cut tag-locks quite early in the spring.
16. For scours, give pulverized alum in wheat bran—prevent by taking great care in changing dry for green food.
17. If one is lame, examine the foot, clean out between the hoofs, pare the hoof, if unsound, and apply tobacco, with blue vitriol boiled in a little water.
18. Shear at once any sheep commencing to lose its wool, and save carefully the pelt of any sheep that dies.
19. Have some good work by, to refer to at least; this will be money in your pocket.

Garroting and robbery are becoming so frequent in St. Louis that the residents in a certain sections of the city have organized a vigilance committee for protection.

News from Jamaica to the 16th inst The number of negroes executed for alleged participation in the recent outbreak is estimated at from two to four thousand.

General Howards report, relative to the Freedmen's Bureau and the condition of things at the South, has been in the hands of the President for several days. It said that it contains statements showing that the withdrawal of all Federal control from the rebel States would place in jeopardy the interests and safety of the Union people, white as well as black.

A caucur of members of the Virginia Legislature, held on the 16th, directed the Committee on Courts of Justice to report a bill admitting negro testimony in the courts, and to so amend the code as to abolish the distinctive penalties imposed upon free negroes.

On Thursday last in the House of Representatives Mr. Donnelly, of Minn., offerred a resolution of inquiry as to the expediency of establishing a National Bureau for the purpose of enforcing education without regard to color. The resolution was adopted.

The Mississippi, at St. Louis, is nearly blocked with running ice. The river is frozen over at Dubuque, and nearly so at Quincy. Several boats are frozen in between the latter place and St. Louis. In Minnesota, for two days past, railroad trains have been frozen up, the mercury indicating a temperature of 24 degrees below zero.

Over 2,000 French troops landed at Vera Cruz during the past month, and 3,000 more are said to be on the way. An American steamer has arrived at Vera Cruz with 17,000 Springfield muskets for the use of Maximilian. When this vessel was at Havanna, the American Consul refused her permission to leave the harbor, but after a consultation with the English and French Consuls, he permitted her to proceed. Several Americans have been expelled from Mexico on charge of sympathizing with the Liberals. The Cholera has appeared at Vera Cruz.

HUMOROUS.

A Court Scene.—'William, look! tell us, William, who made you? Do you know?'

William, who was considered a fool, screwed up his face, and looking thoughtful, and some bewildered, slowly answered: 'Moses I s'pose.'

'That will do,' said Counsellor Gray, addressing the court: 'the witness says he supposes Moses made him. That certainly is an intelligent answer, more than I supposed him capable of giving, for it shows that he has some faint idea of Scripture; but I must submit that it is not sufficient to entitle him to be sworn as a witness capable of giving evidence.'

'Mr. Judge,' said the fool, may I ax the lawyer a question?'

'Certainly,' said the Judge.

'Wal, then, Mr. Lawyer, who do you s'pose made you?'

'Aaron, I s'pose,' said Counsellor Gray, immitating the witness.

After the mirth had somewhat subsided, the witness drawled out:

'Wal, neow, we do read in the good book that Aaron once made a calf, but who'd a thought the darned critter had got in here?'

The judge ordered the witness to be sworn.

In consequence of the great stagnation of trade in the Manufacturing districts of France and England, a large quantity of valuable Jewelry, originaly intended for the European markets has been sent off for sale in this country, and MUST BE SOLD AT ANY SACRIFICE! Under these circumstances, HAMLIN & Co., acting as Agents for the principal European Manufacturers have resolved upon a GREAT GIFT DISTRIBUTION!

Subject to the following regulations:

Certificates of the various articles are first put into envelopes, sealed up, and mixed: and when ordered are taken out without regard to choice and sent by mail, thus giving all a fair chance. On receipt of the certificate, you will see what you are to have, and then it is at your option to send the dollar and take the article or not. Purchasers may thus obtain a Piano, Melodeon, Sewing Machine, Gold watch, Diamond ring or any set of Jewelry on our list for ONE DOLLAR.

Send 25 Cents for Certificate.

In all transactions by mail, we shall charge for forwarding the certificates, paying postage, and doing the business 25 cents, each which must be enclosed when the certificate is sent for. Five certificates will be sent for $1, eleven for $2, thirty for $5, sixty five for $10, and 100 for $15

AGENTS.—We want agents in every town and county in the country, and those acting as such will be allowed 10 cents on every certificate ordered by them provided their remittance amounts to $1. Agents will collect 25 cents for every certificate, and remit 15 cents to us, either in cash or postage stamps. Agents remitting at once $30, will be entitled to a beautiful Silver Watch, and also 200 certificates.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the want of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of 'double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "Geo. A. Prince & Co." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,

Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!

Helmbold's

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect Helmbold's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

MY HOME.

For the Mankato Union.

I love my little cottage home,
Though lowly it may be;
I love the very paths I roam,
Ah, yes! they're dear to me.

I love the twining evergreen,
That climbs our cottage wall;
I love the shadows that are seen
Within our narrow hall.

I love to watch the evening star,
Which God has lit for me,
And think it shineth from afar
To guide me o'er life's sea.

And when temptation's cruel hand
Would lead my soul astray,
It points me to that "better land,"
And drives the fiend away.

Ah yes! there's beauty every where,
Around my cottage home;
And sweet contentment reigneth there,
To bless me as I roam.

LOUIE.

A COMPLAINT.

For the Mankato Union.

I don't like to see the young men in the street,
Stand gazing and blinking at all the girls' feet;
Nor winking and blinking as some of them do,
If the lady just happens to weer a large shoe.
The streets they are muddy, and crossings are rare,
And I don't like to see the young gentlemen stare
When a lady is trying to secure her gown,
From the horrible filth of your city-fied town;
Much better 'twould be if they'd rally en masse
And fix up the crossings so people could pass.
I don't like to walk through a masculine crowd,
Whose laughter and jeering is boisterous and loud,
And who in their meanness are never afraid
To smoke their cigars in the face of a maid,
Or to utter an oath as she passes the place,
Remarking, "there goes a d——d pretty face;"
And yet, if I walk the south end of your street,
This group of young rowdies I certainly meet;
So with them and the crossings my patience gives out,
And I feel like a school girl just ready to pout.

Alleged Clue to the President's Action.

MR. SEWARD, IN AN UNGUARDED MOMENT, EXPOSES HIMSELF—THE SCHEME FOR THE RESTORATION OF SOUTHERN POWER—MR. SEWARD'S PAST COURSE EXPLAINING THE PRESIDENT'S POSITION.

Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.

WASHINGTON, March 13.

The very emphatic manner in which Mr. Seward affirmed, a few evenings since, that he originated the lately published policy of President Johnson, has set many men to thinking here; and the fact that, coupled with this statement, Mr. Seward made use of some very contemptuous expressions in speaking of Mr. Johnson, added new complications to the matter. This conversation was related to the President, and, although he was loth to believe it, it doubtless excited his suspicions that his Secretary was playing false with him—possibly using him for purposes of his own. At any rate, Mr. Seward, through his friends, is now attempting to deny the reports made in regard to his conversation, but it can neither be denied, nor its point blank statements explained away. The purpose of proclaiming himself as originator of this plan, and his haste to deny having spoken contemptuously of the President, will appear in a clearer light in connection with some other matters and especial attention is asked for the facts which are now presented.

The following conversation occurred in Demopolis, Alabama, in November last, which, in view of the late events, assumes a deep significance. The parties to this conversation were one of the prominent politicians of the South, who, before the war, was a member of the Cincinnati and Baltimore Democratic conventions, and during the war a staff officer high in position in the rebel army, and the other was a Union officer, well known in the West, who had gone South to purchase a plantation, and was at first mistaken for a Southern man:

The conversation turned upon what course the South would pursue, since the failure of their arms. The first named party stated that the matter had already been earnestly considered by Southern politicians, and they had come to this conclusion: that the South must bend all her energies to securing the next President; that they must submit to any abuse or criminations, and only perform such acts as seemed absolutely necessary to satisfy the North. It had been decided that the South could not elect a Southern man, and that to make secession sure they must have a man who could carry either Pensylvania or New York, and they had concluded that of these two States New York was the most available for their purpose, and the most easily bought. If, then, they could find a man who could carry New York, even when put forward as a Southern candidate, they were perfectly sure to succeed, and that in case they did succeed in getting back into power they would soon settle their accounts with the North. It was stated, further, that they had fixed upon their man; that negotiations had already been opened with him, and looked very promising, and finally came out that Wm. H. Seward was the man. To the objection that the author of the irrepressible conflict and a life-long anti-slavery man, could not possibly receive the votes of the South, it was replied that the South would go as a unit for any man that could carry New York, and who would give proper pledges beforehand.

Such in brief is the substance of a statement made in November last, and the names of the parties and all the circumstances connected with the matter can be given if needed. The facts have been in the possession of one of our most prominent Congressmen since the beginning of the session, but they made little impression until the late remarkable conduct of Mr. Seward called them to mind. The person who heard this conversation was so impressed by the manner of the speaker, by his position, and all the circumstances connected with the occasion, that he besought the Congressman to whom he related it, to keep a close watch upon Mr. Seward's actions, as he was thoroughly convinced that the conversation was a correct plan upon which rebel politicians were then working.

Mr. Seward has stated privately, within a short time, that he is to be the next President, and that he expects to get the support of the South.

There are four points in Mr. Seward's course during the war that it may be well to consider. In the first place, the proof is positive that he gave pledges to the South Carolina Commissioners, Forsyth, Crawford and Roman, through third parties, that Fort Sumter should be evacuated. He then defeated the possibility of relieving the garrison, by sending the only vessel on the whole coast that could render the expedition successful to another point. While she was being prepared by the express order of Mr. Lincoln and the Navy Department, for the expedition against Sumter, and when the fleet at length sailed, expecting to meet the vessel he had put to sea at Fort Sumter, Mr. Seward caused a dispatch to be sent to the rebels in Charleston, informing them that a fleet had sailed to relieve Sumter, upon which the rebels opened fire upon the fort and reduced it. These are grave statements, but they are succeptible of abundant proof.

The second point is this: During the first years of the war the assertions of the Secretary, as contained in his dispatches, were to this effect—that whether the rebellion was crushed or successful, either in part or wholly so, that the status of the slave would remain unchanged. About the time of the Peace Conference, his dispatches asserted that all that was necessary was for the South to send members to occupy the seats which were open to them in Congress, and settle all the points of dispute by legislation.

In his Auburn speech, which it will be remembered was made a short time before the conversation already referred to at Demopolis, he maintained the doctrine of the continuance of the States in the Union, and that all that was needed to restore matters to their former state was to have the South send members to occupy their vacant seats. If the statements of the politician to whom reference has been made, can be relied upon, at that very time negotiations had already been opened with Mr. Seward.

The following facts will be recalled concerning Mr. Seward's connection with the New York meeting. On the 21st of February, he had a prolonged interview with the President, and started at once for New York. The next day the President made a speech, which a member of his own household declared was prepared beforehand, and that the President said exactly what he had determined to say. Mr. Seward went to New York and made his speech. After the meeting he dined with the old leaders of the Democracy in that State. After hearing the exact character of the President's speech, he and those that were working with him, sent those dispatches which at first so perplexed the country by their style, but which, on second thought, were believed to reflect the character of the dinner, rather than any sincere indorsement of the speech.

The declaration of Mr. Seward that he originated the present Administration policy, was a good thing to do to the South. The denial of that in part, and of the use of any contemptuous language about Mr. Johnson, is a good thing to keep peace with the President, and make him believe that he is not being used to bring about certain ends, where Mr. Seward alone is to profit.

Until these late developments, no one seemed to have any clue to the objects of Mr. Seward's visit to Havana. There are [illegible] who are now questioning who he [illegible] met in that rebel city of refuge, and [illegible] might have been the character of the negotiations entered into there.

Inasmuch as up to the time of Mr. Seward's return the President was known to have no serious objections to the Freedmen's Bureau bill, it is now questioned whether, as Mr. Seward asserts, he is not directly responsible.

It is well known here that Mr. Seward still cherishes the most bitter feelings toward the Republican party for not making him President in 1861.

All the matters which are stated positively in the above are succeptible of proof. Those which are given as surmises will be judged of by each reader, and each will draw such conclusions as he deems warranted by the facts presented.

THE POLICY OF THE LOAN BILL.

The House of Representatives, on Friday last, by a very close vote, defeated the proposed act known as the loan bill. The policy of this bill is most unquestionable. It authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to fund in interest bearing bonds the various Government issues bearing the general designation of greenbacks, as well as those not bearing interest as those bearing interest. In other words, it is a proposition to add to the debt an annual sum equal to six per cent. upon that portion of the debt now paying no interest. The people have full confidence in the greenback currency; its volume is by no means too great for the preservation of the industrial pursuits of the country. These cannot, at least for the present, be carried on vigorously, particularly those in the hands of men of limited capital, with a contracted currency. What currency can be so popular, what currency can command such confidence, as that issued directly by the Government? The people are now realizing that they are most severely taxed for the use of the national bank currency, and are seriously asking for some rational explanation of that policy which retires a greenback bearing no interest and substitutes therefor a national bank note for which the Government pays interest. If the national bank note was available for any use to which the greenback was not equally available, if the national bank note was better secured than the greenback for which it is substituted, there might be some apology for paying interest for its use. But no such superior excellence attaches to the bank note; and figure it as one may, the substitution of national bank notes for greenbacks bearing no interest, is an oppressive tax for which there is no rational justification.

The national bank issues are in round numbers $300,000,000. To secure them the Government holds that amount of interest-bearing bonds. Upon these bonds the Government pays $18,000,000 in interest annually. Now, suppose that instead of holding these bonds for, and paying interest thereon to, the national banks, the Government should become the purchaser of the same, and should issue thereon $300,000,000 of greenbacks. The value of the currency would be, if anything, better than that of the national banks; the national debt would be in no way increased, but a fund of $18,000,000 would be annually paid into the Treasury which now goes to others. This eighteen millions would next year be thirty-six, and if invested in like manner, would increase with a progression that in ten years would make a magnificent reduction in the aggregate of the national debt. Why should the Government pay interest upon the circulation of private corporations, when the people would prefer the greenback currency, even to the extent of seven or eight hundred millions, upon the whole of which the Government would save the annual interest? The currency now authorized reaches possibly $900,000,000, of which the Government pays interest on $450,000,000. Now if the latter were purchased by the Government, and greenbacks issued in lieu thereof, the annual saving of interest would be $27,000,000 and that too without any depreciation of the currency. On the contrary, its quality would be improved.

The theory of the loan bill is that the moment the whole debt of the Government is funded and bears interest, it will be equivalent to specie, and that a specie basis will be at once established. But with this immediate return to specie payments will come also a contraction of the currency, a contraction of business facilities under which every mechanic, manufacturer, or producer must confine his business to the amount of actual capital in hand. Unable to obtain advances, he must produce and sell, and only produce as his sales will furnish him the means. In return for this very questionable result, it is proposed that the people shall pay an enormous sum in the shape of additional interest.

We think the hesitation of Congress in adopting a policy so immensely expensive, and which menaces the active industry of the country with such distress, will meet the approval of the whole people, who want no better currency than that of greenbacks; a currency that is steadily approaching a specie value, and which is of itself a release from the taxation which is inseparable from the policy of the loan bill.—Chicago Rep., 20th.

A NEGRO CONSPIRACY.

The Conspirators Arrested and Executed.

From the St Louis Republican 17th.

NEW MADRID., MO., March 12, 1866.

Our usually quiet and peaceable town was thrown into a great confusion, on yesterday morning, by the alarming report that the private residence of several citizens had been fired into the night previous, by some person or persons armed with shot-guns or muskets. As the report was soon confirmed by the inmates of the houses attacked, steps were immediately taken to ferret out, and, if possible, arrest the guilty parties. Circumstances led to the suspicion and arrest of two negroes called Tony Byrne and John Wesley. After various contradictory statements, all of which were proved to be false, the arrested parties acknowledged their guilt and implicated another negro named Dangerfield. The latter was soon caught, and after a most searching and thorough investigation, the guilt of the three negroes was clearly established. The investigation elicted the details of a diabolical conspiracy on the part of the negroes to murder all the white inhabitants of this town and vicinity, regardless of age or sex, and to re-enact the scenes of San Domingo and Hayti. The plot had not fully matured, but, on the promise of assistance from a number of discharged negro soldiers who have lately arrived here, the arrested parties concluded to delay their fiendish work no longer.

The night was very dark, the hour about 10, and several of the inmates of the dwellings into which the death-dealing lead of the assassin was hurled, had not yet retired, yet, miraculous to relate, no one was injured.

☞Upon the conclusion of the investigation a meeting was held at the court house, which the citizens attended en masse, and where it was unanimously decided to summarily execute the three villains, which was accordingly done.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival of the Germania, we have European news to the 7th. Her intelligence is highly important. The reform bill was to be read in Parliament on the 12th. It applies only to England and Wales. The marriage of the Princess Helena to Prince Christian of Norway, is to take place on the 9th of July, at Windsor. The London Times heartily endorses President Johnson's veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill. The Schleswig and Holstein Duchies, so unceremoniously wrested from Denmark by Austria and Prussia, seem likely to prove a bone of contention between those powers, and war is looked upon as probable. Prince Couza has protested against his forced abdication of the Hospodarship of Wallachia, and asks the contracting powers to the Paris treaty to reinstate him upon his throne. Affairs in the Danubian Principalities wear a somewhat threatening aspect. Couza has arrived in Vienna, and masses of troops are being sent to various cities. The Rusian corps of observation on the Moldo-Wallachian frontier has been strenghtened, and Turkey has dispatched reinforcements from Bucharest to Jassy, the capitol of Moldavia, the frontier of which is being heavily garrisoned. The revolt in Spain continues. The garrison at Cludad Rodrigo rebelled, and was driven into Portugal. Spain demands the return of the soldiers, but Portugal hesitates.

Files by the Africa give an interesting debate in the British Parliament on the navy, in which Sir Morton Peto and others called attention to the excellence of our iron-clads for coast defence. Capt. Horton delivered a lecture on the same subject, whereby it would seem that most of the English iron-clads are comparative failures.

The President and the Pennsylvania Democracy.

The following story is told by the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune:

"It will be remembered that the late Copperhead Convention of Pennsylvania, after nominating Mr. Clymer for Governor, passed a resolution endorsing the President's policy. A sub-committee was appointed to come on here and present the resolution in person. This grateful mission was essayed a few evenings since. The Committee were admitted to an audience with the President, and were proceeding, after the most approved fashion, to assure him that the Democracy of Pennsylvania had designed no empty compliment; that they had watched his recent action with no ordinary gratification; and that they should stand by him and his administration so long as he so nobly stood by the sacred Constitution. Before the peroration was reached the President broke in upon them with the suggestion that the wisest thing they could do was to go home and change their ticket. He believed that they had made a fatal mistake in nominating such a man, especially at this particular time, with many other remarks of a similarly encouraging character. The last seen of the Pennsylvania committee-men, they were making for the Baltimore depot, in a fearfully demoralized frame of mind."

The Sugar Beet.

In the month of November last, Mr. C. E. Olmstead left Chicago for Germany and other European countries, under the auspices of the State of Illinois, to investigate the merits of the sugar beet, and its manufacture into sugar by the best methods. Mr. Olmstead has just returned to Chicago, and we learn from the Journal of that city that his mission has been a very successful one, his investigations having led to the most favorable and satisfactory conclusions. In Germany farms rent for from thirty-five to forty dollars per acre, per annum, and the revenue tax is 17½ cents on every hundred pounds of raw material, equal to 3¾ cents on a pound of sugar, and yet a fair profit is realized. The white or Silesian beet is found to be the best, and in all respects the most profitable, as it furnishes a greater proportion of the saccharine element than of any other kind. The Silesian beet has been throughly tried in Illinois, and found to flourish finely. Mr. Olmstead brings with him new seeds, and specific directions for culture. A company is now formed, which will be provided with complete machinery for the manufacture of sugar from the beet. It is known that $200,000 of capital, invested in the enterprise, will enable the company to turn out ten tons of refined loaf sugar every twenty-four hours. It is no longer a question of doubt as to the practicability of largely introducing the sugar beet into Illinois, and may we not infer that it can be introduced into Minnesota, with something like a corresponding degree of success? Our soil is but little, if any, inferior to that of Illinois, and the climate is by no means unfavorable to the growth of vegetation requiring the greatest amount of heat to bring it to maturity. Should the soil and climate of our State not prove obstacles to the culture of the sugar beet, there can be no question as to the profitableness of such a crop. Even if we produced and manufacture, to begin with, only a quantity sufficient to supply our own wants, it would pay well, and ultimately it would doubtless become one of the most important of industrial pursuits in the State. Will not some enterprising agriculturist experiment a little in the matter, and report progress?—Winona Republican.

The West Indies.

The royal commission of inquiry into the causes and suppression of the recent revolt is progressing in Jamaica. Mrs. Gordon, wife of George W. Gordon, who was arrested as the ringleader of the revolt, was examined on the 6th inst. The examination had now lasted thirty days. The trial of Ramsey, Provost Marshal of Morant Bay, for atrocities committed in the discharge of the duties of his post, is proceeding before the civil magistrates, but the proceedings are conducted in private. The accused have been admitted to bail. In the Assize Courts, thirty-seven of the prisoners charged with participation in the rebellion are on trial. All was quiet.

The steamer Matilda, with 315 negroes on board, has been captured and brought into Havana. They had been to Cape San Antonio and 100 of them had been sold as slaves. Some 1,200 have recently been landed there. The mortality among them is quite heavy, and it is reported that some 80 bodies were lying at the Cape, food for carrion crows.

Gen. Dulce has sent his resignation as Governor-General to the home Government. A counter decree of that requiring all captured slaves to be sent to Fernandina has been issued.

CHOLERA APPROACHING.

From the Chicago Journal.

We make the following extract from a private letter from an officer in the army, dated New Orleans, March 13:

"Official news that the cholera has broken out at Key West, has reached us. Assistant Surgeon Taylor and sixteen men are down with it. A strict quarantine is established below New Orleans, and vessels from Havana and Key West are subjected to 21 days quarantine."

The pestilence is slowly and surely approaching. Having already reached the main land of our Southern coast, from the West Indies, we may soon expect its progress northward. Let the people of our cities prepare for it. Much can be done to break its terrors by prompt and efficient measures. Cleanliness is the surest preventative. Let our city authorities lose no time.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate, on the 16th a number of petitions were presented and referred. A resolution was introduced providing that invalid persons shall be allowed to hold office under the Government, the salary of which does not exceed $800. The bill reorganizing the Judiciary was reported back with sundry amendments, and some additional sections, abstracts of which will be found in the reported proceedings. Mr. Stewart of Nevada presented a series of resolutions, prescribing the conditions of reconstruction, which were referred to the Reconstruction Committee. The deficiency bill was passed with some amendments, which will require it to go again to the House. The naval appropriation bill was taken up and amended, and its further consideration postponed.

In the House, on the 16th, Mr. Price of Iowa attempted to introduce a resolution appointing a committee to investigate the charges made against Secretary McCulloch. A number of important resolutions were introduced and referred. The loan bill was discussed at considerable length, and the previous question was finally ordered, several pending amendments and substitutes rejected, and the bill itself was defeated, amid intense excitement, by a vote of 66 to 68. Mr. Garfield moved a reconsideration of the vote, pending which the House adjourned.

The Senate was not in session on the 17th inst. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the President's message, and speeches on reconstruction were made by several members. A letter was received from Secretary McCulloch, in response to a resolution requesting information, stating that the available balance in the treasury on the 10th inst. was $123,423,885,—$57,799,921 being in coin, and $65,623,964 in currency. Of this amount, $21,780,358 was on deposit in national banks designated as depositories.

In the Senate, on the 19th, the bill to establish a home for disabled soldiers was passed, and will be sent to the President for his signature. Mr. Fessenden stated that the Committee of Fifteen had not finished taking testimony in regard to the claimants of seats in Congress from Southern States, except in the case of Tennessee, and those claimants were at liberty to introduce testimony. Mr. Wilson introduced a bill for the equalization of bounties, providing a bounty of $8.33 per month, for every month of service to soldiers honorably discharged. The bill providing for an annual inspection of Indian affairs was passed.

In the House, on the 19th, a substitute for the loan bill was introduced and referred. A joint resolution to adjourn the present session on the——Thursday in May was adopted. The motion to reconsider the vote by which the loan bill was defeated on Friday prevailed, by a vote of 81 to 67, and the bill was recommitted, without instructions, to the Committee on Ways and Means. The general appropriation bill was considered in Committee of the Whole, and reported without amendments.

In the Senate, on the 20th, the Committee on Finance reported the bill making appropriation for the Military Academy at West Point. A bill was also reported appropriating $25,000 for the relief of the destitute freedmen and women of the District of Columbia.

In the House, on the 20th, a resolution of thanks to Gens. Gordon, Granger and James A. Garfield, and the men under their command, was presented and referred. The general appropriation bill was passed, after striking out the clause increasing the pay of the officers of the mint at Philadelphia. The bill to amend the act of March 3, 1864, "relating to habeas corpus, and regulating judicial proceedings in certain cases," was passed. The Postoffice appropriation bill was also passed.

In the Senate, on the 21st, a bill was introduced to aid in the construction of the Kansas and Neosho Valley railroad, to connect the Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico at Galveston. Bills were passed to aid the construction of the Northern Kansas railroad; "to provide more effectually for the punishment of certain crimes;" authorizing the establishment of telegraphic communication between the United States and the West Indies.

In the House, on the 21st, a bill was reported, and recommitted, to secure the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific railroad. A bill was introduced to aid in constructing the Iowa Central railroad. The diplomatic appropriation bill was passed; as was also the bill to faciliate commercial, postal, and military communication among the several States, amended so as to prevent land-grant railroads from receiving pay for Government transportation. Leave was asked, but refused, to present a resolution declaring Tennessee in a condition to be represented, and relieving the Reconstruction Committee from further consideration of her case. The bill to reimburse Pennsylvania for her war expenditures was taken up, and a substitute offered to pay all the loyal States 25 per cent. of their claims, or about $118,000,000.

THE MANKATO UNION.

Mankato, Minn., Friday March, 30 1866.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS!

Subscriptions to the Union after the first day [illegible] will be required in advance. They will be received for any number of months desired, at the yearly rates. The time for which the subscriber has paid is indicated by the label accompanying each paper. If not renewed the paper will be discontinued, but a special request, either personally or by letter to continue, will be entertained.

ERRATA.—In an article which appeared in the Union last week entitled "very [illegible]" the clause which reads "from under [illegible] of a money [illegible]" should have read, "from [illegible] of a [illegible] power."

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL VETOED.

As we go to press we receive the announcement that the President has vetoed the civil rights bill, and this even after the feature was removed, from which it might be inferred, that the right of suffrage was granted to the colored population. He seems to think the bill places all people upon a level, which it does, but as that is anti-[illegible] although not anti-republican, it is not approved. In his argument the President is governed by the Dred Scott decision, which declares that black men have no rights which white men are bound to respect. The entire message is not yet received and we shall refer to it more at length next week.

THOSE RESOLUTIONS.

There seems to have arisen a question of veracity between Major Smith and the Record. The Record says the Major told him there were more than a hundred republicans who signed the resolutions endorsing the President. The Major informs us that there were about half that number. The Record of its own knowledge drops down as low as [illegible] or [illegible] the first week, [illegible] of this number, doubtless many were counted who [illegible] sometimes one way and sometimes another, and some also, with a word of explanation would not have signed [illegible].

We are asked by the Record by what authority we read republicans out of the party. As it imagines we have done in the case of Major Smith. The chief priests asked Christ "by what authority doest thou these things?" His reply was, "the baptism of John, was it from heaven or of men?" They reasoned among themselves, saying: If we say from heaven, he will say, why then not believe ye him? but if we say of men, the people will stone us. So they could not answer [illegible] their [illegible] declined giving his authority. We [illegible] asked the Record if [illegible] provisions of the civil rights bill [illegible] to answer, the [illegible] "If I say I [illegible] will stone me, and [illegible] passage [illegible] ping [illegible] will [illegible] better keep still. [illegible] to throw off [illegible] its [illegible] I support the civil rights bill or not [illegible] such circumstances [illegible] the authority [illegible]

CONDITION OF THE TREASURY.

It will be remembered that a short time since, Secretary McCulloch made a statement showing that there was in the U. S. Treasury, the sum of $[illegible] nearly half of which was [illegible] and the balance in currency. Mr Freeman Clarke, the Comptroller of the currency, in several published letters denies that any such amount is in the Treasury, and [illegible] Mr. McCulloch for making false statements. But the treasurer, Mr Spinner, explains the difference between the secretary and comptroller, by saying, that so many elements enter into the statements of the [illegible] business of the treasury department, that it is impossible for the comptroller to understand the true situation, without examining the books of the office. Conclusions drawn by the comptroller's own books, are erroneous because they do not cover the [illegible] ness of the department. Mr Spinner endorses the statement of Mr. McCulloch, concluding his letter in these words:

"These explanations seem [illegible] the points in the Comptroller [illegible] of the Currency's communication, and I take leave of the subject with the remark that the statement made by me on the 10th inst., which was by the Secretary of the Treasury transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives showing the balance in the Treasury to be $77,-799,821 [illegible] and $65,823,[illegible] in currency, of which latter amount $21,780,[illegible] was in national banks, [illegible] in all respects true.

Very respectfully, yours,

F. E. SPINNER,

Treasurer of the United States.

NEWSPAPERS.

We notice in the last issue of the St. Peter Tribune that its proprietor, Martin Williams Esq., contemplates enlarging it, to an eight column sheet, as soon as he can perfect his arrangements.

The St. Peter Advertiser also announces this week that in a short time it will be enlarged to double its present size. If these contemplated enlargements are the indications of a wholesome and substantial growth in business and patronage, we can congratulate them upon the new era of their existence.

The Henderson Monitor has been removed from Henderson in Sibley county to Carver in Carver county by its proprietor, F. Belfoy Esq. who issues a paper at that village, styled the Carver Independent. Mr. Belfoy announces the Independent as an advocate of Democratic principles, (if anybody knows what they are), and promises a live local paper. In the same county, two miles [illegible] at Chaska, Hon. C. A. Warner and [illegible] publishing the Valley Herald as a republican paper. What pecuniary motive there is in leaving Sibley county, where no other paper is published, and risking the doubtful support, which Carver county can give to two papers, we are not able to see. But then, we can do no less than present our best wishes to Mr. Belfoy, wishing him success, a compliment due from every member of the craft, no matter whether the prospect is flattering or not.

The Chicago Post has been enlarged to a nine column sheet and will hereafter be conducted solely by D. Blakely Esq., late Secretary of State of Minnesota, with the assistance of his brother, C. H. Blakely. The tone of the paper will hereafter accord with the views of its new proprietor, who is a staunch radical republican. It bids fair to become a reliable enterprising, and thoroughly republican paper, while it is the cheapest daily published in the city of Chicago.

Montana and the Rocky Mountain Gold Region!

MANKATO VS ST. CLOUD AS A STARTING POINT FOR EMIGRANTS.

Persons emigrating to any new field of enterprise, are naturally desirous to accomplish the most possible, with the least amount of investment of time, labor, and money. Those who contemplate a trip to the Rocky Mountain Gold Regions, during the coming season, are now anxiously making inquiries, concerning the most feasible route, and the best points for obtaining outfits. Supplies of provisions and clothing are needed. St. Cloud has expended large quantities of gas in its own behalf, to persuade an uninformed and confiding community, that they alone have the favorite locality. The dupes of the Fisk Swindling Humbug expedition of last year, (which were many) might tell a sad tale of that sell, stupendous in form, speculative and fraudulent in intent.

[illegible] the St. Paul Press denounced Fisk's expedition as a "Swindling Humbug" but it would seem as though it has now again [illegible] Fisk's cats paw. But St. Cloud, no doubt, has made money out of the operation, in which the St. Paul Press, has probably had a share. Be that as it may, St. Cloud is at work for her interest, and the St. Paul Press is their ally.

But we say emphatically, without any fear of successful contradiction, that St. Cloud is not the best place for the Emigrant starting point. Let us compare figures and data. From St. Paul to St Cloud is [illegible] miles, from St. Cloud to Sauk Centre [illegible] miles, Sauk Centre to Alexandria 100 miles, Alexandria to Fort Wadsworth [illegible] miles, making 250 miles from St. Paul to Ft. Wadsworth. On the other hand from Mankato to Ft. Wadsworth by way of New Ulm, Redwood, and Big Stone Lake, following the Minnesota river route, is 180 miles, making this the shortest route by 160 miles. And by the way, St. Cloud does not [illegible] any military escort. Hence when emigrants once get to Wadsworth, they have the benefit of that as much as the Fisk expedition can possibly have. Government does not furnish the escort for the individual benefit of Capt. Fisk, but for the people.

But the people do not start from St. Cloud. [illegible] at this point [illegible] Mankato [illegible] to St. Paul, and some of them nearer. Hence, the whole benefit of the shortness of the route and cheapness [illegible] will accrue to the bona fide emigrants, and not to St. Paul, St. Cloud, or Capt. Fisk.

But the people and Editors of St. Cloud have been alive to their interests. They have set forth in glowing colors, what purport to be facts to induce the people to believe that theirs is the only available point for the emigrant [illegible] parties.

Ours of Mankato have been silent. But it is nevertheless a mistake. The people have been misinformed. I speak of what I know. I have been to St. Paul, and to St. Cloud, and I do know that clothing and provisions can be procured in Mankato cheaper by 25 to 50 per cent. than in either of the other points named. Add to this the difference of 160 miles in transportation and some ten days less time, and it forms no small item in favor of the emigrant. Let the people be fully informed. They need nothing more to awaken them to their interest. Capt. Fisk duped them once, is not that enough.

If our Editors will set forth in true colors the facts as they are, it is enough. Probably no very large expedition will be formed here. But several small ones will start from this part of the country, and from the small towns around, all of which must of necessity come together before going very far, as they will finally get on the same route, before entering any borders beset with danger from hostile Indians.

And there are scores of men here who have not humbugged the people, as capable of engineering an expedition for a much smaller speculation than Capt. Fisk. We have those in our midst who have been across the plains more times than he has seen, and are quite as well acquainted with Indian strategy and warfare.

We conclude by saying, let the people be informed that Mankato is the place to buy outfits, cheaper than any other point, and it is the nearest to the gold regions by ten days.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.

The Mantorville Express comes to us this week dressed in mourning. J. E. Bancroft Esq., for nearly nine years the editor and proprietor of the Express, died on the 15th inst at the age of 46 years. His disease we believe was consumption under which he has been wasting away for several months. The Rochester Republican pays the following tribute to his memory:

Earnest and honest in his labors as a journalist, upright and conscientious in all his business and social relations, and kind and affectionate in his family, the death of Mr. Bancroft creates a loss difficult to supply, and inflicts a wound not easily healed. Although he had been in declining health for several months past, and his early demise rendered too certain, yet the sad event casts a feeling of grief and sadness over the hearts of all who enjoyed his acquaintance.

Mr. Bancroft was a strong and vigorous writer, and though earnest and firm in his convictions, the tone of his paper was always marked for its elevated and respectful character. His efforts were based upon the principle that the press should be the conserver of the public rights and morals, rather than a vehicle of harsh epithets or personal animadversions. A good and a useful man has fallen, and the Minnesota editorial fraternity has lost one of its worthiest members. Peace to his low sleeping ashes and sincere respect for his memory.

Dry Goods.

Special Despatch to Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Desirable styles of foreign dry goods command fair prices, but there is an immense amount of trash [illegible] in the auction rooms, and it sells lower. There is a very unsettled feeling prevailing, with a general desire to realize on the part of importers. The importations have been heavy. Many goods have been sold for currency at less than they cost on the other side for gold. The season thus far has been an unprofitable one generally, and losses are severe in many cases. The steady decline in gold and cotton of late has assisted materially in bringing prices down, and there is a dread of a contraction of currency. The following are the quotations at the New York Dry Goods Exchange, of jobbers prices. Market steady to-day with a little better feeling:

Brown Sheetings—Wachusetts, 36 inch, 24c; 39 inch, 26c; Shawmut, 24c.

Bleached Shirtings—Bates, 19c; Bates BB, 30c; Blackstone 30c.

[illegible]—Merrimac W, 21c; Merrimac D, 20c; Pacific, 17c; Freeman 15c.

Delaines—Manchester 22½c; Pacific 22½c.

Cambrics—Washington, 19c; Portland, 18.

Silesias—Canton, 30c; Lonsdale, 28c.

Cotton Flannels—Hamilton, 55c; Nashua, 27c.

Ticks—York 32 inch, 57½c; 30 inch, 47½c.

Hoop Skirts—Bradley's Duplex and Empress stand in good demand.

—Hon. M. Wheeler Sargeant, of Winona, died quite suddenly on the morning of the 20th inst. Mr. Sargeant has occupied several prominent positions since his residence in the State, among which was that of State Senator in 1859. Appropriate [illegible] were passed by the members of the bar, at a session of the District Court, which had convened at Winona.

The Bounty Equalization Bill.

[illegible] St. Paul Press.

The bounty equalization bill, introduced into Congress by Senator Wilson, chairman of the Senate military committee, and published in the Press of the 20th inst., is a matter of great interest to many Minnesota soldiers.

Section two of the act provides as follows:

"That in calculating the amount of bounty due and to be paid to each soldier under the provisions of this act, deductions shall be made for any and all payments of bounty made or agreed to be made by the United States, so that, in no case, will any soldier receive any greater sum of bounty than [illegible] dollars for each or any month of service."

By the terms of the bill it appears that a three months' volunteer who re-enlisted in 1861 and was discharged at the expiration of his three years' term, having served, in all, thirty nine months, would be entitled to receive:

In bounty - - - - - - - -	$325
Deduct bounty already received - -	100
And there will remain due him the balance of bounty - - - - -	$225

By the same rule a three years volunteer who enlisted say in 1862, or at any time prior to the giving of veteran bounties, and who was discharged at the end of three years, having served thirty-six months, would be entitled to receive $100, and there will remain due him a balance of $125.

Volunteers, under the act of July 4th, 1864, enlisting after the President's proclamation of July 18th, 1864, would in some cases be entitled to a balance of bounty, by virtue of the terms of this bill. For instance, a one-year volunteer discharged after eleven months' service, has already received bounty amounting to $66.66. The balance due him would be $25. Had he served his one month, the balance due him would be but $8.33.

Although the bill fixes the monthly bounty allowance lower than many had anticipated, still, as a rule of general application it strikes an equitable balance, and, consequently, the Military Committee of the Senate feel it is all the Government can afford to pay considering the already enormous dimensions of our national debt.

All the old soldiers of Minnesota, members of the regiments that did not veteranize, are deeply interested in the passage of this bill, and should make a united rally to that end. Then circulate petitions praying for its passage; secure every soldier's signature, as well as that of every soldier's friend, and forward your petitions promptly to your Senators in Congress. By this means you will aid to make sure its passage at the present session of Congress. Now or never! is the word. The next session of Congress may be too late. A reconstructed South, cherishing the temper now everywhere manifested, will never vote bounty to Union soldiers.

G. K. CLEVELAND.

St Paul, March 21, 1866.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate, on the 22d, the resolution appropriating the remaining portions of the special report of the Internal Revenue Commissions passed. The bill consolidating the judicial districts of Southern California and Western [illegible] also passed, as did likewise the bill authorizing the construction of a bridge over the Mississippi at St. Louis.

In the House, on the 22d, but little business of importance was transacted. The Agricultural College bill was taken up, and, after a lengthy discussion, recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture. A number of Senate bills and joint resolutions were taken up and referred. The Senate bill authorizing telegraphic communication with China and the other West India islands were discussed, but no final action taken. There was no evening session.

In the Senate, on the 23d, bills were introduced to aid in the construction of the Southern Pacific railroad, and to revive the act to grant land for the construction of the Cairo and Fulton railroad. The Senate insisted upon its amendments to the civil appropriation bill, and appointed a committee of conference. The report of the Secretary of War, transmitting the report of Gen. Rose, Chief of Ordnance, upon the occupancy of Rock Island by the Chicago and Rock Island railroad, was laid before the Senate, and referred to the Committee on Military affairs. In the case of Mr. Stockton, the New Jersey Senator, the resolution declaring him entitled to a seat was adopted, yeas 22, nays 21—Mr. Stockton himself voting in the affirmative, because, as he alleged, Senator Morrill voted against the resolution, after having paired off with Senator Wright.

The only business of importance transacted in the House, on the 23d, was the passage of the loan bill, as amended by the Committee on Ways and Means, and the passage of the Pennsylvania reimbursement bill—the former by a vote of 89 to 53, and the latter by a vote of [illegible] to 35. The joint resolution giving army officers full pay who were [illegible] by the enemy before they had been regularly mustered in, was passed.

Late accounts from Eastern and Northern Mississippi and Northern Alabama represent the cotton prospect as more flattering than was generally hoped. The negroes are working well, and, as a general thing, fair crops are anticipated.

—The 48th Ohio regiment mutinied at Galveston, on account of being kept in service beyond their term of enlistment. Sixty members are under arrest and guarded by negro troops.

Provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize the issuing of such bonds unless a majority of all the legal voters residing in such school district shall vote in favor thereof, at an annual or special meeting of the legal voters of said School District.

SEC. 2. No bonds issued under authority of this act shall be sold or negotiated by said Board of trustees for less than par value, nor shall said bonds or the proceeds thereof be used in any manner [illegible] whatever other than in the purchase of a site for and to the erection, completion and furnishing of a school house in and for said district.

SEC. 3. Said board of trustees, or their successors are hereby authorized, and it is hereby made their duty, on or before the first day of September next, after the date of said bonds, and each and every year thereafter, on or before the first day of September, until the payment of said bonds and interest is fully provided for, to levy and in due form certify to the auditor of the county in which said district is situated, a tax upon the taxable property of said district, equal to the amount of principal and interest maturing next after such levy, and in the discretion of said board, such further sum as it shall deem expedient, not exceeding twenty per cent. of such maturing bonds and interest, which taxes shall be payable in money, and shall constitute a fund for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

MAN KILLED.—A fatal accident occurred on last Tuesday morning, on the railroad, near the Eagle Creek Mill. A squad of workmen engaged in loading gravel on the "gravel train" at that place, had drifted into the bank some ways under the frozen crust of earth, when suddenly the mass [illegible] gave way and striking a [illegible] by the name of [illegible] Peters, threw him with such force against the car wheel as to break his back, and he died almost instantly. The Senate of Ohio has passed the eight-hour bill, with trifling amendments. If these are concurred in by the House the bill becomes a law on the 1st. of July. The bill makes eight hours, instead of ten, a legal day's work.

A fearful fire occurred on the 22d at Petroleum Centre, Pa., commencing at the Ocean well, which is described as terrible in the extreme, spreading and continuing until it formed a complete river of flame a mile in length. Several wells were burned, 2,000 barrels of oil, 18 engine houses, derricks, &c., and several human lives are reported lost. The fire was the most destructive that has occurred in the oil regions since the burning of the Maple Shade well, two years ago.

The Evening Post, which, to a great extent, has advocated the President's policy of rapid reconstruction, says that in the town and city elections in New York the Republicans have not only gained upon the Democrats, but that the Radical Republicans have gained upon those of more Conservative or doubtful tendencies. So it is everywhere. In these times the people are too much in earnest to place their confidence in halfway men.

The progress of the new Johnson party is not so rapid as its founders hoped. Like the plan of rapid construction, it meets with obstacles. The reconstruction scheme finds its obstructions among the representatives of the people; the new party meets with its difficulties among the people themselves. The recent elections would seem to have settled it for the present.

—Fortress Monroe despatches report that Clement C. Clay has been permitted on his parole of honor to enjoy the liberty of the grounds within the walls of the fortress during the daytime. Jeff. Davis's health continues good, and he keeps up the same habits to which he has been accustomed for some time past, including his daily outdoor exercise. He reads much and keeps well posted on passing events. An officer who recently undertook to draw him out on Fenianism met with complete failure. Though a great portion of his time [illegible] to be social and conversational, he is frequently seized with fits of sourness and reticence. He seldom alludes to his trial.

The Fenians.

It is rumored that the Canadian Government will soon call out 10,000 more men. It is stated at Toronto that 180,000 men have tendered their services for defense against the hostile Fenians. "Official circles" have a report that the Fenians intend making the Isle aux Noix the base of operations. The expense of their military preparations to the Canadians is $2,000 per day. At a meeting of the O'Mahony Central Council, held in New York on the 21st, the deliberations are said to have related to "an immediate movement against the British Government." It has been discovered that a British Colonel in Canada is concerned in the Fenian plots. An enthusiastic Fenian meeting was held at Savannah, Ga., on the 21st.

THE UNION A FAILURE.—The proposition to unite the towns of St. Anthony and Minneapolis, under the City Charter passed by the late Legislature has been voted down in Minneapolis. St. Anthony, will not, therefore, vote upon the question, for she could not, if she would, and we know she would not if she could, force her ally into a political union with a community which declares at the ballot box that her company is neither desirable nor acceptable.—Bugs 24.

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine

will use coarse Cotton, Linen, Silk and Twine. It runs easier, faster, stiller than any other machine. It forms a flat, even and elastic seam, differing from every other stitch, each loop being twisted by the means of the ROTATING hook and drawing the twist into the goods, thus securely fastening every stitch, so that the seam will bear to be cut at frequent intervals, and in that case even, the seam is warranted not to rip in wear, and under all circumstances to "survive the washtub." Old worn out family garments, bosoms, pants, dresses, &c., have been submitted to committees at FAIRS where was the greatest competition, and to THIS STITCH premiums have been awarded for its SUPERIORITY, DURABILITY, ELASTICITY and BEAUTY.

A Patented Device prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel ever wearing or touching the dress. By another ingenious improved patent,

THE NEEDLE CAN NEVER BE SET WRONG.

[illegible] great trouble of other machines, [illegible] so easy that a child may set it in the dark with unerring correctness, every time.

No Breakage of Needles.

The blade of the needle is less than ⅜ of an inch long, entire straight. It is less than half the length of [illegible] needles, many of which are curved, [illegible] easily bent or broken—[illegible] expense [illegible].

The Hemmer and Feller can never be set wrong. Any [illegible] in the bed. The hem may be of any width. No other hemmer or feller like this [illegible].

It will not Drop Stitches.

As the needle is always set right, the hasp is short and straight does not vibrate, like longer ones.

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine.

Is run by steam at 4000 stitches per minute—other machines only at 1500 to 1800 with safety.

They have been constructed with MATHEMATICAL precision, hence each part is interchangeable, and can readily replaced in case of accident.

They will not Get out of Order.

We have known it intimately for several years. Many thousands are already in use here [illegible] so far as we know, not one is totally useless or cost a dime to repair, or even been out of order at all. They will last a generation if properly cared for. None who have ever used it ever be persuaded to use any other.

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine.

Works at an instant's notice and never stops "unaccountably." Not one operator in ten of the Wilcox & Gibbs will break a needle or drop a stitch in A YEAR. The Wilcox & Gibbs in the hands of any one knows NO SKIPS, NO RIPS, JUMPS OR MISSES. The roundness, evenness, durability, and beauty of its stitch

WERE NEVER EQUALLED.

Its rapidity, absolute stillness, ease of motion, perfectness of its HEM and FELL were NEVER APPROACHED by any other machine.

We can call in any boy or girl from the street, and with three minutes instruction they will set the needle, attach the Hemmer or Feller and do the work with entire success. A blind girl, with the exception of threading the needle, can do the same. Many ladies owning other first-class machines, come to our office to do their fine hemming and felling on the Wilcox & Gibbs Machine.

The PRESS universally pronounce this the best family sewing machine in the world.

MISCELLANEOUS [illegible]

F. F. SMITH'S PATENT
"CAST-CAST-STEEL"
TURF & STUBBLE PLOWS
COLLINS & Co. HARTFORD

Advantages of this Plow.

It will last from three to six times longer than any other Steel Plow made anywhere by anybody. This has often been proved by actual use in "gritty" soils, occasionally to be found on the margins of streams in the West, in which sheet-steel Plows have been habitually "cut through" in plowing eighty acres or less, it having already plowed over three hundred acres of the same soil without yet being half worn.

It will "scour" in the most difficult soils, where all other Plows have failed. If there is a rod of ground anywhere in which it will not scour, we have yet to find it.

It draws lighter than any other Plow while cutting the same width and depth.

The Share can be sharpened, or a Point welded on, as readily as on ordinary Plows, by any blacksmith who understands his trade, as the steel is perfectly malleable, and works "kindly"

Any section can be replaced by a duplicate, to be had of any Agent, as the Share, Landside and Mouldboards are cast in moulds

It is well stocked with New England second-growth timber, and the standard is wrought iron, with "slots" in the cap so as to give or take land at pleasure

It plows at any depth, from three to twelve inches, works perfectly in either stubble or turf, leaves a clean furrow, and turns under stubble and foul trash completely

☞ It is the cheapest Plow in the ☞world, just as sure as there is economy in paying ☞six dollars once, rather than five dollars five or six ☞times over; — in not losing time and your temper ☞because your Plow won't "scour;" —and in doing ☞a quarter or a fifth more work, with the same power ☞The quality and quantity of work it will endure to ☞perform must be considered, as well as the cost price, ☞in determining whether or not the Plow is cheap. ☞Plows are used for profit, and the one out of which ☞the most dollars and cents can be got, in proportion to ☞its cost, is the cheapest, and we are confident a man ☞gets more than a hundred dollars' worth of "Plow" ☞every time he gets one of these.

These remarks are made after a familiarity with the merits of most of the good Plows in use in the West, many of which have justly earned a good reputation.

☞ Our new model "B" Plow is ☞designed expressly for stubble and foul ground. ☞Heretofore we have had only the "C" pattern designed for both, turf and stubble. The "B" and ☞"C" patterns together will enable us, to meet the ☞views of all as to shape, and give them either ☞"bold" or "lean" plows as they prefer.

Call and see them.

Warranty very liberal.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL DISTRICT CLERKS.—Immediately after the election of School Officers, the Clerk of each District in Blue Earth County will please forward his name and post office address to

F. D. B. PORTER,
Supt. Comm. Schools.

SPIRITUAL LECTURES.—A new spiritual lecturer came among us this week in the person of Dr. Mayhew. He is giving a course of seven lectures at Shoemaker's Hall, the first of the series having been delivered on Tuesday evening last. We understand that a convention of spiritualists will be held under his auspices to-morrow the 31st inst.

TAXES.—It may not be generally known that where taxes remain unpaid until the Auditor hands in the delinquent list to the printer, the printers fee attaches although the tax is paid before the day of sale. The Auditor will begin to send in the list next week and those who wish to save a dime on every description of land will do well to settle their taxes immediately.

MARCH.—The month of March still be wrapt in the folds of winter. The bulk of the snow which has fallen during the winter still lingers, and the roads are yet in good sleighing condition. The first ten days of the month were quite mild, and bid fair for an early spring, but the remainder of the month has been like mid-winter. To-day there are indications of a thaw, and we will not probably for many years, see so severe a winter again.

MILITIA MONEY.—Col. B. F. Smith informs us that he has received warrants on the State Treasury, for the payment of the militia. He has forwarded the rolls to the various commanding officers, to whom the men must report in person, turn over their arms and equipage, and sign the roll. The rolls will then be returned to Col. Smith who will pay over the money either to the men or upon their order. Any loss incurred, or needless waste of ammunition, will be deducted from the pay of the officers and men.

SCHOOL MEETING.—The annual school meeting for District No. 1 will be held on Saturday evening the 31st inst. at 7 o'clock p. m., at the log school house. The business of the meeting consists of electing three trustees for the ensuing year, to vote a tax for the support of schools and to take action in reference to the school house bonds and the erection of a school house. We have no information that the trustees have as yet contracted for building and, in fact, how can they without money? We have spent so much time in quarreling about the plan of a school house that those who have been willing, and promised to subscribe for bonds consider themselves under no obligation to take them on account of the delay. Everything must now be commenced anew, and it becomes a question whether the District can longer act under a special law, when the general law of last winter repeals everything inconsistant thereto. The new law provides that bonds may be issued bearing interest at 12 per cent but it further provides that they shall not be negotiated at less than par value. The new law however, pays an ample interest, and there are but few men in Mankato who cannot subscribe from fifty to two hundred dollars, and thus raise the necessary funds to erect a building immediately. Immediate action only can save the district and the town from the odium previous to a late rest [illegible] twenty-five grog-shops, but no school house. Twenty thousand dollars per annum for whiskey and beer, not a dollar for schools. We hope to see, as the result of continued importunity, such action taken on Saturday night, as will result in building a structure, which will stand sentinel over the fair name of our city, and answer the demands of the youth who are growing up in ignorance around us.

DISTRICT COURT.—A special session of the District Court will be held by Judge Austin to-morrow, March 31st, at the Clerks Office commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. Several divorce cases will be heard, and questions involving [illegible] estate [illegible] will be raised [illegible].

PERSONAL.—We were favored last week with a call from Gen. W. C. Rhodes, who now resides in Geneseo. He was the colonel of an Illinois regiment and acted as [illegible] of the time [illegible]. Failing health induced him to remove [illegible] to Minnesota, and in Blue Earth county he proposes to make a new home. He is a strong and zealous republican, and we hope the town of Geneseo will be benefited by his example and precept.

FOR THE GOLD MINES.—J. B. Hubbell Esq. advertises to take passengers from Mankato, via Sioux City to Fort Benton upon shorter time and as cheap as can be afforded by any other route. He will leave Mankato on the 5th of April, with horse teams, for Sioux City. There he will meet the steamer Frank Bates, which is owned by himself and others of the Northern Fur Company, and proceed to Fort Benton by river. Passengers will be taken through for $250 cabin passage; deck passenger, will only be charged $100. This a rare opportunity for those desiring to go westward this spring. For further information, apply to J. N. Hall Esq., Mankato.

TOWN ELECTION.—Next Tuesday is the day appointed by law for the election of township officers. Several of the town offices, though not lucrative, are of sufficient importance to demand competent men for the positions. The chairman of the supervisors, justices of the peace, and the assessor, should be men capable of filling the position with credit to the town, and who will administer the functions of office impartially. Above all things is it necessary to elect a capable assessor, as the real estate of the city, which have been raised in value in great disproportion, must be assessed according to a uniform scale of value and not according to the old assessments. We believe the [illegible] have been thought of in [illegible] up [illegible] and waiving every [illegible], have [illegible] for the most available and acceptable [illegible]. We are not informed what action the town committee will take in the matter, but whenever they decide upon, we presume next Monday will be soon enough to act in the premises.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—We understand that at a meeting of the Blue Earth County Agricultural Society, to be held at Garden City, on Saturday April 7th, the committee appointed for that purpose, will permanently locate the grounds for the Society, and proceed to make a purchase. The fair grounds will be located either at Garden City or Mankato. The town which holds out the greatest pecuniary inducement will probably receive the prize. Mankato has subscribed about $500, and so has Garden City, but as lands in the vicinity of Mankato are more valuable than at the former place, it will be necessary for our citizens to increase their offer to make up the difference. Probably $500 will buy as much land at Garden City as $800 would here. Unless other than money considerations can induce the committee to locate it here, it would seem necessary that near one thousand dollars should be raised in order to secure it. We are of opinion, however, that the society would consult their own interest by locating it here regardless of any pecuniary inducement other than the purchase of the grounds. To induce farmers to exhibit stock and produce, very much larger premiums must be offered. A five dollar premium should be increased to fifty, and in that proportion should the whole list be increased. To do this the society must have patronage through the fair days. By locating the grounds at Mankato it will receive five times as much as at Garden City. Of the 2,500 inhabitants but few can afford a livery to drive to Garden City, or affording it but little is left them for patronizing the fair. They can attend but one day, while here, every day. License for the sale of wares, or the exhibition of curiosities, or for eating tables would demand a round price, and farmers knowing that premiums are offered, which repay the trouble of improving and exhibiting their stock, are stimulated not only to put their stock upon exhibition, but to attain the end designed by an agricultural society. Every year the prospects of the society would grow brighter in proportion to the growth of Mankato, while it is not expected that Garden City would pretend to compete with us in that respect. We hope the committee will weigh the matter well before they conclude to accept the offer which gives as much money now, but no inducements in the future.

MARRIED.

On the evening of the 22d of March, by the Rev. David Tice at the Clifton House, in Mankato AMBROSE F. TRESSY, of Lura, Faribault Co., and Miss MARY E. GOBB, of Mapleton, Blue Earth Co., Minnesota.

On the 22d inst., at the house of the bride's father, by Rev. J. G. Cravens, Mr. GABRIEL PRIXLEY, to Miss MALINDA J. BRAGGS, both of Blue Earth County.

WIT AND HUMOR.

—The man who takes things easy—the expert pickpocket.

—Women guilty of the folly of tight lacing, dress to kill.

—How long did Cain hate his brother? As long as he was Abel.

—Why is the Rinderpest like a mouse? Because the cat'll catch it.

—What is the worst kind of sympathy? To be pitted by the small pox.

—A man's property may be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and he not a cent.

—An editor heads his list of births, marriages, and deaths thus:—"Hatched, matched and dispatched."

—"What's whiskey bringing?" asked a dealer. "Bringing men to the gallows, and women and children to want." was the reply.

—A lady speaking of the gathering of lawyers to dedicate a new Court House, said she supposed they had gone to "view the ground where they must shortly lie."

—"How do you define 'black as your hat'?" said a schoolmaster to one of his pupils. 'Darkness that may be felt." replied the youthful wit.

—A Dutchman carried two mugs to the milkman in place of one, as usual, and being asked the meaning of it, replied, "Dis vor te millich, an' dis vor te vater, an' I vill mix tem zo as to zuite myzelf."

—An Eastern caliph being sorely afflicted with ennui, was advised that an exchange of shirts with a man who was perfectly happy, would cure him. After a long search he discovered such a man, but was informed that the happy fellow had no shirt.

—A story is told of two New York Aldermen, who were jealous of each other and had tried on every occasion to put each other down At one meeting, one of them made a motion, then his opponent insisted that it should be reduced to writing; and unable to resist the temptation to exult at his advantage cried out with a triumphant chuckle,—"Ah! Teddy, I've got you now, for divil a sthroke can you write at-all-at-all!"

AN old sergeant of a colored company at Port Gibson combined the duties of preacher with his other duties. Giving notice on Sunday afternoon that there would be a baptizing, thirty sinners were soused under water. After the ceremony he charged them a dollar apiece. The next Sunday afternoon all his exertions succeeded in inducing only two who were willing to pay. Becoming indignant at the parsimony of his congregation, he said, he wouldn't wet his breeches for two dollars."

OLD SWIPES' FAMILY RECORD.—"The post office in our village," writes a Vermont lady "was kept in the bar-room of the tavern, a great resort for loungers. An old chap, more remarkable for his coarseness and infidelity than his good manners, was sitting there one day with a lot of his boon companions, when the Methodist preacher, a new comer, entered and asked for his letters."

"Old Swipes asked bluntly, 'Are you the Methodist parson just come here to preach?"

"I am," pleasantly replied the minister.

"Well," said Swipes, "will you tell me how old the devil is?"

"Keep your own family record," quickly returned the preacher, and left the room amidst the roars of the company.

"AIN'T YOURS?"—A bashful and rather green young fellow invited a young lady to attend a ball with him. The invitation was accepted, and the couple appeared at the ball. After dancing for some time, "greeny" saw his partner sitting in one corner of the room all alone. Now was his chance, so he walked up to where the young lady was sitting and sat down beside her. All well so far; but the bashful fellow was at a loss for something to say. He fidgeted about considerably and was sweating profusely. Finally, taking hold of his wilted collar, he commenced the conversation thus:

"It's powerful warm in this room. My shirt's wet, ain't yours?"

His partner blushed, said nothing, but took his arm for the next dance.

A Louisville despatch of the 21st says: "Sterling King who confessed himself guilty of the attempted assassination of Secretary Seward, endeavored to commit suicide, this afternoon, by severing a vein in his arm. His recovery is doubtful.

—Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, Gov. Smith of New Hampshire, Gov. Bullock of Massachusetts, Gov. Stone of Iowa, Gov. Fairchild of Wisconsin, Gov. Fletcher of Missouri, Gov. Blair of Michigan, Gov. Lowe of California, have either by speech or telegraphic dispatches sustained Congress against the President in the most specific and emphatic manner.

—A large number of the citizens of Northern territories met in Washington on Saturday for the purpose of expressing their views as to the practicability of the proposed northern route of the Pacific railroad. A committee of five was appointed to prepare an address, urging Congress to grant the aid asked for, after which the meeting was addressed by several gentlemen present.

At Taunton, Mass., certain liquors recently seized by the State constables were, on the 29th, reseized by the U. S. Marshal and returned to their owners. Massachusetts prohibits the sale of liquor within her boundaries. The United States grant licenses for such sales, under which certain citizens of Massachusetts pursue their business in defiance of the State laws, and are arrested and fined by their authority. This raises a question of the power of the Government to sanction indirectly a business prohibited by the State. This case receives much comment.

—A Montreal dispatch states that the Canadian authorities have been notified that the U. S. Government is sending troops to Buffalo, to prevent a Fenian attack from that quarter; and a Cincinnati telegram mentions the passage through that place of a body of regulars, en route for the lake cities. It is generally believed in Canada that New Brunswick is the point at which the Fenians intend to strike. Ten thousand troops from England are expected to arrive in that province in the course of ten days. The British West India squadron has been ordered to sail immediately for Halifax, with all the disposable troops in the West Indies.

BEVERAGE OR TONIC SCHNAPPS.

This purely medicinal Beverage possesses properties that will not fail to relieve and cure, when used as an ordinary beverage, the following diseases: Acute or CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, DROPSY, KIDNEY AFFECTIONS, DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, COLIC, DYPEPSIA, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS—in males or females—loss of VITAL ENERGY, or GENERAL DEBILITY. It is equally good for the old and young, and will soon be in every family in the land. It is unlike any Beverage ever before offered to the American public, and will have its friends in every household. It is a wholesome, invigorating tonic, and is fast superseding the many unwholesome Bitters that are now being palmed off upon the public.

This Beverage is known to, and is recommended by the highest medical authorities, and only requires a trial, (as a General Beverage,) to be appreciated and used by the whole civilized world. The proprietors have succeeded in combining, in this article, an agreeable TONIC, STIMULANT, and DIURETIC, that will be acceptable to everybody. Try it! and be convinced of its efficacy.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN

In presenting the Automatic Organ, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments, with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate but the use of the reversed or Exhaustion Bellows, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was that, both feet being occupied, no opportunity was offered for the management of the swell Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers," have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell and operated by the knee. The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our Automatic device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of tone. We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

THE MELODEON & SCHOOL ORGAN.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities, we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Caution to purchasers.

All our instruments have upon the name board, in full, "GEO. A. PRINCE & CO." When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior inferior instrument, on which he can make a large profit.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE
PREPARATIONS.

"HIGHLY CONCENTRATED" COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

A positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the powers of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the matter of calcareous depositions, and all unnatural enlargements are reduced, as well as pain and inflammation, and is good for men, women and children.

H

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For weakness arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion, attended with the following Symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions of the Face,
Universal Lassitude,	Pallid Countenance,
	Muscular System.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on (which this Medicine invariably removes), soon follow—

FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS, &c.,

in one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION?

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the insane asylums and the melancholy deaths by consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

The Constitution, once affected by organic weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most sceptical.

E

In many affections peculiar to Females, the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, and for all complaints incident to the sex, or in the

For all affections and diseases of these organs, whether EXISTING IN MALE OR FEMALE,
From whatever cause originating, and no matter how long standing. Diseases of these organs require the aid of a diuretic.

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
Helmbold's
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA,

For purifying the Blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Tetter, Erysipelas, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin,

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

NOT A FEW

of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the Blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now, for the first time the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonsful of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

O

HELMBOLD'S ROSE WASH,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended. Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines. Also explicit directions for use, with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, &c. The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.

The Science of Medicine, like the Doric Column, should stand simple, pure, majestic, having Fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar, and Truth alone for its Capital.

L

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier; my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases.

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made. A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works.

THE MINNESOTA VALLEY.

A Trip From St. Paul to Mankato.

Mankato, August 4, '66.

To the Editor of the Pioneer:

Having just completed our first trip up the Minnesota Valley, and believing in the right of the public to know all that is being said and done, especially in Minnesota, we communicate to you the result of our observations.

SHAKOPEE.

At Shakopee are evidences of great anticipations and some progress. The railroad, terminating for the time being at this point, is having a good effect upon the business of the place, which is pleasantly located and well supported by an excellent farming country, the crops in which promise an abundant yield and are just being harvested.

CHASKA.

Chaska, county seat of Carver county, has about 500 inhabitants, and is increasing its proportions by solid improvements and the rapid accumulations of wealth, for doing which its resources are extensive and permanent. The annual shipments of wheat from that point have already reached 150,000 bushels; wood, 15,000 cords and hundreds of thousand of the very best brick. The business men are all getting rich off a limited captal to commence with. One of the finest schools in the State are to be found here.

CARVER.

Carver, a thriving little town not more than three miles from Chaska, has nearly the same number of inhabitants, and does about the same amount of business. The rivalry between the two places is quite spirited, and inspires a considerable enterprise—an example of which is specially noticeable in the promptness with which the citizens of each place have contributed the cash necessary for the construction of a first class flouring mill in each town, both to be completed in about two months.

HENDERSON.

Henderson, Sibley county, has about six hundred inhabitants, and though a very good business point, is not growing very fast. The only signs of improvement we observed was a large mill, a church and a school house, in process of erection. We were informed by Capt Buck, who keeps a good hotel, that Henderson has the reputation of being the head of navigation, has 15 large barges, and is doing a large carrying trade in connection with the steamboats which run up the river to the rapids just above Carver. The shipments of wheat from Henderson are large, being brought there in wagons from all directions, and from as far up the valley as Mankato.

LE SUEUR.

Le Sueur, county seat of Le Sueur county, is as handsomely located as any town we have seen in Minnesota, and in the midst of as good a country. It has a population of about 700, and growing. The character of the improvements, among which are fine churches and school houses, and the wealth of the surrounding country point to Le Sueur as one most promising and desirable towns in the valley. One of the most promising features of the place is the fact that the growth of the country is in advance of the town, an unusual occurrence in a new country.

OTTAWA.

From Le Sueur to Ottawa is as fine a country as we have ever traveled through, and is well settled and improved. Ottawa boasts of a good location, and is a good point for a limited business.

ST. PETER.

St. Peter has a wide-a-wake population and is beautifully located, and presents evidence of having been founded by an enterprising people. The location of St. Peter could not be improved in attractiveness of scenery, especially. From the high table land back of the village is obtained a variety of splendid views.

From this point of observation is visable by the naked eye, the city of Mankato and the intervening country supporting its luxuriant crops of wheat oats, &c In growth the town is evidently in advance of the country, hence will not improve as rapidly as it might; the citizens, however, are very sanguine of future success, and were it not for a little chafing upon railroad topics, would be entitled to our belief in their uniform satisfaction with themselves and the rest of mankind, but the unsettled condition of the question, as to whether the railroad from Winona shall be the "Winona & St. Peter," or the "Winona & Mankato Railroad," is a source of great interest. Hoping for their future realization of all that is "good in this world and the world to come," and after expressing our gratitude to Mr. Knight for his genial smiles and cheerful words, we bid them a friendly good-by.

MANKATO.

Mankato, a live town with a population of over 2,500, presents abundant evidence of rapid growth and future prosperity, having more than twice the population and doing double the business of any other town in the valley, owing doubtless to its favorable location. The people are feeling perfectly secure in their present "superiority over their neighbors" and enjoying their anticipations of future greatness with evident satisfaction. Happy people! They are buying, selling, building, and beautifying, and in all respects present the appearance of more or less success. A splendid country, rich in fertility, surrounds and is tributary to them. Churches and a fine school-house are among their improvements constructed and in progress.

Grover C. Burt proprietor of the Mankato House, is always active in doing the fair thing by his guests and making their stay in Mankato agreeable, and in fact the citizens generally make it a point to inspire visitors with a feeling that their presence is a source of mutual pleasure—a habit worthy of mention. Forget not to entertain the stranger within thy gates is an injunction not sufficiently heeded.

The crops throught the valley promise an abundant yield. Wheat will average not less than thirty bushels per acre, and many good judges place it as high as thirty-five.

The Needle Gun.

The Prussian needle gun, according to an English paper is actually waning before the analysis of its influence. It appears to wound and not to kill; that is, in other words, the projectile is so small that the injury it inflicts is not at all equal to that done by the Austrian bullet, unless it penetrates the brain, the heart, or some vital place. It skims by a bone without breaking it, and thousands of men, literally thousands of men put hors du combat, are now going about almost fit for service. The number of wounded is out of all proportion to the number killed.

There is no abatement of cholera in New York. A terrible mortality bill is reported from the steamer San Salvador; over 100 deaths occurring in one day.

TOO FAR FROM THE LOAD.

BY RUSTICUS.

I once heard and old teamster say to a farmer who had been trying for some time, ineffectually to make his team drag a heavy log upon the ground, "hitch your team nearer the load, and they will easily draw it;" and suiting his actions to his words, he was soon assisting his neighbor in making the proper adjustment, which being done, the team readily walked off with the load.

I never see an honest, industrious and economical man laboring on from day to day, and from year to year, to secure barely enough of the necessaries of life "to keep soul and body together," without recalling to mind the old teamster's admonition to the farmer. "You have hitched too far from your load." Indeed we may say, to every one who has keenly felt the cruel stings of misfortune, in the feverish race of life, you have failed; because you have "hitched too far from your load."

I knew a minister of the gospel, who was esteemed a prodigy in intellect. He was well versed in Theology, and had received the flattering title of D. D. His discourses were all prepared and delivered systematically, having each a beginning a middle and an end. He preached from the same pulpit to the same congregation, year after year, without any marked results. His parishoners all liked him, and he labored hard to please them, and yet as a minister of the gospel he failed to accomplish any good for the Church, because he had "hitch too far from his load." His heart was not in the work.

In the county seat of ——, lived a young lawyer, when Prof. O. H. Fowler, had he made a phrenological examination of his cranium, would have pronounced a legal genius. He was a hard student, and had read many law books. He prepared every case with great care and labored late and early for his client, and yet he was unsuccessful. But few persons employed him as their counsel, yet every one thought well of him, and the people elected him as their district attorney. Still he was unsuccessful, because he had "hitched too far from his load." He thought more of his clients money than he did of the client.

The Hon. ——, had served the people as their representative in the 39th Congress. He had labored faithfully to retain his friends, and to conciliate his enemies. He was an eloquent declaimer, and an able statesman. It was through his indefatigable labors that a certain railroad had received a munificent and grant. He talked much about the dear people and his friends, but will fail to become a member of the 40th Congress, because he has "hitched to far from his load." He thought more of his own dear interests than he did of his friends, and the interests of the "dear people."

A young man who had been left the sole heir to large landed estate, saw with mortification, the possessions, which his father had left him gradually vanish away. His houses and barns were becoming old and dilapidated. His fences were decaying and falling down. His fields were growing up with weeds and roaming herds of cattle were devastating his growing grain.

That young man was industrious and economical, but he had "hitched too far from his load." Though he labored hard, he was always out of season. He never labored at the right time in the right place.

A wealthy farmer, who was surrounded with a smiling family of girls and boys, that were fast growing up to manhood and womanhood, said to a friend, who had asked him to patronize the local papers. "I will as soon as I become able to do so." He had "hitched too far from his load," and allowed the economy of the mind to become absorbed in the economies of the farm.

An elderly lady once said, of a young gentleman, who was about to get married and settle down in life. "It don't make any difference whether he has money or not, so he is a good "carclator." The same may be said of every young man who is about to embark in any of the pursuits of life whether requiring mental or physical labor. "Hitch near your load," or start right.

We have often heard it said, of an individual who has been successful in all his undertakings in life, "every thing he touches is turned into money," this is true of a few persons who possess, in a remarkable degree the tact of always hitching near their load.

Thus said a smiling little maid,
To a young and bashful lad,
If you will hitch a little closer sir,
You will not make me mad.

From Europe.

Despatches from Europe, by the Atlantic cable, dated Saturday evening, August 4th, state that martial law has been proclaimed in lower Austria, and also in Venice, Prussia and Wirtemburg.

The peace conference is to be held at Prague. The conditions of peace, as agreed upon, are that Austria shall withdraw from the German confederation, lose Venetia, and her part of Schleswig-Holstein, and pay to her adversaries $10,000,000 for war expenses.

The German States north of the Main are to form a union under the guidance of Prussia, and those south of that river to form an independent union.

The Prussian troops had entered Manheim and Heidelburg.

The bill for the renewal of the suspension of the writ of habeas corp us, in Ireland, was defeated, in the British House of Commons. on Friday night

The death of the Italian patriot Mazzini is announced.

—Despatches from Europe by the Atlantic cable, dated Monday evening, state that the King of Prussia had returned to Berlin. In reply to the address of the municipality, he pointed out that Prussia had drawn the sword not only for independence, but for the reorganization of Germany.

Congressional Elections.

The question to be decided in the Autumn Congressional elections of 1866 is hardly less important than that of the Presidential election of 1864. At that time, the question was whether the Democratic party, whose policy had produced the war, whose Southern leaders conducted it, and which, as a party, although with conspicuous exceptions of certain individual Democrats, justified the rebellion and opposed the war measures of the government, should be intrusted with the control of the government. The response was prodigious. Every loyal State but Kentucky, Deleware and New Jersey sustained the Union party. At this time, the question is whether the Democratic party, with its tendency and policy clearly understood, shall determine the conditions upon which the late rebel States shall resume their full relations in the Union. Is the Democratic view of the situation truer, is the Democratic interpretation of the Constitution more just, is the spirit of the Democratic party more favorable to justice, equal liberty, and reverence for the law, than those of the Union party? These are the questions which must determine our votes in the election.

It may be true—indeed, for ourselves we have not hesitated to say that it is true—that many foolish words have been spoken and some unwise measures adopted by Congress. Nor do we care to recriminate and urge that this Congress has been more fiercely vituperated than any of its predecessors. We have not to deal at the elections with the politeness or tact either of Congress or the Executive, nor, indeed, with the uniform wisdom of the Congressional measures. The point is a fundamental principle. Granting that the action of Congress might have been improved in certain ways, is it probable that the action of the Democratic minority would have been, either in detail or in general policy, better for the peace and union of the country? Had the party of that minority been in the ascendant, the test oath would have been repealed; Senators and Representatives like Alexander H. Stephens and Herschel V. Johnson would have been admitted; the Civil Rights Bill would have failed; and in a word, the men who, supported by their States, five years ago resigned and withdrew from Congress, and engaged in the rebellion, would have returned be the "continuous right" of those States, and those who had tried to destroy the government and still declare their right to do so, would have voted upon every measure proposed for the future security of the Union and country against the logical consequences of their doctrines.

Would this have been a wise policy or safe for the country? Yet this is the policy upon which the autumn elections are to pronounce. The Democratic party holds that, having laid their arms, the States lately in rebellion are exactly where they were before. The consequences of such a doctrine are plain. It assumes that a combination of States may attempt to destroy the Union by war, and that the people of the loyal States who defeat the conspiracy in the field can rightfully take no other steps whatever to secure the victory they have won. The Union party claim that loyal citizens, after so long and vital a war, have exactly the same right to secure their victory that they have to win it; and, consequently, that when the attempt of a conbination of States to wrest themselves from the authority of the Union fails, none of those States can resume their full functions in the Union except upon such conditions as a truly sagacious policy shall determine.

It must be remembered that it is not a question of more or less conditions, but of any condition whatever. The Democrat orators and papers ask indeed whether the late insurgents have not complied with certain conditions. But neither they nor those who have been defeated acknowledge the right to impose them. Indeed, the Democratic theory and policy condemned the President equally with Congress, for he had no verbal constitutional authority to require assent to the emancipation amendment than Congress has to require assent to the new amendment regulating representation. States with what Mr. Stephens calls "a continuous right" of equallity with all other States, can no more be required to adopt one amendment than another. The present co-operation of the Democratic party with the President, therefore, does not spring from love of him, but from hate of Congress, and a natural wish of our opposition party to divide the Executive and Legislative powers.

Can a party which holds and proclaims the policy which we have described, be safely intrusted with the government of the country and the settlement of the war? Ought any thoughtful and honest citizen, however impatient he may be of the follies of certain men, to suffer his impatience to blind him to the fact that the elections are to decide whether the friends and the spirits of Abraham Lincoln shall reorganize the Union, or the friends and spirit of Horatio Seymour and Vallandigham. There are not two parties—there cannot be. Under the circumstances, a Philadelphia candidate must be as fatal to the cause of equal rights and just government and constitutional peace in this country as a candidate of Tammany Hall. Let us improve Congress in the ability and good sense of its members as much as possible. But let all true men beware of a sophistry which would make Mr. "Jack Rogers" the leader of a majority instead of a minority.—Harper's Weekly.

A Sad Case—A Villain.

A Dr. Fekete has been arrested in New Orleans and held in $5,000 bail, on the charge of causing the death of a little girl and boy, who, suffering from chill and fever, both died in two hours after taking some medicine he administered to them. After the little girl had died, when the medicine given to her was prescribed for her brother, he said, "Uncle, I don't want to take that medicine; it killed sissy, and it will kill me." "Oh, no," it was responded, "it was not the medicine that killed your sister." "May be not, but I wish you would let me see my pony before I take it, because I don't believe I will ever see him again." He was shown the pony, took the medicine, and in one hour afterward was a corpse.

Editorials.—A hotel chap once went into the sanctum of an editor, and indulged in a tirade against a citizen with whom he was on bad terms.

"I wish, said he, "that you would write a very severe article against B——, and put it in your paper."

"Very well," was the reply, and after some conversation the visitor went out.

The next morning he came rushing into the office in a violent state of excitement.

"What did you put into your paper? I have had my nose pulled and been kicked twice."

"Wrote a severe article, as you desired," calmly returned the editor, and signed your name to it."

The News.

—Louis Napoleon is building a five million dollar opera house in Paris which will rival in extent and grandeur the coliseum at Rome. Nothing combustible will enter into its composition. It will cover seven and a half acres, and be two hundred feet in external height. The auditorium, however, is calculated to seat only about three thousand persons. Every box will have its separate saloon attached, fitted up like drawing-rooms, and a carriage way will be constructed to the second story from the street. The most successful and celebrated artists of Fraunce—painters, sculptors and architects—will be employed in its ornamentation and erection.

Senator Ramsey has transmitted to Gov. Marshall letters of the Secretary of War and Quartermaster General, from which it appears that in 1860 an appropriation of $5,000 was made for surveys, selections of sites, plans and estimates for military posts on the Red River of the North, and that in 1861 an appropriation of $50,000 was made for the construction of suitable buildings, etc. These appropriations are now in the treasury available for that purpose, and Senator Ramsey will doubtless be able to procure an order on proper application. Gen Meigs says the great want at present appears to be the want of troops for the garrison.

—The Republican's St. Joseph special says a despatch from Fort Laramie, states that the Indian war has commenced again. Several white men have been killed near Fort Reno, the Indians stealing and driving off large numbers of cattle. Another despatch dated Julesburg 2d, says a government herd at Fort Laramie, and a lot of cattle belonging to a rancheman one mile from the fort, were driven off by the Indians, who also burned three forts on Powder river, and killed thirty-five men. Fort Connor is destroyed. Several trains in that vicinity have been attacked, and a number of people killed.

A Johnson convention was held August 9th at Detroit and delegates appointed to the Philadelphia Convention. Resolutions were adopted approving the policy of President Johnson and of the principles set forth in the call for the Convention; also that the admission as delegates of those who in the rebellion failed to support the war is unwise. The Democratic State Central Committee also met and appointed delegates to the same Convention.

—A prisoner charged with the murder which one black man witnessed, at Macon Ga., has been discharged. The military at first interfered, but were informed that their interference was unconstitutional, and that the prisoner would be protected by the proper authorities, if necessary. The commander of the military, who is rather weak-kneed, was cowed into non-interference.

—At Louisville, a party of ex-rebels attacted a Union soldier, who fought the crowd until he was shot three times and beaten with stones and clubs until his recovery is doubtful. About fifty shots were fired. Col. John Winkles, late of the rebel army, and a candidate for Clerk of the Court, was shot and is likely to die.

—The King in person opened the Prussian chambers, and made a long speech on the condition of affairs. Prussia has positively declined the proposals of Russia for a congress of the powers which signed the treaty of Vienna.

—A. P. Gorman, Esq., Postmaster of the United States Senate, has been removed by order of the Seargeant-at-Arms, upon political grounds, as is alleged. Mr. Gorman has been connected with the Senate Post office over fifteen years.

A Mobile special gives the intelligence.

A Memphis special states that a piratical vagrant has been arrested in that city upon whom was found $7,000 in gold and a diamond framed portrait of Wilkes Booth, worth $5,000

A Louisville special mentions that the name of the rebel Gen. Lee was repeatedly cheered during the Vallandigham meeting on Saturday night, while the name of Grant and Sherman elicited hisses.

—All soldiers who had money taken from them while prisoners of war by the rebel authorities, must send the amount of their claims to the Commissioner of Pensions by the first day of October, and not afterwards.

Special peace regulations are about to be opened between Prussia and Saxony. It was expected that a definite treaty of peace would soon be signed by the Austrian and Prussian plenipotentiaries at Prague.

—The Illinois Republican State Convention met at Springfield on the 8th inst. Resolutions were adopted cordially endorsing Congress. General John A. Logan was nominated for Congressman at large by acclamation.

The great prize fight for the championship of England, between Jen Mace and Joe Goss, took place on the 7th. Twenty-one rounds were fought and Mace was declared the winner.

—The iron roof on the new freight depot of the Central railroad, at Detroit fell in burying a number of workmen in the debris, and severely injuring five.

Gen. Logan refuses to run as a candidate for congressman at large from Illinois, and it is reported he will be a candidate for the United States Senate next winter.

—Gen. Chalmers, "late of the Confederate army, one of the famous heroes of Fort Pillow," is making speeches in favor of Andrew Johnson. Gen. John A. Logan is making speeches against him.

The Copperhead Convention of the Sixteenth district of Ohio, nominated Judge Van Tromp for Congress. Delegates to the Philadelphia Copperhead Convention were also nominated.

Hon. John A Bingham, of Ohio, the present incumbent, was nominated August 8th for re-election to Congress from the Sixteenth district of that State.

The Union campaign in Ohio will open with a great demonstration on the 18th, at Cincinnatti, Senator Sherman and Gen. Schneck to speak.

Italy is not included, and if the difficulties relative to the armistice with the kingdoms were not arranged within a few days, hostilities would be recommended.

A New Orleans special says the city is quiet, and that the whole blame of the riots is sought to be laid upon the negroes, as at Memphis.

Plots are said to be on foot in Alabama to prevent negro emigration, and to assassinate the chief men in favor of the scheme.

The Cholera seems to be abating a trifle in New York, but no decrease is noticed in Brooklyn.

—There were 31 deaths from cholera and 42 new cases in Cincinnati on the 7th inst.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, in a recent editorial ridiculing the erection of a monument to Abraham Lincoln, thinks "no chief ruler of a country was ever so unfit as he. * * * He rendered no service to the country, either political or personal. * * * He permitted partisan prejudices brought upon the country the most unheard of national calamities and misfortunes."

And yet the Democratic press throughout the country—is the Enquirer an exception?—claim that Andrew Johnson is following in Mr. Lincoln's footsteps, and carrying out his precise policy.

—A short time since, Mr. Windom having published a letter repudiating all connection on his part with the election of Mr. Norton to the Senate, we felt called upon in alluding to that letter, to refer to the action of Mr. Windom's friends in that contest, and to state facts, which every body knows, proving that the especial friends and supporters of Mr. Windom, were responsible for the election of Mr. Norton to the Senate. Neither Mr. Windom nor his most earnest apologists will pretend to deny this. We did not charge that Mr. Windom instructed his friends to pursue this course, but that we had never heard that he had condemned the course they took on that occasion. What we said as to the course of Windom's particular friends was strictly true, and they know it. They boasted of their great moral triumph in the election of Norton, although they well knew at the time, that Mr. Norton, was not, and would not be, a true and faithfully representative of the Republican party of this State. In the article above referred to we had occasion to mention the name of Mr. Shandrew, because Mr. Windom had caused him to be elected to the legislature, to figure through that body the nomination and election of that gentleman to the Senate. He proved himself to be an irresponsible man even for any purpose, and indeed a nice thing he made of it in acting as Windom's engineer in chief. He succeeded admirably in disgracing the State, and betraying his party. After this election was over nothing more was heard of Shandrew, as he took his place among the cyphers in the legislature. As such we would allow his name to rest, but for the fact that it is inseparably connected with Mr. Windom whose maneuvering effected the election of Mr. Norton and the defeat of Mr. Wilkinson. He published an article in the Winona Republican of the 9th inst., in which he states a desire not to again enter the arena of politics, but judging from his deeds, and not his words he appears very willing to receive the benefit of a public notice, which we therefore give him. In the card alluded to he says:

"You will here allow me to say, that, after, "it became evident that Windom could not "secure the nomination, we both on the last "ballot, voted for Norton, believing him to be "the choice of a majority of our constituents "in preference to Wilkinson at that time." Now this is just what we charged Shandrew with doing, and for this charge he waxed exceedingly wroth. But there is another feature of this matter, to which we wish to allude, as Shandrew seems to have forgotten it. It shows the untruhfulness of the man, and his double dealing in this matter. On the day the caucus was held, Shandrew in walking from the Post Office in St. Paul, to the Hotel, in company with Mr. Fletcher, of this town, said to Mr. Fletcher, that under no circumstances would he vote for Norton, that in case they failed to nominate Mr. Windom, he would vote for Mr. Wilkinson as his second choice.

Shandrew said the same thing in the parlor of the International Hotel, in the presence of Mr. Wise, the editor of the Mankato Record, and several other gentlemen, who were friendly to the election of Mr Wilkinson. Now Mr. Shandrew, one of two things is true, you either stated a falsehood in the paragraph which we have extracted from your card, or else you stated falsehoods to the gentlemen whose names we have mentioned above, and in either event you have proved yourself unworthy of public or private confidence. An untruthful man, is not entitled to, and will not receive, any great share of public confidence. While you were abusing Mr. Wilkinson in the presence of his enemies, you were praising him before his friends, and pledging them that you would vote for him if Windom failed —deny this if you dare, and we will prove it by a number of witnesses more reliable and truthful than you have proven yourself to be.

You tamely remark that you did hear Mr. Wilkinson charged with intemperance, when you know that you was yourself foremost in making the charge, and worked with the pertinacity of a tyro to enforce a belief of the charge upon other members. This was not political strategy it was political chicanery in which no honorable man would indulge.

But you say further that the attack made upon you "obtains with equal force against every member of the Legislature who opposed Mr. Wilkinson." No, Mr. Shandrew, it does not, and for this reason, you lived in the same town with Mr. Norton—you knew him well, and knew when you voted for him, that he would not faithfully represent the Republican party. You said so over and over again, and you made the most solemn pledge never to support him—you voted for him with your eyes wide open, and in doing so violated your word, and according to your own statement you sacrificed your principles, and your better judgment. Other members might be excused for voting for Mr. Norton because thay did not know him as you did. But again you say in speaking of the editor of this paper, "that he does not own the paper, as I am credibly informed, and that he is imployed by Wilkinson to do what he can to secure his nomination this fall for Congress, holding out in addition to a small pecuniary consideration, the inducement that in case of his success, he (Griswold), shall have the Mankato Post office."

Now, sir, this is every word of it untrue, and as we have convicted you of duplicity and falsehood in another matter, may we not reasonably infer that you originated this falsehood also. You have never been credibly informed that we are employed by Mr. Wilkinson, or that he owned this paper or that we do not own it. We are confident that you never received any such information from any person of good standing in this community. If you have name him.

—The Sioux City Journal is getting to be quite a paper. It has lately enlarged to a seven column sheet, and presents a handsome appearance. It publishes the laws of the United States, has a good advertising patronage, and an abundance of reading matter. The mail service between Mankato and that City brings the two points more into the same neighborhood, and we trust that the interests of the two places may grow more and more identical and reciprocal. This will eventually be the case, when the Valley road and the St. Paul & Lake Superior railway are completed, forming as they will the most direct lake communication from Sioux City eastward.

—A call for the Congressional Convention of the 2d District has been made, to be held on the 20th day of September next at St. Paul. The two District Conventions will therefore fall on the same day. A call is also issued for a State Convention which is published elsewhere. It takes place on the 19th of September at St. Paul. The State officers to be elected are a State Auditor, and a Clerk of the Supreme Court.

—Here is another straw confirming us in the belief that the editor of the Wilton News is degraded far delow the position he occupies. His tricks are not confined to the abuse of Mr. Wilkinson, as will be seen from the following complimentary notice of him taken from the Owatonna Democrat.

CONTEMPTIBLE.—The last issue of the Wilton News, contains an article copied from the inside of our paper, and properly credited to the La Crosse Democrat, which, for political effects the editor of that delectable sheet credits us with. No one but an unprincipled scoundrel, lacking in the dictates of common decency and fair dealing, would be guilty of so dirty a trick. If the News thinks it can kill our paper off in this District by the adoption of such a course, it will find itself mistaken. Whenever such a shot is fired it will, as in this instance, be aimed so low that it will strike only the contemptable dog that writes the blackguard trash of the News. Abuse from such a source is praise in the eyes of gentlemen, no matter what their politics may be.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

MUSHROOM IMITATIONS.

Sucess is the 'prevalent cradle' of innumerable humbugs. No sooner had HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made their mark in the world than up sprang a host of imitations, and as the fame of the great restorative grew and spread, the pestiferous crop of poisonous mockeries thickened. But the true medicine has lived them down. One by one they have disappeared. When the bellows of puffery, which kept alive the feeble fire of their borrowed reputation, ceased to blow, they ceased to live, and thus they continue to come and go. Meanwhile, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, the great protective and remedial tonic of the age, have progressed in popularity with each succeeding year. Their success as a means of preventing and curing the diseases resulting from malaria, unwholesome water, and all unhealthy climatic influences, has been boundless; and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Fever and Ague, General Weakness and Debility, and all Complaints originating in Indigestion, they are now admitted to be superior to any other preparation ever advertised or prescribed. From the home market, to which a few years ago they were confined, their sale has been extended into every State in this Union, over the whole of South and Central America, Mexico, the West Indies, the Sandwich Islands, Australia, China and Japan. Home and foreign testimony continue to show that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the most remarkable tonic and invigorant now before the world.

From Chicago Journal.

KELLEY & CO.'S GIFT ENTERPRISE.—The first to embark in the Gift enterprise business in Chicago was the firm of A. A. Kelly & Co., located at 105 Randolf street. Who does not remember their store, which opened two or three years ago, where many purchased books and other articles and were so lucky as to find with their purchase tickets which entitled them to valuable gifts of jewelry or other prizes? Thousands of our citizens were thus fortunate, and these have the best evidences that Messrs. Kelley & Co. always perform all they promise; that they are honorable men and do business honorably and on the square.

Their Gift Concert which they now advertise, the drawing of which is to take place on the 22d of August, promises to be one of the most successful of the series of Gift Concerts that have taken place in Chicago.

1. The gifts to be distributed are all they are represented to be.
2. All the prizes will positively be distributed to those holding the lucky tickets after the drawing.
3. There is such a very large number of prizes that every one sehances are decidedly in favor of drawing something.
4. The citizens of Chicago who know A. A. Kelley & Co. have confidence in their honor and integrity, and are largely investing in their enterprise.

These are some of the reasons why we feel safe in commending Kelley & Co.'s Gift Concert to the public. Let the people come up and buy the tickets still remaining unsold. The drawing will positively take place on the day advertised. Money may be sent by mail for tickets and will be promptly responded to.

STATE ITEMS.

OIL FACTORY.—We are informed that Messrs. Gorton & Sutton, who have been distributing flax seed among the farmers quite extensively, are about erecting at the Falls a building for the manufacture of oil. Success to the enterprise.—Minneapolis Atlas

The town of Anoka begins to look up in a business point of view. We understand that there are several parties contemplating going into business here, as soon as suitable buildings can be procured. Glad of it! There is still room for more. Anoka is destined to be somewhat of a town yet.—Anoka Union.

THIRTY-FIVE MILLIONS.—It appears by the books of the Surveyor General of Logs and Lumber, in this district, that he has measured off to the different mills at the Falls, thirty-five million feet of logs, which have been manufactured into lumber.—Minneapolis Chron.

THE REVISED STATUTES.—The Pioneer of the 3d, says that the Revised Statutes of Minnesota are now being sent to the various counties in the State, in the order in which their requisitions were received. The book is an octavo volume of 850 pages, splendidly printed and stoutly bound in law-calf, making, the Pioneer says, "as neat a volume as the statutes of any State in the Union." After the county officials are supplied, the public can purchase all the copies they desire at $6 per volume.

The Railroad bridge across the Zumbro River at Rochester, was swept away, as also was one near Kasson, and the road was damaged in other respects to a considerable amount, and will delay its entrance into our city some days.

The bridge over Straight River, at Clinton, is gone. It was intended only as a temporary affair, and so it has proved.

So far as we can learn very little damage has been done to the grain or crops generally, only it will delay harvesting till the wheat fields are sufficiently dry to use Reapers. Probably more hay has been destroyed than anything else.—Owatonna Journal.

COMING.—We expect to see two "iron horses" make their appearance in town in a very few days, one from the North and the other form the South. The track is laid to within five miles on both roads, and would have been completed to the junction here by next Saturday, had it not been for the late storm!

On the depot grounds they are erecting two grain elevators, water tanks, &c., and everything that is necessary for the reception of the cars.—Ibid.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees, held in St. Paul last week, the Ewing House Property in this place was purchased by the State, to be used as a temporary Asylum for the Insane. The resident trustee, Rev. A. H. Kerr, was also authorized to place the building and grounds in condition for occupancy, at an early day as practicable, and in accordance with this instruction, he has pusehased lumber, and will hurry the repairs now in progress, until every thing is ready for the reception of the inmates.—St. Peter Tribune.

ARRIVAL FROM VERMILLION.—Mr. Joseph H. Clark, direct from Vermillion, reached Minneapolis last week, bringing with him some of the richest specimens of quartz we have yet seen from that region. The miners have unbounded confidence in the mineral wealth of that vicinity, and quartz mills are being forwarded as fast as possible. One mill is already on the ground and being successfully operated. Mr. Clark is one of the agents of the North Star Mining Company, and represents the claims of that Co., as among the richest. The specimens can be seen at Jerome & Waldron's office.—Minneapolis Atlas.

OUR RAILROAD.—The supscription books of the H. M., & R. R. R. were opened at the First National Bank on the 1st inst., and the day following an organization was effected as follows:

DIRECTORS.

W. G. Le Due, S. G. Renick,
W. K. Rogers, J. F. Norrish,
A. W. Gardner, H. H. Pringle,
Wm. Ennis.

President.—W. G. Le Due,
Secretary.—W. K. Rogers,
Treasurer.—L. S. Follett,
Attorney.—I. Donnelly.

A committee, consisting of Wm. Ennis, S. G. Renick, and A. W. Gardner, were appointed to receive subscriptions of stock. We are sorry to see the luke-warmness manifested by some of our leading business men in regard to this great enterprise. Money is needed and must be had at once, or nothing will be accomplished.—Hastengs Conserver Aug. 7th.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING AT SHAKOPEE.—Mr. M. C. Russel, editor of the Shakopee Argus, gives an account of a sad affair in which he was one of the principal actors. In company with Mr. C. L. McDonald and Col. Baxter, Mr. Russell went out on the prairie back out of the town to shoot prarie chickens, and accidentally shot Mr. McDonald. The shot took effect in his right arm, below the elbow. Five, however, struck the upper ribs, and three othrs penetrated just above the abdomen. Dr. Wakefield was soon brought out, and about dark Dr McDonald, the young man's father, from Chaska, arrived, when he was removeq to town and is now at the residence of his brother Mr. J.L. McDonald, doing as well as he could be expected when considering the severity of his wounds.

HOLMES' MONTANA TRAIN.—Information has reached us, through indian sources, of an attack on holmes, train of Montana emigrants by a marauding band of hostile Sioux, about 65 miles beyond Fort Berthold, in which a number of Holmes' men were wounded and one man killed. Holmes had corraled and fortified his party as well as possible, and professed himself able to hold out for some time. As Holmes left Fort Berthold five days in advance of Steele's party, and seven days ahead of Fisk, it is probable that even if the Indians remained long in his vicinity, which is doubtful, he would soon be reinforced by the arribal of one or both of the trains behind him, to scatter the Indians from his path. His party was comprsed of hardy men, well armed, and though previous experience has proved that Holmes himself is terribly afraid of hostile red-skins, when he meats them on the plains, the emergency would doubtless produce some rude general of sufficient skill and courage to baffle and whip the demons.

The news' however is so devoid of dates and particulars, that it is hardly worthy of credence uhtil fully corroborated. We have telegraphic dates from Fort Berthold to the 26th of July, twelve days after the train left, which makes no mention of any trouble, but, on the contrary, state that it was expected a satisfactory treaty would be made with the Indians on that day.—[St. Paul Press, Aug. 14.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As Mr BENJAMIN IVES, of Lakeville was returning from St. Paul, on sunday last with a load of goods, he was thrown from his wagon and so severely injured that he survived the accident but about five hours. he was attended by Dr. L. P. DODGE, of Farmington.

ANOTHER FIRE IN WINONA.—Sunday morning a fire broke out on Center Street, and before it could be extinguished one whole block was destroyed. The block was the Post Office building, a confectionary, and rooms occupied as residences of several families, and some offices. It was only by the most severe exertions that the fire was prevented from spreading to the buildings on Main Street. By the energy of the clerks in the Post Office, most of the mail matter was saved. The losses verge on $10,000.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Notice.—S. C. Clark, of Garden City, is authorized to receive subscriptions for the UNION, and to collect money and receipt for the same until further notice.

WILKINSON AHEAD!

NO OPPOSITION!!

WHERE IS THE PRINCE OF WALES?

ECHO ANSWERS.

W-H-E-R-E!

The proceedings of the town and county conventions are published below. After a desperate effort to save the Windom ship, his handful of supporters struck for the shore, and are now quietly lying on the shelf to dry. Mankato was unanimous for Mr. Wilkinson, and the delegates at the county convention were nominated by acclamation.

CAUCUS.—At the Republican Caucus of the 15th inst, held at Mankato, Theron Parsons was nominated Chairman, and A. D. Seward Clerk. On motion it was agreed to proceed to elect twelve delegates, at one ballot, those receiving the highest number to be declared chosen to attend the county convention to nominate delegates to the congressional convention at Owatonna. On motion of J. J. Thornton, E. P. Freeman and Wm. Miller were chosen tellers. The following delegates were chosen: Col. B. F. Smith, 71 votes, W. P. McKinney 71, T. T. Peirce 71, C. D. Hersey 70, W. W. Clark 70, C. Dunscomb 70, G. Lulsdorff 71, S. D. Parsons 71, Chas. Heilborn 71, Z. Paddock 71, Wm. Reid 70, J. H. Ray 71, J. T. Williams 1. It was moved and carried that the delegates present at the County Convention cast the full vote.

Adjourned, THERON PARSONS Pres.
A. D. SEWARD Sec.

COUNTY CONVENTION.—The convention of Blue Earth County, called for the purpose of sending delegates to the Convention of the first Congressional District at Owatonna, met at Shoemaker's Hall, yesterday the 16th inst., and was organized by calling Col. B. F. Smith to the chair and appointing S. D. Parsons secretary. Messrs. Dyer, Dunscomb and Kellet, were appointed on credentials.

The report of the committee was adopted giving the following delegation. Mankato, same as reported in proceedings of town caucus. Lime R. Wardlaw, Judson S. Burgess, John A. Tidland, Le Ray G. A. Beireies, Butternut Valley Evan Bowen, W. P. Jones, Mc. Pherson S. G. Hilton, W. W. Buckmaster, W. Kohler, Sterling Geo. Conrad, E. Farrell, Rapidan L. Dyer, Lincoln John W. Trask, Garden City J. B. Skinner, H. C. Howard, Lewis Porter, Chas. Frazer, Shelbyville James Miller, Frederick Fox, Pleasant Mound W. McQueen, Medo S. E. Stebens, Arch. Clark, Jamestown —— Davis, Mapleton Robt. Taylor, Danville J. Kellet, Lyra E. Palmer, South Bend Lyman Mathews, D. Christopherson, D. D. Evans. T. M. Pugh and Elijah P. Bangs, were excluded as delegates owing to the fact that they were elected by spurious votes. Mr. Childs was admitted as a delegate from the new town of Beauford.

By acclamation the following delegates were nominated to the Congressional Convention, C. S. Dunscomb Lewis Porter, G. A. Beiries, and L. G. M. Fletcher.

The following resolutions were offered by W. W. Clark, and adopted:

Resolved that the Republicans of this county heartily endorse the loyal and patriotic course of the majority of the last congress in their efforts to restore the Union, and the placing of the government of the States lately in rebellion in the hands of the loyal men of those States to the exclusion of rebels.

Resolved that as the fearless champion of the great principle of liberty, freedom and equal rights, the delegation of this county are instructed to present the name of Hon. M. S. Wilkinson to the Republican Convention at Owatonna as our candidate for Representative in Congress. Adjourned.

COL. B. F. SMITH, CH'M.
S. D. PARSONS, SEC.

CROPS.—We are informed by a gentleman just down from the Blue Earth Valley, that the crops in that section, have suffered but little damage by the recent rains. The storm in its severity did not reach far up the valley, and the upper Blue Earth and Watonwan rivers did not rise materially. This week the wheat will be mostly harvested, and however the storms may have used the grain elsewhere, this section of the State will lose but little if any of the wheat crop.

A PRISONER.—U. S. Marshal Cleveland on Tuesday last brought to this town under arrest a man named Fuller, who resides in Martin County. This man Fuller has an irresistable desire to cheat Uncle Sam, and though his arrest costs him more than his license the former of which he is illy able to pay, he still persists every year in laying himself liable to the law. He will be taken to St. Paul for trial.

—Auditor Maxfield has ordered a few copies of the new revised statutes, which are to be distributed to the several Town Clerks. They can be had by the Clerks by applying at the Auditors Office.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Mr. James Cannon has sold to Mr. Tuttle, of the firm of Tuttle & Pay, 22 feet on Front street, nearly in front of his paint shop for the sum of six hundred dollars.

Jacob Shayel sold to G. Rubal 24 feet front on Second street, being in Block 11, between Jackson and Cherry streets, for $300. A large wooden building now used as a boarding house was placed on the lot by Mr. Rubel before the purchase was made.

VALUATION OF BLUE EARTH COUNTY.—We give this week the taxable valuation of this county as returned by the Township Assessors for 1866, as follows: Mankato $632,105; South Bend $75,436; Judson $88,372; Butternut Valley $57,957; Lincoln $57,927; Cereseo $70,333; Garden City $127,383; Vernon Center $184,222; Shelby $156,393; Sterling $99,779, Mapleton $55,840; Danville $40,838; Medo $68,069; McPherson $100,325; Beauford $39,713; Rapidan $78,867; Le Ray $63,373; Jamestown $23,648; Lime $62,144; Winnebago Trust Lands $113,468; Pleasant Mound $48,620; Total $2,242,812. The amount exempted in the county, of personal property is $191,245. The amount of personal property taxed is $778,386. Adding the amount exempt to the amount taxable and the total valuation of the county is $2,434,057.

Egyptian Calla, a new and delicate perfume at Wickershams & Co.

GOOD TEMPLARS HALL.—The Mankato Lodge of Good Templars have leased some very pleasant rooms for Lodge rooms in the stone block of S. S. Higgings. They are being nicely fitted up with lamps, furniture, paraphernalia, &c., &c. This will be quite an improvement upon the City Hall, as they could not be the sole occupants of that room and were discommoded on account of its being appropriated to other uses.

J. J. THOMPSON & Co's. TRAIN.—This train which is now freighting between here and Owatonna arrived on Monday last with heavy loads of freight for our merchants. Goods of almost every description were brought in, and assortments are again complete. Notwithstanding the almost impassable roads, this company with commendable zeal have urged forward the goods through thick and thin.

FOUND.—The body of Nicholas Keltigan, who was drowned in the Minnesota river on Wednesday of last week, was found on Sunday morning last, about two miles below town. It was discovered in a bend of the river among some flood wood. It was immediately taken by the friends of the deceased into Nicolett County and buried. No marks of violence or of wounds were discovered, and therefore the presumption that he was hurt by the horse or sickles is unfounded.

NEW BOOT & SHOE STORE.—Mr. G. Waltz the shoemaker opposite the Mankato house is enlarging his rooms and opening a nice stock of boots an shoes direct from eastern factories. He comes in for a share of patronage which we trust the public will grant.

NAVIGATION.—The Steamer Cutter arrived at our levee on Friday morning with a fair load of freight. Her down trip consisted of 1500 bushels of wheat, 10,000 pounds of wool, besides other miscellaneous freight. The Steamer Enterprise arrived Sunday evening with two bulk barges with a capacity of 5,000 bushels each. She returned Tuesday morning with 15,000 bushels, of wheat. The Steamer Hudson arrived Monday morning with two barges and loaded 15,000 bushels, making by three steamers 31,500 bushels taken out of town within three days. The recent storm resulted in benefiting the wheat speculators rather than farmers.

NEW DRUGS.—By J. J. Thompson & Co's., freight train (Jason calls it the gopher train) Wickersham & Co., have received a large invoice of new drugs, paints, medicines &c. For the ladies they have a new perfumery called the Egyptian Cella, which is something unusually nice. In another place look at their catalogue of new goods. Small profits and quick sales is their motto. Call and see them.

AN EDITRESS.—The Mantorville Express is now being published by Mrs. C. E. F. Bancroft the widow of the late proprietor of that paper. She has the entire editorial management, and displays talents which are certainly commensurate with the undertaking. The editorial corps of the State may congratulate themselves upon this additional reinforcement. The refining influence of the true lady, is perhaps as much needed in elevating the tone of editorial intercourse to its proper standard, as it is in any other avocation, and we trust her example will not be lost to the brethren in the profession.

SCHOOL HOUSE.—Boardman & Wampler are prosecuting the work on the school building with vigor. The brick work has reached to the top of the 2d story and the 3d story will soon be completed. It is in their power to complete the building this season; they are only obliged by their contract to complete the first story for use this winter. By prosecuting the work in the winter it can be done cheaper, and their contract to complete the whole next fall was taken proportionally less for that reason. We are much in need of the entire building this fall and we believe the people would not object to giving several hundred dollars more and have it pushed through forthwith. We trust the directors will inquire into the possibility of completing the work at once.

FURNITURE BY STEAM.—Our enterprising furniture dealer, Charles Heilborn is about to add steam power to his present facilities for manufacturing furniture. He purchased the mill machinery with boiler and engine lately owned by Price & Evans of South Bend. He will erect a brick engine house 18 by 24 feet in the rear of his factory and set up his engine and boiler. The machinery cost him $650, but the repairing which is necessary, and setting will cost at least $500 more. At present he will put in one lathe, a circular saw and a scroll saw. With these facilities he will be able to meet the demand for furniture, and do turning of all kinds to order. The machinery will be in operation in about six weeks. Mr. Moses Gates, a skillful engineer is engaged to put up the engine.

RUNAWAY—MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—On Sunday evening last Mr. George Maxfield, Jr. with a livery team from the stable of Tompkins & Lay, called at the house of Mr. Williams who resides on Broad street next door to J. N. Hall, and was assisting the daughter of Mr. Williams into the carriage when the horses suddenly started at a furious run up Broad street. Mr. Maxfield caught one line with three of his fingers, and was dragged along until he reached Main street, where the team left him, and turning the corner sped up that street to J. J. Shaubut's corner, and thence turned on Front street. The lady who was told by Mr. Maxfield to remain in the carriage was still clinging to it, and the horses were rushing at break neck speed towards the unfinished sewer which formed a chasm of ten by eight feet across the entire street, except a very narrow strip at the extreme right of the road. The prospect of their vaulting into that deep sewer, smashing the establishment and themselves to atoms and involving in the common ruin one precious mortal whose life was held by the frail tenure of one little circumstance, seemed to be inevitable, when Chas. S. Dunscomb stepped into the street and succeeded in turning the course of the team to the narrow passage in the road. Passing by the Clifton House, Mr. D. A. Thayer in attempting to arrest their progress turned them to the side of the street, where they run into another team which was standing in front of Mr. Eaton's boarding house. As the teams faced each other the tongue of the carriage of the running team pierced the breast of one of the other horses killing him almost instantly. Here the running ended and the lady was lifted from the carriage unharmed. A case of so much peril, resulting so fortunately for the lady who braved the danger with fortitude and forethought, was almost miraculous. The horse which was killed belonged to a livery at St. Peter kept by P. Kassion. The parties who were using the team, were just ready to enter the buggy as the collision occurred. Mr. Maxfield says the horses were tied when they started, broke their fastenings and darted off. If this be so, no blame seems to attach anywhere except upon the horses themselves.

UNWELCOME.—Monday evening last as Mrs. D. Tyner was shuttting her door, quite a floundering was heard near it which somewhat surprised her. She called her husband who came with a light, and there they found a rattlesnake with his head caught between the door and the casing next to the hinges. The snake was quietly ensconced behind the door, and when Mrs. T. shut it, the snake attempted to escape through the crack of the door but was fortunately caught in time to be destroyed. It had four rattles and a button, indicating the age of six or seven years—a very uncomfortable room mate and still less desirable bed-fellow. It is needless to warn our citizens to watch their doors as they stand open during the warm weather.

Wickersham & Co. have received another large invoice of "Alabastor Lead."

—Perfumery, of all the latest and best at Wickersham & Co's.

—The steamers Cutter and Otter arrived at the levee on Wednesday evening with barges. The grain which they will take out, together with that taken by other steamers, will amount in the aggregate to about 50,000 bushels in one week.

Wickersham & Co. have a very heavy stock of all the popular Patent Medicines of the day at wholesale or retail.

☞The plants of the field and the trees of the forest furnish ample means to prevent and cure disease provided they are used in harmony with the laws of nature. All disease is, at first, local in its character, but soon the blood becomes vitiated or impure, and the whole system becomes influenced. The first step towards recovery is to cleanse the blood and system generally, and disease will soon pass away. Bryan's Life Pills are adapted for this purpose, and nothing surpasses their efficacy Aug. 10.

—A residence just completed by Jas. Hubbell Esq., ranks among the best habitations in the city. Situated on the bench above the creek it has a commanding view, and presents itself to advantage. It was formerly the property of Uncle Tom Peirce, but has been entirely re-modeled and re-built at an expense of $3,000. Inside it is finished in superior style, and the painting and graining reflects much credit upon our fellow townsman James Cannon, who did the work. The wall paper is rich, handsome, and well adopted to the different rooms, showing the exercise of a delicate taste, for which we presume Mrs. Hubbell should have the credit. The total cost of the residence is about $6,000.

—Remember the Good Templars' Ice Cream Festival this evening at Ray, Williams & Bros' new brick building.

CORNER STONE.—The corner stone of the edifice of the Episcopal church was laid in the afternoon of Wednesday the 15th, inst., by the Rector, Rev. Mr. Spor. The following deposite was made: A copy each of the Bible, Book of common Prayer, Church Almanac for 1866, Journal of the 8th annual convention of Diocese of Minnesota 1865, "Spirit of Missions" for Aug., Church Journal, American Churchman, St. Paul Press and Pioneer, Mankato Union and Record, By-Laws of Mankato Masonic Lodge No 12. of Blue Earth Chapter No 7, Royal Arch Masons, and of Mankato Commandery No 4, Knight Templars. Lists of wardens and vestrymen, of communicants in good standing, and of subscribers to the building fund. Also the names of the President and Vice President of the United States, and the Governor of Minnesota, also specimens of Postal currency. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Gray, of Shakopee, and Rev. Mr. Tanner of Faribault.

—The Ladies of the Aid Society of the Episcopal Church will give an Ice Cream Festival on Wednesday evening next at Shoemaker's Hall.

SELLING OUT.—Dr. Lewis of the firm of Lewis & Frisbie, has sold out his interest in the drug business to Dr. Frisbie, his partner. An inventory is now being taken, and next week Dr. Frisbie will take the helm alone. Dr. Lewis is selling out preparatory to going into the banking business.

Glad News!!

TOM HOLMES TRAIN SAFE.

As we go to press Uncle Tom Peirce, announces the receipt of a letter from his son, dated at Fort Union July 19th 1866. The attack on Holmes' train he reports as follows: Two shots were fired by the Indians and returned by the boys. One Indian killed, none of our boys injured. No further trouble. Everybody well and the weather fine for traveling. They would leave next day for Fort Benton, which would be reached in 20 days. Part of the Indians at Union could not yet be persuaded to sign a treaty, but no outbreak had occurred.

Of reapers and mowers 187 have been sold, of thrashers 20. Large quantities of horse rakes, cultivators and other machinery have also been sold. If other towns will announce what has been done in that line, we shall be able to give the business of the entire Minnesota Valley. Will our exchanges please give us the figures.

Soldiers Bounties—Important Decision.

The official act of Congress, authorizing the payment of additional bounty, published in General Orders No 55 from the War Department, removes all ambiguilty from the second clause from the bill, and clearly defines the object of the section. Section 13 provides that every soldier who enlisted after April 19, 1861, who served faithfully for two years, was honorably discharged, and who was not entitled to receive more than $100 bounty from the United States, shall be paid the additional bounty of $50. The form of application to be made by the heirs of deceased soldiers to the Second Auditor, to obtain the additional bounty thus granted will be the same as hitherto used in applications for arrears of pay and bounty, except that the number of the previous settlement should be given. It should be stated that the object of the application is to recover the additional bounty provided by the 12th and 14th sections of the act of Congress, chapter 1,178, approved July, 28, 1866, and the claimant should make oath as to identity, and to the fact that the discharge papers have not been disposed of in any manner whatever by the soldier who received them. It is not believed that payment of the additional bounty can begin for some months to come, as the funds for the purpose have not been placed to the order of the Paymaster-General; and still further the rules and regulations to govern the payments, fixing the amount of evidence that will be necessary to establish a claim, and provide a system upon which the disbursements will be made, are yet to be adopted by the commission appointed by the War Department for that purpose. This commission is now in session, and is composed of the following officers: Maj. Gen. Canby, Brevet Maj. Gen. Barnes, and Brevet Maj. Gen. Buchanan, Colonel of the First United States Infantry.

HUMOROUS.

A lady meeting a girl who had lately left her service, inquired "Well, Mary, where do you live now? "Please, ma'am, I don't live anywhere now," rejoined the girl; "I am married."

An irish glazier was putting a pane of glass into a window, when a groom who was standing by began joking him, telling him to mind and put in plenty of putty. The Irishman bore the banter for some time, but at last silenced his tormentor by "Arrah, now, be off wid ye, or else I'll put a pain in your head without any putty."

Little Lizzie's father and mother were looking at some pictures in which little naked angels were quite conspicuous.

"Lizzy dear, if you are a good girl and got to heaven, you will be like those angels."

Lizzy looked up with a lip that told at once that she didn't appreciate the promise, and said:

"I want to be better dressed than that when I go to heaven."

A lady commenting upon the present style of short coats worn by mankind, says they present to a person at all beligerent, a temptation difficult to be resisted.

Tim McGowan had his limb crushed when quite a boy. He afterwards lost his lip in the Mexican war, and his surviving brother, Dennis, never ceased boasting of Tim's exploits. "Och, murther," says he, "you ought to have seen Tim at Ree-sack a dollar-pole me (Resece de la Palma). He caught two Mexican blackguards by the cuffs of their necks, and kilt them both as dead as herrins by knockin their heads together." How could that be," said the listener, "when your brother had but one arm!" "Bless your soul," answered Dennis, "one arm had he? That thrue for ye; but then ye see Tim forgot all about that when he got into a fight."

Why is a happy husband like the Atlantic cable? Because he is spliced to his Heart's Content.

"Dear me," said Mrs. Grundy, "and so they have put telegraph poles all the way across the ocean. I shouldn't wonder if they tried a pontoon bridge next."

A CONFEDERATE SOLDIER CONFINED IN A SALTPETRE CAVE FOR TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY DAYS.—The Chattanooga, (Tenn.) Gazette, of a recent date, tells the following rather tough story:

The people at Parker's Gay, Tennessee, were much alarmed yesterday morning by a rumor that there was a human being in an old saltpetre cave near the Gap—supposed to be the one visited by Col. Bingham, while on picket.

The ladies, God bless 'em ever ready to respond to the call of humanity, hurried to the rescue, but their united efforts were insufficient to extricate the sufferer. Surgeon Marks, Medical Director of this Division, and Surgeon Powers, of the Artillery corps, was sent for and after a great deal of labor the poor fellow was taken from his living tomb.

He was recognized as John Harrison, Jr. It is supposed that this unfortunate man was deposited in the cave about the middle of last August, by his father, who was connected with the mining and nitre bureau of the C. S. A., and that he had remained there ever since.

When taken out he was entirely helpless and speechless, and although youthful, was entirely destitute of hair and teeth. He will not be able to tell the tale of his horrible sufferings for years. How he sustained existence in that "dark, unfathomable cave," is beyond human comprehension.

The above person thus rescued was a babe, but the Richmond Examiner publishes the article, believing it true verbatim et literatim. A good sell on the Examiner.

"TRUTH WILL OUT."—Somewhere in this western country there is a river which is a mile in width. On one side of said river resides Mr. A., who has two sons. On the other side of the stream habitates Mr. B., and he is blessed with two blooming daughters. The other day Mr. B. appeared before Mr. A. and made serious complaints of "indecent exposure upon the part of Mr. A.'s sons, who, it appeared, had been bathing in the stream. The father of the boys remonstrated by saying that at a distance of a mile it could not be possible that the young ladies could see anything to offend their modesty. "But," says the father of the offended parties, "the girls have got a spy glass!"—[La Crosse Republican.

WILLCOX & GIBBS SILENT FAMILY Sewing Machine

Twisted Loop Elastic Lock Stitch.

WILL STITCH, HEM, FELL, TUCK, CORD, BIND, Braid, Quilt and Embroider Beautifully. It will, with the FINEST needle and thread run from perfect work on the finest Nainsook, over the heaviest beaver cloth and cowhide, with NO change of needle, thread or tension. It will use coarse cotton, linen, silk and twine. It runs easier, faster and stiller than any other machine. It forms a flat, even and elastic seam, differing from every other stitch, each loop being TWISTED by means of and drawing the twist into the goods, thus securely fastening every stitch, so that the seam will bear to be cut at frequent intervals, and in that case even, the seam is warranted not to rip in wear, and under all circumstances to "survive the washtub." Old, worn out family garments, bosoms, pants, dresses, &c., have been submitted to Committees at FAIRS where was the GREATEST COMPETITION, and to this stitch premiums have been awarded for its Superiority, Durability, Elasticity and Beauty.

A patented device prevents the possibility of the machine being run in the wrong direction, or the balance wheel ever wearing or touching the dress.

THE NEEDLE CANNOT BE SET WRONG,

Thus avoiding the great trouble of other machines.

NO BREAKING OF NEEDLES.

The blade of the needle is less than three-fourths of an inch long, and is straight.

The Hemmer and Feller can never be set wrong.

Any one may adjust them IN THE DARK. The hem may be of any width. No other hemmer or feller is like this. It turns the hem on the right or under side, as you want it.

It will not drop Stitches, as the needle is always set right, the blade short and straight, does not vibrate, like longer ones. It is run by steam at 3000 stitches per minute—other machines at only 400 to 1200, with safety. They are Manufactured with Mathematical Precision.

Hence each part is interchangeable and can be readily replaced in case of accident. The machine cannot be adjusted, hence will not get out of order. It will last a generation, if properly cared for. None who have used it can be persuaded to use any other.

The roundness, evenness, durability and beauty of its stitch

WERE NEVER EQUALED.

Its Rapidity, Absolute Stillness, Ease of Motion, narrowness and neatness of its HEM and FELL were never approached by any other machine. We can call in any boy or girl from the street, and with three minutes instruction they will set the needle, attach the Hemmer, or Feller, and do the work with entire success.

The PRESS universally pronounce this the Best Family Sewing Machine in the World. Whatever the merits of the other machines, it is no disparagement to say the Willcox & Gibbs is worth, for family use, double that of any other ever offered to the public.

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute—the FIRST PREMIUM for

"THE BEST SEWING MACHINE,"

at the great New England Fair—the Vermont State Fair—the Pennsylvania State Fair—the Indiana State Fair—the Wisconsin State Fair—the Michigan State Fair—the Iowa State Fair—and at over 60 County Fairs throughout the West—making more First Premiums than were taken by all other Sewing Machines together in the same time.

IT IS NOW THE GREAT LEADING FAMILY SEWING MACHINE ALL OVER THE WORLD.

Price of Machines, with hemmer, feller, gauge, oil can, extra needles, full printed directions, &c, from $56 to $150.

Barnum's Self-Sewer for all Sewing Machines, Guides the work itself, avoiding the bent posture and strain on the eyes. Price $1.50. Large discount to Agents.

We take other machines in exchange. We sell OIL, COTTON, SILK, Twist and NEEDLES for every kind of Sewing Machine.

THESE BITTERS ARE PREPARED IN PURE Bourbon Whiskey, from a combination of over twenty different kinds of roots, barks and herbs, which act in perfect concert one with the other, prepared from the original formula given by the great chief, Red Jacket, to Dr. Chapin, who used them successfully in his practice for many years, and by their use gained so great a popularity in the treatment and cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Camplaint, Constipation, Sick and Nervous Headache, Fever and Ague, and all diseases arising from torpid liver and indigestion. Persons suffering from either of these loathsome diseases will find a cure by the use of these Bitters, which are perfectly pure and free from all those drugs and poisons usually put up in such preparations, and palmed off on an unsuspecting public. A single trial will convince the most skeptical that in the RED JACKET there is a virtue that no other Bitters possess,

They strengthen and invigorate the system.
They are unequalled for general debility.
They are a cure for Dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.

FLORENCE
SEWING MACHINE CO.
100 WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO.
Wm. H. SHARP & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS.

THE FLORENCE is the only machine extant having a reversible feed, which enables the operator to sew either to the right or left at pleasure, and the only machine that makes a perfectly elastic seam, alike on each side of the fabric.

THE FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINE not only makes the lock-stitch, but three others, which for certain kinds of work are much superior, especially where elasticity is required and is the only machine that fastens the ends of each seam securely, and does it in one-fourth the time it can be done by hand.

THE FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINE, does not draw fine, thin goods down through the slot or hole in the work-plate nor drop a stitch in turning a corner, and is the only machine having a changeless tension, and no slack threads both of which draw together simultaneously.

THE FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINE is noiseless, and can be used when quiet is necessary as well in the sick-chamber as in the workroom. They oil no dresses, the machinery being all on the top of the table. It will sew over the heaviest seams, or from one to more thicknesses of goods, without skipping stitches, breaking threads or requiring change in tension.

THE FLORENCE

SEWING MACHINE will do easily all family and tailoring work on one and the same machine. They are strong and finely finished,—their motions are all positive, there are no springs to get out of order,—while for strength, durability & beauty of design it will bear, and we invite, comparison, with any or all machines.

AMERICAN ORGANS.

(From "Godey's Ladies' Book," February, 1866.)

REED ORGANS, &c.

THE following remarks and suggestions relative to this immensely popular instrument will doubtless interest and profit very many of our readers; we commend the article to their careful perusal:—

A hundred and one makers of Organs, Cottage, Parlor-Cabinet, American, School Organs etc. etc., are each claiming to make the best instrument in the world. Being comparatively a new instrument, as at present constructed, we are convinced the public are much less capable of judging of its merits, or demerits, than of most other instruments. If there is really an essential difference in them, if there are some worthless ones, the public should have some criterion for judging of them, some facts which will enlighten them. We cheerfully concede the space for this article, knowing that there is hardly a family, or church, or school in all the land, but is more or less interested in this topic We are also aware of its being a great misfortune, a real calamity, to any of them to purchase an inferior or worthless Organ, ruinous to good playing, and often a source of much annoyance and vexation. We know this article to emanate from a candid and intelligent source, and thus we give it to our readers.

The question is often asked, what are "reed organs?" We answer, they are, in most cases nothing in the world but the old melodeon in disguise. Many of the so called Organs have the same bellows, the same reeds, and the same general internal arrangement. With the bellows turned on edge to gain room, they have simply put on a more pretentious exterior and a more high sounding name But an organ to be in reality an organ, must have a wind chest or reservoir for air separate from the bellows, into which wind-chest the reeds open, and the tone has room to expand and perfect itself into the full round tone, similar to the flute or pipe organ, even, smooth firm and mellow; and this tone from reeds cannot be obtained in any other way known. Nothing so annoys a true organist as to have the volume of sound swelling and jerking spasmodically with every variation of force on the bellows or air-passages, instead of a wind-or sound box. And yet some makers even go so far as to claim this spasmodic "or automatic jerking of the bellows on the reeds as an excellence, just as though they did not know that it must soon throw the reeds out of tune, and injure the bellows; and as though it were not an easier matter to obtain a much better and more easily managed swell by other methods. The truth is, any organ so called, or melodeon which has the wind acting directly upon the reeds, is nothing more or less than a huge accordeon, does it up as you may. And when organists and true musicians become aware of the fact that they can obtain those that are organs in fact as well as in name they will buy no more of the objectionable ones. Then again the swell should always be separate and distinct from the bellows, so as not to be acted on by the hand, or soft blowing, but convenient, so that the player can use it with the knee, separate from the hands or feet, and thus always under easy control, to be used ad libitum.

The large divided bellows, or double bellows, is also a very important improvement.—

By this means not only can the wind be supplied more evenly, but with far greater ease to the performer, from the fact that either bellows alone will be sufficient for the lighter melodies, thus permitting the player to change about and rest the feet at will; then, if the bellows is of a requisite large size, and having the wind-chest or reservoir, all will be well.—

As to the reeds, they must be scientifically tuned and voiced, or all the other good qualities in the world cannot produce a good toned instrument. The inquiry now very naturall arises, where can the organ be procured combining all these essential and desirable qualities? There is only one possessing these points and that is the AMERICAN ORGAN, made by S. D. & H. W. SMITH, of Boston, SIBERIA OTT, Wholesale Agent, 581 Broadway, New York. These organs have a wind-chest extending the whole length of the instrument, and so constructed as to act at the same time as a reverberating sound-box or board and having the same important relation and part to perform that the sounding-board has to the piano. This feature the makers have patented, and to it are owing in a great measure the entirely unequaled fullness and richness of tone so highly prized by all who have used these organs. They also have the largest and best divided bellows in use, which is another important feature. No part of their work is slighted no expense or pains spared to make the American Organs perfect musically, as well as mechanically, and, judging from the immense sale of them at present, they bid fair to long maintain the proud position they have won by superior merit alone. We would most heartily advise all interested to call upon or address MR. SIBERIA OTT, the Wholesale Agent, at No. 581 Broadway, New York, and can assure them he will, in the most gentlemanly and truthful manner, impart to them all the information they may desire relative to this truly delightful instrument.

CARRIER'S ADDRESS

For the Year 1867.

Friends of the UNION, a happy New Year!
Turn from your sports, and the carrier boy hear,
Who weekly takes notes of life's fleeting time,
And gives them to you in this little rhyme.
You may think these things too serious for me,
But the years of my life are now twelve and three;
And the carrier boy's time, fleeting away,
Will soon bring to me manhoods sterner day.
How many faces I greeted last year
Will never again the carrier boy cheer;
This verse tells us like days numbered o'er,
Another New Year may mark us "no more;"
What changes are wrought, as men come and go,
And how soon comes to us, life's drifting snow.

Come now with me, take a walk through the town,
Note its progress, as we stroll up and down:
Some eighty new buildings now mark the spots
Where one year ago you saw vacant lots;
And these, too, are now all teeming with life,
Crowded with goods, and with business are rife.
(Every new building the contractor makes, Increases the stops, the carrier boy takes.)
That three story brick, is a very good thing,
Where four times a day, the school bell they ring.
Some two hundred children there spend the day,
With instructive books and innocent play.
That new Centenary Brick (I am told,)
Was built by a church one hundred years old.
A neat little frame where good people go,
Has been newly-made, for worship, you know.

Would you learn what advances business has made,
Just walk down the street and look at the trade;
If in your line you need hardware,
Call on Davis, Lulsdorf or Meagher.
You'll find Santa Claus' headquarters at Mees',
At Griebel's and Austin's you get boots and shoes.
At Randall & Smith's you get your mens' wear,
Dry goods and groceries you'll find every where.
If your taste inclines to cider and beer,
Drinking saloons you should never go near.
If you have need of a watch or a clock,
Call and see Fowler's or Wiser's large stock.
Goods cheap for cash at Bradley Bro's store,
Goods bought and sold at the Auction Room door.
Toys for children at Christensen & Bro's.,
At Lamm's you get leather and at Kohler's get shoes.
Groceries at Beebee's Paddock's and Rays,
Give Davis a call you'll find that it pays.
Do not forget DuBuisson & Prael,
Who have a large stock of dry goods for sale.
Shaubut & Porter have goods, and storage cheap,
In two miliner shops please take a peep.
To buy goods at wholesale, give Marks a call,
And Thompson & Parsons will sell you a shawl.
At D. W. Porter's I'm sure you will find,
Goods that you need of the very best kind.
R. J. Thomas has both coffee and tea,
If you don't believe it, just go and see.
Bierbauer & Rockey have a good mill,
Where you can get ground feed and flour at will.
As we pass around thus to each in his turn,
We must not forget friend Charlie Heilborn.
Where we can get furniture both good and rare,
A bureau, bedstead, looking-glass or chair.
Sibley's Yankee notions are no cheat,
Randall & Smith pay cash for good wheat.
Makers and builders are here of all kinds,
Candies and kisses at Wallace's and Heinze.
At Smith & Humphrey's are presents for all,
Amusements and lectures at Higgins' new hall.
My dear sir, if you have enough time,
Go and look at Mr. Maxfield's white lime.
Then take the UNION, in it you will read,
Where, in this town, you can find what you need.
All advertise who have good wares to sell,
Of drug stores and banks this paper will tell.
Doctors and lawyers are here a full score,
Professors and preachers a dozen or more.
Livery men, hotel-keepers, and all,
Are ever ready to come at your call.

Merchants and tradesmen I'm sure you will laugh,
When you hear more of the jolly Degraff,
Who says that within one year, less or more,
Goods will be brought by the cars to your door.

And now my kind friends I give you this call
To bid happy New Year to one and all.
To-day let us pause, the past to review,
And for the future, our courage renew.
How often, on life's sea, have we been tossed,
And the prize, within our reach, we have lost.
How many resolves are yet unfulfilled,
Though much of our time has only been killed,
We often bemoan a fatal delay,
When it's too late to redeem the lost day;
Then idly we turn to some future hour,
Which, like the past, is not in our power.
The future too fast, and the past too slow,
Now is the time to resolve—yes or no.
No other time have we, more than to-day,
Whether improved or idly thrown away.
As Maximilian in Mexico
So we tilt for a crown—then let it go;
But from his career, this wisdom we learn,
To welcome both bad and good in their turn.

If, like the Fenians, reverses we meet,
Let us again, worthy labors repeat;
The Lord, in his might, all nations upturns,
And reigns in the heart, where freedom's light burns.
No power has man his plans to defeat,
His hosts are all true and make no retreat;
Though by us unseen, he ever is near,
The cries of the oppressed, in mercy to hear;
And in due time he will plead their just cause,
Despite of human wisdom and laws.
The Emperor of France—peevish old man!
Marshalls his forces as fast as he can;
Sailors and soldiers he calls from abroad,
Ready to go forth again at his nod;
Who next, by his will, a king may be crowned,
Is not in this Yankee land to be found;
For he, too, has heard the voice of Monroe,
And packed up his traps to leave Mexico.
That neutral lady, who laughed in her sleeve
As friends of the Union she tried to deceive,
Concluded to revive her neutrality laws,
And now enlist injured friends in her cause;
But I suppose it is scarcely worth while,
For her to try Uncle Sam to beguile;
They say the burned child always dreads fire,
She left us in mud—we leave her in mire.
Patrons and friends, to the past bid adieu,
And for the future our friendship renew;
For full fifty weeks I've come to your door,
Dispensing my gifts to rich and to poor;
Through mud and through rain, my task to perform,
I have gone forth with the light of the morn,
Cheerfully bearing my budget of thought,
Little complaining of the carrier boy's lot;
And now for duties through storm and through cold,
Please give a quarter to
L. J. GRISWOLD.

For the Union.

Railroad Lands—Taxation.

A REPLY.

In a former article on this subject I endeavored to set forth the principal argnments of those who favor the taxation of railroad lands. I had thought of preparing another article giving in detail the financial part of the question, but upon after consideration I deemed it unnecessary.

The points made in favor of taxation are:

1st. Unconstitutionality of the exemption act.

2d. Unjust discrimination in favor of corporations.

To the unconstitutionality of the question I shall present but one short, and to my mind a satisfactory reply. The people of the State, in a sovereign capacity, are represented in the Legislature. The act exempting the railroad lands, &c., from taxation is a special one, and is in the nature of a contract, in which both parties—the people and the railroads—receive mutual benefits—hence its ligality.

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION.

If the lands were exempt from taxation without an equivalent consideration, I would agree with the taxationists, but the Legislature was not "induced to see the railroad side of the question" to the detriment of the State.

After providing that "all the property, estate and effects" of the railroads should be "forever exempt from all taxation and from all assessments" it was enacted that "in consideration of the grants made, the said companies shall, during the first three years after said railroads shall be completed and in operation, on or before the first day of March of each and every year, pay into the treasury of this State, one per cent on the gross earnings of said railroads, and shall, during the seven years next ensuing, after the expiration of the three years aforesaid, pay into the treasury of this State, on or before the first day of March of each and every year, two per cent on the gross earnings of the said railroads; and shall from and after the expiration of ten years from the completion of the roads, on or before the first day of March, of each and every year, pay into the treasury of this State, three per cent of the gross earnings."

This effectually sustains the good character of the Legislature and does away with the charge of unjust discrimination.

A very important fact to be considered in this consideration, in this: If the lands were subject to a tax, the same as other real estate, it would cripple, if not entirely destroy the railroad interests of the State. Railroad interests are paramount to all other interests. We have a healthy and invigorating climate, a rich and productive soil; but what will these avail an industrious and enterprising population, unless united with the means of quick and safe transportation?

Let us not for the sake of a present trancient benefit ruin a future permanent blessing.

Under the present railroad system, the time is coming when the revenue derived from this source, will assume colossal proportions. I look forward to a day, not far in the future, when the people will be relieved from State taxes—if the present laws shall not be changed.

I hope that no member of the Legislature will become imbued with the short sighted policy of taxing railroad lands.

The New Ulm Tragedy.

Further Particulars of the Affray!

THE BODIES HORRIBLY MUTILATED

And Shoved Under the Ice in the River!

Bodies Found and Returned to Mankato.

CORONERS' INQUEST IN SESSION.

We briefly stated in our last issue the substance of an affray which transpired at New Ulm, in which one Lieut. Spinner of that town was fatally wounded, and in which two of the citizens of Mankato participated. Also that the two citizens of this town, Gerge Liscom and Alexander Campbell, the former of whom was more directly connected in the death of Spinner, were arrested and taken to jail, and soon after taken out and beaten, stabbed, and hung by a mob. We are in possession of further particulars of this most brutal and heart-sickening affair.

George Liscom and Alexander Campbell left this city a few weeks since for the purpose or trapping near Leavenworth, Brown County. Upon returning they employed a man named Merrill to bring them home and arrived at New Ulm at nearly 3 o'clock P. M. They went down street with a man who had rode to town with them, whose name was Patrick. They drank once, Liscom turning his liquor on the floor. They then went out and sold their furs and returned, concluding to stay all night. Liscom and Campbell played a game of cards and Liscom lost and ordered the drinks. The teamster, Merrill was also there, but it does not appear whether he drank or not. From ten to twenty Germans who were full of beer walked up without invitation and drank on his treat. The charge was 75 cts., and should have been 15 cts., only. Liscom refused to pay only for what he ordered, but Patrick paid the money and thus the matter ended. When he ordered the drinks he worded it something in this manner: "Give me the drinks for us Yankees." It is possible that other words having a tendency to irritate might have been spoken, but soon after it was amicably arranged, and that too at the solicitation of Spinner, who was in the saloon, to have some Indian war dances, and Spinner agreed to drum on a kettle while the boys were to dance, with war hoops, and scalping in mimicry, &c., for the amusement of the crowd. Several dances were performed and in the meantime our source of information left the saloon. We gather, however, from members of a committee who went up to investigate the matter, such information as they were able to gain from the citizens there. It was but a few minutes after these dances took place that Liscom was put out of doors by Spinner, knocked down, and beaten. Probably some words led to this, and it may be that the Germans and Americans were each boasting of their prowess and pluck; and the smallest and feeblest American was pitched upon first as an illustration of the superior bravery of the Sodomites at New Ulm. Campbell pushed for the door to rescue Liscom, but was beaten back by the crowd, and it is probable received then some bodily injury that was not fatal in its nature. Liscom was down with a strong man mauling him to death and no one among that crowd to assist him. He had with him a small skinning knife, used in taking the fur from animals caught while trapping. In imitating the war dance the same knife was used. Reaching with his knife, he cut across the thigh of Spinner, in self defense, and severed the large artery.—Spinner was taken into the saloon and died in a few minutes. It is said that Spinner when stabbed called for a hatchet and inflicted a mortal blow upon Liscom's head while down, but the theory of good judges is, that some other person inflicted the blow. As Spinner was carried off, the crowd dispersed somewhat, and Campbell got to Liscom and found him so badly hurt that he could not arise. While talking with him as he lay bleeding from his wounds, the Sheriff made his appearance, and Campbell exclaims:—"Thank God, that you have come, we claim your protection." The Sheriff answered by saying that he would protect them by taking them to jail, Campbell signified his wilingness to go and Liscom was taken up, and supported by two men, and both were placed in jail. Campbell had received at this time no material injury, nor had he joined directly in the affray. While Spinner and Liscom were the principal actors in this drama of blood, and both badly wounded, and guilty of a breach of the peace, the former was taken into the saloon, physicians and friends summoned, and every attention paid him, while Liscom, perhaps less guilty of crime, was hastened to the jail, thrown upon the stone floor when a couch was within four feet of him, and left without medical assistance, to struggle with approaching death and encounter the horrors inflicted by a drunken and infuriated mob. In a few minutes the death of Spinner was rumored on the street, and the crowd rushed for the jail. As there was no mark of violence at the jail door it is presumed that no force was used and that the jail was either opened or left open by the jailor or some one having the keys. It should be remembered that both these men were handcuffed and therefore powerless to make any resistance. Eye witnesses say that Liscom was first brought out by some four or five men, with a rope around his neck, and as he came to the door some one struck him with a club and he fell. The crowd closed in on him, but soon a few of them dragged him some yards toward the street, and then behind the jail, hanging him up to a round of a ladder. Soon after six or eight men came out of the jail dragging out Campbell by the neck.—Either at the door or behind the jail while hanging, Campbell received a number of fatal stabs from a soldier who was from Ft. Ridgely. As there seemed to be no life in him when dragged out, it is thought that he was fatally stabbed while in the jail, and stabbed again afterwards. In all the evidence of different eye witnesses, we see only one discrepancy; and that is, that the small man was nearly stripped while Campbell was dressed. When the bodies were found Campbell was naked and Liscom mostly dressed. In every other respect our story is pretty well authenticated. During the night the bodies disappeared and one of the men who came to town with them called at the jail and inquired for them. The jailor replied that the Sheriff had them in custody. He went to the Sheriff who said he had had nothing to do with the matter. He further said he would help search for the bodies, and thought they might be in the river. He said the ground was frozen and they could get rid of them easier by putting them under the ice. They went to the river but saw nothing, and as it was cold nothing further was done except to notify the friends here.

This soldier who was seen stabbing Campbell went to his stopping place with his hands covered with blood, and while washing off the blood entered into conversation with a by-stander, and said that he had been killing two Indians or half-breeds. Being asked what the Indians had done, he replied that they had been killing a Dutchman. His cap was marked with the letter "H" and figure "10," and had a bugle on it; and on his coat were fixtures for adjusting epulets.

On Tuesday, December 27th, at half past ten o'clock, Sheriff Walbridge, Daniel Tyner, Lieut. Fagan of Shelbyville, B. D. Pay, M. T. C. Flower, J. Bragg, John Ford, L. G. Barott, and James Thompson, citizens of Mankato, and the last named gentleman the postmaster of this place, left in teams for New Ulm to secure the bodies of the murdered men, and investigate, as far as possible, in an unofficial capacity, the cause of the riot and the instigators thereof. They arrived at New Ulm at 3½ o'clock P. M., and immediately set to work in search of information. They finally found Mr. D. G. Shillock, formerly a State Senator from that District, and by making known their business in a tone that meant business, Mr. Shillock thought best to accede to their request, and therefore summoned the Sheriff, Justice of the Peace, and other county officers and prominent men to meet at the Union Hotel that evening to consult upon the conditions of things. They met and organized by appointing G. D. Shillock as President, and James Thompson, of Mankato, Secretary. The New Ulm delegation tried to be quite indignant that they should be in any manner connected with these murderers. They, however, after protesting no knowledge of the matter, except as street rumor gave it, consented to turn out next morning and look for the bodies of the murdered men. Before the meeting adjourned, James Thomson requested the Sheriff to make his statement of the action of the mob. In exculpating himself from blame he said that he, with several others, guarded the jail door and held it against the mob until it was torn down, leaving him no alternative but to give up the contest. A subsequent examination of the jail door, proved that his statement was entirely false, as the door had not received the slightest injury. The only evidence of violence was the human blood which was spread profusely over the jail floor, and portions of the clothing of the sufferers which were stripped from their bodies. A portion of the brain of one of the prisoners was thought to have been discovered, but further development shows that it was probably a congealed mass of blood. The next morning, according to agreement, these citizens, members of this meeting, appeared, and the entire party was divided into squads for the search. Some of them went to the rear of the town to scour a swamp, while others went to the river, the Sheriff directing the course to be taken. One squad struck the river a little below town, and another a little above, each pursuing the course of the river up and down. While the parties are thus making search it may be in place to state by way of illustration the apparent feeling of the people at New Ulm. When one of the party inquired concerning the bodies, the reply was, "You had better go back to Mankato, they'll be there before you are;" another reply was that "they got down and walked off in the night." The Sheriff says he saw the bodies lying on the ground at the back of the jail at 10 o'clock that night; THAT HE LEFT THEM THERE; that no coroner's inquest was held, or attempted to be held, and that in the morning the bodies were gone, and that's all he knows about it. Such is the language of men who make at least some pretention to civilization, and such the conduct of a public officer who is sworn to conserve the peace, bring offenders to justice, and protect the persons, who by course of law are placed in his hands. He was charged with the custody of George Liscom and Alexander Campbell, and there is no evidence that even the jail was locked against the mob. It was his duty to pursue the mob, and at the earliest moment possible to rescue his prisoners whether dead or alive, and report his action thereon. Humanity, if not a sense of official duty, should have prompted him to retake the bodies as soon as the mob dispersed, and call the coroner's attention to the case. Instead of this they were left as the savage leaves his prey, under cover of heaven's high canopy only, torn, mangled, strangled and beaten till life is extinct and left weltering in their blood. Such dereliction of duty is a taint upon the innocence of that Sheriff.

We return to the hunting party and find that after 1½ hour's search no trace of the bodies is found, until meeting at the bank of the river near the town, they discovered a hole in the ice, and traces of blood. THEY HAD BEEN SUNK IN THE RIVER, and this was the conclusion of the party. Having no means of opening the ice, and dragging the river, and presuming they had floated down stream, no further effort was made to recover the bodies, and the party returned to Mankato, arriving Friday evening. On Saturday it was determined to make an effort to open and drag the river. Capt. L. N. Holmes, R. L. Nason, Orin Nason, Kinzie Maxfield, Milton Hanna, S. T. Stevens, J. Cheney, Jesse Hawley and Hiram Stannard, left for New Ulm at 1 o'clock P. M. They went to Butternut Valley and remained over night. Mean time Daniel Tyner of this city conceived the idea that if the bodies were found they should be taken out on the Nicollet side of the river, which would give the coroner of that county jurisdiction instead of the coroner at New Ulm, thus avoiding an inquest at that town as in all probability it would only prove a farce. Accordingly Harman Tyner and Lou. Elmore started at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning to overtake the party and give them the instruction, which they did. Arriving at New Ulm at 9 A. M., they immediately opened the hole which had been discovered. They were not two minutes in finding the bodies, as the ice and water together only measured 22 inches, and the head of Campbell was frozen into the hole cut for their reception. He was stripped naked, while Liscom had on only his pants and under shirts and drawers. They were taken out on the Nicollet side and guarded by the party. Tyner & Elmore returned to Mankato, arriving in the afternoon. James Thompson with Wesley Campbell, a brother of the deceased, and Daniel Tyner immediately started for St. Peter to take the coroner up. As none had qualified in that county, they were advised to bring the bodies to Mankato. Taking a guide with them these gentlemen left St. Peter for the scene of tragic horrors at 10 P. M., and arrived at 5 in the morning riding all night through the coldest and most piercing winds of the winter. During Monday the party returned bringing the mutulated bodies of the murdered men. These men who have thus labored to recover them, suffering from cold, exposure, and sleepless nights, have done the public a noble service and should be held in grateful remembrance.

JURY'S INQUEST.

The bodies were taken to the ticket office of Higgins' Hall, and Monday evening the Coroner summoned the following persons to hold an inquest: Henry Shanbut, Francis Tompkins, Clarke Keysor, Edward Bradley, Rev. Thos. Marshall, P. S. DeGroodt. County Attorney Cleveland is in attendance and Ira Smith as Clerk. Dr. Clark, assisted by Drs. Bedient and Jones, held a post mortem examination. Drs. Dornberg and Zenopolski were also present. The examination shows that Alexander Campbell had fifteen wounds inflicted upon his person. The right leg was chopped off at the knee, and the right hand at the wrist. There were three heavy wounds on the head and a large cut on the forehead, a fatal stab in the neck and several other slight wounds between the ribs and spine, and a rope mark around his neck. Evidence has been produced showing that Campbell ran towards the river but was pursued and taken. This is conclusive that he was not badly hurt before he was put in jail.

On George Liscom eighteen wounds were found, eight or ten of which were in the breast, and three of them entered the heart. His eyes and head were badly bruised, but the brain had not protruded. His right fore finger was cut off and other flesh wounds were found. The marks of the rope were quite visible. The frightful condition of these bodies is itself a commentary, conclusive of the sad state of semi-barbarism which reigns in the breasts of that portion of the citizens of New Ulm who participated in the outrages.

NEW ULM LETTERS.

Hons. D. Shillock and Francis Baasen wrote letters to the St. Paul papers concerning this awful event, and their statements are both biased and incorrect. Mr. Baasen says that these trappers came to New Ulm on Monday morning, were drinking freely and abusing people generally. This is false in every particular. They did not arrive until 2 or 3 o'clock P. M., of Tuesday. (Christmas.) They had drank but twice and Liscom simply touched his lips to his cup and turned the contents on the floor each time. This is quite probable, as he was a member of the Good Templar's Lodge of this city. That harsh words were used may be true but this is no justification or excuse for either party. If every man who feels himself insulted by his neighbor should lay violent hands on him, blood would flow daily in the streets of every hamlet. He says Spinner was a general favorite in New Ulm. It is within our knowledge that he tried all over that town the day before Christmas to borrow some money, and not a German would lend him a cent. He says that the 200 friends of Spinner, meaning the citizens of New Ulm whose favorite he was, went to the jail and overpowered the Sheriff and hung the men, and in the very next paragraph he says that the leaders of the mob were from adjoining counties. He further says that the excitement was increased by a belief that they were half-breeds. How can a man stultify himself by such a statement? He says the lynching was done in a very quiet manner, and in the same breath declares that 200 men participated in the affair. As the entire population of New Ulm is only about 800, it will be seen that nearly the whole of the adult male population were on hand. A very quiet affair, indeed. Mr. Shillock's letter is also false in saying that Spinner was seized by one of the men and held while the other man stabbed him. The saloon keeper himself says that Spinner put Liscom out doors, that Campbell could not get to him and that Liscom stabbed him while struggling on the ground. The assertion that they were striking their knives violently into the tables, is proven false by an examination of them by our citizens who went up. No, the people of New Ulm have great need to misrepresent the facts. Stripped of all sophistry and quibble, and the transaction is more barbarous than Indian atrocities committed in the same town in 1862. Their guilt is evidenced by the fact that they insisted that the bodies should be taken back to New Ulm for an inquest, and even threatened the party which rescued them from the river with violence, if they were not given up. Captain Holmes told them that they would walk over nine dead bodies to get them and they concluded not to try it. Their plan was to hold an inquest in New Ulm where a jury would render a verdict which would virtually clog the wheels of justice. Fortunately the matter is in competent hands and retribution is not improbable if legal and detective skill can accomplish it.

State Agricultural Society—Annual Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the State Agricultural Society will be held at the Capitol in St. Paul, on Wednesday, the 6th day of February, at 10 o'clock A. M. Two delegates are allowed from each County Society. It is hoped that every County Society may be represented, (while an opportunity yet exists for organizations where there are none,) and an interest shown by different sections of the State that may tend to encourage the cause. All papers throughout the State are earnestly requested to publish this notice, and thereby serve the interests of the greater part of the community at large.

Dr. SEELYE'S

LIQUID

CATARRH REMEDY

SYMPTOMS.

The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of the temperature. In this condition the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge thin and acrid, afterwards thick and adhesive, may ensue.

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.

Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a slick or slimy mucous, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place, the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lose no time in arresting it.

The above are but a few of the many Catarrhal symptoms. Write to our Laboratory for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms; it will be sent FREE to any address. Also directions where to procure the medicine.

We are receiving letters from all parts of the Union, and also numerous testimonials from those using it, bearing the evidence of its infallible merits;

TOWN AND COUNTY.

FRIDAY, - - JANUARY 4, 1867.

PIANO.—We can sell a piano new from the factory, at other rates than can be had elsewhere. Inquire at this office.

JOB PRESS.—We have for sale a small DRUGGIST JOB PRESS, which does good work, and will be sold low.

FRIENDS OF THE UNION!—I thank you for your kind attentions and liberal purchases of my address on New Years day. I also return thanks to the business men who had an advertising card in it. I wish you a prosperous and happy New Year.

L. JEROME GRISWOLD.

PRICES.—Corn is now bringing 80 cents per bushel; oats, 55 cents, and potatoes from 75 to 90 cents. Pork is worth from 7 to 10 cents per pound according to quality.

COUNTY BOARD.—The County Commissioners are in session, but a press of matter prevents us making a report of the proceedings this week.

A CHANGE.—We are informed that O. O. Pitcher Esq. has resigned the office of Treasurer of the Minnesota Mutual Insurance Company and that Maj. E. H. Smith has accepted the appointment in his stead.

A letter received from Rochester on Wednesday reports the drowning of George Parret of this city, and Mr. Bigalow who were running the Yankee Notion wagon of Johnson of Rochester, while crossing the Mississippi at Lake City. Mr. Parret thinks, however, from recent letters from George, that it must have been the other team of Johnson's which travels that route.

RESERVOIR.—The town has built a reservoir in the rear of the engine house, nine feet in diameter, and it now has nine feet of water in it, which is let in from the sewer. This will give a pretty fair supply of water for a small fire, but the hose is only long enough to cover Shaubut's store one way and Finch & Pitcher's office the other.

FUNERAL.—The bodies of Campbell and Liscom were turned over to Capt. Holmes last evening and they will be buried from the Methodist Church on Sunday at 11 o'clock. These men were members of Co. H. 2d Minn. of which Mr. Holmes was at one time Captain. It is expected that members of this company who live in the city will act as pall bearers, and that Capt. Beatty, formerly of the same company, will take charge of the procession.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—The festival at the Baptist Church last week Wednesday, notwithstanding the severity of the weather, was quite well attended, and the ladies realized $127 net. Services were held for the first time last Sabbath. Elder Case, of Garden City, preached, and Rev. Mr. Irwin also assisted in the services. Hereafter stated services will be held morning and evening, the time to be governed by the Presbyterian bell.

WHEAT ADVANCING.—Our wheat buyers have been paying this week as high as $1.50 per bushel for wheat. There is heavy competition in this market and now is the time for farmers to bring it in. There is nothing to warrant such prices here as it is fully up to the Owatonna market. Without competition the price would range at about $1.25 to $1.30 for number one, and $1,15 to $1.20 for number two.

ST. PAUL PRESS.—We print this week the Prospectus of the St. Paul Press. It is acknowledged to be the best republican newspaper in the State. The daily furnishes the very latest telegraphic news, and gives a full reflex of the news of the State. It is so metropolitan in its style and completeness that it is unnecessary to go further east for papers. Especial attention is called to their enlarged weekly. See the advertisement in another column and subscribe.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Bowne Yates, of Madelia was in town this week. We notice that he commences the new year with a very handsome token of friendship from our clever book dealers, Smith & Humphrey. A splendid morocco bound pocket book and memoranda constituted the New Year's gift. Mr. Yates will leave for the seat of Government—St. Paul—where the Legislature convenes next Tuesday.

MINNESOTA MUTUAL.—The Minnesota Mutual Insurance company of this city, we notice, are making prompt payment of all losses. Their promptness, as well as the utility of insuring stock in this company, is set forth in the following letter:

MANKATO, MIN, Dec. 18th, 1865.

To the Secretary of the Min. Mut. Ins. Co:

DEAR SIR: In April last I insured my stock and buildings in your company, and gave my note for a part of the cash premium. A few days before my note became due, I came to your office in Mankato and requested permission to surrender my policy upon payment of six months insurance. I was persuaded by the officers of the company to retain my policy and pay the note. A few days afterwards I lost a valuable two-year old colt, which was insured in your company, and I take great pleasure in certifying to the prompt manner in which you adjusted and paid my loss, to my entire satisfaction.

I therefore recommend all persons owning property to insure it in the Minnesota Mutual Insurance Company, for the following reasons, viz:

1st. Because it is a Home Institution.

2nd. Because it is managed by men of acknowledged ability and integrity, and

3d. Because they are prompt in the adjustment and payment of losses.

Very Respectfully,
THOS. REEDER.

BLUE EARTH VALLEY BURNS CLUB.—Some of our citizens, of Scotch origin, residing in Mapleton, have organized for social benefit, a club, to be called the "Blue Earth Valley Burns Club," in honor of the world renowned poet of that name. The following is a minute of the proceedings of their first meeting:

At a meeting held at the house of J. Dobie, Sterling, Blue Earth Co., Dec. 25th, to organize a Club, Alexander Greig was chosen chairman, and Joseph Dobie, Secretary.

Moved and carried that this club be called the Blue Earth Valley Burns Club. Officers chosen are: John Johnson, President; Thos. Blair, Vice President; John Alvey, Treasurer; Joseph Dobie, Secretary; Robert Taylor, Corresponding Secretary. Moved and carried that a committee of three be appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws to be presented at the next meeting, to be held at Joseph Dobie's January 29th, it being the anniversary of the poet Burns. The committee to be John Johnston, Robert Taylor and Joseph Dobie. Moved and carried that wives and daughters (over 15 years of age) of members be honorary members. It was moved and carried that all present have the privilege of joining:

NAMES OF MEMBERS JOINED WERE

John S. Robertson,	Donald Gray,
John Johnson,	George McKay,
Thomas Blair,	Thomas Elliot,
James Morris,	Alexander Hay,
Robert Taylor,	John G. Norris,
John Alvey,	Alexander G. Greig,
Thomas Graham,	Joseph Dobie.

Adjourned.

BAD BEEF.—It is often surmised that the owners of live stock are not very particular as to the health of their animals which they throw on to the market, caring less for the injury inflicted upon the public by poisonous meat, than they do for the loss of a few dollars. There seems to be some ground for suspicion, as the following letter written to the officers of the Minnesota Mutual Insurance Company, of this city abundantly testifies. We give it verbatim as it was addressed to the company, omitting only the name. As the "critter" would not be tributary to the Mankato market, our citizens need not fear the prospect of an unpalatable dish should the suggestions of the writer be carried out:

WASHINGTON LAKE TOWNSHIP,
Sibley county, Dec. 23, 1866.

To the Minnesota mutual insurance company
Mankato:

SIR: I have insured my cattle stoke with your company. Policy 228. I have a sick ox. cattle docters Say it is a gravle, they Say he will die. I have him Value l. I think Better to Sell him to the Butcher than to let him Die. Let me hear from you. Address, Young America, postoffice, Carver county.

DISTRICT COURT — FOURTH WEEK.—On Friday last, when our report closed, the court was still occupied with the suit of the village of Mankato against C. B. Thurston, S. E. Finch and R. H. Thurston. On Friday morning the counsel argued the case. During the argument of the counsel for plaintiff, on his motion, the testimony of W. Maxfield, for the defense, was stricken out.

Motions to strike out evidence for plaintiff were made but overruled.

The jury returned into court on Saturday morning, with verdict for plaintiff, and damages assessed at $25.

The following questions having been submitted to the jury, were answered as follows:

By plaintiff's counsel.

1st. Was J. C. Hanna, Frederick Ayers, John L. Jones, James T. Besser or Thomas D. Warren, or any of them, proprietors of the part of Mankato entered by the judge in trust for the occupants, at the time this disputed land was occupied by them or any of them? Answer—The jury find no proof that they were.

2nd. Did J. C. Hanna and Frederick Ayers erect a livery stable upon the ground in controversy, and when they so erected it, did they claim it in their own right, or did they recognize such ground as a public street? Answer—1st. That the stable was erected in the fall of 1857; 2nd. That they did not claim the land in their own right, but recognized it as a public street.

3d. When did John L. Jones enter upon the ground in controversy? and did he so enter, claiming such ground in his own right, or did he then recognize such ground as a public street and when did he quit the occupancy thereof? Answer—1st. About the year 1858, 2d and 3d. He did not claim it in his own right, but recognized it as a public street; 4th the date not proved as recollected.

By defendant's counsel.

1st. Was the ground on which defendants' building was situated, at the time alleged in the complaint, a public highway? Answer—Yes.

2d. Was the building a public nuisance at the time complained of in the complaint? Answer—Yes.

3d. Was the fee of the land in the defendants at the same time? Answer—Yes, subject to the rights of the street.

S. Finch, as counsel for defendant, gave notice of motion for new trial.

The case of the State against Andrew and Ann Donnelly was continued until next term of court.

On application George Schafer, Peter Seibauer and Martin Seibauer were admitted to full citizenship.

F. H. Waite, esq., having been appointed by the court at the May term, 1866, under a law then in force, to defend the prisoner, who had no means to employ counsel, it was ordered by the court, in view of his able and faithful services, that he be allowed the sum of $50 —to be paid by the county.

The talesmen were discharged from further attendance, and the regular panel until the 14th of January next.

By order of the court, the following statements were recorded in full in the minutes of the court, as made by Hon. Horace Austin, in the village suit against Finch & Thurston.

After the jury had been first instructed by the court and sent to their room for deliberation, they returned into court and asked for further instructions on severel points in the case, whereupon the court gave the jury, among other instructions, the following: "If you find from the evidence that the ground in question had been once legally donated, by the proprietors thereof, to the public as a public highway or street, and that such donation had not been reconsidered or withdrawn, up to the time the public authorities competent in law to accept said donation on behalf of the public, do accept the same and undertake to open and work the street, that all parties might realize the benefit from it contemplated by the donation, that then, and upon such acceptance by the said authorities, the same became a public street—a highway—even though it had never been used for general travel by the public, and without regard to the lapse of time, from the date of the original donation to the date of the acceptance by such authorities for the purposes aforesaid.

The defendants' exceptions we noted in the minutes and duly filed with the papers in the case.

The judge then adjourned the court until the 14th day of January, 1867, at 11 o'clock. —Record, 29th ult.

FROM MADELIA.

By our own Reporter.

Mr. Edgar Sprague of this town sold, a few days ago, his homestead, containing 80 acres, to William Estis of Port Branch, Indiana, for $1,000. Mr. Estis also purchased an unimproved eighty acre tract of the Minn. V. R. R. Company for $550.

DANCING.—Dancing seems to be the order of the day. Yates' Hall is frequently brought into requisition. Young folks and old folks gathered at the Hall on Christmas night to "trip the light fantastic toe." Everything passed off pleasantly and we were reminded of Byron's beautiful song:

—"And bright
The lamps shown o'er fair women and brave
men;
A thousand hearts beat happily; and when
Music arose, with its voluptuous swell,
Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spake
again,
And all went merry as a marriage-bell."

There is to be a dance at the Hall to-night. We presume that those who attend will enjoy themselves.

VALUATION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.—Through the kindness of Joseph Flanders, the accommodating County Auditor, we are enabled to present a statement of the valuation of personal property in this county for the year 1865:

The total valuation of domestic animals, as returned, is:

Horses,	$3,865
Cattle,	3,893
Sheep,	168
	$7,926

The following table will show the number of bushels and valuation of the cereals:

	No. Bush.	Value.
Wheat,	4769	$4,759 00
Oats,	5069	2,534 50
Barley,	659	329 50
Corn,	4315	2,157 50
Rye,	24	18 00
Potatoes,	4,055	763 77
Beans,	27	27 00
Sorghum,	1,884 gal	1,884 00
Garden Products,		505 00
		$12,978 25

It should be remarked that this is not a correct return of the grain raised, yet it speaks well, when we consider that many of the citizens were discharged from the army and returned home too late to plant.

It will be seen at a glance that the grain interest, even at the low figures of '65 exceeds by nearly one half the stock interest.

☞The philosopher and poet statesman, Addison, in his Spectator, the first and most amusing of periodicals, in his paper on Country and City Life, affords the most genial recommendations to preserve the health and purity of the body; his just and benevolent teaching with respect to health may be sought and read with the best effect, by persons of all habits and age; the general good effect of gentle medicines, artistically compounded. Addison's experience and intelligence avouches the necessity for. He lived to a good old age, and were he living, would no doubt resort to Bryan's Life Pills, a truly life giving and beneficial remedy for purifying the blood. (See advertisement.)

WHAT THE MERCHANTS SAY.—The merchants everywhere who sell D. B. De Land & Co.'s Best Chemical Saleratus, say that no article ever sold gives such universal satisfaction to customers. They like to have customers pleased—especially the ladies. They know it is the "Housewives' Favorite"—that Chemical Saleratus. It is better than Soda.

CALL FOR THE BEST.—When you purchase an article that is cheap, of which but a little is used, always call for the best, for the difference in cost between that and an inferior article will be insignificant. Call for D. B. De Land & Co.'s Best Chemical Saleratus, and having once procured it you will call for no other. The grocers all have it, or should. Use it instead of Soda.

Mr. P. F. Milnor, grocer, opposite Shoemaker's Hall, presented us with a can of fresh oysters for which we return thanks. We are also reminded that he has on hand Garden City flour manufactured by Quayle. It is his intention to keep Quayle's best brand, some of which we have tried and pronounce good. He also is supplied by a very nice stock of groceries.

She has work in the house done five years ago, which has been constantly more or less in use, and washed scores of times, but which she exhibits in as good condition as at the hour it was done.
